Government Must Be Supreme

Regardless of its immediate effect on the strike of railroad shopmen, all citizens who believe in law and order applaud the proclamation issued by President Harding early this week. The President adopted a most impressive method of serving notice on all concerned that the Government of the United States still comes first and that its authority and prestige will be maintained at all hazards and must be recognized by all.

The wording of the proclamation makes it clear that the President based it upon the developments in the railroad shopmen's strike. After pointing out that the United States Railroad Labor Board is "an agency of the Government, created by law, and charged with the duty of adjusting disputes between railroad operators and employees engaged in interstate commerce" the proclamation refers to the fact that that board has handed down recent decisions, one affecting the wages of the shopcraft employees and the other declaring the contract system of shopcraft work with outside agencies to be contrary to the intent of the Transportation Act and, therefore, must be discontinued. It further points out that the shopcraft employees have elected to discontinue work rather than abide by the decision of the Railroad Labor Board, and that certain operators have ignored the decision ordering the abandonment of the contract shop practice. Declaring that the peaceful settlement of controversies in accordance with law and due respect for the established agencies of such settlement are essential to the security and well-being of our people, President Harding directed in his proclamation that all persons must refrain from all interference with the lawful efforts to maintain interstate transportation and the carrying of the United States mails.

"These activities," the proclamation declares, "and the maintenance of the supremacy of the law are first obligations of the Government and all the citizenship of our country. Therefore I invite the co-operation of all public authorities, state and municipal, and the aid of all good citizens to uphold the laws and to preserve the public peace and to facilitate those operations in safety which are essential to life and liberty and the security of property and our common public welfare."

A good many years have passed since Grover Cleveland, as President, issued the orders under which the United States Government put a speedy end to interference with the United States mails in a railroad strike during his Administration. The courageous stand taken by President Cleveland at that time had an immediate and salutary effect on those citizens who had forgotten that government is paramount in this country. The proclamation issued by President Harding should have the same effect. No body of strikers and no body of railroad managers is bigger than the United States Government, and it is a very encouraging sign that another President has taken this unmistakable method of making that fact clear once again.

It is also encouraging to note the determined stand which the authorities at Washington are taking in their efforts to bring about a settlement of the coal strike. In this matter, as in the matter of uninterrupted railroad transportation, the public has more at stake than either operators or miners and it is the duty of the Government to see that the interests of the public are given first consideration.

National Building Boom at Its Height

Early predictions that 1922 was destined to stand out as a year of unprecedented activity in the national construction field are more than sustained by the figures for the semi-annual period, tabulated by the F. W. Dodge Company, and published elsewhere in this issue of THE RECORD AND GUIDE. The total of commitments for the first six months of this year establishes a new high record of the half-year and is approximately 59 per cent. greater than the figure for the corresponding period of last year.

Although these figures include only the construction of the twenty-seven Northeastern States, they reflect accurately the entire national building situation, as this territory includes more than 75 per cent. of all the construction in the United States. Tabulated statistics show that in this territory new building and engineering construction to the total value of $1,690,984,000 has been placed under contract and operations started. This is by a considerable amount the highest figure for any half year on record.

During the month of June construction commitments to the total value of $343,440,000 were recorded in the territory covered by the Dodge Reports. With the exception of the totals for the two preceding months of the current year the figure for last month is also greater than any other previous month of record. The June total is about 52 per cent. larger than that of the same period last year and indicates a steady improvement in the general building situation throughout the country.

Construction totals for the past month and the semi-annual period both prove that the national building boom is now at its height. There are significant indications that construction activity will continue in great volume for many months to come and may even increase to some extent during the remainder of the year. While the demand for housing has been greatly relieved within the past half year, there is still a shortage in commercial and industrial facilities which will keep the industry busy to full capacity of labor and materials for months to come.

Although not all of the districts included in the entire territory totals have shown gains during the past month, the declines where noted have been slight and not sufficient to affect the figures as a whole. The construction industry has been fortunate in that the building boom did not develop simultaneously in all sections of the country, for if it had there would have been far greater competition for men and materials than that which has marked the progress of the building revival in the New York District. The Eastern Seaboard, with the exception of New England, experienced the effects of the revival some months before the remainder of the country. The East generally was more rapid in responding to the demands for additional living accommodations and facilities for commercial and industrial expansion. As the eastern territory reached its maximum, however, and showed signs of declining interest, the Middle and Northwest territories assumed the burden of maintaining the national building boom and as a result the work has been spread out over a wide area and money, men and materials rotated as the demand required.

A "Dream" That May Come True

The mysterious sponsor for the entertaining tale that the historic Clark Mansion on Riverside Drive had been purchased by a wealthy philanthropist who proposed to present it to the city as a place of residence for the Mayor, a "Municipal White House," may have accomplished more than he had in mind when he started the story, later denied by a representative of William A. White & Sons, who negotiated the sale of the property. The wish is often father to the thought, but that does not mean that airships are now a practical reality because Jules Verne wrote "A Trip to the Moon" nor that submarines are the direct result of "20,000 Leagues Under the Sea."

Though characterized by Mayor Hylan as a "dream," the idea may find lodgement in the brain of one of those practical men of affairs who take so much pride in the physical aspects of the metropolis of the nation. The people of this city have provided handsomely for the housing of its ministers of religion and its professors in the higher schools of learning. Many of its merchant princes have more than one luxurious home within the five boroughs or in the entrancing auto and commuting zones girdling the congested central area. The doctors of law and medicine, the writers of best sellers and the favorites of the speaking stage and the films have established homes in which to live handsomely and entertain lavishly, but so far His Honor, the Mayor, has had no official residence and his salary hardly justifies the acquisition of a house pretentious enough to meet the social requirements of the Chief Executive of the greatest city in the world.

Mayor Hylan has been elected to serve eight years in the office, the late Mayor Mitchel served four years, the late Mayor Gaynor three years, and Mayor McClellan six years; all men of moderate means with the exception of Mayor Gaynor. In the years covered by their incumbency hundreds of distinguished men and women of other lands have been received at City Hall, and dined at hotels and clubs. But not one of these noted guests has ever had the chance to enjoy the easy hospitality of an American home or to sit down to the typical American breakfast of oatmeal, bacon and buckwheats unless some private citizen came forward and threw open his house for such entertainment.

Official residences are provided for the President of the United States and for the Governors of the states, whose duties, like the Mayor's, are partly social in character. The idea that the historic Clark Mansion on Riverside Drive had been bought by some altruistic but unknown person to be presented to New York City as an official home for its Mayor suggests the possibility that some day the municipality, rich in so many other respects, might fittingly house its Chief Executive in a mansion designed to afford him the comforts so necessary to one of the busiest men in this broad country, and the opportunity to entertain official guests of the city in a manner commensurate with the honor they do its citizens when they come from afar bearing messages of good will and friendship from the peoples of other lands.

Frederick Brown Lays Development of New York to Realty Brokers

FREDERICK BROWN, the well-known real estate operator, who recently returned from an extended trip to the Pacific Coast, visiting many of the important cities in the West and Southwest, is more than ever impressed with the importance of the activities of real estate brokers in the building up of business and residential communities. Mr. Brown, who is a keen analyst of conditions affecting realty value, made a careful study of the real estate business in the territory covered by his itinerary. While he was technically on a vacation there was no opportunity Mr. Brown did not take advantage of to compare the methods of brokers in the West with those in the same line of business here. The result of his observations is summed up in the phrase: "There is only one New York."

Starting with this commentary Mr. Brown said that from the standpoint of a real estate man only one city in the West approached the New York standards.

"Los Angeles is the New York of the Coast, in my opinion, that of a real estate operator," declared Mr. Brown. "Property in Los Angeles is held reasonably high. I had no idea that this city commanded so much value, but then, of course, I did not know the place except as a Californian ocean front city about second to San Francisco in size and importance.

"Real estate conditions in most of the cities I visited are different from those we find in New York. This, I suppose, explains why their real estate men do not seem so active or enterprising as the representative New York broker.

"They do not force the development of their cities sufficiently to win recognition equal to that of other business factors in their communities. The New York broker, on the contrary, stands equally as high as any business man in his city. He is on the directorate of banks, trust companies, philanthropic organizations, railroads and other concerns. This recognition has come in the last twenty years and was won on merit and through persistent effort.

"The real estate men of New York used to be a doleful lot. Like the men of some of the cities I visited, they were of the opinion that renting and managing property constituted the business of a broker, or an agent, as he was called. Forcing trade movements, promoting construction, improving civic conditions were matters for business men and politicians, they thought.

"I do not know of any class of men who are now more helpful to the city, its business and taxable worth than real estate brokers. They have helped many men to wealth by pointing out opportunities for investment or speculation and have moved concerns into positions where they have profited greatly as a consequence. Trade movements are based now on the opinions expressed by the real estate broker. Builders also will not undertake an improvement against the advice of a real estate expert.

"They have been pioneers of every great movement that has been launched in this city in the last twenty years. They have urged and accomplished civic improvements that have brought merit and value to the City of New York.

"If the real estate men of other cities would cut loose and urge and agitate improvements such as the New York brokers have done they would earn a lot more money than they do, would bring reputation to their cities and property would be worth more. Of course the incentive is not as great in these other places as in New York.

"Los Angeles is a fine example of the pushy city, the city which is always trying to do things better and greater. Back of the progress of this California town are the real estate brokers. They have come from many parts of the country and have brought with them ideas which they have utilized in their business of selling and renting in Los Angeles. I have always had a great respect for the real estate men of this city, but my visit has taught me that New York owes a lot to these 'boomers,' these hustling men who work out the problems of business men, problems which always mean success or failure."

Leases Running Into Millions Feature of 1922 Market

Many Contracts for Long Terms Furnish Most Interesting Phase of Realty Business, Culminating in $12,000,000 Deal at Fifth Avenue and 35th Street

A DISTINGUISHING feature of the real estate market during the first half of this year was the large volume of important leases of all kinds of property. It still continues heavy. Much of the dealing of the summer is and will be in leases. Emphasizing this feature of the market is the leasing of large plots of land for improvement with hotels and office buildings the combined cost of which runs into many millions of dollars. The leasing of large buildings long built, at annual rentals much larger than heretofore and the subleasing of them for long terms, at substantial profits, is prevalent. In one instance, in Brooklyn, a prominent operator, Frederick Brown, leased a 7-story department store building for a long term, at an aggregate rental of $5,000,000. In order to do so he had to buy the stock of the store, as the firm was going out of business. He subsequently resold the entire stock at auction and then resold the lease at a good profit, all within a few weeks. The property was the Bailey Department Store, at Fulton and Bond Streets, a building which contains 23,000 square feet of space on each floor.

A striking phase of this market is the large number of leases of stores and buildings throughout the city leased to banks and trust companies for use as branches. Some of them are new branches and others are old branches established in new locations. The shifting of population and the changing character of neighborhoods explains this activity. The fine apartment house sections of Park Avenue are now witnessing an influx of bank and trust company branches. Wealthy persons resident there desire convenient banking facilities. Besides the managers of apartment hotels and fine restaurants in the vicinity want banking quarters close by.

The moving of large corporations and mercantile concerns from the downtown area to large floor spaces for office and executive purposes farther north is reflected in the vast floor areas leased since January 1 in the Grand Central Zone and in the Broadway and the Fifth Avenue district bordering Fifty-ninth Street.

Madison and Lexington Avenues are now undergoing marked structural changes as a result of fine old dwellings being leased for long terms of years, net, and the lessees either razing the old structures to supplant them with large new ones or remodeling the old ones for various business purposes. Every week of the year has told the story of this movement. The Fifth Avenue section all the way from Twenty-third Street to Fifty-ninth Street is witnessing the passing of fine dwellings on single lots into the hands of operators and builders who are remodeling them into offices or small loft buildings for mercantile firms of divers kinds. The leases vary in length in these districts from 21 to 63 years. They are net in most instances.

Recently numerous large and costly apartments in buildings in course of construction on Park and on Fifth Avenue and adjacent thereto, north of Forty-second street, have been leased on the plans for terms of three to five years. Probably no period in New York's history has witnessed so much leasing on the plans of new spaces as at present.

Another interesting circumstance is that the Federal government is giving investors fine opportunities by leasing for long terms buildings erected especially for it for use as post-office stations. Striking instances of it are at 203-209 West 69th Street, west of Amsterdam Avenue, where a new station, 78.8x100.5 in size, is nearing completion, the Government to occupy it in October next, for a term of 20 years, at an aggregate rental of $750,000; and other new branches on Washington Heights and elsewhere. The Government, like other lessees, is looking for the most modern kind of space.

Numerous clubs in the upper reaches of town since the first of the year have leased fine dwellings for long terms for the purpose of remodeling them into club houses, while other clubs have renewed their leases on present premises at larger rentals and for long terms.

In the leasing of all kinds of big properties new leases, as a rule, run for longer terms than prevailed in the past. This is caused principally by the fact that there are more large fireproof mercantile buildings and that old and antiquated neighborhoods are being re-improved with them steadily. Given lines of trade are moving into certain districts so heavily as to mean concentration there for long periods. There is a tendency for some old trade centers to shift. Recently a prominent wholesale chinaware firm removed from the china belt in Murray street to 39-41 West Twenty-third Street, there occupying a 6-story building which was vacated by a large furniture firm that removed farther north.

The wholesale produce business is one distinctive line of trade that has not shifted perceptibly. It hews quite closely now as in the past to the line of the North River. Its most recent manifestation is to spread out from its center and locate adjacent to the neighborhood of the projected vehicular tunnel between Manhattan and Jersey City.

Many large hotels have lately figured in new long term leases and the leases of others have been sold to new managers who are renovating their properties and making them competitors of newer buildings. Numerous new leases also have been made by fine restaurant firms in the theatrical center and other leases in this line of business have been renewed. The rentals are larger in every instance. One of the marvels of the time is the large number of properties throughout the city given over to restaurants of all kinds. Chain restaurants are constantly adding links on long term leases.

The high lights of the leasing market since January 1 are mostly north of Fourteenth Street to Fifty-ninth Street. There has been more modern construction in that area than elsewhere for business purposes. It shows the pulling power of rapid transit as well as commercial growth. Large long-term leases represent impressive brokerage fees, most of them being commissions larger than those made in the sale of fee properties. Larger incomes are made from the management of business properties than in years gone because most buildings are larger and rentals are higher. It incidentally shows the revolution of the real estate business in this town.

Not long ago a subsidiary company of the New York Central & Hudson River Railroad Company leased to 385 Madison Avenue, Inc., the fee of the block bounded by Madison Avenue to a point on a line with Vanderbilt Avenue, East Forty-seventh and Forty-eighth Streets, as the site for a 12-story and basement loft and office building, for a term of 21 years with a privilege of two renewals, at an aggregate rent of $10,000,000 net. A total of ten floors in four leases has already been leased on the plans to wholesale dress goods, millinery and carpet firms of the highest standing, the leases to date from February 1, 1923.

A subsidiary of the New York Central also leased to the United Hotels Company the block bounded by Madison and Vanderbilt Avenues, Forty-fifth and Forty-sixth Streets, for a term of 21 years, with privilege of two renewals. On the site will be erected a 15-story hotel, the aggregate cost of which with buildings and furnishings will be $18,000,000.

During the month just passed the 1493 Broadway Corporation leased to the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation the Putnam building, on the west side of Broadway, from Forty-third to Forty-fourth Street, for 21 years at $12,600,000, an annual net rental of $500,000. It is a 6-story structure 200.10x100, with a 1-story extension and an interior court. The Hotel Claridge, diagonally opposite, at Forty-fourth Street, was recently leased for a long term at a largely increased rental, together with the hotel property adjoining on the south at Forty-third Street. A restaurateur leased the restaurant space, 60x100, in the Claridge, from the main lessee, for a term of 21 years, at an aggregate rental of $500,000, with the understanding that there will be no other restaurant in the building. A store in the Loew Theatre building at 1538 Broadway, was leased to a jeweler for a long term of years, at the rate of $1,300 a front foot per annum. The same tenant occupied the store in the old building that stood on the site at the rate of $200 a front foot per annum.

The St. Regis Restaurant is the new lessee of the restaurant space in the Hotel Claridge. It sold its old lease of $3,000,000 and for a term of 21 years on the northeast corner of Broadway and Forty-first Street, which involves the former Hotel Calvert and an adjoining 3-story building.

A lease of long standing which reflects great commercial growth as well as greatly increased rental power of the property is that of the Saks building, at Broadway, Thirty-third to Thirty-fourth Street, by Gimbel Brothers as an annex to their main building adjoining. It is to run for 21 years from 1924, at an annual rental of between $400,000 and $500,000 net. The Gimbels sublease it from the United Cigar Stores Company, the latter of whom take a substantial profit. The owner is Herbert Du Puy. He receives $400,000 a year net from the United.

Of recent making is the lease of the southeast corner of Madison Avenue and Forty-third Street by the Prudence Bonds Corporation, for a term of 63 years, at an aggregate rental of $7,000,000. The site is 66.8x100 in size and it will be reimproved with a 14-story office building. Numerous other Madison Avenue corners, holding old buildings, have been leased this year, for long terms, at rentals aggregating $1,000,000 or more in each case. Among them are the H. H. Rogers and Robert E. Bonner properties.

Last year former Sheriff David H. Knott leased the 11-story Hotel Chelsea, on West Twenty-third Street, for a term of 21 years, at an aggregate rental of $2,240,000. Recently he extended the lease to 64 years, at an aggregate rental for the term of $6,196,000. Apparently he believes in the future drawing power of the Chelsea section.

Distinguishing the Fifth Avenue and Forty-second Street region was the renewal of the lease on the Birstol building, 500 Fifth Avenue, together with several old small buildings adjacent, at a rental totalling $8,400,000, ten times larger than under the old lease of 21 years ago. Walter J. Salmon is the lessee and Commodore Elbridge T. Gerry is the lessor. The new lease goes into effect next year and the rent thereunder is $400,000 a year net, whereas the old rental is only $40,000 a year net. All new subleases have been markedly increased and the landlord is obtaining the larger rental asked, if not from old tenants then from new ones.

The Pershing Square building in course of construction at Park Avenue and Forty-second Street, is another instance of large rental power. There are 20,000 square feet of space to a floor. The International Paper Company has leased the seventeenth and eighteenth floors, for a term of 10 years, at an aggregate rental of $1,000,000. The London, Liverpool & Globe Insurance Company has taken two floors, for a term of 20 years, at an aggregate rental of $2,000,000. The fourth, fifth and sixth floors have been leased to the Royal Indemnity Company, for a term of 10 years, at an aggregate rental of $3,000,000. The Royal Baking Powder Company has taken the twentieth floor, for 10 years, for $1,000,000 for the term. All of these leases have been made on the plans.

A new lease in the Garment Center is of interest. A building syndicate organized by Joseph E. Gilbert has leased the site, 100x244.6, at the northeast corner of Seventh Avenue and Thirty-seventh Street, for a term of 63 years. Ground will be broken next January, 1924. The aggregate rental together with the cost of the building will be $8,000,000. The lessee has an option of purchasing the site.

The largest lease of the year and one of the largest in many years is that made a week ago by the Acker, Merrill & Condit Company to the Woolworth Company of the 11-story building at the southwest corner of Fifth Avenue and Thirty-fifth Street. The aggregate rental is $12,000,000 for a term of 42 years, or an average of about $287,000 a year. There are other leases for shorter terms, however, on other properties, that yield more per year than this one.

A lease of the Hotel Majestic, on Central Park West from Seventy-first to Seventy-second Street, was recently made by the Arrow Holding Corporation, Frederick Brown, president, to the Richbroson Hotel Company, for a term of 21 years from February 1, 1925, at an annual net rental of $200,000. The building is 11 stories and covers a plot 204.4x150. The aggregate rental is $4,200,000.

Containing unusual provisions is the lease recently made to Joseph Hilton, clothier, of the 6-story building at the southwest corner of Broadway and Thirty-seventh Street, for a term of 42 years from May 1, 1928. It is at present leased to the Regal Shoe Company until the date mentioned, at $25,000 a year net. The rent under the new lease will be $36,000 a year net, or an aggregate of $1,650,000. The new lessee binds himself to spend $50,000 additional during the first year in modernizing the building. He also agrees to pay $7,200 a year bonus for the location until the old lease expires six years hence. These payments will be checked off against his aggregate rent when he takes possession, excepting the amount spent in improvements. The increase of rental on this property is fifty per cent.

A 5-story building on a small lot, 15x100.5, at 144 West Forty-sixth Street, and adjoining the Loew Theatre building on Times Square, was leased a short time ago for 21 years, at an aggregate rental of $120,000, or a little less than $6,000 a year.

Bituminous Clay Pipe Suitable for Drainage and Sewerage Work

AS a result of laboratory tests made in the College of Industries of Carnegie Institute of Technology, Pittsburgh, it has finally been established that bituminous clay pipe for drainage and sewerage use is in every way the equal of the more expensive cast iron pipe which has been employed heretofore.

For years efforts have been made by manufacturers and engineers to find methods of efficient substitution of bituminous clay pipe for cast iron pipe, but without success. One weak point has invariably remained—an inability to join the lengths to prevent leakage. Practically speaking, there has been but one general type of jointing material used, some variation of the ordinary building cement.

Recently various bituminous compounds have been evolved as a substitute jointing material. But the first—and numerous—tests made of these, too, failed to overcome the great weakness of clay pipe when used for drainage or sewerage.

Finally a number of these bituminous compounds were placed at the disposal of S. E. Dibble, head of the Heating and Ventilating Department of the College of Industries of Carnegie Institute of Technology. He proceeded to make painstaking and unusual tests and experiments. He not only devised absolutely new equipment with which to simulate actual drainage and sewerage conditions in the making of his tests but as a result of the tests themselves he developed an entirely new jointing practice and technique. Altogether twenty-one separate tests on a total of sixty-three joints were made, three different bituminous compounds being used.

Not only have Professor Dibble's tests established that a proper bituminous compound can be used efficiently in jointing a pipe; that joints made in the manner developed by Professor Dibble will stand any pressure that the pipe itself is capable of standing, without showing any leak; that a pipe line so jointed can be thrown out of alignment without causing a leakage at the joints; and, that leaks due to poor workmanship can be repaired easily and quickly; but Professor Dibble has gone further and has published actual chemical analyses of two of the bituminous compounds found satisfactory.

Rapid Progress on Tall Apartments for Upper West Side

Fifteen-Story Structure, Accommodating Fifty-Nine Families, Financed by S. W. Straus & Co. Serial Bond Issue

THE steel frame-work has been completed and work is progressing rapidly on the brick walls of the new fifteen-story multi-family dwelling being erected at 588 West End avenue.

This building occupies a frontage of 60 feet on the east side of West End avenue, 40 feet north of Eighty-eighth street, and the plot has a depth of 100 feet. The building will contain fifty-nine apartments which are divided into units of three and four rooms, each with bath.

This building is being erected to meet the demand for small housekeeping units which has grown so insistent in this section of the city. The suites will be equipped with every modern convenience for easy housekeeping and the elimination of the servant problem.

This project has been financed through a serial first mortgage bond issue of $490,000, which was underwritten some time ago by S. W. Straus & Co. The mortgage was placed upon the land and building which combined will represent an investment of more than $650,000.

Plans and specifications for the building were prepared by Schwartz & Gross who designed a number of the high class apartments which were erected in this neighborhood several years ago. The operation is owned by the 588 West End Avenue Corporation, the personnel of which consists of H. A. Hyman, president; Michael Wielandt, Sr., vice-president; J. Kresses, treasurer, and Michael Wielandt, Jr., secretary.

The owners, with a long experience in construction are handling this operation themselves and are placing separate contracts for the various branches of the work as building proceeds.

The exterior of the apartment will be of marble and tapestry brick to the level of the fourth floor above which brick with trimmings of matglazed terra cotta is being employed.

The upper floors of this structure will command an unobstructed view of the Hudson river, while the rear apartments will overlook the new church at Eighty-eighth street. All apartments above the fifth floor will have southern exposure. After making all provisions for the proper setbacks as required under the Zoning law an additional story will be erected on the roof as quarters for servants. The basement will be utilized as storage rooms and will also include a laundry equipped with drying rooms, and modern laundry devices. It is anticipated that this structure will be completed and ready for occupancy early next spring.

During the past year, there has developed a strong demand for apartments containing small units. The buildings erected in this neighborhood several years ago as a rule contained suits from five and six rooms up to ten or twelve with two or three baths. Difficulties experienced in getting and holding household help, however, has changed living conditions and the new structure, practically eliminating the servant problem is destined to prove a profitable venture and is likely to influence the construction of others similar in type.

Conclusion of Auction Sale at Forest Hills West Today

WHEN a severe wind and rain storm struck the tent at Forest Hills West last Saturday, the auction sale of lots in this beautiful Long Island development was suddenly interrupted. Joseph P. Day adjourned the sale to Monday at the Pennsylvania Hotel and it will be concluded today on the grounds where the damage to the tent has been repaired. A total of 1,231 lots, at the aggregate price of $800,785 had been sold up to last Wednesday night, when the sale was adjourned until today at Forest Hills West.

Up to the time the heavy windstorm of Saturday halted the sale, Mr. Day had sold 454 lots for a total of $337,870. M. Grossman was one of the principal buyers, his purchases totaling $48,500. They were spread over Queens Boulevard frontages and inside lots on the Woodhaven side of the property near the station. His largest single purchase was a Queens Boulevard corner for $2,000. Thomas Scowcroft, journalist, was one of the early buyers.

George Johnson, Long Island builder, made the highest single purchase of the day, a Matawok station lot, for $3,750. Miss Elizabeth Faherty purchased $14,400 worth, including three $1,700 lots on Queens Boulevard and a $2,500 Boulevard location.

George Johnson of Elmhurst again bought high priced lots around the station plaza. The Richmond Hill Contracting and Engineering Company bought a run of lots just off of Woodhaven Boulevard for $300 a lot. D. J. Menton, an official of the company, stated that it intended to build. William Schlegel of the renting office of the Metropolitan Life Building bought several lots, paying from $250 to $350 for them.

Among the buyers was Henry Jurgens, the tenant of a two and a half story frame dwelling and outbuildings on six lots at Franklin avenue and Fleet street. He paid for that property $3,750, although it was held for $4,250, but the president of the Matawok Land Company, the owner, knocked $500 off the price in order not to inconvenience Mr. Jurgens, who is a farmer, in the middle of his busy season.

Review of Real Estate Market for the Current Week

$12,000,000 Lease by Woolworth Company Marked the Crest of Dealing, Other Large Leases Were Made and a Few Big Sales

THE big business of this midsummer week was principally in leases of large properties. The striking exception was the sale to Max N. Natanson of the Dartmouth and Saint Albans apartment houses, in Harlem, for a sum close to $1,500,000 and a block front of fine elevator apartment houses, on Washington Heights, to another operator.

Marking the high tide of leasing so far this year was the lease of the Acker, Merrill & Condit Company building, at the southwest corner of Fifth avenue and 35th street, to the F. W. Woolworth Company for a term of 42 years, at an aggregate rental of $12,000,000, which is a sum almost equal to the assessed valuation of the Woolworth Building itself. The well known grocery firm that has just sub-leased it to the new tenant acquired the property when it was first built, more than 15 years ago. The fee was long owned by the New York Club whose home stood on the site. It sold it to the Thirty-fifth Street & Fifth Avenue Realty Company, who built and own the property in fee simple. The Woolworth Company have several strategic trade corners in the avenue and this latest one brings them into the maelstrom of Fifth avenue traffic.

Other huge leases were those of the two hotels comprising the east block front of Broadway, from 43d to 44th street, known as the Claridge and the Claridge Annex, the latter being formerly known as Wallick's and the Cadillac. Mixed with this transaction was the purchase of the leasehold of the Yates Hotel building on 43rd street and the fee as well. The Schulte Cigar Stores Company took over the 21-year lease of the entire buildings 1 to 11 Park Row, together with the L to Ann street that runs around 1 Park Row. The aggregate rental is $1,000,000. A good-sized site at the north-east corner of Park avenue and 86th street was leased to builders for a long term, for improvement with a 14-story apartment house. The aggregate sum involved is $2,000,000. Numerous good sized commercial leases of buildings and large floor spaces were also closed.

A building on lower Fifth avenue was sold to a firm of restaurateurs. Greenwich Village contributed the sale of several old properties. There was considerable dealing in old and new types of medium sized apartment houses throughout the city. A few choice dwellings changed hands. The Y. M. C. A. added a plot to its Washington Heights site. A site on West 58th street was sold for improvement with an elevator apartment house. Generally speaking, the sales market in Manhattan was comparatively dull, but there was varied activity in the Bronx.

PRIVATE REALTY SALES.

THE total number of sales reported, but not recorded in Manhattan this week, was 91, as against 90 last week and 89 a year ago.

The number of sales south of 59th st was 33, as compared with 28 last week and 22 a year ago.

The number of sales north of 59th st was 58, as compared with 62 last week and 67 a year ago.

From the Bronx 50 sales at private contract were reported, as against 25 last week and 56 a year ago.

Statistical tables, including the number of recorded instruments, will be found on page 88.

More Developing at St. Albans

The M. Morgenthau Jr., Co. announces the opening at private sale of a new subdivision in the Country Club district of Jamaica, Queens, adjoining the St. Alban's Golf and Country Club. This subdivision will be known as the Parkway Avenue Addition to the Country Club District. It consists of about 110 lots, located on Central av., Parkway av., 174th st., Undercliff av., and 116th av., and immediately adjoins and faces the St. Alban's Golf Links. The property will be moderately restricted and sold at private sale.

At a meeting of the directors of the M. Morgenthau, Jr., Co., George Fryhofer was elected a director of the company. Mr. Fryhofer will take charge of the company's auction department. It plans to hold auction sales of real estate in various parts of the United States as well as the metropolitan district of New York. Mr. Fryhofer has had many years' experience in this business. He has headquarters in Chicago, Ill., and branch offices in St. Louis, Mo., and Palm Beach, Florida.

Auction of Lots at Hunts Point

The English syndicate of financiers which in 1890 purchased a large amount of acreage in the Hunt's Point section of the East Bronx in the hope that the World Fair would be located there has finally decided to dispose of its holdings, and commissioned Joseph P. Day to dispose of the property for whatever it will bring.

When it was decided to hold the World's Fair in Chicago the English interests found themselves with the land on their hands. Their first move was to sell a large part of their holdings to the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad for the establishment of the Oak Point freight yards. Church E. Gates & Co. later on also acquired a large section for its lumber yards, and a syndicate composed of the late Anthony N. Brady, Hugh J. Grant, C. K. G. Billings, George O. Knapp and other prominent capitalists took over about 125 acres for the purpose of building the Bronx Terminal.

Meantime the Lenox and Westchester Avenue subway, the Southern Boulevard extension of the Lexington Avenue subway and the N. Y. W. & B. R. R. have been built and put in operation between the old Third Avenue Railroad line and the property of the East Bay Land and Improvement Co.

As a result, the Hunt's Point section of the Bronx from Westchester av east to Southern Boulevard is almost solidly built up with apartment houses, stores and business buildings, and is rapidly extending along Hunt's Point av toward East River.

Coincident with the latest building movement, the East Bay Land and Improvement Co., R. Clarence Dorsett, attorney, and the New York City Freehold Estates Corporation, Ltd., of London, England, have ordered the sale, by public auction, of all the remaining 995 lots located between Hunt's Point av and the East River, east of the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R., on Casanova and Barretto Heights, and Barretto Point, between the Tiffany st public pier and the new Bronx Terminal, with extensive frontages on the East River and the proposed Ship Basin, at the foot of Longfellow av.

The auction sale will be conducted by Joseph P. Day, Inc., auctioneer, on Saturday, July 22, in the Hunt's Point Palace, Hunt's Point Square, junction of Southern Boulevard and 163d st.

Vanderbilt Estate Regains Control

Heirs of Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt have acquired control of the plot at 49-51½ East 33d st., adjoining the Vanderbilt Hotel on Park av., which they own. The plot was recently leased by Edward N. Dickenson to Abraham Reich for 26 years at a graduating net rental of from $23,100 to $24,100 a year. Mr. Reich subsequently assigned the lease to the East 33d Street Realty Corporation, represented by Carter, Ledyard & Milburn, attorneys. The Vanderbilts are having plans prepared by Warren & Wetmore for a 6-sty store and showroom building, estimated to cost $150,000.

Real Estate Brokers Licenses

Stewart Browne, president of the United Real Estate Owners' Association, announces that the association is prepared to supply brokers with applications for licenses in accordance with the new state law which makes it obligatory for brokers to file applications by October 1. The association will also advise brokers in making out their applications.

Will Raze Clark Mansion

Upsetting the prevalent rumor that the Alfred Corning Clark mansion, at the north corner of Riverside drive and 89th street, had been bought as a gift to the city as an official home for the Mayor comes the authorized statement from the brokerage firm of William A. White & Sons that the property has been bought for re-improvement with a 16-story apartment house by a building corporation. The White firm negotiated the sale. The plot fronts 157.3½ feet on the Drive and 174.10½ feet on the street, with a northerly inner line of 185.7 feet, being L shaped. The house is a handsome detached 4-story brick and stone colonial structure. It has been owned and occupied for several years by William H. Barnard, head of the International Salt Company, who bought it from Mrs. Henry C. Potter, widow of the famous Episcopal Bishop of New York, who originally was Mrs. Clark. The Bishop spent his late years in the mansion.

When Mr. Barnard bought the property it was covered by a three part agreement restricting the property against apartments. This agreement, made some years before, included the property on the 90th st corner and also property in 90th st, east of the Drive.

With apartment houses covering large areas to the north and south of this block, Mr. Barnard figured that his own property might some day be available for such improvement, and so set about removing the restriction. Last March he purchased the property at the south corner of 90th st and the Drive, occupied by the Hamilton Institute for Girls. This is a 4-sty building, with a plot fronting 79 feet on the Drive and 123 feet on 90th st. Mr. Barnard also made an agreement with the owners of the 90th st property east of the Drive, removing the restrictions which gave him possession of a splendid site available for apartment house improvement and fronting 226 feet on the Drive, 174 feet on 89th st and 123 feet on 90th st. It is this entire property, which he held at $1,250,000, which now has been sold. The price obtained is reported to be near the figure asked.

Big Deal on the Heights

The Cliffwood Court and Westwood Court apartments, two 6-sty elevator apartment houses, covering the block front on the west side of Fort Washington av., between 179th and 180th sts., have been sold by the Capricorn Realty Corporation to the James B. Bender Co., which gave in part payment Rutherford Court, a 6-sty elevator apartment house, 100x150, at the southwest corner of Amsterdam av and 175th st. The former property, which was sold through S. & J. H. Albert, as brokers, measures 202 feet on the avenue and 115 feet on each street. The houses contain 72 apartments of 4 to 9 rooms each. They were acquired by the selling company last January.

Sales Near Fifth Avenue

The 13-sty office building, 12-14 West 32d st., has been sold by the Pacific Realty Co., Edw. E. Hess president, to the J. H. M. Realty Corporation, J. H. Michaels president, through Byrne & Bowman. The structure fronts 33.8 feet on West 32d st., beginning 225 feet west of Fifth av., and has a depth of 98.9 feet. It has a reported rent roll of $58,000 and was held at $400,000.

The site was purchased in 1907 by Mr. Hess from the Delafield estate and the present structure was subsequently erected by Mr. Hess, who has retained ownership of the property since its erection. The sale is recorded.

F. & G. Pfomml sold for Mrs. Alfred B. Taylor, the 6-sty loft building, 34 West 22d st., on a lot 23.6x98.9, to Frieda Altman, for investment.

$500,000 Bronx Sale

Echo Park Construction Co., Inc. (Shampan & Shampan, and Isaac Haft, president), sold to Crausop Construction Co., Inc. (Bernard Crausman, president), the two 5-sty apartment houses, 1916 Grand Boulevard and Concourse and 214 Echo pl. on a plot 258x103. The buildings consisting of 355 rooms, accommodate 100 families, and shows a rental of $95,000, and were recently completed from plans drawn by Shampan & Shampan, architects, and under their supervision. Holding price of buildings, $550,000. Benjamin Antin and Isaac Goldberg were the brokers.

Semi-Annual Report
LAWYERS MORTGAGE Co.
July 1st, 1922

DURING the past six months the sales of Guaranteed Mortgages, $32,635,754; the Gross Earnings, $1,013,441, and the Net Profits, $552,644, of the Company have been larger than in any similar preceding period. The fall in the rate of interest and the unparalleled safety of Guaranteed Mortgages have brought our securities into very great demand.

The eager market for mortgages and the notion that there is a magic in the word "mortgage" which makes all of them safe, have recently led to a new development in the field of mortgage securities, which perhaps calls for a word of caution. These new securities are often issued and called First Mortgage Real Estate Bonds, but are not guaranteed by the companies which put them out. The locations selected are usually prominent corners in well established districts and the buildings are large new fireproof structures, hotels, office buildings, or apartment houses. The owner of these buildings is usually required to deposit monthly one-twelfth of the annual charge for interest, taxes and amortization payments. These bonds look attractive until the investor pauses to inquire what these properties cost for land and building, what is their present value and what is their probable future value. The prospectus of these bonds is usually discreetly silent on these points, and the average investor is entirely unable to appraise the value of the land and building securing these bonds. It is safe to say that if these bond issues were restricted to the usual two-thirds of the valuations of well known appraisers in New York City, none of them would be made. The plain truth is that these issues are excessive in amount, running up to 80%, 90% or 100% of the cost of the properties, excessive in the rate of interest promised on the bonds, 6%, 6½% or 7%, and excessive in the fees paid to the issuing companies, which run from 10% to 15%. If the prospectus of these bonds should clearly state to the investor that his money constitutes practically all of the money going into the enterprise, and if the investor understood that of each $1,000 bond about $660 represented the normal mortgage loan and $340 represented the equity or stock in the building, the transaction would be thoroughly understood and the investor could take his own chances. One added danger is that these bonds are commonly offered prior to the beginning of the erection of the building, so that the investor parts with his money when his real estate security consists only of unimproved land. The experience of many years shows that under continual competition New York City real estate does not earn high rates of interest, especially on abnormally high cost of building. Hence, unless these large properties maintain their present high rentals—which is most improbable—the outcome is quite clear. Some day, the bond holders will foreclose various issues of these mortgage bonds, since there is no guarantee to protect them, and will suffer a loss from the shrinkage of their bonds in proportion to the lower rate of interest earned by these buildings. The moral for the investor is clear: Do not furnish practically all the money for new buildings, and put it up before there is any building, but stick to the usual two-thirds loan—the legal limit for trustees—and deal only with responsible companies which guarantee the mortgages which they offer you and whose unqualified guarantee has stood the test of time.

Natanson Buys Harlem Apartments

William Ottman sold through Day & Day, Inc., to Max N. Natanson, 509-515 West 110th st., two 12-sty elevator apartment houses, known respectively as the St. Albans and the Dartmouth, each on a plot 108.4x100. They contain suites of from 5 to 8 rooms each. They were held at $150,000 and were sold for all cash.

Bowery Parcels Change Hands

Jacob Finkelstein & Son sold for the Callahan estate, Laurence McGuire, president, 157-2 and 159 Bowery, the first being a 3-sty brick building, on a lot 13.6x72.3, and the second a 2-sty frame and brick building, on a lot 23.3x78.7x irregular.

A resale of the wider plot is now pending. The narrower parcel will be altered by the buyers, who are in the furniture business, and who will occupy same.

Site Bought for Private Hospital

James Kyle & Sons sold for Henry Wienand and George Ehret, respectively, the 5-sty apartments, 549-551 East 87th st., northwest corner of East End av., on a plot 46x109.81. The purchasers are a group of physicians, who will demolish the present buildings and erect a 6½-sty private hospital thereon. The sales are recorded.

More Co-Operative Apartments

The prospect of continuing high rents for the best class of East side apartments has led to the formation of a syndicate to erect a 9-sty building to provide reasonably priced dwellings for their own occupancy. The syndicate is to be composed of five shares, four of which have already been taken by Lamar Hardy, formerly corporation counsel; Frank Damrosch, director of the Institute of Musical Art of New York City; David Mannes, of the musical school bearing his name; and Dr. John C. Vaughan. They have purchased from the Minot Realty Co. (Seth Milliken) the plot 126-124 East 75th st., between Park and Lexington avs., and measuring 85.6x102.2.

This property adjoins the low studio building of the Society of Beaux Arts Architects, and overlooks to the south the recently remodelled and strongly held private residences on the north side of 74th st. The building has been planned by Donn Barber, architect, and work will begin in October in order to be ready for occupancy in the fall of 1923. Mr. Barber's plans provide for an interesting division of floors into room suites. Blaine Ewing represented the syndicate in the negotiations and Pease & Elliman were the brokers for the seller.

Broker Buys Suite

Y. M. C. A. Enlarges Plot

The Washington Heights branch of the Y. M. C. A., which plans to build a new home on the east side of Broadway, between 182d and 183d sts., has enlarged the site for its building by purchasing 4 lots at the southeast corner of Broadway and 183d st. from Dr. Charles V. Paterno. The site measures 105.10 feet on Broadway and 110 feet on 183d st.

With the latest acquisition the Y. M. C. A. is now in possession of the entire block front on the east side of Broadway, between 182d and 183d sts. The combined properties front 191 feet on Broadway, 110.2 feet on 182d st., and 118 feet on 183d st.

RECENT LEASES.

Woolworth Makes Huge Lease

The F. W. Woolworth Co. agreed to pay $12,000,000 rental for the Acker, Merrill & Condit Co. building at the southwest corner of Fifth av. and 35th st. for a period of 42 years from August 1, 1929. The structure, which is 11 stories high, covers a plot 85.9x150 and contains 170,000 square feet. It abuts on the west the McCreery building. The store in the ground floor of the property is at present occupied by Henry Maillard, confectioner.

The deal was negotiated by Harry Thoens of Thoens & Flaunlacher, Inc., who in 1917 leased to the F. W. Woolworth Co. the plot at the northeast corner of Fifth av. and 40th st., where the company erected a building and opened its first Fifth av. store. That transaction involved an aggregate rental of nearly $6,000,000.

The building just leased is owned by the Thirty-fifth Street and Fifth Ave Realty Co., which was represented in the transaction by A. L. Rosen and Rose S. Reskus, attorneys. Warner B. Matteson of Davies, Auerbach & Cornell, attorneys, represented the Woolworth Co. Herbert T. Parsons, president and general manager of the latter company, executed the lease just before he left the city for a 3 months' trip to Europe.

Boomer Disposes of Hotel

L. M. Boomer, who recently leased the Claridge Hotel at the southwest corner of Broadway and 44th st. to Morris M. Glaser of Cleveland, Ohio, has leased the Claridge Annex, formerly known as Wallick's and the Cadillac Hotel, covering the corner of Broadway and 43d st., to Edward Arlington, proprietor of the Hotel Flanders at a total rental of more than $1,830,000. Mr. Arlington has also purchased the Yates Hotel building and restaurant on 43d st. For the latter property he will pay more than $500,000, which includes the fee to the Yates building and the leasehold for 88 years. The lease of the Claridge Annex runs until 1941 at a gross aggregate rental of more than $1,830,000.

New Park Ave. Leasehold

Julius Tishman & Sons, Inc., leased through E. H. Rapaport, Inc., from Albert Fries the northeast corner of Park av. and 86th st., for a long term of years, for improvement with a 14-sty apartment house. The plot fronts 65 feet on the avenue and 100.8½ feet on the street. The parcels are known as 1041-1047 Park av.

The total amount involved in the improvement is $2,000,000.

Long Lease of Large Garage

Alfred J. Goodwin, the Iago Realty Corporation, leased for 21 years, at an aggregate rental approximating $200,000, to John Viviani, the new fireproof garage, the construction of which has just been completed at 332-336 East 35th st. As the garage is built in a restricted street, the matter had to be brought before the Board of Standard and Appeals, whose permission was obtained. The garage is an absolutely fireproof structure, modern in every respect, covers a plot about 75x98.9, and has a ramp or driveway instead of elevators, and as the location is opposite the park, permanent light is assured.

G. Montague Mable was the broker in conjunction with brokers William Glickman and Brooke & Georger. Mr. Mable and his associates not only negotiated the lease, but secured for the owner the builder who constructed the garage.

Schulte Buys $1,000,000 Lease

Schulte Cigar Stores Co. purchased from the 1 Park Row Inc., Harry Aronson, president, the 21-year lease on the 8-sty building, 1 Park Row, and the 3-sty building, 11 Park Row, the total frontage of the two buildings on Park Row being 61 feet and on Ann st. 128½ feet. The property was leased about a year ago by Harry Aronson from the Pulitzer estate, and extensively reconstructed. The building at 11 Park Row, running through to Ann st., is leased to the Golden Shoe Co. who added two extra stories, and the corner building modernized, and the ground floor rented for 21 years to Kaufman Hats, who in turn rented a portion of the ground floor to the Schulte Cigar Stores Co. By purchasing this lease, Schulte now becomes the landlord of his own landlord. Lurie & Feinberg represented 1 Park Row Inc., as attorneys, and the Schulte Co. was represented by Jerome Eisner. Henry Shapiro & Co. were the brokers.

Large Corner Garage Leased

The 3-sty garage, on plot 100.5x130, at 1089 Third av., southeast corner of 64th st., has been leased by the newly organized Henry Paul Realty and Improvement Co., with Louis Bennett, John Laspia and Sidney E. Lehman as directors, for ten years. H. R. Korey, attorney, represents the new company.

Lease Madison Ave. Spaces

Herbert McLean Purdy & Co. leased for the 333-345 Madison Avenue Corporation in 345 Madison av. the entire 10th floor, for a term of years, to the Callaway Cotton Mills, who will use the same as executive office space. The building was recently purchased by the American Bond and Mortgage Co., who after extensive alterations will occupy most of it as their headquarters.

The same realty firm also leased office space in the National Association Building for the H. K. Ferguson Contracting Co., of Cleveland, to the Melich Advertising Service; and space in the Marlin Rockwell building, 366 Madison av., for the M. C. M. Corporation to Sinclair & Co.

Herbert McLean Purdy & Co., although one of the most recently organized firms, has during the past several months negotiated over a million dollars in realty transactions. Herbert McLean Purdy was formerly associated with the firm of William A. White & Sons.

BUILDING SECTION

First Half of 1922 Establishes New High Construction Record

Statistics Tabulated by F. W. Dodge Company Show Commitments in Twenty-Seven Northeastern States 59 Per Cent. Greater Than Last Year

CONTRACTS awarded for new building and engineering projects in the twenty-seven Northeastern States amounted to a total of $343,440,000 during the month of June. With the exception of the record totals of April and May of this year, the figure for last month is larger than any previous monthly total. According to the F. W. Dodge Company the June figure is only 5 per cent. under the record May total and shows an increase of approximately 52 per cent. when compared with the total for June, 1921.

The continued high rate of building activity throughout the country has been responsible for bringing the total amount of new construction started in the first six months of this year up to $1,690,984,000 which is by far the highest figure for the first half of any year of record. The total for the past six months is 59 per cent. greater than that for the same period of 1921.

Included in the total for the six month period are the following items: $682,663,000 for residential buildings, including apartments and private houses, an increase of 89 per cent. over the corresponding period of 1921; $288,932,000 for public works and public utilities, being 19 per cent. higher than last year; $280,329,000 for business buildings of various types, or 94 per cent. greater than last year; $164,641,000 for educational projects, which is 58 per cent. better than a year ago; and, $123,181,000 for industrial plants, factories, etc., an increase of 42 per cent. over the same period of last year.

Contemplated new building and engineering construction in this territory reported from January 1 to July 1 has amounted to slightly more than three billion dollars. The new projects placed under contract and actually started during this period amount to a total of $1,690,000,000.

There is now every indication that the remaining summer months will show a slight falling off from the extreme high rate of activity which has prevailed during the second quarter of this year. However, there are localities in the Middle West where the construction revival has not as yet gained the headway it has in the East. These places may be expected to show continued increases in commitments that will in a measure offset declines in other districts.

June building commitments for the New England territory amounted to $38,300,000, an increase of 16 per cent. over the total for the previous month and approximately 136 per cent. above the figure for the same period in 1921. Construction has been started during the first six months of the year to the amount of $175,363,000, an increase of 115 per cent. over the first half of 1921. Residential construction, which has amounted to $64,220,000, shows an increase of 107 per cent. over the first half of last year; business buildings, amounting to $41,772,000, have been nearly three times as great in volume as last year; educational buildings have amounted to $20,266,000, three times the volume of last year; public works and utilities, which have totalled $18,523,000, have doubled last year's six-month record; and industrial buildings, in the sum of $15,783,000, have run 68 per cent. ahead of last year. Contemplated new work reported during June amounted to $39,577,100.

Contracts awarded during June in New York State and Northern New Jersey amounted to $79,383,000, a decline of 10 per cent. from May, but an increase of 27 per cent. over June, 1921. The peak month for this district was April. However, the declines in May and June have been confined to New York City, where the building revival has been a year in advance of the rest of the country.

Construction started in this district from January 1 to July 1 has amounted to $485,185,000, nearly double the amount for the corresponding period of 1921. On the six months' record, residential construction, amounting to $256,528,000, has run 89 per cent. ahead of last year; mercantile construction, amounting to $84,715,000, has been 145 per cent. ahead of last year; public works and utilities, $50,848,000, more than double last year; educational buildings, $34,491,000, about three times the volume of last year; and industrial construction, to the amount of $22,601,000, is 41 per cent. ahead of the first half of 1921. Contemplated new work reported during June amounted to $201,693,000.

June building contracts in the Middle Atlantic states (Eastern Pennsylvania, Southern New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, District of Columbia, Virginia and the Carolinas) amounted to $56,373,000, an increase of 3 per cent. over the preceding month and of 75 per cent. over the corresponding month of last year.

Total construction started during the first half of this year has amounted to $255,844,000, an increase of 59 per cent. over the first half of 1921. On the record of the first half of the year, residential construction, amounting to $114,169,000, has run to double the volume of last year; public works and utilities, $45,401,000, are 15 per cent. ahead of last year; mercantile construction, $34,954,000, is 84 per cent. ahead; educational buildings, $20,622,000, are 89 per cent. ahead; and industrial plants, $16,507,000, are 12 per cent. ahead. Contemplated new work reported in June amounted to $71,667,000.

Contracts awarded during June in Western Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio, Kentucky and Tennessee amounted to $54,454,000. Although this was a decline of 25 per cent. from the May figure, it was 16 per cent. ahead of June, 1921.

During the first half of the year construction has been started in this district to the amount of $261,573,000, an increase of 22 per cent. over the corresponding period of last year. The six months' record shows: total residential construction, $86,584,000, which is 50 per cent. ahead of last year; mercantile construction, $48,166,000, or 116 per cent. ahead of last year; public works and utilities, $49,551,000, or 29 per cent. under last year; industrial plants, $25,760,000, or 28 per cent. ahead of last year; and educational buildings, $25,439,000, which is 19 per cent. ahead of last year's six-month record. Contemplated new work reported during June amounted to $77,572,000.

June building contracts in the Central West (comprising Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Wisconsin, Michigan, Missouri and portions of Eastern Kansas and Nebraska), amounted to $104,412,000. This total (1 per cent. over the previous month and 74 per cent. over June, 1921), is the largest monthly figure for this district since October, 1919.

From January 1 to July 1 the amount of construction started in this district was $471,013,000, which is 45 per cent. greater than the work started in the first six months of last year. The record for the first half of 1922 shows: residential construction, $147,497,000, more than double the amount for the first six months of last year; public works and utilities, $111,258,000, or 25 per cent. ahead of last year; business buildings, $65,171,000, which is 28 per cent. ahead of last year.

Survey Shows Homes for 40,000 Families Now Being Built

Building Superintendents of New York City, Cooperating with Employer's Association, Analyze Construction Work in Progress June 30

IN cooperation with the Building Trades Employers' Association the Superintendents of the building bureaus in the five boroughs of New York City have just completed a survey of the construction work now actually in progress in their respective districts. The tabulated results of this survey bring out some interesting side-lights on the local building situation as it now exists, and, when compared with the final results of the investigation which was made during the latter part of 1921 by the Building Trades idea of the progress of the local building industry and the intensity of the building movement now prevailing. When the totals for June 30, 1922, are compared with those of December 31, 1921, it can readily be seen why labor costs are still at phenomenally high levels and why there is a continued scarcity in some materials and their prices high and not likely to decline for some time to come.

According to the June 30 figures residential construction is now at its peak. The high record for plans filed in all boroughs of New York City was reached last March when the total for the Employers' Association, proves conclusively that there is more construction now under way than ever before in the history of this city.

The most interesting fact brought out by this survey, as well as the most important in several respects, is the manner in which residential construction is now practically dominating the local building situation. The reports of the superintendents for Manhattan, month reached the astounding sum of nearly $100,000,000. The previous high record month for plans filed in New York City was in July, 1916, with $53,134,000 and the next highest in October, 1921, with a total of $52,294,000. The previous record months, however, only showed totals slightly more than half as large as that for last March.

It does not require a close student of construction economics to Brooklyn, and the Bronx, show accommodations for a total of nearly 40,000 families now actually being erected in these three boroughs. In Manhattan the residential structures now being erected will accommodate 4,616 families, while 11,498 families will be provided for in new dwellings in Brooklyn and 13,626 will be housed in the Bronx. This survey only takes into consideration those buildings which are actually in course of erection on June 30 and does not include any structures which may now be completed but still unoccupied.

A study of the accompanying tables will give a very definite realize that it was the rush to file plans with the Bureau of Buildings last March that is responsible for the record breaking totals, of structures actually in process of erection today particularly as the major portion of the new construction filed in March involved residential projects designed to be built under the provision of the Tax Exemption Ordinance. According to authentic reports almost all of this work was started without delay despite the fact that exemption from taxation on residential buildings was extended for another year and it is largely this form of building now responsible for the activity throughout the city.

Building in Metropolitan District Now at Season's Peak

Weekly Statistical Report of F. W. Dodge Company Confirms Recent Predictions of Unprecedented Construction Activity This Summer

ACCORDING to the manner in which contracts for new building and engineering construction are being awarded in the New York territory and the activity of the architects and engineers in the preparation of plans for new operations, there is no sign of a cessation of building progress for many months to come. From all parts of this territory reports are coming in of a steadily increasing interest in building that is only limited by the supply of men and materials for the work.

Figures tabulated by the F. W. Dodge Company, for the twenty-seventh week of this year, show that in the district including all of New York State and New Jersey, north of Trenton, architects reported work on 445 new construction projects at an estimated total cost of $75,012,300. This unusually high total for the week is qualified by the fact that the report included a large hydro-electric plant at Niagara Falls which will cost in the neighborhood of $60,000,000 to complete. The contracts actually awarded during the week in this territory numbered 302 and represent a total value of about $11,173,400.

Building activity in Greater New York for the week of July 1 to 7 inclusive involved reported plans for 195 new building and engineering operations at an estimated total cost of $8,411,500 and 91 commitments under contract which will require an outlay of approximately $5,417,800.

The 195 operations for which plans were started during the twenty-seventh week of this year included 27 business buildings such as stores, offices, lofts, commercial garages, etc., $2,420,000; 7 educational projects, $987,200; 4 factory and industrial buildings, $295,000; 4 public buildings, $264,300; 5 public works and public utilities, $255,000; 3 religious and memorial buildings, $160,000; 137 residential projects including apartments, flats and tenements and one- and two-family dwellings, $3,562,000 and 8 social and recreational buildings, $473,000.

Among the 91 projects for which contracts were awarded during the week of July 1 to 7 inclusive were 19 business buildings of various types, $997,000; 3 educational structures, $96,000; 2 hospitals and institutions, $20,000; 2 industrial plants, $53,000; 2 public buildings $64,300; 4 public works and public utilities, $144,000; 1 religious edifice, $90,000; 55 residential operations including multi-family dwellings and one- and two-family houses, $3,792,500 and 3 social and recreational projects, $61,000.

E. Everett Thorpe, president of the local association, was elected a member of the board of directors.

Lewis, formerly consulting engineer to the New York City Board of Estimate, as consultant to the City Planning Board of Boston, is making a brief study of existing conditions and available data for the purpose of suggesting a program of work to be carried out to reach the results desired.

John F. Killeen, who for fifteen years was associated with the General Electric Company, recently resigned and has affiliated himself with the Mitchell Vance Company, manufacturers of lighting fixtures, 503 West Twenty-fourth street. Mr. Killeen will have charge of sales.

Columbia University Extends Course

A distinctly professional course in Columbia University, open to men and women and leading to the certificate of proficiency in architecture, is offered through university extension, to begin September 28 in the winter session and February 7, 1923, in the spring session.

The aim of this course is not so much to train merely clever draftsmen as to provide that fundamental instruction and discipline in the history, theory, science and art of architecture which, when supplemented by a sufficient amount of practice in architects' offices, shall qualify the student for independent practice.

Watson Elevator Co., Inc., Expands

To meet the steadily growing demands of its business the Watson Elevator Company, Inc., 407 West Thirty-sixth street, has purchased the entire plant of the Reedy Elevator Company, together with its well-equipped factory, foundry and machine shops at Hoboken, N. J.

The plant is now being remodeled to increase its effectiveness and has already commenced the manufacture of elevator equipment designed and built in conformity with the "Watson" standard.

The old organization has been retained and has taken hold with the sole purpose in mind of serving, better than ever, the customers of both the Watson and Reedy concerns.

The Watson elevators will now be manufactured exclusively at this plant, while the repair and service departments will be continued at both the New York and the New Jersey plants.

The Reedy Elevator Company, which has been taken over by the Watson Elevator Company, Inc., has been established for sixty-four years, and now, with the backing of its youthful and energetic contemporary, the service it will afford its old customers will be second to none. The success of the Watson Elevator Company has been founded upon promptness and efficiency, and with the expansion permitted by the acquisition of the Reedy Company facilities, excellent results are anticipated.

CURRENT BUILDING OPERATIONS

MID-SUMMER finds the local building industry engaged to its maximum capacity and all signs point to a continuation of activity in the construction field for many months to come. Although there has been some decline in the number of multi-family dwellings being planned the work of this character now actually in progress is undoubtedly greater than ever before in the history of this city. During the past month or six weeks there has been a decided improvement in the number and value of industrial and commercial operations started and this increase more than offsets the decline in residential projects for the future.

Labor conditions are just about what they have been for the past few months. The majority of the trades are fully employed and in certain definite lines there is a scarcity of skilled workers that is retarding progress to some extent. As a result of this condition builders are still forced to pay a substantial bonus over and above the authorized union scale and this is one of the prime reasons why construction costs have not receded in the same ratio they have in other centers. With the vast amount of new construction still on the schedule for a start before the beginning of winter there is practically no possibility of changing wage rates for workers in the building trades.

The markets for building materials and supplies are exceedingly active and current inquiries warrant the prediction that the sources of supply will be taxed to the utmost throughout the remainder of the year to keep abreast of the demand. Common brick from the Hudson Valley is coming into the market in good volume and the demand is not quite so keen as it was several weeks ago. Prices are somewhat easier but there is little possibility of a sharp decline while fuel remains as costly as it is today and as scarce. Owing to the continuation of the railroad and the coal strikes there is some anxiety being expressed about future material supplies. The rail strike is hindering the shipment of lumber, face brick, lime, plaster, cement, etc., and the difficulty of obtaining fuel is slowing down manufacturing operation in some of the essential building material lines. Prices are generally very firm and no reduction from the prevailing levels is anticipated while the demand remains as keen as at present nor while there is any doubt about future supplies.

Common Brick—The past week has been a fairly active period in the New York wholesale market for Hudson River common brick. Although cargoes are being disposed of as fast as they arrive the demand has lost some of the keenness which characterized the market several weeks ago when there was a very decided scarcity. Prices are steady with quotations generally $20 a thousand to dealers in cargo lots, but it is understood that several barges are being held at a slightly higher price. The principal difficulty of the brick manufacturers at the present time is the growing scarcity of fuel for burning the new brick. While the majority of the producers have some reserve fuel the doubt as to future supplies has caused them to resort to cord wood, soft coal, bricquets and coke. The latter, however, is almost as scarce as hard coal and almost as high in price.

Summary—Transactions in the North River brick market for the week ending Thursday, July 13, 1922. Condition of market: Demand strong; prices steady. Quotations: Hudson Rivers, $20 a thousand to dealers in cargo lots alongside dock. Number of cargoes arrived, 39; sales, 39. Distribution: Manhattan, 12;

MATERIALS AND SUPPLIES

Bronx, 1; Brooklyn, 19; New Jersey points, 5; Astoria, 1; Flushing, 1.

Lumber—The demand for lumber continues very strong and both wholesale and retail departments of trade are anticipating excellent business for some months to come as there is no indication of a decline in building activity in this territory and manufacturing consumers are steadily becoming more important factors in the market. Reports from suburban districts show a large amount of new building still to be started before autumn and with the bright prospects for increased activity in industrial and commercial projects within the city there is every reason to look for a brisk demand throughout the remainder of the year. Prices are somewhat steadier than they have been, but there is little probability of lower levels while the building boom continues and the lumber movement continues at its present rate.

Electrical Supplies—Business in the electrical supply trade has been very active during the past week. Demand is holding up well and both manufacturers and jobbers report excellent prospects for continued activity in this line. Wiring supplies are moving steadily and recent inquiries denote a large volume of new business soon to be released. There is considerable competition on prices and as a result slight recessions have been noticed in some lines, but on the whole the market is firm and likely to remain so for a long time to come. The vast amount of active construction is keeping both manufacturers and dealers on the jump to make deliveries, but supplies are adequate and no work is being held up on account of lack of goods.

Reinforcing Bars—Buying is light, but several important tonnage orders are pending which, when announced, will considerably strengthen the local market situation. Prices are firm at 1.70c. base Pittsburgh the minimum and there are instances where premiums have been paid for early shipment out of stock. Architects report a decided improvement in the outlook for industrial building activity during the next few months and as reinforced concrete will be extensively used in this work the prospects for increased demand are bright.

Cast Iron Pipe—Business in this line continues to be exceedingly active and there is no indication that demand is likely to fall off for some time at least. Producers in this district are for the most part booked up to November and orders are coming in steadily despite another increase in price amounting to about $3 per ton. New York prices are now holding at $53.30 per net ton for 6 in. and larger, and $58.30 for 4 in. and 5 in.

Roofing Papers—Demand continues very active due to the large volume of small house construction in the suburban districts. At present there is little likelihood of a drop in buying activity as there is much new building being planned which is scheduled for an early start. Stocks are good and prices are very firm with jobbers' quotations on roofing paper, f. o. b. New York, 79c. per roll for 35-lb. to $1.70 for 58-lb. rolls.

Builders' Hardware—This line continues very active and dealers anticipate the demand will hold as long as the prevailing building boom lasts. Recent trade reports show that the heaviest demand is for the cheaper grades of hardware as generally used in moderate priced apartments and small dwelling projects, but there is an increasing demand for the higher grades and special items. Prices are very firm and although there is no anticipation of any immediate revision of price schedules, it is the general opinion that any change will be an advance.

Bank of Commerce Decides On Edison Service

Through the recent purchase of an adjoining building in which a generating plant had been replaced by Edison Service some years ago, the National Bank of Commerce was afforded an opportunity to study Central Station Service at first hand

This demonstration was so convincing that the bank is now abandoning the generating plant in its own twenty story building at Nassau and Cedar Street and has arranged for the installation of Edison Service. Seven hydraulic elevators will be electrified, as well as a side walk lift, and house pumps. The motor installation totals 510 horsepower while for lighting there are several thousand lamps

Housing Shortage Overcome

If any further proof were required that the local housing shortage is past and that there are now adequate accommodations for all homeseekers, that proof is found in the report of the New York City Superintendents of Buildings, which was published in THE RECORD AND GUIDE last week. In order that the public might know just where it stood in regard to housing facilities, the building bureaus of the various boroughs in co-operation with the Building Trades Employers' Association, undertook a survey of the new buildings actually in progress on June 30. Although this investigation included projects of all types, the result, with its preponderance of residential construction, was so significant that the survey practically amounts to a guarantee that no further difficulty need be anticipated by the residents of the city as far as their ability to secure modern habitations is concerned.

On June 3 THE RECORD AND GUIDE printed an editorial in which it presented by facts and figures the manner in which the Legislature had been grossly misled by the Lockwood Committee into passing certain housing bills despite adequate proof that the crisis was over. Surveys made by the Building Trades Employers' Association and the Real Estate Board of New York were presented in evidence that the housing famine no longer existed and that there was even an actual surplus of dwellings of a certain type. At that time the only apparent shortage was in apartments rentable at very low rates. Since then, however, even this phase of the housing situation has materially improved and today there is a real surplus of residential space on the market, with rentals slowing down perceptibly and many landlords, who have recently erected modern dwellings, confronted with the prospect of seeing their properties indefinitely idle or only partially rented.

The report of the Building Bureaus of the work under construction on June 30 shows that in Greater New York homes in apartments for a total of 38,363 families were in progress. Compared with a similar survey made last December, which then showed housing in multi-family structures under way for the accommodation of 26,760 families, the present is seen to be the most active period in the history of New York City for its volume of apartment building. But to the total of accommodations now in progress in new apartment house projects must be added the homes provided in one- and two-family dwellings throughout the city and with the total of these there is left no room for argument that a shortage longer exists.

In presenting its claims to the Legislature last March for the passage of the housing bills and the extension of the life of the Lockwood Committee, Samuel Untermyer, Special Counsel to the Committee, stated that the city was still in need of homes for 80,000 families. The reports of the surveys made by responsible organizations showed then that this claim was grossly exaggerated, but they were ignored by the legislators in favor of the highly-colored statements of the Lockwood Committee and its counsel.

Exemption from taxation last year was responsible for a tremendous increase in residential construction and before the year had ended those most competent to analyze the situation saw clearly that the so-called shortage had resolved itself only into a scarcity of low-priced accommodations in tenements. Furthermore, there was already at that time a sufficient number of new one- and two-family dwellings under way to create a surplus in this type of building which more than offset any scarcity in cheap apartments. Early this year the opinion among real estate men was general that the removal of many families into new homes and the vacating of the old-fashioned apartments they had occupied during the period of constantly-increasing rentals would result in a decline in rents in the old structures to a level in closer economic relation to the rent-paying ability of the average workman's family. This opinion is now being borne out.

One of the outstanding facts in connection with the recent report of the Superintendents of Buildings is the relatively small amount of housing activity in Manhattan as compared with the other boroughs of the city. On June 30 in Manhattan housing was in progress in dwellings of all types sufficient to accommodate 4,616 families as against habitations for 13,524 families in the Bronx; more than 9,000 in Brooklyn; about 6,000 in Queens and 1,600 in Richmond. This is a decidedly better showing than that made by the survey of last December and, when it is realized that in the interim from January 1 to June 30 a considerable number of new operations were started and completed which do not appear in any of the reported totals, it can be easily understood that the housing shortage is a thing of the past and that actually the city is now confronted with an over-production of homes.

Watching the 1923 Budget

With a budget of $350,000,000 predicted by Comptroller Craig for 1923, various organizations have set on foot a proposal for joint scrutiny of the items entering into this huge total so that their necessity and relative cost may be carefully weighed.

The Real Estate Board calls attention to the fact stated recently by Senator Davenport, that every individual in the state, man, woman and child, pays on the average of $107 in taxes. For a family of five this means an outlay of $535 before the family budget can be adjusted to care for such necessary things as food, clothing, education and amusements. With the majority of people these taxes are included in the rent and in the costs of the articles just mentioned. Only a small portion of the voters pay tax bills to the collector, but everybody pays taxes indirectly, in the form of addition to the prices of the various items making up the family budget. In other words, if there were no taxes to pay for the administrative expenses of state and local governments every individual in the community would have $107 more to spend in better housing, in richer food and clothing, and for higher education and more fun. This is bromidic, but the realization of the plain truth by those who pay taxes indirectly, as well as the property-owners who are keenly alive to the situation, would do much to clear the way to a solution of the problem which is now engaging the attention of those aiming to see the budget clarified and this having been accomplished cut to the irreducible minimum. Only by systematic and conscientious labor can the burden now so overwhelming to taxpayers be lightened.

It is for this purpose that the Committee on Non-Partisan Facts, of which Herman A. Metz is Chairman, has called a conference of various civic bodies to co-operate in an examination of the budget.

"The best of budgets does not, in itself, mean wise or unwarranted appropriations or services or insure good or bad government," says a statement by the committee. "The official budget preparation of New York City is probably the equal of any in city, state or nation. When one examines the instructions relative to departmental estimates for the budget of 1923 and accompanying forms, which have just been sent to all city department heads, together with an order that first estimates be submitted by July 10, three weeks before the Charter requires, the citizen must accept full responsibility for any defects of the City Government which he has not attempted to discover and correct during budget-making time."

The committee does not promise to save millions of dollars, but it aims to show the way for eliminating waste and reduction of extravagance in the administration of the finances of the city. And in this it should have the support of every citizen without respect to party affiliations, actuated only by the desire to relieve the administration of the city's finances from either just or undeserved criticism, and to assist the city officials in their sworn duty to safeguard the rights and property of every person in the community.

City Loses Suit to Oust New York Central from Riverside

THE Court of Appeals last week unanimously affirmed the decisions of the lower courts in favor of the New York Central Railroad Company in the suit begun by the city in 1918 at the direction of Mayor Hylan to eject the railroad from the seven-mile strip along the Hudson River between 72nd street and Spuyten Duyvil Creek.

The city based its action on the ground that the railroad was making use of land belonging to the city and to which it had never obtained title. It was contended by the railroad, however, that it lawfully possessed the strip and also land under water, 60 feet in width, occupied by its tracks over the seven-mile distance. The city began ejectment proceedings before Supreme Court Justice Donnelly after the Public Service Commission had taken up the case, the commission holding that the railroad could not prove title to the land over which it operated its trains north of Seventy-second street and below the Harlem Ship Canal.

Upon the dismissal of this complaint the city authorities carried the case to the Appellate Division, which affirmed the decision of the lower court. Justice Smith, in the opinion, said:—

"The rights of the railroad company do not exist under any general law which requires a franchise from the municipality. The franchise was given by the state itself, subject only to the approval of the municipal authorities, which approval has been given. This franchise, while giving the right to construct the road, would not give the right to take private property without compensation, and I will assume for argument that the land owned by the city, which was not used for public purposes, was the private property of the city for which compensation might have been required."

Justice Smith also pointed out that to take the property away from the railroad after it had improved it at great expense would not only cause great loss to the road, but would be a blow to the city itself in crippling its commerce.

This decision has now been unanimously affirmed by the Court of Appeals, to which tribunal the city appealed. As soon as this decision of the Court of Appeals was announced, Mayor Hylan wrote to John P. O'Brien, Corporation Counsel, and directed him to carry the case to the United States Supreme Court.

Prior to the starting of this litigation the city and the New York Central Railroad Company had come to terms upon which "Death Avenue" was to be eliminated and the shore park side along Riverside Drive made sightly by covering the tracks, at no cost to the taxpayers but at an expense to the railroad company of $150,000,000.

Before the contracts for this improvement could be signed, however, Mayor Mitchel was succeeded by Mayor Hylan. One of the first acts of Mayor Hylan in 1918 was to order Corporation Counsel Burr to bring suit against the railroad company for the purpose of reclaiming the seven-mile strip of land along the east bank of the Hudson River occupied by the railroad company.

Board of Estimate Appropriates $600,000 for War Memorial

THE Board of Estimate last Wednesday appropriated $600,000 for a war memorial without deciding on the exact site nor approving plans for the whole project. Of the amount set aside for this memorial $300,000 is to be used in building an arch, similar to the temporary one placed at Madison Square in honor of the return of the World War veterans. It was expected that before the appropriation was made a public hearing would afford various individuals and organizations opportunity to be heard on tentative plans for placing the memorial in Central Park.

Among organizations that had representatives present were the Citizens Union, City Club, Municipal Art Society, Parks and Playgrounds Association, Broadway Association, American Historic and Scenic Preservation Society, Fifth Avenue Association and Harlem Chamber of Commerce.

Most of the organizations were opposed to taking any part of Central Park for either the war memorial or the art center.

The first proposition for the appropriation of $600,000 was that $300,000 should be used for the memorial arch and the other half for taking down the lower reservoir in Central Park and preparing the site for the arch. As passed the resolution provided that the second half of the money should not be available until plans had been made and approved by the board.

In reply to various criticisms that were voiced at the meeting because those present were not allowed to speak for or against the proposed memorial, Mayor Hylan explained that the details of the plan were immaterial.

Mayor Hylan declared that the meeting was not a public hearing. "We are not going to have hearings on the matter now," he said. "There will be hearings later on."

Comptroller Craig was the only one to vote against the resolution. He did so specifically because there was no plan as yet.

Murray Hulbert, President of the Board of Aldermen, in voting for the appropriation, said that it was necessary to establish a policy, and that was the purpose of the resolution.

"I vote aye on the understanding that we are not voting on details at this time," said Julius Miller, President of the Borough of Manhattan.

"Such details as swimming pools have not been decided upon," said the Mayor. "This only means that a sum has been laid aside. The matter may be discussed by any one when the public hearing is held. Then we will set a policy. Before one dollar of the people's money is spent every one will have a chance to be heard."

Plan Apartment to Comply with Amended Zone Law

Million-Dollar Structure, at Fifth Avenue and Ninety-Seventh Street, Designed and Erected by the Fred F. French Co.

THE first multi-family building of the type now permitted on the newly restricted section of Fifth Avenue according to the amended Zoning Law is at present in course of construction at the northeast corner of Fifth Avenue and Ninety-second street. This building in several respects is unique and of more than ordinary interest from both the real estate and the building viewpoints.

The amended restrictions limit the height of new buildings bearing walls, which will provide living accommodations for seventy-one families. Apartments are arranged in suites of one to seven rooms, with baths, and each suite will contain a wood-burning open fireplace. Rentals will range from $660 to $4,700 per year, according to the size of the suites.

This project, which represents an investment of more than a million dollars, is owned by the Dayfield Realty Company of which Fred F. French is president. The directorate is erected on Fifth Avenue between Sixtieth and Ninety-sixth streets to seventy-five feet. This new project, although just outside of the newly-restricted zone comprehends exactly what might have been done under the amended law had the site been within it. The new regulations permit structures of not more than six stories in height unless their ceilings are abnormally low.

Fred F. French Co., Architects and Builders.

APARTMENT PROJECT AT FIFTH AVENUE AND NINETY-SEVENTH STREET

Plans for the new apartment were prepared by the Fred F. French Company which also has the contract for construction. These plans call for a semi-fireproof structure, with composed of Mr. French, W. Bourke Cochran, Mrs. J. Sargent Cram, Henry B. Clossen and J. Sargent Cram.

Occupying a plot with a frontage of 100 feet on Fifth Avenue and 200 in Ninety-second street, this building will become a notable addition to the group of handsome residential structures on the nation's best-known thoroughfare. The design of the building follows closely the Colonial motifs and the facades are being constructed of white Indiana limestone for the first two stories, above which the walls are to be of face brick with limestone trimmings.

May Not Use Residence in Restricted District for Business

THE Appellate Division of the Supreme Court in an opinion handed down last week held that the Murray Hill restrictive agreement of 1849 prevented the American Bible Society from occupying and developing the residence of the late Captain Joseph R. De Lamar, at Madison avenue and Thirty-seventh street, for the organization's executive offices and sales headquarters. The opinion was handed down on an appeal which William Nelson Cromwell and the De Lamar estates executors took to compel the society to complete the purchase of the building.

The Appellate Court held that inasmuch as the society has no business except "a general circulation of the Holy Scriptures without note or comment" it would not be prohibited from the district by the zoning law of 1916. The restrictive agreement, however, was held to bar the organization from using the old mansion for its contemplated purposes.

Stage Coaches—Horse Cars— Flat-flame Burners

ALL THREE OF THESE VEHICLES HAD THEIR PLACE IN OUR CITY AND LIVES MANY YEARS. THE FLAT-FLAME BURNER WAS THE VEHICLE OF LIGHT AND THE BEST TO BE HAD IN THOSE TIMES. ALL THREE LONG SINCE PASSED INTO THE CLASS OF MUSEUM EXHIBITS.

The introduction of the gas mantle in the 80's supplanted flat-flame burners. It had been found that a far superior light could be obtained from the heat in the gas when used through a mantle. It is the heat in the gas that is used for cooking, heating and industrial work.

Our customers must have the very best illumination possible at a minimum of cost. This can be obtained only by the use of Gas Mantles. There is no excuse for using a flat-flame burner today. Flat-flame burners are wasteful of gas. At best they give the user a very inferior lighting return and discolor walls and ceilings. They clog up and give an irregularly shaped flame.

Have Us Replace Your Flat-Flame with a Mantle Burner

EXTRA MANTLES FREE. There are three mantles on a "C E-Z" (See Easy) Light, which sells for $1.75 on easy payments. To each purchaser will be presented three extra mantles. An extra mantle will be given to each purchaser of any one of the three "Reflex" Lights.

The "Thrift" Burner sells for 24 cents. We give an extra mantle with that, and an extra mantle with a "Thrift" Light which sells for 39 cents, including a handsome glass globe.

When you purchase a Gas Lamp or Lighting Fixture from us we give you a continuous "Lighting Service," free of expense to you, except where broken mantles or parts have to be replaced, and then no charge is made for time and labor.

We install the Fixture and place the Mantles in position free of charge. Details of this unusual "Service" explained at any Manhattan or Bronx Gas Office.

Review of Real Estate Market for the Current Week

A Sale in the Premier 34th Street Block Led the Dealing, While a Few Other Good Sales Gave the Market Tone

THE real estate market this week was substantial for a summertime week. There were no spectacular sales, although there were a few good sized ones. There was good diversity to the dealing and it was well scattered over the city.

Leading the transactions was the sale by the estate of John Jacob Astor of two choice office and store properties at 22-30 West 34th street, on the south side of the block between Broadway and Fifth avenue. A cash sale, it is reputed to amount to $1,600,000. The parcels adjoin the Astor Court building and are close to the Waldorf-Astoria.

Frederick Brown was a big factor in the week's dealing. He acquired the Saint Hubert Hotel, a 12-story property, on West 57th street. A well-known operator sold to another three 6-story loft buildings at 513-519 Broadway and running through to Mercer street. These transactions were in the neighborhood of $1,000,000 each. N. J. Hess, long a member of a prominent real estate firm, sold his half interest in three large mercantile buildings. A notable instance of tenant buying was that of the sale by the Phelan estate of a row of tenement houses with stores, at the southeast corner of Tenth avenue and 25th street, to various merchant store tenants, after the estate had owned the properties 70 years.

A purchase involving more than $500,000 was that by the National Biscuit Company of an 8-story factory on the West Side, for its own uses. The company now owns the entire block bounded by Ninth and Tenth avenues, 15th and 16th streets. There seems to be no abandonment of the West side by large industrial and wholesale concerns. This part of the city has witnessed a number of interesting transactions this year. A little to the south, in Greenwich Village, a corner group of old buildings changed hands this week. There were other sales there as well.

Sales of more than passing interest were a 12-story apartment house in East 86th street, which figured in a trade; a large vacant plot on Broadway, in the Dyckman section; a large commercial taxpayer at the northeast corner of Broadway and 99th street to a well-known operator; and some medium sized business parcels throughout town.

The Bronx loomed stronger than any other borough in the total number of sales made. Apartment houses, one and two-family houses and vacant plots comprised the volume. Some of the multi-family houses sold were new ones. Brooklyn and Queens contributed some good sales as well.

PRIVATE REALTY SALES.

THE total number of sales reported, but not recorded in Manhattan this week, was 89, as against 91 last week and 84 a year ago.

The number of sales south of 50th st was 37, as compared with 33 last week and 38 a year ago.

The number of sales north of 50th st was 52, as compared with 58 last week and 46 a year ago.

From the Bronx 61 sales at private contract were reported, as against 50 last week and 26 a year ago.

Statistical tables, including the number of recorded instruments, will be found on page 114.

Realty Board Favors Correct Prices

The subject of the publication in the newspapers of sales and leases accompanied by figures representing other than the actual price or rental, has recently been given serious consideration by the Real Estate Board of New York, with the result that the Board of Governors has gone on record as being opposed to this procedure. Members of the board are being so informed.

The matter was brought up at a meeting of the members held on May 15 and was referred to the Ethics and Commissions Committee for consideration. This committee, at a meeting held in June, referred it to the Board of Governors, with the recommendation that the suggestion be approved. After due consideration the following motion was adopted at the June meeting of the Board of Governors:

"That the Real Estate Board of New York is opposed to the publication on the part of its members of a sale or lease at any price other than the correct price."

Astors Sell on West 34th St.

The John Jacob Astor estate sold the 6-sty building, 75x98.9, at 22 to 26 West 34th st, and the 5-sty building, 50x98.9, at 28 and 30 West 34th st, to Nathaniel Spear of Pittsburgh, president of Spear & Co., real estate brokers, who now occupy part of the property under a lease. The 6-sty building is leased to Spear & Co., with 3 years of the lease yet to run. The 5-sty structure is leased to the United Cigar Stores Co., with 3 years of the lease yet to run. The Brown-Whitlock Co., Inc. was the broker.

The properties were held at $1,600,000 and were sold for all cash. The city assesses them for tax purposes at $1,390,000, of which $1,254,000 is for the land and $136,000 for the buildings.

Title to Arcade Passed

Title to the Standard Arcade building, at 44 to 50 Broadway, through to 45-47 New st, was conveyed on July 14 by the Standard Oil Co. to 50 Broadway, Inc., Norman S. Riesenfeld president. Mr. Riesenfeld contracted for the purchase of the property in March, 1920. The transfer was made for a nominal consideration, the Standard Oil Co. allowing a mortgage to remain for $1,100,000 for 5 years at 6 per cent per annum, and another for $550,000 for a similar term at 5 per cent per annum.

Estate Sells Eighth Ave. Corner

J. P. & L. A. Kissling sold for the estate of William K. Thorn to an operator 198-204 Eighth av, northeast corner of 20th st, four 5-sty brick tenement houses with stores, on a plot 51.10x75, also for the same estate 306 Eighth av, a 5-sty brick tenement house with store, on a lot 25 x148.4x27.8; and for the same estate 263 West 20th st, adjoining the northeast corner of Eighth av, a 3-sty and basement brick tenement house, on a lot 20.9x83.101.

The Thorn family had owned the parcels more than 100 years, having bought it originally as farm land. It was improved in 1885. Louis Carreau was associate broker.

The buyer has resold 202-204 through the same brokers.

Winners in Realty Tennis Tournament

The Board's Annual Tennis Tournament was held on July 12 at the West Side Club, Forest Hills, Queens borough. A record breaking entry list of 45 brought out a fine crowd and the West Side Club extended every courtesy and facility for playing. The weather was ideal, as this year the usual thunderstorm did not put in an appearance.

The singles cup was won by C. G. Burrows, who defeated B. Symond, Jr., in the final match by the score of 6-1:6-2. The score, however, does not show the closeness of the contest, as every game in the first set went to deuce. The doubles were won by Sherman A. Manchester and D. M. Pearsall, who defeated Doyle and Rothstein, 6-0:6-3. A consolation singles and double tournament was also run off in the afternoon for the men who lost in the first round in the morning.

BEHEMOTHIAN BANKS

A COMMON complaint of clients of banks, advertising companies, architects, law firms and other professions is 'the difficulty of getting the personal attention of the heads of the business. The trouble lies here—

1.—Great volume of business and the natural tendency to foster the largest accounts.

2.—The length of a day and the natural limits of human capacity.

This Trust Company is so organized as to offer the personal service of its executives to every depositor, regardless of size of deposit, and that is the policy which has made it second to none in financial stability and marked it as the most progressive of all the conservative Trust Companies.

Apprenticeship Training Plans Outlined to Employers

Burt L. Fenner, A.I.A., Chairman of N. Y. Building Congress Committee on Apprenticeship, Addressed Monthly Luncheon of Employers' Association

AT the most interesting as well as the most instructive of the monthly luncheon meetings held by the Building Trades Employers' Association, which occurred at the Association rooms, Wednesday, July 19, Burt L. Fenner, New York Chapter of the American Institute of Architects and Chairman of the Committee on Apprenticeship of the New York Building Congress, delivered an address on "Training Mechanics for the Building Industry." Nearly two hundred members of the Association were present and showed by their intelligent questions after the conclusion of Mr. Fenner's address that the subject of apprentices is one of the most important problems now confronting the construction industry.

In his address Mr. Fenner not only explained the great need for additional skilled mechanics in practically all of the trades affiliated with the building industry, but gave a brief outline of the problems he has met and overcome during the past six months during which he has studied the situation from all of its various angles as the Chairman of the Apprenticeship Committee of the Congress.

"Among the many problems confronting the building industry in its post-war attempt to re-organize its forces and meet the demand which the world is making of all industry for greater production, with increased efficiency and the elimination of waste, is the problem of recruiting the ranks of the skilled trades and increasing both the quality and the quantity of their output," said Mr. Fenner. "In a company composed almost entirely of employers, it is quite unnecessary for me to quote statistics to prove that in most of the trades an actual shortage, more or less acute, exists. You know it better than I. Nor will it be denied that the skill of the average mechanic of the present generation is less than it was a generation ago. If these are facts, the industry must find a remedy; it must not only increase the number of skilled mechanics but it must raise the standard of skill.

"One result of the great war was to largely increase the output of the manufacturing plants of the United States. Extensions were built and new and improved machinery installed to meet the government's imperative need. This is perhaps less true of the plants manufacturing materials for building construction than of those in other industries, but it is certainly safe to say that the productive capacity of plants producing building materials is today far in excess of what it was in 1914. At the same time, another effect of the war was to almost entirely stop building construction, and, in spite of the abnormal activity of the last year or two, there is still a great accumulation of delayed building projects which must be cleared up during the next few years. Furthermore, the financial condition of the country is such that there will be no difficulty in financing the needs of the building industry.

"This, then is our situation. There is an accumulated demand for building construction sufficient to keep the industry at work at top speed for years to come. There is money to finance the industry; the manufacturing plants are equipped for a production greater than ever before but the supply of skilled labor necessary to assemble and erect the output of the plants is today far below what it was eight or ten years ago. Skilled labor for building erection thus forms the neck of the bottle. If the labor of field and shop cannot absorb the output of the factories, then the factories must curtail production, expensive plant and equipment must remain idle, overhead costs of production must increase and money which would naturally find investment in the building industry will seek other fields of employment. Up to perhaps fifteen years ago, the ranks of skilled labor in the building trades were recruited satisfactorily from Europe and through the system of indentured apprentices. Until that time, large numbers of skilled mechanics came to this country from the British Isles, Germany, France and the countries of northern and western Europe. In all these countries the standards of education and vocational training were high and the mechanics who came to us from Europe were generally the equals of the American born and trained, but for the last fifteen years the tide of immigration has completely changed.

"In recent years our immigrants have come very largely from the countries of Southern and Eastern Europe where educational standards are low, and from these countries we have received but few trained mechanics. Since the war, drastic restrictions have been placed upon immigration, so that we may now assume that the European source of supply has been completely cut off and we must, therefore, depend solely upon our own resources.

"The system of indentured apprentices has also failed to supply the normal demand. There have been many reasons for this failure. There has been no systematic course of training, planned to produce well-rounded mechanics, skilled in all branches of their trades; no attempt to supplement shop and field instruction with school instruction calculated to make men more intelligent and better citizens; no systematic attempt on the part of employers to provide continuous employment; no certainty that the young men, when trained, would be admitted to union membership, and thus be given an opportunity to earn their livings at the trades they have learned. There have been instances in which employers have exploited the apprentices, using them to take the places of journeymen, and it has been a more or less common experience that apprentices only half trained have left their employment, gone to other cities, posed as full fledged journeymen and obtained employment as such. What with the hit-or-miss methods of training, the closed books of the union's, the tendencies of the young men to break away from their training and obtain the status of mechanics before they were qualified, and the absence of any attempt at training in the responsibilities of citizenship, is it any wonder that the system, or lack of system, has failed to produce mechanics in the necessary quantity or of the desired quality? We must also remember that many journeymen left the building trades for other employment during the war and have not yet returned, and, perhaps, never will, and we must realize that nature's laws are inexorable and that men will grow old and die.

"The present shortage of skilled mechanics is actually throttling the entire industry. You gentlemen, representing the employers in the building trades, cannot escape the duty of correcting this situation. Now, what are you going to do about it? There are doubtless many ways in which improvement may be brought about. A thorough study of the subject of seasonal unemployment ought to point the way to a more efficient use of the labor forces which we now have but, in my opinion, that which will produce the most positive and most immediate results will be the establishment of a system of apprentice training, so designed as to eliminate the weaknesses and causes of failure of past systems. Nor will it be necessary for you to adopt the role of pioneer, searching out new and unexplored country.

"The New York Building Congress, which, as you know, comprises in its membership not only contractors but representatives of manufacturing, financial and real estate interests, architects, engineers and labor, and which, since its organization, has devoted itself to a broad general study of the present condition of the industry, has reached the conclusion that the industry has no greater need than that of a comprehensive system of apprenticeship training, not for one or two trades only, but designed so as to be applicable, with slight changes in detail, to any and all trades as their individual needs may determine. So certain does the Congress feel of the soundness of this conclusion, that it has been at work for several months in the constructive work of designing such a

"It has also had the most generous co-operation of the State Department of Education and the Board of Education of New York City. It has had the advice and assistance of Dr. Elliott, of the Hudson Guild, to whom, more perhaps than to any other man, is due the splendid system in use by the printers.

"The Congress has worked out a definite general plan, which has been approved by the Building Trades Employers' Association and the New York Building Trades Council. It has elaborated this plan in detail for the carpentry and allied trades and is making every effort, with the hearty co-operation of employers and unions in these trades to put the plan into full operation within the next two months.

"I shall not take the time to explain it in detail but I want to touch on a few of its general principles.

"The administration is co-operative. The directing agency is a joint general committee of thirteen, five representing the employers, five representing the unions and three chosen by the New York Building Congress from men less directly connected with construction, viz., two architects and a real estate owner and operator. Smaller joint committees will direct the work in the individual trades. Under the direction of the general committee there will be a permanent staff of experts in vocational education, preparation of courses of instruction and text books, inspectors to co-ordinate the work in shops, in the field and in school, and such clerical help as may be required. It will be seen that by this plan the exploitation of the apprentice by the employer and the control of the apprentice by the union will become impossible. The joint committee will act as a court of last resort in case of complaint by the employer, the union or the apprentice himself.

"The minimum age limit is 16 years and the period of training is four years. Sixteen years is the age at which, under our laws, a boy may quit school and, in the great majority of cases, he does so. If not permitted to at once enter upon their apprenticeship training, most boys would find other work and would be unwilling to leave it a year or two later to start their period of training for the building trades. Four years is not too long a training period if the boy is to receive a well rounded education in all branches of his trade, but credit may be given to a boy who can satisfy the committee that previous training entitles him to advanced rating.

"The minimum wage is a graded one, gradually increasing through the four years, and, at all times, a fixed percentage of the journeyman's wage.

"School training in simple mathematics, mechanics, science, English, etc., is obligatory. If the apprentice fails to put in the required time at school, his enrollment will be cancelled and his employment cease.

"Continuous employment is recognized as a moral obligation of the joint committee. At the outset, it seems impossible to induce employers to guarantee continuous employment but the obligation to find steady employment for the boy is one of the important functions of the committee. Evidence already in our possession has convinced us that this obligation will have great effect upon the boy who is considering enrollment.

"The joint control will prevent any tendency on the part of the employers to create a surplus of labor and on the part of the unions to unduly restrict the supply of mechanics.

"I predict that this work, once started, will grow by leaps and bounds. It will surprise you to know that the several local unions in the carpentry and allied trades now number 450 apprentices in their membership; that members of the Employers' Association in those trades are now employing 100 apprentices and have obligated themselves to employ 100 more as soon as we can furnish them. We are, therefore, prepared to enroll 650 apprentices in the carpentry and allied trades at once and the New York City school authorities are now planning to provide for their night school training beginning October first.

"We have been told that we will find an impenetrable obstacle in certain trades, in the 'closed books' of the unions. If there are any unions with closed books, it is, of course, obvious that an apprenticeship system in those trades cannot exist. No boy can be expected to devote four years of his life to learning a trade unless reasonably assured of admission to the union and the full opportunity for employment as a journeyman when competent. I do not fear this obstacle, if it really does exist. The great majority of the unions are keenly interested in our apprenticeship plan. They know that no sane man today would deliberately seek to overload a trade with more mechanics than it can reasonably hope to keep busy in normal times.

"If one or two unions were to seek to delay the rehabilitation of the industry by such a short-sighted policy as maintaining closed books, they would be forced by the sentiment of the other unions to change their tactics, and, in the last analysis, public sentiment would demand an end to such reactionary ideas. You may depend upon it, that two or three unions will never be permitted to throttle the whole great industry.

"We are not so blind as to believe that our plan is letter perfect. In its main essentials, it has passed the critical examination of employers and unions and its main controversial points have been settled by the unqualified acceptance of both. Minor points of criticism will develop, but with the mutual good will which has been thus far manifested, and with the ardent desire to put it into operation, its defects will be ironed out by the joint boards as they develop.

"What, then, remains to be done to put the plan into full operation? One thing only, but a very important thing; viz., the securing of the necessary financial support. Our next step is to organize the general joint committee, the members of which have already been appointed, and to find and engage the experts necessary to start the machine operating.

"You are doubtless preparing to ask me where this money is to be found. Let me say that the industry itself must furnish the bulk, if not all, of it. The unions are prepared to do their share, but you will recognize that they are not financially in position to make a very large contribution. The employers who are now required to pay bonuses in order to get men, and the manufacturers who find the output of their plants restricted by the shortage of setters and erectors must furnish the greater part of the necessary funds. With the industry itself committed wholeheartedly to the undertaking, the Congress will endeavor to interest the general business public insofar as that may be possible, but it goes without saying that the general public will not undertake to do that which the industry will not do for itself.

"The period of paper work is ended. The working drawings and specifications are completed, the estimates are in hand, and the contract is ready for signature. I believe that the employers and manufacturers in the building industry are ready to accept the role of first party to that contract."

At the conclusion of Mr. Fenner's address various members of the Employers' Association questioned the speaker on points which were doubtful and the discussion which followed brought out a number of interesting facts which had not been covered in the address but which were germane to the subject and important to both unions and employers.

The last speaker was A. E. Kleinert, Superintendent of Buildings for the Borough of Brooklyn, who briefly outlined the apprenticeship system as it exists in Germany.

New Commitments Indicate Continued Building Progress

Weekly Statistics of F. W. Dodge Company Show Little Decline in Local Activity Because of Unsettled Material Supply Situation

CONSTRUCTION in the Metropolitan district continues at mid-season intensity. Although there is a noticeable decline in the number of new housing projects being brought out there is a decided increase in industrial and commercial operations which has more than offset the loss in residential work. Study of the newly projected operations shows that there will undoubtedly be a continuation of the prevailing conditions in the local construction field for the remainder of the year and that during the next few years the building trades will average far better business than they have had for several years past.

The weekly statistics compiled by the F. W. Dodge Company show that in New York State and New Jersey, north of Trenton, plans were announced for 713 new projects at an estimated total cost of $29,170,200 during the twenty-eighth week of this year. The contracts actually awarded in this territory during the week numbered 497 and represented a total outlay of $18,755,300.

In Greater New York there were first reports on 276 new building and engineering operations during the week of July 8 to 14, inclusive, which will require an expenditure of approximately $20,068,900, and the records show 130 contracts awarded, which are valued at a total of $8,623,800.

The list of 276 contemplated operations is divided into the following groups: 50 business buildings such as stores, offices, lofts, commercial garages, etc., $3,688,000; 9 educational projects, $1,200,900; 1 hospital, $1,000,000; 8 factories and industrial plants, $667,000; 3 public buildings, $272,500; 5 public works and public utilities, $2,562,000; 5 religious and memorial buildings, $298,000; 193 residential operations, including apartments, flats and tenements and one and two-family dwellings, $10,175,500, and 2 social and recreational projects, $205,000.

Among the 130 projects for which contracts were awarded in Greater New York during the twenty-eighth week of this year were 23 commercial buildings of various types, $4,099,000; 3 educational projects, $150,900; 3 industrial buildings such as factories, shops, warehouses, etc., $190,000; 2 public buildings, $85,000; 7 public works and public utilities, $310,900; 2 religious edifices, $25,000, and 96 residential projects, including multi-family dwellings and one and two-family houses, $3,763,000.

Manufacturers and Dealers to Co-operate

For the purpose of co-operation, arrangements have been made by the Executive Board of the Lighting Fixture Dealers' Society of America and the officials of the National Council of Lighting Fixture Manufacturers to join together more closely in discussions regarding promotion of their activities and solution of their problems.

According to Charles H. Hofrichter, secretary of the National Council of Lighting Fixture Manufacturers, the affairs of both organizations will be administered from the same office. Each organization will maintain its own identity, have its own officers, collect and handle its own funds and in every way conduct the detailed work of the organization in an individual manner.

Employment Service for Engineers

An employment service for engineers of every variety of training and experience is conducted by the four National Engineering Societies of the United States. This service brings in touch with the various business men the service of 50,000 trained technical men who are members of these societies, and one of the objects of it is to show to the various commercial houses the aid which engineers are rendering to others in the same lines and to help these firms and corporations secure similar assistance.

Men of engineering training are prominent in all branches of commercial endeavor and their creative ability is recognized as being of great help in the building up of the nation's wealth.

This service is under the direction of W. V. Brown and is located in the United Engineering Building, 29 West Thirty-ninth street, and is free to both employer and to employee.

Clay Production Less in 1921

Production of raw clay in New Jersey, the leading clay-producing state, during 1921 decreased both in quantity and value from the high points reached in 1920 and 1919, according to figures compiled by the State Department of Conservation and Development in co-operation with the U. S. Geological Survey.

A total of 263,178 short tons valued at $1,049,748 was produced in the State in 1921 while the corresponding figures for 1920 were 354,613 short tons valued at $1,656,867. These figures represent only those clays which are mined and sold as clay, and not those which are mined and used directly by the manufacturer.

Ball clay alone showed an increase. The 1921 tonnage of 8,230 short tons was 65 per cent. greater than that of 1920; the value of the yield for 1921 is placed at $62,638, while that for 1920 was $43,157.

Other clays included in the raw clay group, together with the 1921 figures, are: fire clay, 195,572 short tons valued at $842,257; stoneware clay, 16,354 short tons valued at $71,919; and miscellaneous clays, 43,022 short tons valued at $72,934.

TRADE AND TECHNICAL SOCIETY EVENTS.

Wall Paper Manufacturers' Association of the United States will hold its annual convention at the Hotel Commodore, New York City, during the week beginning July 31.

New York State Retail Hardware Association will hold its annual convention and exposition at Rochester, February 20 to 23, inclusive, next year.

Long Island Lumber Dealers' Association will hold its first annual clambake and field day at Valley Grove, Eatons' Neck, near Northport, Wednesday, July 26. An interesting program of athletic events is being prepared.

American Society for Municipal Improvements will hold its annual meeting at Cleveland, October 2 to 6, inclusive. Headquarters will be located at the Hollenden Hotel. An interesting exhibit will be held in connection with this meeting.

Illuminating Engineering Society will hold its annual convention in Boston, September 25 to 28 inclusive. This will be the sixteenth annual gathering of the society, and the convention arrangements are in the hands of a committee of which C. L. Edgar, president of the Edison Electric Illuminating Company of Boston, is chairman; H. F. Wallace, vice-chairman, and J. Daniels, secretary.

American Electrochemical Society announces the removal of its national headquarters to Columbia University, after having been located for nearly twenty years at Lehigh University, Bethlehem, Pa. The change is due to the fact that the society's new secretary, Dr. Colin G. Fink, has recently been appointed lecturer in electrochemistry at Columbia, and he will have charge of that division of the university's department of chemical engineering.

National Safety Council will hold its eleventh annual meeting in Detroit, August 28 to September 1, inclusive. A special program has been arranged for the metals section, of which J. R. Mulligan, safety inspector for the Bethlehem Steel Company, is chairman. The program for the meeting includes reports of officers and committees and several addresses. All meetings will be held in the new Cass Technical High School, which has just been completed. This building has an auditorium with a seating capacity for 3,000 persons.

CURRENT BUILDING OPERATIONS

CONTRACTING interests in the Metropolitan district need not fear a decline in building activity for some time to come if the records of the past week are any criterion of the outlook for the future. The week has been a notable period for the award of contracts, among which are numbered several costly and important projects. One of the outstanding characteristics of the situation has been the decided improvement in the volume of active commercial work and the number of large alteration jobs recently placed under contract. Another feature is the increasing interest in the construction of costly private residences and the records of the week show several contracts for work of this type, with others being planned for an early release.

The coal and railroad strikes are steadily becoming more of a menace to local building progress. Although there is as yet no real scarcity of materials, supplies in some lines are getting dangerously low and the outlook for the arrival of shipments from production point is not bright. The coal situation is retarding production of steel, lime, plaster, cement, brick, terra cotta and many other items essential to construction and the increasing difficulties of transportation are retarding the deliveries of what reserve stocks the manufacturers have on hand. As a result of this condition prices are remarkably firm and with a decided trend toward higher levels.

One of the significant characteristics of the construction situation is the noticeable decline in the volume of newly proposed residential work. During the past few weeks the records of the building bureaus, of New York City, have shown a decided decrease in the number of new residential buildings filed, and although the construction of dwellings still remains the dominating feature of the local situation there is every indication that within a relatively short time the major portion of the new active residential projects will be completed and the mechanics employed on these operations released for commercial and industrial operations.

Common Brick—Business in the New York wholesale market for Hudson River common brick was excellent during the past week. The transactions of the period included the arrival and sale of fifty-six barge loads of brick, a record only exceeded once this year, and that after the river was first opened to navigation last spring. Demand is steady, but is not quite as keen as it was some weeks ago, although the arriving barges are being promptly disposed of. During the past week or so there has been increased sales of brick in Manhattan which is indicative of the improvement in the commercial building situation. Brooklyn continues to lead all other boroughs in the purchase of common brick and the bulk of it is going into immediate consumption in apartment house projects and other residential operations in that borough and Queens. Prices are quite steady at $20 a thousand, to dealers in cargo lots, and there is no present anticipation of a softening in price, at least not while labor costs remain at their prevailing level and the fuel situation continues as serious as it is today. Although the fuel problems have not as yet been responsible for decreased brick production, manufacturers are conserving what little hard coal they have on hand and after starting their kilns on anthracite are maintaining their fires with a high grade of soft coal, or are using coke or cord wood.

Summary—Transactions in the North River brick market for the week ending Thursday, July 20, 1922. Condition of market: Demand active; prices steady.

MATERIALS AND SUPPLIES

Quotations: Hudson Rivers, $20 a thousand, to dealers in cargo lots along-side dock. Number of cargoes arrived, 56; sales, 56. Distribution: Manhattan, 19; Bronx, 2; Brooklyn, 25; New Jersey points, 8; Astoria, 1; Yonkers, 1.

Structural Steel—The railroad and coal strikes are responsible for the growing difficulties in the steel industry and as a result of this condition deliveries are getting slower in the face of increasing tonnage demands. Several important commitments have been booked within the past few days and a large number of projects are likely to be released within the next week or so, and this work will involve a very substantial total tonnage. Prices are very firm with the minimum generally 1.75c. base, Pittsburgh, for reasonably early deliveries. Spot deliveries are calling for premiums considerably above this level. New York prices on structural steel, fabricated and erected, range from $75 to $85 per ton, according to size of the tonnage and the type of project.

Lumber—A very active demand continues in this market and both wholesale and retail departments are reporting excellent prospects for the future unless the business is slowed down because of the railroad strike. At the present time lumber orders are largely in excess of production and even shipments from mill points are being made at a rate considerably above the actual output. The railroad strike is exerting a retarding effect upon the lumber industry. Freight is moving slowly and deliveries are becoming more and more uncertain. Prices are steady and practically unchanged.

Roofing Papers—An active demand characterizes this market and business is likely to continue at its present rate as long as interest in the construction industry is maintained. Dealers report stocks adequate for all demands and prices firm without likelihood of important changes.

Window Glass—Little change has taken place in the market for this material during the past week. Demand is strong, but it is largely for the cheaper grades of glass commonly used in apartments and small house construction. At present there is some scarcity in plate glass due to the active buying of the automobile industry. Prices are steady and there is no indication of a decided movement in either direction at present.

Cast Iron Pipe—The demand for this commodity is steadily increasing and as a result deliveries are becoming more extended. The local mills are all practically booked ahead for at least three months and but little spot business is being accepted at any price owing to the coal and transportation difficulties. There is considerable municipal business now on the market and more in sight, but private buying continues to be the outstanding feature of the current demand. Prices are very firm and likely to continue at their prevailing levels for some time if they do not advance further. New York quotations, per net ton, are as follows: 6 in. and larger, $53.50; 4 in. and 5 in., $58, and 3 in., $68.30, with $4 extra for Class A and gas pipe.

Electrical Supplies—Trade conditions in this line remain substantially unchanged. Demand is quite active and all signs indicate a continuation of good business for the remainder of the year. The large amount of new construction is creating a steady demand for wiring materials and other items identified with construction. Prices are somewhat unsettled and no important changes have been reported, but there is a decided upward trend to the market.

Hotel Seymour Adopts Edison Service

For the past few years the Hotel Seymour at 44-50 West 45th Street has used Edison Service as a reserve to its own power plant. After a careful survey and study of the plant conditions the management has been convinced that all-year Central Station Service will result in a saving of approximately $5,000.00 annually. They agreed that a system which could save so much money, one that has been adopted with so much success in other hotels, must have merit. Accordingly they signed the contract, which has resulted in the abandonment of the private plant has been placed in the Home Club Building—(11 to 17 East 45th Street)—which has been enlarged and converted to use as an office building, by Robert M. Catts, for the East 45th and 46th Streets Realty Corporation, E. J. S. Brown, Engineer, from plans prepared by Warren and Wetmore, Architects.

The installation, which replaces the original equipment, consists of three high speed WATSON traction elevators of the latest improved model, capacity 2500 lbs., speed 400 ft. per minute, serving 10 floors. All the newest features of elevator design are incorporated. The cabs are of special Tyler design, with highly ornamental finish. An inspection of this installation will well repay your trouble.

The Watson Elevator Co. repairs, alters and installs all types of Electric Elevators. Estimates free on request. Weekly or monthly inspections by competent elevator men.

EDITORIAL

Drastic Action by Government Needed

Now that the Federal Government has issued orders through the Interstate Commerce Commission for control of the distribution of coal and listing the priority of consumers, the seriousness of the coal and railroad strikes to the people of this city becomes very apparent. It is admitted that stocks of coal in reserve either at the mines or in consumers' hands is very limited. The amount being mined in non-union fields and in mines where armed protection has been given strike-breakers is woefully small. In the distribution of this rapidly-diminishing supply the railroads are to be served first, with ships, public utilities, cold storage plants, hospitals, national, state and local governments following in the order named. Apartments, office buildings and private houses are not mentioned in the list because those who will have charge of the distribution do not believe there is enough coal on hand or to be mined, unless the strike is settled, to supply the needs of those designated, let alone the heating for the coming winter of the living quarters of the 110,000,000 people of the country.

Inquiry among office-building and apartment-house managers in this city again discloses the fact that storage facilities for coal are negligible except in a comparatively few instances. Space in buildings of high cost is too valuable; vault room under sidewalks has been invaded by conduits and machinery, and storage in other buildings or yards is expensive. The dependence of the city on its daily deliveries of coal to consumers frequently has been demonstrated when snow and sleet storms have interrupted traffic.

Government control of coal distribution, undoubtedly necessary, will not be of much advantage to New York City unless it is followed quickly by peaceful or enforced coal production. During the war coal was delivered first, rightfully enough, to those sections of the country which the rigors of winter attack earliest. New York, with its more favorable climate, got and now will get coal after the Western and Northwestern States are cared for. This makes it doubly necessary to this city that movements to settle both the coal and rail strikes shall be prosecuted wisely and energetically, and that the further efforts of the Government to bring order out of chaos shall have the whole-hearted support of every citizen. The rail strike, while so far only mildly effective, is already putting a brake on industry, only just getting into nearly normal stride, and if continued will bring about deplorable conditions similar to those that existed two years ago. The coal strike has resulted in a drop of anthracite output from 8,757,000 net tons in March to 26,000 tons in April, 35,000 tons in May and 84,000 tons in June. The total for the first six months in 1922 is 21,922,000, as compared with 45,485,000 tons in 1921. These figures are ominous. The showing in the bituminous field is not quite so bad, but the cut in production is sufficiently large to be alarming. In March the output was 50,157,000 tons and in April 15,797,000. There was an increase over this in May of 5,000 tons and in June of 7,000. The total for six months of 1922 is 187,129,000 as compared with 196,173,000 for 1921 and 257,748,000 for 1920.

Confronted by these figures the nation is awaiting the approach of winter with the prospect of having to put up with the rationing of coal even if the strikes should be settled immediately. That the strikes were unnecessary in the first instance has been proved during the negotiations for their settlement, in which the original grievances have given way to others as the basis for continuing the strikes. These new contentious questions should be amicably adjusted by Labor Day at the latest or the long-suffering public, already impatient at the futility of the methods employed to bring about harmony and impatient of further delay, will make its will unmistakably known.

Co-operation in Training Apprentices

The New York Building Congress has matured its preliminary plans for the training of apprentices in the various trades affiliated with the construction industry and it now remains only for the development of these plans into an actual working system without further delay. Maximum progress in the local building industry has been severely hampered for a long time because of the admitted lack of skilled workers. This shortage directly resulted from the neglect of both labor and employers to stimulate the training of young men in the building crafts.

The apprenticeship plan of the Congress is the first real constructive movement having as its objective the training of workers to fill the places of those now getting along in years or leaving the trade for other employment. The movement has the approval and support of both the unions and the employers, which gives it every likelihood of success. It should be successful from every viewpoint, because the plans as outlined not only provide for the practical and theoretical training in the various crafts but the proposed courses also include training in citizenship, thus making better men as well as better mechanics.

This plan for the training of building trade mechanics is the outcome of untiring effort on the part of the New York Building Congress Committee on Apprenticeship, which has worked diligently during the past six months in making an exhaustive survey of the needs of the industry for apprentices in the various trades and in the preparation of the plan for supplying these needs. Burt L. Fenner, A. I. A., chairman of this committee, and his assistants, all men of prominence in the industry, who gave their time and energy without thought of payment other than the knowledge of good accomplished for their fellow men, are deserving of the highest credit for what they have already accomplished and for the certainty that their efforts will act as a stimulant to similar activities in other parts of the country.

At the monthly luncheon meeting of the Building Trades Employers' Association last Wednesday, Chairman Fenner outlined the plans of the Congress for commencing the work of training apprentices in the building trades. He rehearsed the reasons of the Congress for undertaking this important work and showed by facts and figures just how greatly the industry stands in need of additional skilled workers if the great building movement now in progress is to reach its maximum intensity. He told briefly how the industry has suffered during the past decade because of the scarcity of skilled mechanics and how the trades have been depleted by death or by the attractions of other forms of employment. After describing the plans of the Congress for stimulating apprenticeship training he told the employers what was required in the way of co-operation and support if the objective was to be reached.

The keen interest which Mr. Fenner's remarks aroused among the employers present and the intelligent manner in which he was questioned upon various phases of the apprenticeship training plan indicated conclusively that this subject is one very close to the hearts of the employers and that the work started by the Congress will be supported and carried on by the unions and the employers, both of whom will gain equally in the good accomplished.

Mr. Merritt Gives Reasons Why Rentals Will Not Slump

ACCORDING to the opinion of Charles H. Merritt, executive secretary of the Building Managers and Owners Association of New York, rental schedules will not be greatly lowered until there has been an appreciable reduction in operating costs.

"Are rents in apartment houses coming down? This question recently addressed to me by a friend indicates a state of mind that probably exists fairly generally among tenants today," declared Mr. Merritt. "He reasons that inasmuch as the papers say that other things are being reduced in price, rents must follow the procession.

"Before we go further into this subject, let me ask, What in the family budget has been reduced to a marked degree? Does your weekly table allowance go any further? How about your tailor's bills? Can you now get three suits for the price of two? From my experience it costs me the same to live as it did a year ago. Where possibly one item may be a little cheaper, another is enough more to make up the difference.

"Wholesale prices of household commodities have come down, but the retailer refuses to acknowledge this and continues to maintain his war-time schedules. Notwithstanding this condition, there seems to be in the minds of most people the thought that the prices of everything are coming down, and they reason that rents must follow.

"Be this as it may, the landlord in selling space differs from other merchants in that he must establish a price to hold for a month, year, or even more. Although he does not know definitely what his expense will be, he yet must establish a selling price. True, his experience for the past year is some guide, but the future may bring expense unlooked for, but no matter what the cost, he must abide by the contract, while often an irresponsible tenant will break a lease to suit his own convenience. A merchant knows definitely his cost, but the landlord can only rely on his judgment.

"Taxes, coal, repairs, interest, wages are the main items of his expense, every one of which shows no tendency to descend. Possibly some branches of labor have been reduced, but in the buildings of New York City wages are the same as last year. Certainly no one can claim that interest and taxes will be lower this coming year and the matter of the price of coal remains uncertain, yet with all these facts before him the landlord must decide the rent for next year, and how anyone can expect him to deceive himself into thinking that his expense will be less next year is beyond conception.

"Of course, unreasonable rents should be reduced, and I am not trying to justify the profiteer, but rents in general will not come down. They cannot if the owner is to receive a just return on his investment. The tenant imagines the owner is bluffing and by standing 'pat' for a while he will bring his rent down, but as we approach October the scramble will be concentrated. Already it has started, and when the 'wise misinformed' tenant tries to find a cheap apartment he will experience a sensation similar to that of a cold plunge, but like the plunge, it will be too late to get out.

"There has been considerable building and many new apartments will be ready by October 1, but these buildings were erected under the worst labor conditions that we have experienced for many years. The so-called 'snowballing' required the builder to pay exorbitant wages and building material has been continually rising as the demand increased, so that if the owner of a new apartment house is to keep the sheriff away he must ask higher rents than his neighbors who erected their buildings before the war.

"Rents will not come down until taxes, interest, and other expenses connected with the management of buildings are reduced, when the builder is protected from the malicious increasing of labor costs during the period of erection and until he can be guaranteed that a wage schedule will continue for a definite period and that building material will be furnished him at a price permitting building costs to total to a figure that will allow him to compete with existing rent schedules.

"Rents can only be established on costs, and until erection and operating costs are reduced there can be no reduction in rents."

Provisions of Zoning Law Upheld by Boards

TWO recent decisions of the Board of Standards and Appeals and the Board of Estimate and Apportionment indicate that these Boards are upholding the general requirements of the Zoning Law even when pressure is brought to secure concessions from its strict enforcement.

What is considered to be one of the most important decisions on zoning rendered by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment in preventing the change to business of the few residential streets south of Fifty-ninth Street adjoining Fifth Avenue was decided by the board at its meeting on July 19.

This case has been pending for almost a year and a half, the application to change this section from a residential to a business district being made by several property owners who only a short time before presenting their petition had purchased property in this locality for business purposes, knowing that it was restricted to residential use.

The application was made in an attempt to break down the law which now restricts for residential purposes Fifty-second to Fifty-fifth Street, inclusive, between Fifth and Sixth Avenues, and Fifty-first to Fifty-sixth Street, inclusive, between Madison and Park Avenues.

The board's action in this case is taken as an indication of the present administration's determination to preserve the residential character of this section. The majority of property owners in Fifty-fifth Street opposed this application.

Immediately after the decision was rendered it was announced by one of the property owners that negotiations would be resumed immediately for the development of three parcels in Fifty-fifth Street, which include the erection of a high-class apartment house for residential purposes only.

The Board of Appeals has denied the appeal of the Equitable Life Assurance Society for permission to erect a nineteen-story office building, without setbacks, on the east side of Seventh Avenue, between Thirty-first and Thirty-second streets. The insurance society planned a structure taller than the present height regulations allow, namely, twice the width of the avenue. Buildings rising higher must have setbacks under the law. The proposed building, which will cost $5,500,000, will house most of the Equitable's clerical staff now at 120 Broadway.

Work Started on Million Dollar Apartment Hotel in Bronx

Project Originated by Bronx Boosters, Inc., Will Supply Local Facilities for Entertaining on Scale Heretofore Impossible

FOUNDATION work has been started on a modern fireproof apartment hotel being erected in the Bronx at a cost of more than $1,000,000. This building is being erected under a general contract by the Niewenhouse Company, Inc., for the Bronx Boosters, Inc., according to plans and specifications prepared by Paul R. Henkel and Maynicke & Franke, associate architects.

The building, which will occupy the block front on the Grand Boulevard and Concourse, from 161st to 162d street, will provide accommodations for eighty-one families in small units and in addition will have large dining rooms, lounge, roof garden, etc., which will make it a landmark in this part of the city.

This apartment hotel has been financed through a loan made by the Lawyers Title & Trust Company which was arranged by Lawrence, Blake & Jewel, brokers. The structure will be twelve stories in height, with basement and sub-basement and will occupy a plot containing approximately 20,000 square feet.

The building has been designed in the Renaissance style of architecture and the facades will be constructed of limestone to the level of the third floor, above which face brick and limestone trimmings will be used.

The main entrance will be on the Concourse and in addition to the spacious entrance lobby and corridor the ground floor will contain the main dining room, seating about three hundred persons. The building will also have a large banquet hall and ball room, lounge, etc.

The building now under construction provides for fifty transient guests on the second and third floors, all rooms with private baths. The floors above will contain suites of two, three and four rooms, each with kitchenette and bath.

Architects Plan to Aid Home Builders

AT a luncheon of the New York Chapter of the American Institute of Architects held at the Delta Kappa Epsilon Club, Friday, July 21, plans were outlined for the formation of the Atlantic division of the Architects' Small House Service Bureau by Edwin H. Brown, Chairman of the Committee on Small Houses. Twelve subscribers to stock joined the Atlantic Division of the bureau, bringing the charter membership to twenty-three.

"The fundamental idea of the bureau is to educate the great class, which cannot afford to hire an architect to build its houses, in the knowledge of the benefits of good architecture," said Mr. Brown. "Our purpose is philanthropic; we want to put the ideal of good construction before the people who are building small houses. It is up to the architectural profession to teach them that artistic houses can be built as cheaply.

"Ninety-five per cent. of the houses containing six rooms or less, in the Bronx, in outlying suburbs and in other cities, are not designed by architects. The bureau furnishes a set of plans, one of which may be purchased at a nominal sum. The bureau exists to improve the architecture of the small home, to eliminate waste in the building, and to insure good, safe, economical building."

Stage Coaches—Horse Cars— Flat-flame Burners

ALL THREE OF THESE VEHICLES HAD THEIR PLACE IN OUR CITY AND LIVES MANY YEARS. THE FLAT-FLAME BURNER WAS THE VEHICLE OF LIGHT AND THE BEST TO BE HAD IN THOSE TIMES. ALL THREE LONG SINCE PASSED INTO THE CLASS OF MUSEUM EXHIBITS.

The introduction of the gas mantle in the 80's supplanted flat-flame burners. It had been found that a far superior light could be obtained from the heat in the gas when used through a mantle. It is the heat in the gas that is used for cooking, heating and industrial work.

Our customers must have the very best illumination possible at a minimum of cost. This can be obtained only by the use of Gas Mantles. There is no excuse for using a flat-flame burner today. Flat-flame burners are wasteful of gas. At best they give the user a very inferior lighting return and discolor walls and ceilings. They clog up and give an irregularly shaped flame.

Have Us Replace Your Flat-Flame with a Mantle Burner

EXTRA MANTLES FREE. There are three mantles on a "C E-Z" (See Easy) Light, which sells for $1.75 on easy payments. To each purchaser will be presented three extra mantles. An extra mantle will be given to each purchaser of any one of the three "Reflex" Lights.

The "Thrift" Burner sells for 24 cents. We give an extra mantle with that, and an extra mantle with a "Thrift" Light which sells for 39 cents, including a handsome glass globe.

When you purchase a Gas Lamp or Lighting Fixture from us we give you a continuous "Lighting Service," free of expense to you, except where broken mantles or parts have to be replaced, and then no charge is made for time and labor.

We install the Fixture and place the Mantles in position free of charge. Details of this unusual "Service" explained at any Manhattan or Bronx Gas Office.

Review of Real Estate Market for the Current Week

A Large Sale in Brooklyn Shared Honors with Manhattan Deals, While General Business Throughout City Was Good and Varied

THE real estate market was sufficiently well sustained during the last seven days to characterize it as a good summer week. Large sales were not numerous, but there was a diversity of dealing in medium sized and small properties and it was well distributed over the city. Brooklyn stood forth this week with a sale as large as any made in the city. The former Offerman building, in the shopping center of Fulton street, comprising practically a block front and two L's to intersecting streets, was sold by the Offerman estate to a prominent retail merchant nearby who will use it for his business purposes when the leases on it expire. This sale approached the million dollar mark. The building was built for department store purposes, but it has been subdivided in recent years.

In Manhattan the outstanding sales of the week were the 14-story hotel at 19 West 69th street; the purchase of a site for a modern building at the southwest corner of Madison avenue and 88th street, by an operator; the disposal by the estate of Joseph H. Choate of a fine private dwelling in East 63d street; and some good sized apartment houses in the upper reaches of town. A revival of interest in fine co-operative apartments was shown, also, this week. Operators and investors are both busy to a degree. Tenant purchasing continues fairly active both as regards business parcels and private dwellings.

In the Bronx sales are continuously numerous. There seems to be a renewed interest in large vacant plots which presages more apartment house construction in the early autumn. One plot sold embraced a square block which will be improved with a large factory. Numerous multi-family houses, stores in new neighborhoods and one and two-family houses marked the course of dealing in the north borough.

Many large leases were negotiated and for properties varying much in character and location. They ranged in terms from 21 to 63 years and in the aggregate rental from $250,000 to $1,000,000 and more. As the city grows there are more numerous large leases year on year and the annual rentals thereunder are much larger than in the past. Assessed valuations may go upward, but so do the rentals of the properties affected.

PRIVATE REALTY SALES.

THE total number of sales reported, but not recorded in Manhattan this week, was 82, as against 89 last week and 66 a year ago.

The number of sales south of 59th st was 22, as compared with 37 last week and 23 a year ago.

The number of sales north of 59th st was 70, as compared with 52 last week and 43 a year ago.

From the Bronx 26 sales at private contract were reported, as against 61 last week and 62 a year ago.

Statistical tables, including the number of recorded instruments, will be found on page 148.

Big Sale in Brooklyn

The Offerman estate sold to Martin, waist and suit dealer, the 7-story stone and brick building, 503-513 Fulton st, Brooklyn. It was built for and long occupied as the Offerman department store, but abandoned as such a decade ago.

The ground floor is subdivided into stores, while among the tenants of the upper floors are the Brooklyn Department of Taxes and Assessments, the Tenement House Department, two district courts, offices and business firms. Some of the leases have 3 years yet to run.

The new owner has a specialty shop in an adjoining building. The purchase price of the Offerman property was close to $1,000,000.

Manufacturers Buy in Bronx

Charles A. Fox sold to the A. Kimball Co., M. A. Marsh, president, pin ticket manufacturers, the block, comprising nearly ten lots, bounded by Walton av, Cedar la and West 151st st. The purchasers will erect on the property a building to provide additional space for their business, now conducted at 307 and 309 West Broadway.

The Bronx plot has total street frontages of about 500 feet and the cut of the New York Central Railroad provides perpetual light along the entire northern line of the property. It is within a short distance of the plot recently acquired by the Fleischmann Laboratories on Mott av, on which a building is being constructed.

Macy Buys in 35th Street

R. H. Macy & Co. bought from Thomas, Isabella D. and James Watson the two buildings at 551-557 West 35th st, on plot 80x98.9. The property adjoins the site, 98.9x70, at the northeast corner of Eleventh av and 35th st, acquired by the department store interests a couple of years ago for the erection of an 8-story warehouse, from plans by Robert D. Kohn, who estimated its cost at $300,000.

Completes Assembling Plot

Leon S. Altmayer sold for the Sifton Realty Corporation the 3-story business building, 26 East 85th st, between Madison and Fifth avs, 25x 102.2. By this deal Mr. Altmayer has completed the assembling in one ownership and was the broker in the sale of the properties 26-28-30-32-34 East 85th st, and 1146-1148-1150 Madison av, forming the southwest corner of the thoroughfares, and having a frontage of 170 feet on 85th st and 42.2 feet on Madison av. On the plot the new purchasers, the Neck Realty Co., will erect a modern store and office building.

This is one of the busiest corners on Madison av, and it is an important transfer center. The new building will have unusual features for the transaction of business. The property is located directly opposite the new 15-story hotel being erected on the block front, west side of Madison av, between 85th and 86th sts, in which building there will be located 16 stores and approximately 1,500 rooms.

Buys a West Side Hotel

William H. Peckham sold for Isidor Zimmer, Frank Locker and Samuel Resnick to Max Engleman 19-21 West 69th st, a 14-story and basement brick and stone hotel, on a plot 40x100.5. It contains 140 rooms and was held at $500,000. The new owner was for many years proprietor of the Garden restaurant, in the wholesale silk district. Mr. Locker represented the sellers and B. Brachenberg the buyer.

West Street Corner Bought

Robert R. Rainey, Inc., sold for Mrs. Caroline Thorn Kissel the northeast corner of Harrison and West sts, a plot 75x75.3, including 64 Harrison st and 207 to 210 West st. This property is now covered by remodelled buildings.

Buys Holland Court

The 8-story Holland Court apartments, at 315 and 317 West 98th st, has been sold by Isidor Zimmer, Samuel Resnick and Frank Locker to Louis Arnheim and Joseph Fleischer. The structure, occupying a plot 75x100.11, adjoins the northeast corner of Riverside dr. It is valued at $300,000. The house contains suites of 3 to 8 rooms and was acquired by the sellers last April from the Minnie G. Frank Realty Co.

Builder Buys Big Bronx Site

Dr. J. R. Fabricius sold to a syndicate headed by William Phelan, builder, the northeast corner of Kingsbridge rd and Sedgwick av, a vacant plot of 7½ lots. The new owner will improve the parcel with an elevator apartment house. The seller had owned the property more than 25 years.

Choate Estate Sells Parcel

A realty holding of the late Joseph Hodges Choate, former Ambassador to the Court of St. James, has passed from the family's hands after many years of ownership. It is 10 East 63d st, a 4-story and basement stone dwelling, on a lot 25x100.5 and valued at $110,000. The buyer is an unnamed purchaser, who will rebuild it for his own occupancy. It adjoins the old Choate residence at No. 8, now occupied by Joseph H. Choate, Jr., who represented the estate in the transaction.

Convey Heights Block

The block bounded by Amsterdam and St. Nicholas avs, 160th and 161st sts, has been conveyed by Eugene P. Mahony to the Unity Contracting Co. The transfer was made subject to a mortgage for $81,500. The block was formerly owned by the late F. W. Woolworth and was sold at auction by his estate in April, 1920, by Joseph P. Day for $105,000 to Rosina Vollhart.

Subsequently it was purchased by the present selling interests for a reported price of $116,500. There are brick and frame buildings on the site, which fronts 200 feet on Amsterdam av, 203.3 feet on St. Nicholas av, 87.4 feet on 160th st and 50 feet on 161st.

Fordham University Conveys

Fordham University conveyed to the Apostleship of Prayer, now worshipping at Pinehurst av, and 181st st, a block of its property facing the college grounds in the Fordham section of the Bronx. A costly edifice is planned for the area which takes in the square bounded by Fordham rd, Bathgate av, Emmet and 191st sts. The property has frontages of 307 feet on Fordham rd and on 191st st, and 233 feet on Bathgate av and on Emmet st.

The officers of the Apostleship of Prayer are the Rev. John Corbett, president; the Rev. Charles J. Mullaby, secretary, and the Rev. Claude Ramaz, treasurer.

Sells Co-operative Apartment

Malcolm E. Smith, Inc., sold for William A. Ferguson to Mrs. A. I. S. Orvis a duplex apartment of 6 rooms and 2 baths in 37 East 61st st. The apartment was held at $20,000.

Douglas L. Elliman & Co. sold an apartment in the new tenant-owned building, 485 Park av, northeast corner of 58th st, to Robert B. Hamilton.

Lis Pendens Against Lamar Parcel

The De Lamar property at the northeast corner of Madison av and 37th st is involved in a suit. A lis pendens has been filed calling for the specific performance of a contract by the E. M. Kane Realty Co. against Alfred Jaretski and others representing the De Lamar estate.

According to Neil P. Collom, attorney, who represents the E. M. Kane Co., the action involves a contract of purchase obtained by his clients on August 24, 1921. The contract of purchase secured by the American Bible Society for the property, it is said, antedated the Kane contract by a few months. Recently the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court decided that the restrictive agreement in the Murray Hill section prevents the Bible Society from occupying the house for business purposes.

Durant Motors, Inc., Sell Tract

William C. Durant, president of Durant Motors, Inc., sold the Monmouth County (N. J.) Fair Grounds in Middletown township, across from Red Bank, which he acquired a few years ago with the intention of establishing an automobile assembling plant. It contains 62½ acres, and lies east of the railroad, with a frontage of 200 feet on the Middletown turnpike. The new owners are William H. R. White and Mort V. Peach, of Red Bank, who will develop it for homes. The price was $16,500.

Buys Large L. I. City Plot

The J. J. Bonneau Co., Inc., dealers in cabinet woods, and located for several years on East 35th st, Manhattan, have purchased most of the block bounded by Jackson, Steinway, Eleventh and Washington avs, Long Island

THE RIGHT KIND OF BANK

SOME banks are better fitted to serve your individual needs than others. A good way to choose the right bank is this:

Consider three things—Strength, Size, Personnel.

In financial stability this Trust Company is second to none in the city.

In size, not too large for you to lose your importance.

In personnel, from the Chairman of the Board down, the officers of this Trust Company are anxious to know each depositor and to have him feel that his individual problems are a first call on their time and attention.

Realty Board's Diary for 1923

In 1897, one year after a small group of men actively engaged in the real estate business had organized for the good of that business, there appeared a limited edition of the "Real Estate Diary and Manual." A few copies were printed. The publication consisted of 32 pages with a modest amount of information about the real estate business, real estate commissions and public offices in the city.

Since 1897 this book has been continuously published by the Real Estate Board of New York. The issue of 1922 contained 212 pages, exclusive of the diary pages, and comprised 15,000 copies. The contents covered a wide range of subjects of interest not only to men in the real estate business, but to real estate owners, lawyers, architects, executors of estates and others. It contained also a large amount of information about New York City and its government.

It is proposed by the Real Estate Board of New York, through its Realty Committee, to expand the publication still further. The committee has practically completed the work of laying out the table of contents for the 1923 edition and has decided on a minimum output of 20,000 copies. New subjects, felt to be desirable in the light of new conditions and experience are being added, and matter which is felt to be indispensable is being carefully revised and brought up to date.

Leon S. Altmayer, chairman of the Diary Committee, says in relation to the twenty-seventh annual edition: "The Diary and Manual of the Real Estate Board of New York long has passed beyond the experimental stage. In view of this the committee believes that it rightly interprets the sentiment of the Board to be that the Diary and Manual should, regardless of cost, be made as complete as possible, and that it should not only deal with facts relating to real estate, but should contain as well a substantial amount of useful information relating to the city, and of value to the general public. It is the object of the committee, in preparing the twenty-seventh annual edition of the Diary and Manual to make it as complete as such a standard publication ought to be."

The book will be ready about the middle of November, or well in time for distribution throughout December. Besides Mr. Altmayer, the Diary Committee consists of Messrs. Hermann deSelding, Fenimore C. Goode, George S. Horton, William D. Kilpatrick, Lewis H. May, E. C. H. Vogler and Adam Wiener.

BUILDING SECTION

Local Building Labor Situation Shows Much Improvement

Scarcity of Workers in Important Trades Less Acute—Differences Among Unions of Laborers Adjusted at Recent Conference

BUILDING labor conditions have improved slightly during the past two or three weeks. Although there is more actual construction now in progress in the Metropolitan district the work is more diversified and not so much complaint is heard of the scarcity of mechanics in certain of the trades.

Last spring, at the height of the apartment house building rush, the shortage of bricklayers, carpenters and other skilled mechanics resulted in "snowball" strikes which greatly retarded building activity and caused a decided jump in construction costs. The workers forced the employers to pay bonuses which in several instances amounted to a premium of more than fifty per cent. over the recognized union scale. Although employers are still paying a substantial bonus to mechanics in some trades the local building labor situation is far more satisfactory today than it was several weeks ago, with men plentiful in the majority of trades and wages fairly stabilized although at a level considerably above the minimum union rates.

The improvement now so noticeable has resulted largely from the decline in the number of new apartment house projects being started. Last spring, when hundreds of speculative builders desired to commence their operations at practically the same time the demand for labor, skilled and unskilled, was stimulated to a degree heretofore unheard of. Builders were forced to compete with each other in order to get the mechanics necessary to complete their jobs according to schedule. As a consequence wages started upward and for several months remained at levels not even reached during the prices of war times. While the majority of the trades were effected by the bonus wages, bricklayers and carpenters were particularly avaricious in their demands and arbitrary in their attitude toward their employers.

Now that the bulk of the speculative work in greater New York, particularly apartment houses, is well along toward the finishing stages, thousands of bricklayers, carpenters and other mechanics have been released to man the commercial projects now gaining headway. The contractors who specialize in this type of building are having far less difficulty at present in securing skilled men than they did some months ago and at wages which are holding construction costs at a fairly reasonable level, all things considered.

Reports from the Bronx, Brooklyn and Queens, during the past week or so are all indicative of a decided improvement in the building labor situation. The change is entirely due to the fact that speculative builders, which represent the major portion of the active construction projects in those boroughs, are getting their operations well along toward completion. If there is any scarcity of building mechanics it is in the so-called finishing trades.

There is a strong demand for plasterers, painters, electricians, tile setters, parquet floor layers, etc., and considerable competition still exists among employers in these trades to get men and hold them on the job after they have started work.

Builders who have studied all aspects of the labor situation are fairly optimistic about the future. They generally feel that conditions are favorable and that workers will be available for all work in hand.

The differences among common laborers in the building trades because of dual unions, which have to a considerable extent been blamed for retarding building operations in New York, have been adjusted, F. Paul Vaccarelli, President of the New York Labor District Council, announced this week. He said he had been appointed head of an executive board "with supreme authority to adjust all difficulties."

Mr. Vaccarelli said that the new organization now under control of the American Federation of Labor, represented more than 20,000 workers. The Atlantic City conferences were attended by officials of the building trade unions affiliated in the federation and the independent building laborers' union.

"As a result of the recent Atlantic City conference," said Mr. Vaccarelli, "there has been organized an Executive Board of the Hod Carriers' Building and Common Laborers' Unions of Greater New York and vicinity. This Executive Board derives its authority by virtue of its affiliation with the Hod Carriers, Building and Common Laborers' International Union of America affiliated with the A. F. of L., as well as the Building Trades Department of the A. F. of L. The newly formed Executive Board has been granted the final authority in disputes within the laborers' field.

"Two factions in the laborers' jurisdiction have been a source of trouble which, as the Lockwood committee testimony revealed held back seriously home building operation.

"At the meeting of the New York Labor District Council, held at its headquarters, 229 East Forty-seventh Street on July 17, the factions realizing that President Donlin was determined to make an end of disputes, laid aside their differences and effected an organization by electing F. Paul A. Vaccarelli president, and empowered him to appoint six members to an executive board, with supreme authority to adjust all difficulties in the laborers' field. President Vaccarelli will announce his appointments during the coming week."

Word has come from Boston that the long standing disagreement between the employers and workers in the building trades has been ended and that an agreement has been signed which will assure harmony between the two factions for a year at least. Working contracts in five of the crafts of the building trades and a board agreement for conciliation and co-operation covering 27,000 skilled and unskilled workmen in Boston were signed in City Hall on July 14. This ends the open shop conditions in the building trades effective in Boston since January, 1921, when the employers broke off relations with the unions after a protracted strike. Negotiations have been in progress since Mayor Curley brought both parties together a few weeks ago.

The agreement runs to April 1, 1923, and if neither side gives notice to the other on or before January 1 that it desires a change it will continue in effect for another year. The standard craft wage is to be $1 an hour, but agreements may be made between craftsmen and employers in some lines to pay as high as $1.12½.

The question of compensation for overtime and whether the work shall be one of forty or forty-four hours are left to the individual crafts to settle with their employers. The understanding is that the employers are inclined to agree to the forty hour week where it is wished, but that most of the crafts are agreeable to working forty-four hours. The basic compensation for overtime is time and a half, but where there is no agreement on this employers will take the question up for adjudication with crafts' representatives.

Commercial Building Gaining in Metropolitan District

Weekly Report of F. W. Dodge Company Shows Substantial Increase in Business and Industrial Construction Projects in Local Territory

THE weekly statistical report of building activity in the New York territory shows a steady and consistent gain in work actually in progress and an increase in proposed construction that indicates extremely busy months to come. Figures tabulated by the F. W. Dodge Company, for the territory including all of New York State and New Jersey, north of Trenton, show that during the week of July 14 to 19, inclusive, plans for 593 building and engineering operations were reported in progress at an estimated total cost of $19,776,800. During the same week there were 488 contracts awarded for new projects which will involve an outlay of approximately $26,727,800.

Building activity in Greater New York shows little change as far as the award of new contracts is concerned and the reports from the offices of architects and engineers shows no falling off in proposed construction. During the week announcement was made of 246 projects for which plans were in progress and these will involve a total cost of $11,743,500. The contracts awarded in New York City during the week numbered 163 and represent an expenditure of about $12,450,500.

The list of 246 operations for which plans were reported during the week includes 37 business buildings such as stores, offices, lofts, commercial garages, etc., $1,943,000; 10 educational buildings of various types, $920,300; 4 hospitals and institutions, $192,000; 10 factory and industrial plants, $329,500; 1 public building, $3,600; 6 public works and public utilities, $1,248,400; 4 religious and memorial projects, $315,000; 171 residential buildings including apartments, flats and tenements and one- and two-family dwellings, $6,773,700 and 3 social and recreational projects, $18,000.

Among the 163 projects for which contracts were placed in Greater New York during the week of July 14 to 19, inclusive, were 29 business buildings of various types, $818,000; 5 educational buildings, $1,873,400; 3 hospitals and institutions, $1,017,500; 4 factories and industrial plants, $660,000; 15 public works and public utilities, $852,300; 2 religious and memorial buildings, $160,000; 102 residential projects such as multi-family dwellings and one- and two-family houses, $6,976,300 and 3 social and recreational projects, $93,000.

Building Permit Change

ACCORDING to the requirements of an amendment to the Workmen's Compensation Law which went into effect July 1, 1922, building permits will no longer be issued to architects, as has been the custom in the past.

Heretofore, when an architect filed plans for the construction of a new building or the alteration of an old one, a permit was issued to him upon the approval of the plans filed. Now he files the plans as before, but is notified of the approval only, then the contractor or person duly authorized to do the work files a certificate showing he has insurance under the Workmen's Compensation Law. Upon the filing of this certificate a permit to begin work is issued.

Should there be a number of contractors on the work, each and every one is required to file a certificate separately, unless the general contractor holds insurance to cover all sub-contractors.

This change of procedure in building operations is brought about by an amendment to Chapter 615, Section 57, of the Laws of New York State, and which reads as follows:

"Restriction on issue of permits unless compensation is secured. The head of a State or municipal department, board, commission or office authorized or required by law to issue any permit for or in connection with any work involving the employment of employees in a hazardous employment defined by this chapter, and notwithstanding any general or special statute requiring or authorizing the issue of such permits, shall not issue such permit to the employer unless such employer shall produce satisfactory proof that compensation has been secured as provided by this chapter. Nothing herein, however, shall be construed as creating any liability on the part of such State or municipal department, board, commission or office to pay any compensation to any such employee if so employed."

In order to comply with this law it will be necessary to increase the clerical force as well as the inspection force of the Bureau of Buildings.

Superintendent Charles Brady is having new forms printed, which will have to be filed with all applications. He also issued a general order to the employees of the Bureau of Buildings, which reads as follows:

"Attention is called to the change in the procedure in the issuance of all permits, effective July 1, 1922.

"Upon the approval of plans, no permits are issued until satisfactory proof has been furnished this bureau that workmen's compensation has been secured as provided for under the provisions of the Workmen's Compensation Law.

"Notices of approval of plans are issued to the applicants, but these notices of approval are stamped, in each case, with a note that reads:

"This is not a permit. No work is to be commenced under this approval until a permit has been obtained from the Superintendent of Buildings."

"Inspectors are cautioned not to permit any work to proceed under any approval until a permit has been issued. A stop order will be immediately filed.

"After a notice of an approval has been sent out, the applicant calls at the plan desk to submit his notice of approval and satisfactory proof that he has secured workmen's compensation. A permit will then be issued by the clerk in charge."

CURRENT BUILDING OPERATIONS

LITTLE has occurred during the past week to change the local building situation. Considerable new construction is coming out and reports from the offices of architects and engineers indicate an exceptionally busy autumn and winter building season. Residential work is slowing down to some extent, but this form of building still continues as the most active type of project in the Metropolitan district.

The railroad and coal strikes are effecting local building progress by curtailing the production of essential materials and also in delaying deliveries from production points. Up to the present, however, there has been practically no work hampered by the failure of materials to arrive on time, but in some lines stocks are getting to a dangerously low point and it is feared that a continuation of the adverse traffic conditions will be likely to work some hardship upon the building industry.

Despite the growing shortage in some material lines prices have not as yet been affected. Although the market generally is firm, no important advances have been announced, and it is hoped that the difficulties of production and transportation may be untangled without upsetting prevailing price levels.

Common Brick—Although the actual transactions in the North River wholesale brick market were relatively light this week as compared with the previous two or three weeks, the demand for this commodity continues heavy and the boats are being spoken for immediately upon arrival. Prices are holding very firm at $20 a thousand to dealers in cargo lots and there is apparently no likelihood of a drop from this level for some time to come. The bulk of the brick demand still comes from Brooklyn, but as apartment house construction is now slackening off to some extent the buying is not quite as heavy as it was several weeks ago. The increased sales in Manhattan is largely attributed to the improvement in commercial and industrial building fields. Reports from the manufacturers indicate no change in the producing centers. Fuel is very scarce and brick makers are conserving their hard coal in every way possible. From all accounts, however, production is still unhampered and brick supplies will be available for all reasonable requirements.

Summary—Transactions in the North River brick market for the week ending Thursday, July 27, 1922. Condition of market: Demand keen; prices firm and unchanged. Quotations: Hudson Rivers, $20 a thousand to dealers in cargo lots alongside dock. Number of cargoes arrived, 39; sales, 39. Distribution: Manhattan, 14; Bronx, 3; Brooklyn, 17; New Jersey points, 3; Astoria, 2.

Structural Steel—Business in the local market for fabricated steel has been fairly active during the past week and several important projects are soon to be placed under contract which will materially improve the tone of the market. According to figures compiled by leading fabricators it is shown that the bookings for fabricated material, in the Metropolitan district, amounted to a total of approximately 179,000 tons for the first six months of this year. Compared with a normal business in this territory of about 120,000 tons, the gain for 1922 is almost 49 per cent. Tabulation of the reports made to the Department of Commerce show that the bookings of fabricated steel during the month of June amounted to 66 per cent. of the entire capacity of the bridge and structural shops of the country, as against 81 per cent. in May. These figures represent the business of seventy-five per cent. of the fabricating capacity of the United States. On the basis of the percentage of sales to capacity, the total sales throughout the United States would amount to 119,000 tons in June, as against 146,200 tons in May and 155,340 tons in April. Reports from ninety-six firms, with an aggregate capacity of 135,050 tons, showed the following actual sales for the past three months: April, 118,911 tons; May, 109,263 tons; June, 89,974 tons. The percentage of the actual tonnage booked by firms reporting, compared to their capacity for three months, was as follows: April, 88 per cent.; May, 80.9 per cent., and June, 66.6 per cent. The six months' business of 1922 totals upward of 710,000 tons, or nearly two-thirds of the fabricating capacity. The first half year contracting was greater in 1916 and 1920, but the rate as applied to a whole year was exceeded only in 1915 and 1916. June, 1922, showed the largest total for any June for which there are records, with the exception of June, 1915, in which there was a volume of 138,000 tons. The June average for the preceding decade is 95,650 tons.

Electrical Supplies—During the past week considerable improvement has been noted in this market. Sales are increasing and prices are very firm with a decided tendency toward advancements. The large amount of active construction in the Metropolitan district is now being reflected in the demand for wiring materials and other supplies required in buildings and the improvement in the volume of alteration and repair work is shown in the calls for materials used on these jobs.

Cast Iron Pipe—Business is extremely brisk and the majority of the pipe foundries supplying the New York trade are booked ahead for three or four months. Private buying continues as the dominating factor in the market, but there are indications of increased municipal purchases in the near future, although at present demand from this source is light. Prices are very firm and subject to further advances. Current New York quotations, per net ton, are as follows: 6 in. and larger, $53.50; 4 in. and 5 in., $58.00, and 3 in., $68.30, with $4 extra for Class A and gas pipe.

Reinforcing Bars—Demand is not particularly active, but there are good prospects for early improvement in this line, particularly as there is a large amount of new industrial construction being planned for release in the near future. Mill shipments are lagging to some extent and some difficulty is being experienced in obtaining prompt shipment. Prices are steady and firm with early deliveries bringing 2.25c. base, Pittsburgh, and on mill shipments, with delivery in from four to six weeks, the price ranges from 1.70c. to 1.80c. Several important tonnage orders are pending which, when released, will tone up the market considerably.

Linseed Oil—The local market is quiet and no great improvement is anticipated until autumn. Buyers are only purchasing for immediate requirements and as a result business is scattered. Stocks, while adequate, are not large, and prices are firm with a tendency to advance.

Roofing Papers—Market conditions in this line are practically unchanged. The demand continues keen and from all accounts buying will be active throughout the remainder of the summer and the early autumn. Stocks are plentiful and prices very firm. Quotations range from 79c. for 35-lb. roll to $1.70 for 58-lb. roll.

Window Glass—Business in this line is excellent, but with the bulk of the demand for the cheaper grades of window glass for use in speculative buildings. Stocks are fair and prices are firm, and not likely to change to any extent.

Standard Leak-proof Roof Covering of the World. Not a roof paint. It is a new roof. One application will make old leaky roofs just like new at a cost of about 1¢ per sq ft. Prepared in containers ready for use. WE CHALLENGE the manufacturer to a comparison of materials by analysis, test of durability and process of manufacture. There is not a better Asbestos Liquid or Plastic Cement Roofing at any price. Not affected by the coldest winter weather or the hottest blazing sun. Resists, elastic, expands and contracts with the surface on which it is applied. Will never crack. Air rain or moisture cannot penetrate the material, absolutely impervious to water, nonporous, permitting no passage of moisture in any degree into or through the material.

EDITORIAL

Rewards Due Only to the Loyal

Beyond doubt there was widespread disappointment over the failure of President Harding's plan to end the railroad strike early in the week, but the failure may prove in the long run more advantageous to the future welfare of the country than if the terms he proposed had been accepted forthwith. The President's plan treated as of very little consequence the seniority rights of old railroad employees who remained loyally at their jobs and of new employees who took up the duties deserted by the strikers.

In official circles in Washington little importance seemed to be attached to the question of seniority, but the responsible heads of the nation's railroads took a different view. With a unanimity that could not fail to be impressive, the railroad executives advised the President that they felt in honor bound to stand by the loyal employees who had stood by them and the public when the strike went into effect, and that they further felt in honor bound to stand by the new employees who have been assisting in the difficult task of keeping the trains moving.

It is plainly evident that public sentiment upholds the position taken by the railroad executives. Whatever may have been the differing views as to the original points in controversy, this question of seniority rights presented a new angle in the strike situation. For the railroads to have accepted the President's plan would have meant the placing of a premium on the disloyalty of the strikers, and the punishment of those employees who remained loyal and of the new men who entered their service. The public generally has not lost sight of the fact that for such transportation facilities as the nation has enjoyed since the strike started its thanks are due to the men who kept on the job and to the new men who co-operated with them. If the strikers expected that they would be given special consideration for their efforts to tie up the nation's transportation it is well that they should be disillusioned, no matter how good may have been President Harding's intentions in the matter.

Turning Liabilities Into Assets

An auction sale of useless city property is enough of a novelty in itself to arouse wide interest in the sensible plan which Comptroller Craig has announced for turning some city liabilities into city assets. But added interest in the approaching auction will arise from the fact that, in carrying out this excellent plan, the buyers as well as the seller, will be gainers.

Comptroller Craig on many occasions has demonstrated his aptitude for common-sense management of municipal matters, and he again shows his predilection for doing big things in an unaccustomed way by obtaining authority to sell off a large number of parcels of real estate scattered throughout the five boroughs which have accumulated while administration has heedlessly succeeded administration, bent more often on saddling the city with debt than with protecting the taxpayers from increased burdens. In the 202 parcels listed for sale at the auctions to be held this month are many which might have improved in value if the title had been vested in private hands rather than in the municipality. But in the whole number are surprisingly few in which the upset price is not less than that originally paid by the city.

In disposing of this realty the Comptroller will not only turn unproductive property into cash to the amount of nearly three million dollars, but he will return untaxable property to the tax rolls, thereby increasing the income and spreading the budget over a broader base.

The unprecedented character of these auction sales, conducted by the foremost experts in the business and on terms that are exceedingly favorable to purchasers assures the success of the undertaking.

Architecture in Small Houses

Small houses, of moderate cost, have for years been notably lacking both in architectural merit and economy of plan. For every really good dwelling from an architectural viewpoint there are thousands of houses which are so far lacking in fundamentals of good design as to make the well-planned home stand out like a rose in a garden of weeds. Many prospective home builders of limited means, although with artistic sensibilities considerably above the average, have been forced to accept the plans of builders who lacked the training necessary to design homes of architectural refinement, or have been led into the purchase of one of those speculative monstrosities which frequently are "built by the mile and sold by the foot."

The deadly appearance of the average low-cost dwelling, so noticeable in a study of the outlying sections of this city or the nearby suburbs in which small homes predominate, is the best evidence of the urgent need for more real thought in planning and designing homes of moderate size and cost. The monotony of these houses, frequently rows of which are similar in lines and color, becomes the factor which often retards community progress in a section otherwise possessing every advantage. A group of small dwellings, erected by individual owners, will also often indicate a similar disregard for individuality and artistic sense.

According to a plan recently formulated prospective home builders who are required through limited capital to confine their building projects to dwellings of six rooms or less will be able to obtain architectural advice and assistance in designing and planning their homes that under ordinary conditions would only be possible where much higher expenditures are involved.

Members of the New York Chapter of the American Institute of Architects have organized a service bureau to assist prospective builders in designing their homes so as to obtain real architectural merit and at the same time effect such economies of plan as to give the owner the maximum of space and convenience for his money. The organization of this bureau is not a philanthropic movement but one in which the architects have combined for the advancement of civic beauty and interest. A fee, but one much lower than where an individual architect is retained, will be charged owners for the service rendered. In this way no one desirous of a home of individuality and good taste need hesitate to seek the advice of this bureau.

To a large percentage of prospective builders this service bureau will be of inestimable value. The majority of home builders or buyers are far from satisfied with the results they have obtained in the past, but, because their funds were limited, they have been forced to forego the advantages to be obtained by retaining an architect of recognized standing in his profession, as his charges would add just so much more to the cost of the dwelling. Instead, the prospective owner usually has accepted a stock plan of some local builder who had used it for years and made such minor changes as best suited his individual requirements. The alternative was the purchase of one of a group of dwellings erected by speculative builders, which in a large number of instances are showy but lacking in practically all of the fundamentals of good planning and pleasing design.

The architectural profession has ever been willing to devote its time and energy to community welfare. Leaders of the profession have been prominent in many recent movements having for their objective the amelioration of the outstanding ills of the public through insufficient housing and evils which have crept into the construction industry. The latest effort of the profession, while not altogether altruistic, is an evidence of the willingness of architects to serve the community and will undoubtedly be appreciated by everyone in the least interested in the development of homes more pleasing to the eye and planned along more economic and sensible lines.

Favorable Terms Offered Buyers at City Auction Sale

FOR a great many years the cry has been heard that New York City was piling up large obligations against itself by carrying on its books millions of dollars worth of real estate, for which the City had no use, and from which little income and no taxes were derived.

Now by authority of the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund, Comptroller Craig, as the first move toward making these properties productive, has Ordered the sale of 202 parcels at a series of auction sales to start on August 9th and to continue to August 29th. Real estate in every Borough will be included in these sales, and five of the best known auctioneers in New York City, headed by Joseph P. Day, Inc., will keep up a running fire of selling until the last property has been knocked down to the highest bidder.

Comptroller Craig not only has planned to help the City by getting these millions of dollars worth of properties back on the tax rolls, and used for productive purposes, but he also is planning to give the citizens of New York an opportunity seldom offered to buy land and buildings.

Comptroller Craig is requiring an amount equal to 10% of the purchase price on the day of sale, plus the auctioneer's fees. Within a period of twenty days from the date of sale, purchasers will be required to pay an amount equal to only 15% more of the purchase price in order to get deeds; the remaining 75% will be left on mortgage for a period of five years, at the exceptional low rate of 5% per annum.

When it is considered that mortgage money is still ruling at 6% with a slight tendency toward 5-1/2%, the Comptroller's liberal arrangements will be realized.

"It is a matter of record," the Comptroller said, "that the City of New York, is able to borrow all the money it wants at less than 4% I know of no good reason why the citizens of New York should pay more than 5% on these purchase money mortgages. There is also to be considered the fact that Government bonds are now on less than a 4% basis, while some State bonds yield only 3.80% at present prices. In my opinion a 5% rate on a real estate mortgage is in line with current conditions."

Another interesting feature in this sale will be the full covenant and warranty deed which the City will give to all purchasers. Such a deed is backed by the bond of the City itself. It carries with it the highest possible guarantees. If, by any possibility, a defect in the title conveyed should be found in any case, the City will return the purchase price with interest at six per cent. and pay the costs of a reasonable counsel fee in addition.

It is many years since New York has been so interested in real estate. Some of the properties, like old fire houses, police stations, school buildings, are so well located and so well built, that they lend themselves exceptionally well to alterations into industrial and commercial structures. Others occupy sites which should be improved at once with fine modern buildings.

In order that prospective buyers may have every opportunity to inspect and examine the various properties to be sold, there has been prepared, for general distribution, an illustrated catalogue containing the terms and conditions of sale and a full description of each parcel: this catalogue may be had upon application to Augustus J. Rinn, Department of Real Estate, Room 733, Department of Finance, Municipal Building, Manhattan, or the Auctioneers, who are Joseph P. Day, Inc., 67 Liberty St., Manhattan, Henry Brady, 139 W. 33d St., Manhattan, Samuel Marx, 115 West 23d St., Manhattan, Thomas A. Hovenden of the Chauncey Real Estate Co., 187 Montague St., Brooklyn and Theodore Archer, 40 New York Ave., Jamaica.

Proposes Plan for Widening Park Avenue Roadways

BOROUGH President Julius Miller has submitted to the Board of Estimate and Apportionment a general plan for widening the roadways of Park Avenue, from Forty-sixth Street to Fifty-sixth Street, in order to get the full measure of relief for vehicular traffic by providing accommodations for an additional line of traffic in each of the roadways.

It is proposed to reduce the width of the centre malls from fifty-six feet to thirty-eight feet, thereby providing a roadway thirty-six feet in width on each side.

The engineers of the Borough President's office say that the cost will approximate $400,000, it being necessary for the railroad company to make a number of structural changes in order to support the additional load that will be placed upon the

The work of widening Park Avenue, between Thirty-ninth and Fortieth Streets, has already been commenced by the Borough President.

This also calls for reduction of the malls by eighteen feet by the adding of nine feet to each side of the roadway. Safety sidewalks, six feet wide, will be built at the end of each centre park between Thirty-fifth and Thirty-ninth Streets.

These improvements will aid greatly in the free and safe movement of traffic on Park Avenue, without detracting in any way from its beauty.

The roadway of Madison Avenue, between Sixtieth and Sixty-ninth Streets, is to be widened to fifty-four feet and then repaved, by order of Julius Miller, President of the Borough of Manhattan.

The three blocks from Sixty-ninth to Seventy-second Street will not be included in the present contract, but it is expected that this part of the work will be finished in the Spring of next year, or as soon as the necessary funds are available.

Must Use Coal Sparingly in View of Shortage in Stocks

Building Managers' and Owners' Association Urges Strict Economy Until Crisis Is Passed After Canvass Showing Small Amount in Storage

STRICT economy in the use of coal is urged by the Building Managers and Owners Association in view of the serious situation now confronting the nation. The Fuel Committee of the Association, of which J. L. Hernon is chairman, has canvassed the city to determine the amount of coal on hand and the possibilities of obtaining further supplies.

Mr. Hernon declared that the coal situation, just now, so far as it concerns office buildings and apartment houses in this city, is uncertain.

"We are hoping for the best," he said. "Some phases of the outlook are dubious. About fifty per cent. of the properties represented in our Association have coal enough to last three months. Most buildings have bin capacity for no more than that period. Most of the coal now stored by apartment houses is for the maintenance of their hot water supply. The winter supply for heating purposes is now the great question. Will the mining troubles that have caused the shortage be adjusted satisfactorily? It remains to be seen.

"If we cannot get the kind of coal we usually use we shall have to take anything we can get, even soft coal, if necessary. I think that the property owners of New York ought to petition President Harding about the matter and thereby drive home to him the imperative situation confronting the largest city in America. New York, in the regular order of things, receives its coal supply last because it is closer to the source of supply than some of the other large cities like Buffalo, Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and smaller towns adjacent to them. If we receive our coal supply last, in the face of the pending situation, winter will be pretty well over when we get it.

"The only sure thing is we will get some kind of coal, but how much or how little we do not know. Some of the large office buildings and apartment houses have outside storage spaces for coal and cart it as they need it. Even some of these large bins are not full. Big buyers in this city are on the lookout for anything and everything in the coal line they can lay their hands on."

Charles F. Merritt, executive secretary of the Building Managers and Owners Association, says that the members of the Association have been notified periodically since last winter that the present conditions threatened and advised to carry in their bunkers a supply sufficient to last not less than two months.

"In many cases, however, it is impossible to carry such a large amount of coal," said Mr. Merritt. "Consequently the actual amount on hand in New York City is alarmingly small due to this limited storage capacity. Thus, although forewarned, many consumers will soon find themselves in a difficult situation not necessarily on account of any neglect on their part but due to the operating conditions of their plants.

"The situation is so serious that our Association recommends the strictest possible economy in the consumption of fuel until this crisis is passed. This Association believes that the greatest possible publicity should be given to this matter as the average citizen who is not a direct consumer of coal pays little attention to this subject although he is the actual consumer and would be the real sufferer in case of a coal famine."

Mr. Merritt suggests that tenants as well as landlords are vitally interested and that they should take concerted action for their own protection to urge the settling of the strikes upon fair and equitable basis before winter brings the discomfort and illness sure to result from cold or half heated living quarters and business offices.

Respecting coal supplies on hand the following statements made by representative realty men are enlightening:

J. Clarence Davies—"The outlook now is not bright. The dealers promise pea coal only for autumn. But I believe that the situation will improve."

Joseph Paterno—"We have all of our coal in for next winter. We started to haul it in the spring and early summer. Most of the big apartment house owners followed the same policy. I believe the pending trouble will clarify itself soon."

Pease & Elliman—"We think there is no occasion to get worried. There is a slight shortage in domestic sizes, but coal for steam heating purposes is ample in quantity, we are assured."

With a Federal rationing program under way it follows that New York, being nearest to the source of coal, will be served with supplies after the far-away regions of the country receive their quota. As a partial offset to this New York has the prospect of a considerable shipment of coal from England. While a large part of this may be used for bunkering ships it is believed that these cargoes may be depended on to relieve the local situation. The United States Shipping Board is reported to have ordered thirty-five steamships now idle into the coal trade and has announced that 400 vessels, which could transport 2,000,000 tons a month from Great Britain, are available if the strike continues.

The most practical step taken by local authorities to relieve New York is the appointment by Gov. Miller of the New York State Emergency Coal Commission, of which E. H. Outerbridge, chairman of the Port of New York Authority, is chairman. The other members of the committee are: Gen. Lincoln C. Andrews, Major Elihu C. Church, William A. Prendergast, Le Roy T. Harkness and J. W. Leib. With reference to the general program of this committee Mr. Outerbridge announced that the private consumer should have preference in the distribution of coal. Then will come state and county institutions, such as courthouses, state hospitals and jails. Industries will be served last.

"The amount allotted to the various groups," said Mr. Outerbridge, "will depend on the allocation to New York State by the United States government, but it does not seem possible that there will be enough to go around satisfactorily.

"We hope to have one main committee whose members shall represent the private consumer, public utilities, and state, county and municipal needs. This committee will be headed by a high-class executive and will have immediate power of allocation.

"Of course, New York will have to be placed on a strict coal rationing basis. Before imposing regulations to enforce this we are waiting to see what action may be taken by Washington officials and what their desire in the matter may be.

"The householder will come first, however, and everything possible will be done to see that he has a normal coal supply this winter.

"The committee decided that everything must be done to prevent profiteering in coal. Coal will be kept at a reasonable

Brooklyn Realty Board's Plan for Charter Revision

Report of Committee on City Budget and Municipal Affairs Makes Many Suggestions to Increase Efficiency and Secure Economy in City Affairs

RECOMMENDATIONS for the revision of the charter are made in a report recently submitted to the Brooklyn Real Estate Board by its Committee on City Budget and Municipal affairs, of which Henry J. Davenport, President of the Home Title Insurance Company, is chairman. The committee has had the subject under consideration for months, holding weekly sessions, while individual members did research work and field reports on which the committee acted. In its report the committee declares that it has been deeply impressed by the thought that good government cannot be secured by law. Voters "may by their votes secure good government under any charter and on the contrary, a charter, which all might agree to be ideal, will not insure efficient administration by officials unwisely selected."

"Charter revision is a complicated task," the committee reports, "and bristles with difficulties; our recommendations partake more of the nature of expression of governing principles than of operation in detail. We have not attempted to write a charter, but to recommend the adoption of some general principles and of some changes in structure which to us have seemed important."

Your Committee advocates the principle that the power of revision of assessed values should be separated from the power to determine assessed values in the first instance. In so far as the individual tax payer is concerned a fundamental weakness of the Tax Department is that the power of review, other than by certiorari, is in the same body that first determines the valuation. We advise the separation of the power of assessment and power of review into two distinct departments or boards with the power of appointment to these boards coming through different sources as follows:

"A Tax Board of one Commissioner from each Borough of the City, appointed by the Borough President in each Borough, terms to overlap, insuring continuity of policy.

"A Board of Review of one Commissioner from each Borough appointed by the Mayor. This Board should arrange for continuing public hearings and should have the benefit of the opinions of active Real Estate brokers operating in the different sections of the City.

"An opportunity for closer contact with expert knowledge of values, obtained from sources independent of and outside of the City organization and distinctly representative of the different sections of the City, should be provided for in either a Tax Board or a Board of Review as recommended in this report."

The Committee advocates the establishment of a central purchasing department to be made an elective body consisting of three commissioners or appointed by the Mayor from a Civil Service list, this department to prepare a yearly budget showing the requirements in detail of the various departments, all supplies for all departments and for all bureaus, both for the city and the county to be purchased by this department, with or without bids under suitable regulations.

The following recommendations as to consolidation of departments are also made:

The functions exercised by the Borough Presidents with respect to the Building Bureaus should be transferred to a Building Department so constituted as to insure general rules of city-wide application but separate operations in the several Boroughs. To this department should be transferred activities, powers and duties of the Tenement House Department and those of the Fire Prevention Bureau with relation to construction. The present Tenement House Department and the present Fire Prevention Bureau should be abolished and the powers of the Fire Prevention Bureau in relation to occupancy of buildings transferred to the Fire Department.

The Sinking Fund Commission and the office of City Chamberlain should be abolished and their powers transferred to the Board of Estimate and Apportionment.

All public welfare work be under the direction of one Commissioner of Public Welfare, in whom shall be vested full jurisdiction covering work now done by the Bureau of Child Welfare, the Department of Health, Bellevue and Allied Hospitals, ambulance service, the present Department of Public Welfare and all other work in connection with donations of city money through charitable institutions.

Generally the appropriating body of the City should have power to abolish or consolidate conflicting or unnecessary bureaus and departments.

Taking up the question of economy in the administration of the finances of the city the report states that the great increase in the city budget from more than $211,000,000 in 1917 to more than $351,000,000 in 1922 requires some check in the charter, so that the expenses of conducting the City may be kept within reason, and in that respect, the Committee recommends:

1. Absolute control by the appropriating body of all salaries except those of elected officials in the City and County.

2. Sufficient power in the appropriating body of the City to abolish or consolidate conflicting or unnecessary bureaus or departments.

3. Requirement that no appropriation be made or budget passed unless upon a favorable vote by a majority of all voting members of the Board of Estimates and Apportionment.

4. Repeal of the law making it mandatory to pay prevailing wages to mechanics and laborers.

5. Housing all City agencies in City owned buildings.

6. Retiring City bonds by the use of surplus moneys of the sinking fund whenever market conditions warrant.

7. Parole Commission to be discontinued.

8. Department of Public Markets to be abolished and its powers and duties to be transferred to the Comptroller.

9. A Central Engineering Department under the direction of a City Engineer.

10. The transfer of street cleaning in Richmond and Queens to the Street Cleaning Department.

11. The Department of Licenses, except collection of fees, to be operated by the Police Department.

12. The collection of taxes, assessments, water rates and license fees by the Comptroller in one Tax Collection Office in each Borough without any increase in personnel.

13. Abolition of the Board of Water Supply.

14. Salaries to be controlled by the City.

With reference to the composition of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment the Committee advocates that it consist of nine members, each having one vote, viz., Mayor, Comptroller and seven members elected by their respective Boroughs; two each to be residents of Manhattan and of Brooklyn and one each to be a resident of Richmond, Queens and the Bronx. That the President of the Board of Aldermen and the five Borough Presidents be members without votes, but that otherwise their administrative functions remain unchanged. That the Mayor shall be chairman of the Board and that the salaries of the voting members of the Board shall be equal.

The Committee believes that the power of administration should be separated from the power of appropriation, and for that reason advises that the Borough Presidents, as administrative officers, be members of the Board of Estimate but without voting power; also that the Board of Estimate should have absolute control of all salaries, except those of elected officials in the City and County government, and that the Board of Estimate should have power to consolidate or abolish conflicting or unnecessary bureaus or departments.

The Committee also favors a reduction in the Board of Aldermen from its present number of 65 to about 21, changing the lines of representation to conform with the Senatorial, rather than the Assembly districts; to increase the salary of each member, so that abler men will find the office attractive, with no increase in power; that the office of the Commissioner of Accounts be abolished and his powers be transferred to the Board of Aldermen.

Taking the ground that education is a State matter the Committee opposes any effort to obtain political control of the Board of Education; it approves the report of the Joint Legislative Committee on the Department of Docks and Ferries in its essential features, and offers no specific changes in the powers and duties of the Mayor and Borough Presidents; finances other than as to taxation and economy; the office of Comptroller other than the minor additions to its functions already noted and makes no demand for further centralization or the reverse of Borough Autonomy. In conclusion the report says:

This Committee believes in a wider measure of Home Rule for the City of New York to the extent that the responsibility for administering the City is entirely placed on the elected officials of the City. The City being a subdivision or agency of the State, its powers are necessarily limited by grants from the State, which must at all times have power to change the general form of its grant, should it appear to the satisfaction of the Legislature that the structure of the City Government is not orderly and efficient. The operation of Municipal affairs under the charter, as granted by the State, should, however, devolve wholly upon the city officials without intervention and interference by the Legislature in matters of administration.

This conclusion is subject to further consideration of the Home Rule Bill submitted at the last session of the Legislature.

In addition to Henry J. Davenport, chairman, the report is signed by the following members: John A. Davidson, secretary; Victor A. Lersner, Harry A. Levine, Harry M. Lewis, Raymond P. McNulty, William Obermayer, M. C. O'Brien, Charles E. Rickerson, Clarence B. Smith, Sidney F. Strongin, Laurus E. Sutton, Frank H. Tyler and John S. White.

Another Palatial Country Hotel and Club House Planned

McKim, Mead & White Retained to Design New Buildings to Be Erected on Bailey Estate at Mt. Vernon at Cost of about $3,000,000

ANOTHER palatial country hotel and club, similar in many respects to the Westchester-Biltmore, which was recently opened to the public at Rye, is being planned and there is every likelihood that active construction operations will be commenced in the near future. The new project will be located at Mt. Vernon, N. Y., and will transform the beautiful thirty-five acre estate of the late James A. Bailey, the well-known circus man, into a modern country club and hotel. This estate, known as "The Knolls," has been acquired by the Baily Park rated in the design with the new structures now contemplated.

The proposed hotel will be twelve stories in height and will contain approximately five hundred rooms in addition to spacious corridors, public and private dining rooms, billiard and pool rooms, etc.

This project will include the construction of twenty tennis courts, which will be both turf and clay, and the large garage, fronting on Columbus avenue, will be converted into a modern swimming pool. The design and size of this building lends

PROPOSED BAILEY PARK HOTEL AND COUNTRY CLUB

Hotel, Edwin W. Fiske, Mayor of Mt. Vernon, president, and will become the site of an eighteen-hole golf course in connection with which will be constructed a combination hotel and clubhouse, locker building, garage, swimming pool, tennis courts, etc. It is estimated that the improvements to this property will involve an expenditure of more than $3,000,000.

The Bailey Park Hotel Corporation has retained McKim, Mead & White as architects for the proposed buildings and the golf course will be laid out by an expert of equal prominence in his line. It is planned to utilize the existing residence as a part of the architectural scheme and it will be incorpoitself to the purposes of an up-to-date pool, which will in all probability prove one of the most important attractions to the club members. A new three-story garage will be erected, fireproof in every particular, as will be all of the other new structures contemplated as part of this plan, which will have a capacity of three hundred cars.

According to the present schedule, the new hotel and golf course will be completed and in operation on or about June 1, 1923. It is proposed to utilize the existing residence as a clubhouse and social center for members until the new buildings are finished.

Review of Real Estate Market for the Current Week

A Few Good Transactions and Long Leases Characterized What So Far Has Been the Dullest Week of Summer

THIS was the first week of the summer that made an appreciable dent in the activity of the real estate market.

The volume of dealing was small, but the character of it was substantial. It is a good real estate market the activity of which continues steady until the first week of August. Some large leases divided honors with sales which, while not unusually large, were strong ones. A sale that illustrates the changing character of neighborhoods in this city was that of 225 Mott street. Owned for 42 years by the seller, the parcel in Mott street and other parcels nearby were populated by the Irish and the Germans when he acquired it. Then came an influx of Italians who drove out the other nationalities. Finally the Jews have settled there with no immediate prospects of exit. In spite of the varying character of residents of the East Side property there is worth more now than it was 42 years ago.

Distinctive among the sales was that of the Avonmore apartment hotel with stores, on Broadway, near 74th street; the Stratford House, a 12-story apartment hotel on East 32d street, which was acquired by the Bellak System which runs a chain of hotels; an initial purchase by an investor of the northeast corner of Lexington avenue and 73d street; a site at Twelfth avenue and 45th street for an annex to the Republic Storage Company's plant; the Somerset apartment house, on Edgecombe avenue; a large elevator apartment house at Fort Washington avenue and 170th street; and an old Third avenue corner holding of the Schermerhorn estate. The latter sale illustrates the rapid passing of old parcels from the hands of conservative estates into new and progressive hands. The buildings will be remodeled and their earning power increased. Many old estates owning Third avenue real estate are loath to make the improvements that the new era in the avenue calls for.

Some fine dwellings near Fifth avenue and in other parts of town changed hands. An upper Sixth avenue corner property passed into new ownership. Some co-operative apartment houses were sold in the Park avenue neighborhood and some in the Jackson Heights section of Queens borough. A Madison avenue corner was bought for investment. There appears to be continued activity in both Lexington and Madison avenues.

Prominent among the important leases negotiated was that of the 10-story building in West 36th street that has been occupied by Ludwig, Bauman & Company pending the construction of a large new building on Eighth avenue; and the new lessee is a large furniture manufacturer. The Tiffany Studios followed the farther North movement by leasing a store on a corner of Madison avenue a few blocks north of their present location. A prominent building firm leased for their executive offices an entire floor in the Borden building on Madison avenue. Certain hotel interests took over several floors of Mock's Hotel on West 46th street and will remodel and renovate the building, having acquired the greater part of it for a long term. There were other long and important leases in various parts of the city and for long terms.

The railroad gives in exchange "all lands originally under water Spuyten Duyvil creek, at land of Isaac G. Johnson, with a triangular piece of land under said water, adjoining lands of Isaac G. Johnson and Harlem River ship canal."

Fee of Pier 35, North River, Sold

Property at Pier 35, Hudson River, at Canal st, passed on July 27, into possession of the New York State Bridge and Tunnel Commission and the New Jersey Interstate Bridge and Tunnel Commission. On this site will be erected the river ventilation shaft which is to be constructed at the end of a modern pier, latter to be built as a protective covering for the two tubes comprising the Jersey vehicular tunnel. Besides Pier 35 and part of 34 the property includes the land between the pierhead line and marginal street.

The commissions and city government made a contract on June 6 for the transfer of the property. Anson Getman, Deputy Attorney-General, delivered to Josiah B. Stover, Assistant Corporation Counsel, a State draft for $426,745, drawn on a joint fund created by the two States for the purpose of acquiring property. The city delivered a deed bearing the signatures of the Mayor, Comptroller and City Clerk.

When the tunnel is completed the city will build a modern pier 1,025 feet long on the site to replace Piers 34 and 35.

It is probably the largest single parcel under one ownership on the East Side, and is well adapted for a site of a high class apartment house. On the other hand the operation of the public garage there which can accommodate more than 200 cars, may be continued.

Originally the building was a horse car stable. Then it was leased to the New York Transportation Co. and made into stables and garage. Later it was subleased to interests which operate the

The new building, which will contain stores and offices, will show the eastward trend of Heights business toward the bridge, at the other end of which an apartment section is rapidly being built up, and over which four car lines run into the Bronx. Norwood & Walsh represented the sellers of the corner and Louis Fabricant the purchaser of the corner. Joel S. De Selding Dead

Joel Shrewsbury De Selding, for many years prominent as a downtown broker in the firm of De Selding Brothers and in recent years a real estate expert for the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, died suddenly in Paris, France, on July 23, while on a tour of Europe with his wife and two of their four daughters. The family residence is 55 East 86th street. He was with the Metropolitan when he died.

Mr. De Selding was born in Parkersburg, W. Va., 63 years ago and came to this city as a young man. For many years he had been a member of the real estate firm of De Selding Brothers, with offices in Manhattan and Brooklyn, which helped to develop the Flatbush section. The deceased formerly long resided there.

For many years Mr. De Selding had been considered one of the leading experts on real estate values in New York, especially on waterfront property. His services proved valuable at the time the Government was securing the land for its large war buildings in Bay Ridge. He was the first secretary of the Knickerbocker Field Club of Brooklyn.

Mr. De Selding's brother and former partner, Herman De Selding, survives him, and is in the real estate business at 1133 Broadway.

Day Sells in Bronx and Queens

Joseph P. Day, as auctioneer, sold, last Saturday, the remaining 150 lots of a total of 995 in the Hunts Point section of the Bronx, they representing a continuation sale. The auction of the total formed a joint liquidation for the New York City Freehold Estates Corporation of 21 Ironmonger lane, London, England, and the East Bay Land and Improvement Co., 25 Pine st., and brought $498,578.

Bronx business men were conspicuous at the conclusion sale. George Cohen was the first buyer of the day. He took a plot fronting on East 156th st., between Barry st and Garrison av., for $4,000. E. A. White purchased a plot on Barry st., between Grinnell pl and Garrison av., for $2,650.

Samuel Klein acquired a plot on Grinnell pl., between Barry st and Truxton st., for $2,600. John Dinan purchased four lots on Barry st., at Grinnell pl., for $1,400. Max Quinton bought six lots on Truxton st., between Grinnell pl and 156th st., for $2,500.

"It is my belief that the public received fine bargains in the liquidation of these Hunts Point lots," said a representative of the owners after the sale. A new population is bound to flow in following the cutting up of this big tract. Five hundred people own this land now, whereas a single ownership controlled it for more than 30 years. A new and virile addition to the Bronx is sure to result.

"The sale proves that suburban property properly exploited and properly sold by experts will find a ready market in New York today."

On last Saturday, also, Joseph P. Day sold at auction 325 lots known as the Porter property, on Rockaway and Farmers boulevards and adjoining highways near Jamaica, for an aggregate sum of $74,990. The majority of the buyers were people who live in and around Jamaica and Springfield. Several Queens borough builders and those who came to buy home sites were among the purchasers. About 800 people attended the sale.

A. Pierini, a Jamaica builder, was the largest single buyer, his purchases totaling $25,650. He took a plot at Rockaway and Farmers boulevards for $3,950, and one on Lombard st for $950.

Frank Bora paid $2,200 for a plot on Porter pl., running through to Farmers boulevard. T. Cafferty acquired three lots on 147th st., near Lombard st., for $350 a piece. George Howard obtained two corners on Rockaway boulevard for $850 a piece.

Inside lots on Rockaway boulevard, near Farmers boulevard, went to P. Panziello for $800 each.

Mrs. Le Grand Griswold has joined the sales and leasing organization of Douglas L. Elliman & Co.

Building Industry Depressed by Coal and Rail Strikes

Flow of Material Supply to Metropolis is Curtailed and Many Producers Anticipate Temporary Suspension of Operations

ASIDE from keeping building material costs at high levels the conditions brought about by the coal and railroad strikes are now adversely affecting the production of these commodities and as a result there is growing anxiety in the building industry as to the immediate future. Although as yet no active construction in this district has been held up or even slowed down to any extent, architects and prospective builders are somewhat hesitant about making commitments for new structures while any doubt prevails as to a continued flow of essential materials.

The effect of the coal shortage on industrial operations is already quite noticeable in the recent reports which state that some of the important steel mills will in all probability be forced to shut down unless the coal strike is settled within the next week or so. The production of steel is already considerably curtailed by the fuel scarcity and as a result the mills are booked for some months ahead. Deliveries on fabricated material for buildings are already quite extended and high premiums are being offered for early delivery with the producers as a general thing not anxious to accept new business at any price or under any conditions.

Similar difficulty is also being experienced in the cement industry and the inability to secure coal has already caused a number of the cement plants to suspend manufacturing operations for the time being. A statement issued by the Portland Cement Association in Chicago pointed out that the cement industry is the fourth largest consumer of coal in the country, more than seven million tons being consumed at cement mills every year. Many of the mills have been having difficulties in obtaining coal for some time. With the regular source of supply shut off by the strike the mills have been forced to secure coal from more distant points, at higher prices and a longer haul. As many of these sources are now cut off by the railroad strike the fuel situation has become acute to cement producers and unless the strike adjusts itself within a short time more of these plants will be closed or at least only operated on part time.

Coming at a time when the country is experiencing one of the greatest building booms in its history, a shortage of cement would have a serious effect upon every class of construction operation. As cement enters into practically every type of building project that is erected the curtailment of the cement supply through the coal strike would tie up many of the active building projects and make it impossible for a vast amount of contemplated new work to get started. A similar effect would be experienced by the road construction industry, as cement is extensively used in a large majority of the highway programs.

In addition to the coal strike, the railroad strike has a direct effect on the cement supply. The equivalent of the 377,000 box cars of 50-ton capacity which were required to haul last year's cement output to the consumer, and if the strike ties up transportation any further it will be impossible to get the cement shipped to the points where it is needed. Incidentally, the textile strike, if it ties up the textile mills, would also have a serious effect upon the cement industry as thirty million new cloth sacks are needed every year by the manufacturers of this material. These sacks require an immense amount of cloth and if the mills were unable to supply the cloth for sacks it would be an extremely difficult matter to handle the cement orders.

Manufacturers of lime and plaster are in a position similar to that of the producers of cement. Coal is needed for the manufacture of these materials and as a result of the scarcity during the past few months production has been seriously curtailed and reserves are rapidly being depleted. Local dealers have practically no stocks on hand and although they have been able to keep their jobs supplied thus far there is considerable anxiety as to their ability to maintain the flow of these materials for any definite period unless improved conditions increases the supply.

Since the beginning of the season the brick manufacturers have been confronted with fuel problems which have greatly retarded their ability to produce at a normal rate. The manufacturers of face brick have been forced to curtail production in some plants and in several it has been necessary to close down entirely for the time being and manufacturing operations will not be resumed until a regular supply of coal is assured. Brickmakers in the Hudson River valley have been severely handicapped by the coal scarcity. During the past few weeks the situation has grown so acute that production has been slowed down and manufacturers are using substitutes for hard coal when possible. Producers in the Hudson River district are only using anthracite coal for starting the fires in their kilns and after that they are kept going by soft coal, bricquettes, coke and cord wood. There is considerable scarcity prevailing in the supplies of both wood and coke and as a result prices are steadily advancing. The conditions are having a decided effect on production costs and while they prevail there is little possibility of lower brick prices for the Metropolitan district.

It is not only the manufacturers of basic building materials that are being hampered by the difficulties of fuel supply and transportation. While all industry is affected and greatly retarded it is especially noticeable because the construction industry was just getting back upon its feet after several years of lassitude and neglect.

During the past week or so manufacturers in various lines which depend upon construction for the disposition of their products have suggested that local jobbers and dealers anticipate their autumn requirements and place their orders as promptly as possible because of the doubt as to future reserve stocks and the ability of manufacturers to guarantee the arrival of shipments.

The lumber industry, while not particularly affected by the coal strike, is greatly hampered by the railroad transportation difficulties. Rail shipments of lumber and timber have been delayed for the past six weeks and there is no present indication of relief. Fortunately water shipments are arriving steadily and there is also a considerable lumber reserve in the yards throughout the Metropolitan district which will be capable of maintaining the supply unless the requirements grow to abnormal proportions.

Because of the prevailing high material costs and the grave doubts about the future supply several noteworthy building projects are being held in abeyance. The most important of these is the large housing operation, scheduled by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company for the borough of Queens. The owners have definitely announced that work in this project will not be started until conditions radically improve.

Work in Progress on New Apartment in East 49th Street

Nine-Story Multi-Family Structure, Designed by A. C. Bossom, Being Erected by Victor Guinzburg as an Investment

BUILDING operations are progressing rapidly on a new nine-story fireproof apartment house at 150 to 154 East Forty-ninth street. The building is being erected as an investment, not as a speculation, as is so frequently the case with structures of this size, and consequently the architect has devoted much thought and effort to give the best provision for satisfying the tenants.

Plans and specifications for this project were prepared by Alfred C. Bossom, 680 Fifth avenue. The owner is Victor Guinzburg. No general contract for the construction of this operation has been awarded, but separate contracts for the various trades are being let as the work proceeds.

This structure will contain accommodations for forty-six families in suites of various sizes and in addition rooms for eleven servants are provided. The building will be equipped with two electric traction elevators, whereas in the majority of apartments of similar size but a single combination passenger and service elevator is installed. Dumbwaiters are also being provided to serve certain of the apartments, so that the tradesmen are not required to go into any of the halls in the building.

The approach to the various living suites from the public corridor and the open appearance of the suites noticeable immediately upon entry, are matters that have been given more than the usual thought and study in a nine-story multi-family building, of which such a number have recently been erected in New York City.

Externally the building will have a facade of buff brick and terra cotta worked out in the style of the English Georgian period, with an effort to make the same as domestic as possible, and as distinct from the semi-institutional model, which this style now and then produces.

According to the present construction schedule, this structure will be completed and ready for occupancy early in the coming year.

A. C. Bossom, Architect.

NEW NINE-STORY APARTMENT IN 49TH STREET

July Construction Activity in New York City

TOTAL construction contracts awarded in the five boroughs of New York City during July amounted to $36,571,500, according to the F. W. Dodge Company. This was a decline of 13 per cent. from the June figure. Although there has been a gradual decline in New York City since April, the peak month, recent months have maintained relatively high levels of activity. Last month, for example, was 59 per cent. ahead of July, 1921. From January 1 to August 1 the amount of work started has been exactly double the amount for the corresponding period of last year.

Bearing this in mind, it is readily seen that the declines of recent months have shown a far more wholesome condition than would have prevailed if there had been continued record-breaking months, which would undoubtedly have led to a drastic reaction.

Residential construction still leads, having amounted to $20,662,300 in July, or 56 per cent. of the month's total. Business buildings amounted to $7,114,500, or 19 per cent. of the total; and educational buildings, $4,150,500, or 11 per cent. of the total.

Plans Being Matured to Celebrate Founding of Edison System

THE fortieth anniversary of the starting of Edison service will be celebrated in New York City on September 11. As a matter of history the old Pearl Street station in New York began operations at 3 o'clock on the afternoon of September 4, but inasmuch as that date is a holiday (Labor Day), when most people are apt to be out of the city, it was decided to celebrate the fortieth anniversary of the starting of the Pearl Street station a week later. The New York Edison Company will be the host and suitable addresses by Edison pioneers will be made. It is expected also that Mr. Edison himself will be in attendance. A feature of the celebration will be an historical exhibit of Edison apparatus, models, lamps, photographs, etc., which are now being collected and arranged.

Building Activity in Metropolis Gaining Momentum

Weekly Statistics Compiled by F. W. Dodge Company Show Decided Increase in Commercial and Industrial Construction

REPORTED activity in the building line during the thirtieth week of the current year shows a continuation of the boom times which have marked the past two or three months. According to statistics tabulated by the F. W. Dodge Company, for the territory including all of New York State and New Jersey, north of Trenton, architects and engineers reported progress on plans for 622 new building and engineering projects which will involve a total estimated cost of $23,968,000. During the same week announcements were made of the award of 406 contracts which will require a total outlay of approximately $16,290,200. These totals for the week compare very favorably with those of preceding weeks and indicate that construction activity is not slowing down to any great extent in this territory and that there is every prospect of a continuation of boom times in the construction industry for some months to come.

In Greater New York a corresponding interest in construction has been noticed and although the railroad and fuel strikes are affecting progress to some extent the influence of these conditions is not as bad as it was generally anticipated. Building in New York City has changed in character greatly during the past three or four weeks. There is no doubt but that speculative construction is diminishing in volume in all parts of the city. The loss, however, is more than offset by the gains noticeable in commercial building projects and the large number of private residence operations that are being undertaken in this district.

According to the report for the week 285 new structural projects were being planned at an estimated total cost of $10,765,200 and the commitments involved 128 separate operations at a total cost of $12,652,700. An analysis of these figures show a decided improvement in the volume of commercial and industrial work in this city and also considerable of an increase in other phases of building.

The list of 285 projects for which plans were reported in progress during the week included 44 commercial buildings such as stores, offices, lofts, commercial garages, etc., $2,060,500; 5 educational buildings, $56,600; 5 hospitals and institutions, $1,370,000; 4 factory and industrial projects, $97,000; 1 military structure, $18,000; 1 public building, $20,000; 10 public works and public utilities, $490,000; 8 religious and memorial projects, $335,500; 196 residential operations including apartments, flats and tenements and one- and two-family dwellings, $4,782,600 and 11 social and recreational projects, $535,000.

Among the 128 operations for which contracts were awarded in Greater New York during the thirtieth week of this year were 30 commercial buildings of various types, $1,200,500; 7 educational projects including schools, colleges, libraries, etc., $1,804,000; 4 factory and industrial buildings, $150,000; 1 public building, $100,000; 8 public works and public utilities, $522,200; 77 residential operations including multi-family dwellings and one- and two-family houses, $4,871,000 and 1 social project, $15,000.

Tariff on Hollow Brick

As a result of an opinion by the board of general appraisers, hollow building-brick takes the same rate of duty as does the ordinary brick of commerce. "The ordinary brick of commerce," says the opinion, "is a rectangular block of clay burned in a kiln, the length generally being twice the breadth; but neither the shape nor the dimensions are the essentials of a brick. The brick known to the tariff law is any article of any shape or form made of clay burned to a certain hardness and used as the ordinary brick is used in the construction of buildings. The article which is the subject of this protest, we think responds to this definition."

Despite its greater value, hollow building brick, therefore, may be imported on payment of a duty of ten per cent ad valorem, the rate applicable to ordinary bricks.

The House Owner's Book

Among the recent publications of the Funk & Wagnalls Company is "The House Owner's Book," by Allen L. Churchill and Leonard Wickenden. This book has been written from the viewpoint of the prospective home owner and will prove most helpful to those interested in the construction or conduct of a home. The opening chapters are devoted to financing home-building and home-owning projects and in the following chapters the authors give the sort of information and advice necessary to proper and economic construction. The relative value of building materials is explained and there are chapters devoted to roofing, heating, plumbing, ventilation, water supply, drainage, painting and interior decoration. The book further advises prospective owners in the care of buildings, how to handle tools and do odd jobs around the house in carpentry, painting, etc.

This book is thoroughly practical and absolutely non-technical. Numerous illustrations give the reader a graphic idea of the various important subjects explained in the text.

Cement Production Increases

Production of Portland cement showed a slight increase in June over the previous month of May. Shipments showed a substantial increase, numbering over 700,000 barrels. At the end of the second quarter for 1922, production was 436,000 barrels ahead of the first half of 1921. Shipments for the first half of 1922 exceeded those for the same period last year by 6,827,000 barrels. Stocks dropped approximately 2,200,000 barrels in the month of June.

All meetings will be held in the new Cass Technical High School, which has just been completed. This building has an auditorium with a seating capacity for 3,000 persons.

CURRENT BUILDING OPERATIONS

A SIDE from the award of several contracts of more than ordinary importance the past week was a quiet period in the local building field. A number of new operations have been announced in the planning stage, but it is likely to be some time before these projects are released for estimates. As the summer progresses increased interest is noticed in commercial building operations and although residential construction, in point of volume and value, continues to be the outstanding feature of the local situation, there is no doubt but that this form of activity is slowing down and that operations of other types are gaining prominence.

One of the outstanding features of the local situation, there is no doubt but that this form of activity is slowing down and that operations of other types are gaining prominence.

One of the outstanding features of the past week was the award of several contracts for extensive alteration projects on the upper East Side which involve large private residences to be modernized for new owners. There is a decided trend along this line and the jobs now placed under contract is but the forerunner of considerable similar work.

The local labor situation is quiet and although there is still a scarcity of mechanics in some lines the general situation is improved. The speculative work in the outskirts of the city is slowing down and as a consequence a number of skilled men are being released for work on other jobs.

The building material markets are quite active and orders are coming in rapidly. The coal and transportation situation is affecting production to some extent, and as a rule supplies are not very plentiful while in some lines the reserves have already been consumed and there is some anxiety about the future. Prices are very firm and have a decidedly upward tendency.

Common Brick. The market is very strong and brick is being disposed of just as rapidly as the boats arrive at the New York docks. There is every likelihood of a continuation of the present heavy demand for some months to come and manufacturers are straining every effort to get brick into the market but are being hindered to some extent by the scarcity of coal.

Summary.—Transactions in the North River brick market for the week ending Thursday, August 3, 1922. Condition of market: Demand strong; prices firm and unchanged. Quotations: Hudson Rivers, $20 a thousand to dealers in cargo lots alongside dock. Number of cargoes arrived, 43; sales, 40. Distribution: Manhattan, 15; Bronx, 1; Brooklyn, 13; New Jersey points, 6; Astoria, 4; Huntington, 1.

Lumber.—The market is very active in both wholesale and retail departments. The building boom now in progress in the Metropolitan district has kept lumber interests fully engaged for the past three or four months and there is apparently no indication that the demand from this source is about to drop off. Prices are steady but there is considerable likelihood of higher prices during the autumn months, particularly if the current rate of demand continues. According to a statement recently issued by the New York State College of Forestry, Syracuse University, wholesale and retail prices of lumber are due for a steady increase in the near future. This will be due to the continued increase in the demand for lumber products and the inroads now being made upon the forest reserves.

Structural Steel.—Although the market for fabricated material is not quite as active as it was several weeks ago the recent booking of large tonnage commitments for power house construction has kept up the tone of the market. During the past week new inquiry has been relatively light and orders, for the most part, have been small. The fuel shortage plus the difficulties of transportation have greatly affected the structural steel situation. Some of the mills will not consider new business at present and until the fuel and transportation situations improve there is every probability that business in fabricated steel will be limited to urgent requirements. Prices are strong but quotations on material fabricated and erected are practically unchanged.

Reinforcing Bars—Business in this line has been light during the past week with the market affected to some extent by fears that the railroad strike may prevent deliveries. Purchases recently have been in relatively small lots but increased business is anticipated in the near future as there is a fair amount of important commercial and industrial construction being planned in which reinforced concrete will be used extensively. Prices are holding very firm and with a tendency to seek higher levels.

Cast Iron Pipe—Although the demand for this commodity continues very strong, important tonnage orders are negligible and at present the buying activity is emanating from private sources. Municipal purchases are light but several important projects are scheduled for release in the near future. The rail and coal strikes have as yet had very little effect upon production in the mills in this district. The recent rush of orders have piled up business considerably in excess of maximum output and as a result manufacturers are not generally quoting for deliveries in less than three months. Prices are very firm but unchanged with New York quotations as follows: 6 in. and larger, $53.00 per net ton; 4 in. and 5 in., $58.00 and 3 in., $63.80 with Class A and pipe $4 extra per ton.

Electrical Supplies—The demand for electrical materials and supplies holds steady and prices are generally reported stronger and with a decidedly advancing trend. Conduit recently advanced about 6 per cent. and other items are showing an inclination to seek higher levels. Flexible armored conductor continues in active demand and stocks are reported plentiful. Prices on rubber covered wire remain unchanged but the demand is steadily improving.

Linseed Oil—Some slight improvement was noticed in the local market for oil during the past week but the current business is still far below what it should be at this period of a normal year. Buying is relatively light and orders are mostly for immediate requirements and in small lots. Carload lot business is negligible although there have been several important inquiries which indicate better conditions in this market before long. Prices are firm and practically unchanged.

Nails—The market for nails is quite active and the trade is inclined to anticipate excellent business for some months to come as there is no apparent let-up to the volume of active construction in this territory. Stocks are fair and assortments are complete but there is some likelihood that prices will advance to some extent in the near future as a result of increased manufacturing costs.

Roofing Papers—Demand continues strong and all current reports are to the effect that business will remain good while the suburban building activity maintains its prevailing rate of progress. Stocks are said to be adequate for all demands and deliveries are prompt.

BLACKMAR'S ASBESTOS LIQUID ROOFING

Standard Leak-proof Roof Covering of the World. Not a roof paint. It is a new roof. One application will make old leaky roofs just like new at a cost of about 1 1/2 c. sq. ft. Prepared in containers ready for use. WE CHALLENGE any manufacturer to a comparison of materials by analysis, test of durability and process of manufacturing. There is not a better Asbestos Liquid or Plastic Cement Roofing at any price. Not affected by the coldest winter weather or the hottest blazing sun; resilient, elastic, expands and contracts with the surface on which it is applied. Will never crack. Air, rain or moisture cannot penetrate the material, absolutely impervious to water, nonporous, permitting no passage of moisture in any degree into or through the material.

EDITORIAL

If Congress Had Courage

A high Government official is quoted in a dispatch from Washington as declaring that "if there is any courage left in Congress something will be done immediately to protect the American people from recurrent railroad and coal strikes every year. Strikes in which neither executives, operators nor labor are the sufferers, but which endanger the welfare of the masses and the business of America."

This comment becomes especially interesting in view of the reports that President Harding will ask Congress to enact legislation to strengthen the powers of the Railroad Labor Board. The authorities at Washington seem to have become convinced that existing laws are not strong enough to meet such situations as have been created by the rail and coal strikes. It would be well to make them stronger, but if such action is contingent on a display of courage by Congress the outlook is not as promising as might be wished. Courage in the public interest is a quality which has been lacking in Congress for some years.

One thing Congress could do which would solve not only the rail and coal strikes, but all other disturbances that arise so often to imperil the welfare of the people and to cause them needless worry and increased expenses. That would be for Congress to enact an anti-strike law. With such a statute, and with provision for the compulsory arbitration of various disputes of which the public always is the victim, life in the United States would take on another aspect. But this leads back to the question as to whether there is any courage left in Congress, or enough courage to meet the strike problem without fear or favor.

The public has suffered long enough through industrial quarrels, and the Government should be strong enough to furnish relief.

No Time to Incur New City Obligations

When ferry-boats were the only connecting links between the two banks of the East River both passenger and freight traffic between New York and Brooklyn was of small proportions compared with that of today.

But when Brooklyn Bridge was built forty years ago the City of Churches began to lose its insularity and a process of amalgamation set in which resulted in the consolidation of the five boroughs into Greater New York twenty-four years ago. Now there are three bridges and five pairs of tunnels connecting Manhattan and Brooklyn; the residents of Bedford and Fifth Avenues intermingle daily; Brownsville and the East Side have common interests; newspapers of each borough carry advertisements attracting shoppers and amusement seekers and home builders from one to the other; manufactories have sprung up from the Gowanus Canal to Astoria and their products are carted through Manhattan to the railroad terminals in New Jersey and the steamship docks along the Hudson. The intra-borough traffic has grown tremendously since the Brooklyn Bridge was first opened—it will become greater and greater as time goes on, and this interchange of business and social life, which is healthful and financially beneficial, should be encouraged.

It is wise, then, to consider the proposal of Commissioner of Plants and Structures Whalen for adding to the number of connections between the two most populous and busy sections of the city. If the Brooklyn Bridge was in immediate danger of collapse, as the most eminent engineers say it is not, and if bridges were the only means by which the constantly increasing traffic, now of huge proportions, could be taken care of then there would be no question of the wisdom of spanning the East River with another traffic artery. But Gustav Lindenthal, the best informed and most expert of bridge builders, and Col. Washington A. Roebling, who built the bridge from plans made by his father, John A. Roebling, and even Mr. Whalen himself, say that the Brooklyn Bridge is good for many years, perhaps a century or two. Tunnels probably can be built more cheaply than bridges but tunnels are of as many sizes as are bridges and the relation of cost to operating capacity is a matter of intricate figuring. The vehicular tunnel to New Jersey may solve some of the questions relating to cost and ventilation and adaptability to motor traffic on which there is now division of opinion.

Numerous projects involving the expenditure of scores of millions of dollars are favored by the municipal authorities and the taxpayers, already overburdened, must be given the consideration they deserve. Comptroller Craig, the chief authority on whether the city is in a position to finance any $50,000,000 proposition, comes out strongly in favor of the less-expensive method of tubes, because while the city's credit is strong that is no reason for hasty and reckless expenditures on bridges while there is still opportunity to prove the value of tunnels. And in this view of the matter the taxpayers and the citizens generally will be more likely to stand behind the Comptroller than the Commissioner. The Comptroller injects another theory into the discussion, that additional rapid transit tunnels, by relieving the present traffic on surface cars across the bridges, would increase the capacity of existing structures for pleasure and commercial motor cars, thus doing away with the necessity for a new bridge or a city-built vehicular tunnel.

What is apparent is that with no need for immediate action it is imperative that the situation should be most carefully canvassed as to what relief is necessary, what avenues of traffic between Manhattan and Brooklyn should be augmented and by what method the improvements may be made at least cost to taxpayers.

To Make Theatres Safer

The personnel of the commission charged with drafting a State Building Code to govern the future construction of public places of amusement has been officially announced by Henry D. Sayer, New York State Industrial Commissioner. The appointees comprise a large and truly representative body, well equipped by training and experience for the serious business of formulating a code calculated to safeguard the public against a repetition of the recent disasters which were the cause of death to some and painful injury to others.

Included in the commission are architects, engineers and constructors of recognized standing in their respective professions, civic officials responsible for safe construction, and owners and managers of theatrical and other amusement enterprises. The commission is a thoroughly balanced body with the professional element capable of adequately handling all matters of a technical nature and the laymen providing the practical knowledge so essential if the proposed code is not to work a hardship on those who make a business of providing amusement for the public.

The Knickerbocker Theatre disaster in Washington last winter, with its resultant fatalities; the collapse of a theatre building while under construction in Brooklyn at about the same time, and other subsequent serious accidents, all of which caused loss of life or permanent injury, paved the way for the appointment of this code commission. The recent growth of amusement enterprises, which has outstripped the advance made in many other lines of industry and commerce, has frequently resulted in carelessness and neglect of essential principles which later caused damage and disaster. The public has every right to safety in places of amusement and the proposed code will be designed with the primary thought of providing this all-important element above all other things.

Undoubtedly the building code for places of amusement will include police power for its enforcement. Although this is essential it will only minimize and not eliminate future disasters from faulty or careless construction. The prime essential to safeguarding the public is greater care on the part of the owners and builders of these enterprises in constructing and managing their projects. The strictest supervision frequently fails to detect careless or faulty building. Inspectors cannot always be on any one particular job. The burden of assuring the maximum of safety to those patronizing places of public amusement rests with both the owner and the builder. If they build carefully and honestly, without trying to affect small savings which later may develop into direct causes of disaster, the public will need to have little fear for its safety.

Fire Prevention Exposition to Be Held Here October 2-7

MANUFACTURERS of fire-restrictive materials and of fire-fighting and retarding apparatus will have, for the first time, the opportunity of taking part in a Fire Prevention Exposition to be held October 2 to 7 at the Twenty-second Regiment Armory, where will be shown by exhibit and demonstration what a vital part in the fight against the great annual fire loss is played by fire-safe materials and apparatus.

The Exposition originated with the Fire Prevention Committee of the National Association of Insurance Agents as part of its program of fire prevention activities. It has been endorsed by the National Fire Protection Association, the National Association of Credit Men, by President Frank G. Reynolds of the International Association of Fire Engineers, the National Board of Fire Underwriters and other associations.

The problem of reducing the terrific strain on business caused by preventable fires, which seem to be increasing each year, is one that has long engaged the attention of these organizations. At the present rate of burning, property worth $1,300,000 is being destroyed each day. This is a financial burden borne by business men, for the fire insurance companies, contrary to general belief, do not bear this loss—they simply pay out $1,300,000 each day that has been paid in to them in premiums by the public.

So great has the strain on business become that on June 26, at the request of these organizations, Governor Ritchie, of Maryland, called a conference of the Governors of New York, New Jersey, Maryland and Virginia. This conference adopted a motion to present the matter of fire waste and conservation to the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, and on July 12 a conference of representatives of the four associations named above and of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, Railway Fire Protective Association, American Institute of Architects, American Society of Mechanical Engineers and of the Boy Scouts of America, was held at Washington. The Chamber of Commerce of the United States was asked to undertake the responsibility of educating organized business men to the huge annual tax caused by fires. President Barnes of the Chamber accepted this responsibility and plans are now under way for a national citizens' fire prevention campaign. The peak of this year's effort will be reached during National Fire Prevention Week, October 2 to 7, and the First Fire Prevention Exposition will be its greatest educational feature.

It is purposed to show, by means of the Exposition, the latest ideas in fire-safe construction and also to demonstrate to the public the proper appliances to be used in fighting and preventing fires. A lecture hall is in the armory building, and it is planned to make each day of the Exposition a special day, with lectures and motion pictures in the lecture hall. One day probably will be devoted to municipal authorities and fire department officials with addresses on municipal fire prevention and protection. Motion pictures illustrating these will be shown. Another day will be given over to the children, who will be shown what they can do toward helping to reduce the fire loss. A third day will be for plant managers and executives, who will be shown the hazards of industrial plants and told how these can be eliminated.

A. E. MacKinnon, of 405 Lexington avenue, is chairman of the Exposition Committee. James T. Catlin, Jr., Danville, Va., chairman of the Fire Prevention Committee of the National Association of Insurance Agents, and Frank W. Lawson, American Building, Baltimore, regional chairman of the Fire Prevention Committee, with Mr. MacKinnon, compose the Exposition Committee.

Building Operations in Manhattan on Increase

THE report of the building operations in Manhattan during July, as given out last Wednesday by Building Superintendent Brady, shows an increase in the number of buildings by twenty and a falling off of $9,706,925 in moneys involved, compared with the showing of July of last year. The report shows that plans were filed for seventy-three new buildings to cost a total of $8,171,900. During July, 1921, fifty-three new buildings, estimated to cost a total of $17,878,825, were projected.

294 buildings, representing an outlay of $2,239,638, were filed, against 298 alterations, to cost $1,700,930, planned the year before.

In the first seven months of this year plans for 552 new buildings, to cost a total of $84,505,636, were filed, against 474, to cost a total of $71,056,680, planned during the corresponding period of last year. During the former period applications for making alterations to 2,182 buildings, for a total cost of $16,142,502, were filed, against 2,108 alterations, to cost a total of $15,491,817, planned in the corresponding period last year.

City Property Realizes More Than Upset Price at Auction

Success of Disposal Sale of 202 Improved and Unimproved Parcels Under Direction of Comptroller Craig Indicated by Opening Deals

MORE than half the parcels of real estate sold at the first day's auction by the city of 202 improved and unimproved parcels were disposed of at better than the upset prices fixed by Controller Charles L. Craig, who directed the sale. Of 28 pieces, bringing $453,825, 12 went at the upset price and 26 at higher bids. The sale, held at the Sixty-ninth Regiment Armory by Joseph P. Day, with Henry Brady and Samuel Marx assisting, attracted a good crowd of buyers. Before the terms of the sale were read the Controller said:

"Since assuming my duties as Controller of the City of New York, I have advocated the disposal of all city owned property that has fallen into disuse because of changes in civic plans and for various other reasons. I believe the surplus property of the city should be disposed of to the people of New York on as reasonable terms as compatible with good business and the interests of the city. For this reason we are offering today property well located for many purposes, but no longer of value to the city, on terms that should appeal to all types of buyers.

"We purposely selected a 75 per cent mortgage at 5 per cent interest, which is more generous than the usual practice of asking 6 per cent, which is the prevailing rate at the present time."

Real estate men who watched the bidding were surprised at the rapidity with which the offerings were absorbed, their prediction being that the high upset price would act as a deterrent to bidders. It was believed that the unusually attractive terms was in a large measure responsible for the assembling of one of the largest crowds that has attended an auction this year.

The first piece sold was the vacant parcel of land 50 by 100 feet on the east side of Second Avenue between First and Second Streets. The minimum or upset price at which the property should be sold was fixed at $60,000, and when bids were called for some one shouted $40,000. Several minutes elapsed before a bid of $60,000, equalling the upset price, was offered.

This bid was made by an investor and immediately jumped to $61,000 by Albert Hartman. From $61,000 it was advanced by thousands and sold, after about twenty bids had been registered, to Albert Hartman for $72,000. It is reported that the site will be improved with a storage warehouse.

Arthur Brisbane purchased the second parcel offered, a three-story building on a lot 25 by 25 feet at 160 East Thirty-third Street. It was started at the upset price of $10,000 and sold at $11,300 to Mr. Brisbane on the fifth bid.

There was lively bidding for the vacant plot, 47 by 68 feet, on the northeast corner of Eldridge and Delancey Streets, with an upset price of $85,000. There were several bids of $85,000 from various parts of the building, and in ten bids it was advanced to $90,000. It was finally sold to Miss L. Katz of Brooklyn for $92,600. The buyer will improve the site with a business building and stores.

The five-story building on a plot of 50.6 by 80 feet at 130 to 132 West Third Street, with an upset price of $40,000, was sold to the present tenant, the Minute Realty Company, at that price, there being no other bidders.

A lot, 200 by 100 feet, located on the east side of Fairmount Place, 176 feet west of the Southern Boulevard, in the Bronx, brought forth the largest number of bids for the day, despite the fact that it is covered with rock to a height of almost fifteen feet above the sidewalk. The upset price was $8,000 and it would probably take three times this amount to clear it of the rock that encumbers it. The first bid was $8,000, and it was advanced by hundreds to $11,000, when the Rev. John Johnson of the Swedish Lutheran Church of the Bronx started bidding against Samuel Vogel, an investor the price was advanced until on the forty-first bid it was sold for $12,850 to the Rev. Mr. Johnson, as a site for a church.

The corner plot measuring 50 by 30 by 43 feet at West 155th Street and Macombs' Place, was started at a bid of $3,150 and sold to Peter Theophine for $4,000. The upset price on this plot was $2,000.

Herman Blossom paid $19,700 for the southwest corner of Grand Street and Corlears Street, a five-story store and tenement on a lot 23 by 70 feet, upon which there was an upset price of $17,500.

One of the most interesting parcels offered was an irregular plot in the center of the block bounded by East Thirteenth and Fourteenth Streets and First Avenue and Avenue A, with no outlet to any of the streets or avenues. When Samuel Krotzstein, the only bidder for the parcel, paid $3,500 for it, the upset price, he was asked by Mr. Day whether he was the adjoining owner. When the buyer replied in the negative, Mr. Day shouted: "Well, I wish you luck."

Eziel Alshul paid $200 over the upset price when he bought the lot, 25 by 110 feet, on Second avenue, between East 117th and East 118th streets, for $12,700.

The Realty Corporation paid $26,200 for the six-story tenement, on lot 25 by 100, at 237 East 103d street, on which the upset price was $25,000. Harry Bryan was the successful bidder on the vacant plot 64 by 58 at the northeast corner of Bryant avenue and 178th street. He paid $10,000 for the property, and the upset price was $8,500.

For improvement with a commercial building, the lot 29 by 170 feet on Ittner place, near Webster avenue, was purchased by Morris Robinson for the White Swan Laundry, the adjoining owner. The parcel brought $5,100, although the upset price was $3,750.

Nathan Marx paid $13,250 for the vacant plot, 100 by 100, at the northeast corner of Sherman avenue and 166th street, for which there was a minimum price set of $8,500. A plot 24 by 105, improved with two three-story buildings, on East 149th street near Trinity avenue, went to Louis Calen for $8,500, the upset price.

Proposal to Build New Brooklyn Bridge Criticised

Comptroller Craig Wants City Money Used Cautiously and Favors Tunnels While Experts Declare Old Structure Is Good for Many Years

IN a letter to Mayor Hylan, made public July 29, Grover A. Whalen, Commissioner of Plants and Structures, after reciting new traffic regulations designed to reduce the load on the Brooklyn Bridge, advises the Mayor that he will soon request a special meeting of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment "to consider the question of the authorization of the construction of a new bridge and the rebuilding of Brooklyn Bridge." In his letter Commissioner Whalen says:

"On May 24, 1923, the Brooklyn Bridge will have arrived at the age of forty years. During these two score years of useful life the Brooklyn Bridge has carried a burden for which it was never designed. At the time of the opening of the Brooklyn Bridge eight and ten-ton motor trucks were never dreamed of. However, the evolution from the horse-drawn vehicle to the motor-driven vehicle has been so rapid that the designers of the Brooklyn Bridge could not possibly have anticipated it, and, therefore, made no provisions for the increased load which this bridge was compelled to bear up to June 15, 1922.

"With this new method of transportation came a tremendous increase in the load unit. There was also added to this increased weight of trolley cars, increased weight of elevated cars and increased weight of subway cars. All these elements of weight factor have been daily calling upon the main cables of the Brooklyn Bridge for increased carrying capacity. The four cables that support the Brooklyn Bridge are made of galvanized steel wires, and in each cable there are 5,296 wires. For almost forty years these cables have been called upon to carry not only the dead load of the bridge itself, but also the live load, such as vehicles of all types, elevated and trolley cars, passengers, etc.

"It is not my purpose in this communication to in any way call the attention of the public to the condition of the Brooklyn Bridge, except, in this respect, that the engineers of this department report the Brooklyn Bridge in absolutely safe condition.

"To meet the increased weight which the bridge was compelled to carry, this department has, during the period of the life of the Brooklyn Bridge, so reinforced the structure up to this time, that it has been capable of carrying the tremendously heavy burden placed upon it. However, the main carrying supports of the bridge, to wit, the four main cables, cannot be reinforced or replaced unless the bridge is rebuilt."

In an interview Commissioner Whalen said that on Tower A, on the Manhattan side of the bridge, Cable A, the northernmost strand, had slipped one and three-quarter inches toward the centre of the bridge. The cable next to it, near the centre of the bridge, also has slipped one-half inch.

"What has happened," the Commissioner added, "Means that the usefulness of the bridge, so far as present-day heavy automobile and other heavy traffic is concerned, has passed. We cannot do a thing to remedy this condition without closing the bridge."

Commissioner Whalen's statement brought out instant criticism and suggestion from various sources. Col. Washington A. Roebling, who built the bridge from plans made by his father, John A. Roebling, declared that the Brooklyn Bridge was good for 100 to 200 years more.

"They say the big cable slipped," repeated Col. Roebling. "This is just what the designers and constructors intended it should do. If that big cable had not slipped, one end of the bridge would have fallen down."

In the controversy following the proposal to expend $50,000,000 in a new bridge, two important statements have been made. In a communication to the New York Times Mr. Lindenthal, designer and constructor of the Hell Gate Bridge, and who has had a hand in the construction of all the East River bridges except the Brooklyn Bridge, takes the view that a bridge will serve the public better than tunnels, and Comptroller Craig, in a prepared statement, declares the city is not now in a position to expend so much money as would be necessary for building a bridge, and favors the tunnel plan provided in the vehicular tunnel to New Jersey, the problem of ventilation is solved. In his communication Mr. Lindenthal says:

"The opinion is frequently heard that vehicular tunnels under the East River and the North River would be cheaper than bridges, and, therefore, should be preferred for the accommodation of highway traffic. In support of that opinion comparison is made of the cost of the vehicular tunnels (9,300 feet long, estimated cost $28,000,000) with the cost of the Manhattan Bridge (6,855 feet long, costing $31,000,000).

"The tunnels will not be completed for three years. Their actual cost will only be definitely known when they are finished, but assuming that the cost will not exceed the present estimate of $28,000,000, it must be considered that the two vehicular tunnels will give accommodation to only four lanes of traffic, and that the Manhattan Bridge has accommodation for twelve lanes of traffic, not including two sidewalks each ten feet clear. It has, therefore, at least three times, but more nearly four times, the traffic capacity of the two vehicular tunnels.

"Let us assume that the cost of Manhattan Bridge, liberally allowing for same length as the tunnels and on the basis of present prices, would be $42,000,000 (an excessive cost) instead of the $31,000,000, actual cost fifteen years ago. We have, then, the fact that each of the twelve lanes over the Manhattan Bridge would cost $3,500,000, while each of the four lanes of the vehicular tunnel will cost $7,000,000, or twice as much.

"River tunnels for railroad and subway traffic using electrical traction are most cheaply built as single track tubes, which cost only about one-half as much as the vehicular tubes for two lanes.

"Moreover, the vehicular tunnels will have to be ventilated. The method of ventilation has been worked out on very thorough preliminary tests, so that the public can be assured that the very best method will be used. But after saying this, the ventilation of the tunnel must still be regarded as experimental, particularly as to cost and maintenance, and only experience will supply the lacking facts. The bridge, moreover, requires lighting only at night time, whereas tunnels must be kept lighted day and night. Nevertheless, it is to be hoped that the vehicular tunnels now building under the Hudson River will prove to be a success, even though in a limited sense. Crossing facilities are needed downtown where a bridge is not practicable.

"Of course, it would be a fine thing to have vehicular tunnels under the East River and also under the Hudson River every few streets. But before a decision of this sort would be reached it would be well to await the outcome of the vehicular tunnel under Canal street.

"As the science of bridge and tunnel construction stands now, a bridge over the East River can, for the same money, give at least double the accommodation of vehicular tunnels. The same is also true of crossing the Hudson River. It would be unfortunate to conclude on superficial grounds that the era of tunnels has arrived and that bridges should go into the discard, for this is by no means the accepted view of approved authorities, and the questions involved are so technical and complex as to require care and expert knowledge in presenting them for the purpose of influencing public opinion."

Comptroller Craig's statement, after declaring that there are many reasons why the City of New York should make haste slowly in planning a new East River bridge, says:

"The City of New York has made large investments to provide rapid transit transportation. Under the contracts by which the city's lines are operated by the Interborough and the B. R. T., the city has a right to recapture and take over the lines ten years from the date when operation was begun, or earlier, in case of the default of the operating company in rendering service and discharging other obligations required by its contracts.

"It has been the policy of the present City Administration to conserve the city's credit so that when the occasion arises for it to exercise its right of recapture it will be in a position financially to do so. In the last few months the city's debt limit or margin of credit has been the largest in its history and, so far as that is concerned, it could now recapture the rapid transit lines if the time to do so under the contracts had arrived.

"It is of the utmost importance that expenditures for other public improvements shall be so regulated and controlled as not to interfere with this policy of recapture or jeopardize the provision of additional rapid transit facilities.

"Naturally, when a new bridge is proposed, the question arises whether it would be more economical to provide a vehicular tunnel.

"In my opinion, this question should await the opening and the practical operation of the vehicular tunnel now being constructed under the Hudson River. The tests and the theories in regard to the ventilation and operation of those tunnels can then be tried in the light of actual experience. Vehicular tunnel construction, or bridge construction, should await the results of such a test.

"There is, however, a different and better solution of the East River bridge question than the construction of new bridges or vehicular tunnels under that river.

"There are now five pairs of rapid transit tunnels constructed and owned by the city under East River, four of which are in operation. The cost of these tunnels average somewhat in excess of $5,000,000 a pair. Besides this, the Long Island Railroad operates a pair of tunnels for passenger traffic under East River.

"A new bridge over East River would probably cost, for its construction and the acquisition of necessary land and approaches and other incidental outlays, in the neighborhood of $40,000,000. Besides the interest and sinking fund charges for so large an investment, there would be a large annual loss to the city of substantial sums now received in taxes from property that would be forever removed from the tax rolls when acquired for bridge purposes.

"All of the rapid transit service that is now maintained over the four East River bridges could undoubtedly be taken care of in two pair of new rapid transit tunnels, the cost of which need not materially exceed $10,000,000. If the rapid transit service now handled over the East River bridges were removed to new tunnels provided for that

Gov. Miller May Call Legislature to Take Action on Coal

State Coal Commission Getting Ready to Ration Supplies Allotted to New York State and City by Federal Authorities

STATE and local authorities are completing arrangements for action in the distribution of coal allotted to this section by the Federal Government. Governor Miller, on his return from Washington late last week, announced he was certain that when the distribution of coal under the national rationing plan begins New York City and State will get its quota based on its past consumption. The Governor may call a special session of the Legislature to deal with the emergency caused by the strike of coal miners. Action by the Legislature may be necessary to clothe the recently-appointed State Coal Commission with authority to ration coal. This commission, of which E. H. Outerbridge is chairman, is receiving requests for coal at its headquarters, No. 11 Broadway. These include all requests by public utilities and dealers, and copies of the requests are sent to Washington.

The plan under which coal will be distributed by the Federal Government has not been published, but it is expected soon. Mr. Outerbridge announced that "there are substantial supplies of bituminous coal that can and will be allocated by the Federal Fuel Administrator to the State of New York. In turn, this coal will be distributed in accordance with the priority regulations agreed upon by officials of the state and Federal governments.

"As announced previously, all industries in the state in need of coal must fill out the proper forms for this commission. It will be the job of the commission to get everybody's bread buttered so far as distribution is concerned. The butter may be a little thin, but the outlook now is that every one is going to have a spreading of it."

New York banks have pledged themselves to underwrite the cost of all coal Washington assigns the entire State, according to Mr. Outerbridge, who appealed to the leading bankers here a week ago for volunteers to provide means of meeting the Government's financial requirement that all allocated coal be paid for when it crossed the State line. The response was unanimous, he said. That out of town bankers are not represented was due to lack of time to canvass them. Without the organization of the syndicate, Mr. Outerbridge explained, Governor Miller's trip to Washington would probably have availed little, inasmuch as the Government insisted upon all applicant States furnishing proof of financial standing Under the proposed arrangement, it was learned, the New York banks will probably take up and pay the bills of lading on all incoming coal shipments, later being reimbursed by dealers securing the coal, who will pay an interest charge yet to be determined.

Anthracyte, which most householders use, shows a four months' national deficit on production, amounting to 30,000,000 tons, Mr. Outerbridge said. Granting a settlement of the coal strike at current conferences, of which the chairman was optimistic, production would hardly be resumed till nearly September 1 and normal bunkers would not reappear, the chairman's figures showed, until another third of a year at the earliest.

The New York Board of Trade and Transportation appealed to Governor Miller and Superintendent of Public Works Charles L. Cadle to place all the facilities of the New York State barge canal system at the disposal of New York and the entire northeastern littoral of the United States as reached by the barge canal and its approaches through the Hudson River, Long Island Sound and the Atlantic Coast, for the movement of coal and provisions during the railroad and coal strikes.

The Utilities Advisory Fuel Commission has been formed and J. W. Lieb, vice president of the New York Edison Company, made chairman. An executive committee was elected and instructed to consider immediately the possibility of saving coal by the curtailment of public utilities service, if this can be done without injury to the public. When it has reached its conclusion the Commission will present its recommendations to the Public Service and Transit Commissions. The public is asked to eliminate all uses of electricity and gas, which in themselves are non-productive or wasteful. All of the principal public utility corporations in the State were represented at the session, including the Interborough and Brooklyn Rapid Transit Companies, the Consolidated Gas Company and many of the big up-State companies.

The U. S. Shipping Board has made fifty-six coal charters, and about seventy-five have been made by private interests, so that, taking 7,000 tons of coal a ship as an average, the total movement currently indicated is nearly 1,000,000 tons. The board is now ready to charter tonnage for late August and September loading, and the indicated rate is 12 shillings 6 pence. Although the demand has fallen off heavily there is still said to be plenty of inquiry in the market.

purpose it would immediately release for vehicular traffic over these bridges roadways to an extent that would practically increase by 100 per cent the present vehicular capacity of the East River bridges. If provision were made for increased traffic to this extent by the building of new bridges, it would require an outlay of upward of $75,000,000.

"It will readily be seen, therefore, that not only will materially less public money be required if the bridge capacity is increased by the construction of new rapid transit tunnels, but that the expenditure of the reduced amounts would provide at the same time additional rapid transit facilities, the investment in which should be a self-sustaining enterprise."

The Real Estate Board calls attention to the fact that if the new bridge is built at the estimated cost of $50,000,000 the tax levy will be increased $2,625,000, which means an increase of two and a half points in the tax levy.

Borough President Connolly of Queens announced he would oppose the $50,000,000 project of Commissioner Whalen for a new East River bridge unless it ran to Queens. He suggested Thirty-fourth street, Manhattan, to Long Island City as the natural route.

President Murray Hulbert of the Board of Aldermen wrote to Mr. Whalen suggesting a route from Ferry Point, in The Bronx, to Whitestone.

A recent count made by the Department of Plant and Structures and reported to the Transit Commissioner showed that more than 200,000 persons crossed the bridge daily in elevated trains and trolley cars alone. It has been estimated that at least 300,000 persons cross the bridge daily in its greatest floods of traffic, and the estimates of some days have gone as high as 1,000,000.

According to all available figures, the peak of the passenger traffic was reached about 1907, when, on typical days, 426,298 persons crossed the bridge. This heavy strain was lightened somewhat by the construction of the Manhattan and Williamsburg Bridges.

When operations of electric trains and trolleys was contemplated in 1907 the bridge was materially strengthened. Stringers and beams were added to the flooring of the bridge, but running of the heavy six-car trains made imperative even more reinforcements, according to the report of the Department of Bridges for 1912.

Estimates by the U. S. Geological Survey show a production of 93,293,000 barrels of portland cement during the last calendar year, this being 1.7 per cent. below the high record of 100,023,245 barrels in 1920. Shipments during the year are placed at 95,051,000 barrels, or only 1.3 per cent. below the 1920 high record of 96,311,719 barrels. The average price in bulk at the mill was $1.87 in 1921, compared with $2.02 in 1920, a decrease of 74%.

Review of Real Estate Market for the Current Week

A Choice Fifth Avenue Parcel, Some Broadway Buildings and Heavy Dealing on Washington Heights Were Outstanding Features of a Summer Market

WHILE the volume of dealing this week was not much larger than it was last week the character of it was more distinctive and it embodied some transactions of importance for this season of the year. The Vanderbilt and Sloane families sold to an operator 647 Fifth avenue, on the block north of Saint Patrick's Cathedral. It was originally a fine private mansion, but it has been occupied by trade in recent years. When it was built it was not believed that business would ever go north of the Cathedral on the avenue. The plot is a valuable site for a larger building. The price was about three-quarters of a million dollars. Another notable sale was that of two large loft buildings on Broadway, adjoining the northeast corner of Spring street. About $2,000,000 was the amount of this transaction. It shows a renewed investment interest, along with other recent sales, in a part of town that at one time was lagging behind. The lease of the entire building, 1553 Broadway, to the Childs Company, for its restaurant purposes for 21 years, with two renewals, was probably one of the largest leases of the summer. The lessee controls an adjoining property also.

In the Dyckman section the William B. Isham estate disposed of the last parcel of its once extensive holdings there. This is the estate that exchanged the land comprising Isham Park with the city for some downtown property in Manhattan a few years ago. A Lexington avenue corner dwelling was sold to be altered for business use. Numerous old tenement houses with stores were sold in First, Second and Third avenues, some of them being corners and some were bought by tenants. Some old types of apartment houses and old dwellings in Yorkville and Harlem changed hands.

A large apartment hotel at Madison avenue and 89th street was bought. A West End avenue corner dwelling that has been altered for business found a new owner. The estate of John C. Orr sold an old lower East Side parcel. Mr. Orr, in his lifetime, was the head of the large lumber firm in Greenpoint now known as the John C. Orr Lumber Company. An 8-story loft building in the Washington Square zone changed hands, as did also a large garage in the lower West Side. A few upper West Side dwellings passed to new ownership.

A striking feature of the market was the sale of several large elevator apartment houses on Washington Heights. A fine Riverside Drive dwelling was bought for occupancy. The Swedish Lutheran Church bought a square block in the Bronx, part of which it will use for a church edifice. In Brooklyn the notable feature was the leasing of a Court street block front, near Borough Hall, for a term of 42 years.

PRIVATE REALTY SALES.

THE total number of sales reported, but not recorded in Manhattan this week, was 71, as against 61 last week and 75 a year ago.

The number of sales south of 59th st was 22, as compared with 11 last week and 32 a year ago.

The number of sales north of 59th st was 49, as compared with 50 last week and 43 a year ago.

From the Bronx 31 sales at private contract were reported, as against 55 last week and 39 a year ago.

Statistical tables, including the number of recorded instruments, will be found on page 210.

H. S. Vanderbilt Sells Fifth Ave. Holding

The 5-story and basement stone front building, 647 Fifth av. formerly one of the Vanderbilt homes, has been sold by Harold S. Vanderbilt and Malcolm D. and Elinor D. Sloane to the Union Estates Co., S. H. Sloane, president. The property, which occupies a plot of 37.6x100 feet, has been under a lease to Gimpel & Wilderstein, art dealers, for the last 6 years and was held for $750,000. It is opposite the Vanderbilt twin houses on the west side of the avenue. Louis Delauney Ward was the broker. Mr. Stone, head of the buying company, owns considerable property in the vicinity.

The house adjoins the old home of Morton F. Plant, on the southeast corner of the avenue and 52d st, which is occupied by Cartier, jeweler. A structure similar to the old Vanderbilt residence, just sold, separates the latter from the Union Club house, on the northeast corner of the avenue and 51st st.

Big Broadway Buildings Sold

Denwood Realty Co., Benjamin Benenson, president, sold through I. Reis & Co., and the Penwood Realty Co., 532-538 Broadway, adjoining the northeast corner of Spring st, a 10-story and a 11-story brick and stone loft building, respectively, the first on a plot 50.6x100.2, and the second on a plot 50.6x100, with an L, 25x118.2, to Spring st.

The buyer gave in part payment the 5-story and basement brick walk-up apartment house 1975 Creston av, Bronx, on a plot 102.6x100. The trade represents approximately $2,000,000. The Bronx parcel has been resold.

Tenant Buys Pearl St. Parcel

William Farrington, perfumer, and tenant in the 5-story brick building 80 Pearl st, is buying property from the Dexter P. Mills estate, represented by H. G. Allen of Boston. It stands on a lot 19.8½x67.5, near Coenties slip.

Lower Mortgage Rate Here

In reviewing the changing conditions of the mortgage market, it is stated by Mr. Watson, manager of the mortgage department of the Duross Co., that while much has been said in the past relative to the lowering of interest rates on real estate mortgages, it still remained a fact that the market was demanding 6 per cent, and only in a few special instances were loans made at 5½ per cent, per annum.

"However," said Mr. Watson, "it now seems that we are well on the road to cheaper money, as many large loans have recently been placed at 5½ per cent., and we find that there are many substantial amounts to loan at this rate. We have, in fact, been advised by an investor that he is prepared to loan at 5 per cent."

"The primary reason for these conditions is the plentiful supply of money for investment covering the better class of real estate and the fact that many private investors are returning to this form of investment, realizing the stability of New York city realty."

Sells Riverside Drive Dwelling

James P. Walden sold for Edward J. Loughman 342 Riverside dr, near 106th st, a 5-story American basement dwelling, 22x64x89, to a client for occupancy. This is one of the finest private residences in the Riverside dr section.

Buys Cliffcrest Apartments

The 6-story elevator Cliffcrest apartment house, 938 St. Nicholas av, occupying the block front on the south side of 137th st, between St. Nicholas and Edgemont avs, has been bought by Frank Rosenblum, an attorney, who is making his first investment in real estate. The sale was arranged by Nicholas Celia, with A. Garfein and A. Strauss as brokers. The Cliffcrest occupies a site 103.7x151x100x127 and contains accommodations for 48 families. It returns an annual rental of approximately $60,000 and was held at $375,000.

Corner Dwelling Sold for Business

Paul D. Saxe sold the southeast corner of Lexington av and 62d st, known as 801 Lexington av, on a lot 20.5x80, a 4-story and basement brownstone dwelling, for Flora Hirsch to Loton H. Slawson. It will be altered for business uses.

Isham Estate Sells Plot

Estate of William B. Isham sold to Paul Braus the southeast corner of Broadway and 213th st, with frontages of 118.2 feet on Broadway x 70 feet on 213th st x 99.11 and 133.10 feet, respectively.

This plot was the last of the estate's vast holdings fronting on Broadway in the Dyckman section. The purchaser will improve the property when plans for it are completed.

Sales of Co-operative Apartments

Spotts & Starr, Inc., sold apartments on the 100 per cent. cooperative plan in the Mount Cenis, 54 Morningside drive, to Maynard W. Hamblin, Prof. Clinton Walker Keyes, Prof. Lawrence A. Wilkins, Mary Emma Earle and William H. Hatfield, Jr.

Tenant Becomes Buyer

Leon S. Altmyer and Chr. Volzing & Son, Inc., placed a first mortgage of $10,000 at 6 per cent. per annum for 5 years, on the 4-story brick business building with store at 1076 Second av, at the foot of the elevated railroad station at 57th st. The tenant of the store, Simon Lipman, who has conducted his stationery business there for many years, now becomes the purchaser of the property through Chr. Volzing & Son, Inc., and title is to close at once. The lot is 20.10x70. The property has not changed hands before since 1869.

New Theatre in Dyckman Section

Frank Volz resold for Edward J. Fenelon plot 100x150, on the west side of Dyckman st, 300 feet north of Nagle av, to Irving and Chester D. Judis. The purchase gives the builders 300 feet on Dyckman st. They contemplate the erection of stores and a theatre of 2,500 seating capacity.

Buys a Third Avenue Corner

Frederick Zittel & Sons sold for J. Freidus to an operator 1347 Third av, southeast corner of 77th st, a 4-story brick tenement house with store, on a lot 25.6½x75. The structure recently underwent alterations.

V. Green Construction Co. bought from the John C. Orr estate through George O'Hare the 6-story brick loft building 133 East 16th st on a plot 69x92 renting for $25,000 and held at $75,000.

To Improve Upper Fifth Avenue Corner

Percival G. Nagle bought the southeast corner of Fifth av and 129th st, a plot 74.11x100, together with 4 6 East 129th st, a 3½-story and basement frame dwelling and garage, on a plot 40x90.11. The vacant corner will be improved.

Resale of a Garage

The garage property, located on East 88th-89th sts, 82.2½ feet west of Park av, fronting 153 feet on 88th st and 127.9 feet on 89th st, has been resold by the Mandel-Ehrich Corporation to James C. McGuire & Co., Pease & Eliman, Inc., acting as brokers.

The seller recently purchased this property from the Elliot F. Shepard estate. The new owners have not developed any definite plans for the improvement of the property. The lease on the garage building expires September 30 next.

Buys Staten Island Dry Docks

Charles E. Fraser, president of the New York Harbor Dry Dock Co., announced that the company has been reorganized and has purchased from the United States Shipping Board the two 10,000 ton dry docks near the new municipal piers at Rosebank, Staten Island. The company soon will begin construction of a new pier to provide additional berthing space. The reorganization, it was said, brings $1,750,000 of new capital into the company. The directors of the reorganized concern aside from Mr. Fraser will be G. E. Clarke, William S. Kies, J. E. Aldred, Norman A. Macleod, G. W. Betts and J. W. Cowell of Boston.

Jackson Buys Heights Apartments

Samuel H. Jackson purchased from the Menasha Realty Corporation 502 504 West 151st st., a 6-story and basement elevator apartment house, on plot 75x99.11, accommodating 24 families. Smallest Assessed Parcel

What is understood to be the smallest piece of taxed real estate in New York City is in front of the triangular building at the southwest corner of Seventh av and Christopher st. It is 24x26 inches and is owned by the estate of David M. Hess of Philadelphia. It is assessed at $100. Its existence came to general knowledge when a crowd observed workmen laying tile on the sidewalk to form the inscription:

"Property of the Hess estate, which has never been dedicated for public purposes."

There are several small bits of property scattered over Manhattan known in the real estate realm as "watch charms." The Hess property is said to be the smallest. It is about one foot from the building line. It is all there is left of a large parcel owned by the estate before the city cut a swath through lower Greenwich Village to extend Seventh av and the subway from Greenwich st south to Varick st. It is known as lot 55, block 591.

Church Buys Block in West Bronx

Shaw, Rockwell & Sanford sold for the Corn Exchange Bank to the Trinity Swedish Lutheran Church the entire block bounded by Mott av, Sheridan av, 158th and 159th sts. A cathedral will be erected on the corner of Mott av and 159th st.

Rev. S. G. Ohman, D.D., pastor of the church, recently came to New York from New Britain, Conn., where he was instrumental in building a large church. It is principally due to Dr. Ohman's efforts that his present congregation has undertaken to build.

Builder Buys Bronx Plots

The Broadway Savings Institution sold to the Schneider Holding Co., Inc., the block front on the east side of Mott av, opposite Franz Sigel Park, between 157th st and New st, with a frontage of about 250 feet on Mott av, and extending about 225 feet on either street. The same purchaser recently bought from the bank the block immediately south of this parcel, the entire holding being about 450 feet front on Mott av. The buyer will erect apartment houses on both plots, work to be started at once. George E. Cohn was the broker.

Sells Bronx Amusement Place

Niblo's Garden, an amusement resort at the southeast corner of Third av and 170th st, has been sold by W. C. Reeves & Co., George D. Grundy president to the newly formed Claremont Palace Garden, Inc., which will continue it as a dancing place. The property fronts 92.5 feet on the avenue and 322 feet on the street and has an easterly line of 120 feet. Donato Piculo, Joseph Blum and George Axelrad are the incorporators of the new company.

Tremont Mills in Merger

The plant of the Tremont Mills, covering the block front on the south side of Ittner pl. between Park and Webster avs, Bronx, and including more than half the block bounded by those thoroughfares and East 174th st, has been taken over by Johnson-Cowdin-Emmerich, Inc., recently formed by the consolidation of Johnson, Codwin & Co. and Walter Emmerich & Co., manufacturers of ribbons.

Other big plants affected by the merger and which will be controlled by the new corporation are the Bayview Mill in Brooklyn, the Riverside Mill in Paterson and the Lady Fair Mill in Norwalk, Conn. A total capital of $5,000,000 is represented in the Johnson-Cowdin-Emmerich merger.

Acquire Brooklyn Factory Building

W. R. Ostrander & Co., Inc., manufacturers of electrical supplies, took title last week to the 6-story factory building, with a frontage of 105 feet at 83 to 91 Clifton pl. between Grand and Classon avs, Brooklyn. It adjoins the 4-story building acquired by the United Grocer Co. at 79 to 81 Clifton pl. Both transactions are resales out of the recent sale by the Bristol Myers Co. of their holdings of nine buildings in the block, having a total frontage of about 350 feet, including the northwest corner of Clifton pl and Classon av, was sold to the Boo-Shoo Knitting Mills and partly leased to the Universal Jewelry Case Co. All of the transactions and the financing arrangements were consummated by James B. Fisher.

The Legold Realty Corporation has purchased the plot, which is 161x100, and on which are four 4-story brownstone remodeled dwellings, occupied by insurance firms on their street floors. The upper floors are used as apartments. The sellers were Frances J. Lang and others and the brokers were S. Dombek and McNeil & Moseley. The proposed operation will be started as soon as existing leases expire.

Day Had Great July Business

Big business, as a rule, looks upon July as a vacation month. The big chiefs usually are away in the mountains or at the shore, and this also holds good, in a lesser degree, for the rank and file. Consequently there was a noticeable July let down. Barring seasonal enterprises, business volumes invariably simmer and wilt under July's heat blasts.

However, real estate is an important exception to this summer slump rule. At least Auctioneer Joseph P. Day has made the last July a very noticeable exception. The Liberty st expert, during July, directed real estate operations which totaled over $12,000,000. Quite a sizable turnover for a month in which the business world is traditionally supposed to spend wading in a trout stream; in the cool of a seashore home veranda, or motoring over winding mountain trails. Joseph P. Day's July operations included tremendous auction sales, private sales of country estates, liquidation of factory holdings in greater New York and in other big cities throughout the country; disposal of dwellings and apartment houses and the acquirement of industrial properties. Every phase of real estate is included in the $12,000,000 volume of Joseph P. Day, Inc. Long Beach, Forest Hills West and Hunts Point auction sales alone accounted for close to $3,000,000 of the $12,000,000 total, involving the disposition of nearly 6,000 lots.

Other successful July auction sales of Joseph P. Day were the Porter property near Jamaica, Queens; the Kuhl estate in the Bronx, and a White Plains business lot disposal. These totaled $550,000. The securing of 30 oil station sites for a nation-wide industry, called for the direction of expenditures amounting to $900,000. The negotiations for the purchase of the former J. N. Willys plant at Elizabeth, N. J., for William C. Durant, the motor magnate—while started in June were not completed until early in July—involved $5,525,000. The sale of the Locomobile plant at Bridgeport, Conn., for close to $4,000,000 to the same interests, also transpired within July. These two transactions alone, it can be seen, cover nearly $9,500,000 of business. The Consolidated Gas Co. plot, Twelfth av and 45th st, was sold for $100,000, a cash transaction. A Cleveland lot auction sale poured $127,070 into the huge total, while private sales and special sales days furnished a good many additional thousands of dollars. So that Joseph P. Day's entire operations for the month of July aggregated well over the $12,000,000 mark.

"July's business was, naturally, very gratifying," said Mr. Day, in speaking of the business circumstance. "Aside from the volume, in my opinion, the strong July market forecasts a stronger Fall buying power, especially in the vacant property field. Business in general will undoubtedly swing all the way up to a prosperous level, and I look for the beginning of one of the most prosperous eras America has ever known. If people snap up vacant land for home sites, investment and speculation when conditions are wavering, it is certain a bigger, stronger acceptance in this line will come with widespread good times, and good times are immediately ahead. Of that I feel certain."

MORTGAGE LOANS

James Boyd placed a first mortgage of $90,000 for a term of 5 years on the building finished by the West 190th Street Corporation on the northeast corner of Bainbridge av and 205th st, Bronx, and $100,000 for the Twin-house Realty Corporation at 5½ per cent. per annum, on the 5-sty brick apartment house with stores, 100x100, on the southwest corner of St. Nicholas av and 174th st.

The Lawyers Mortgage Co. made building loans of $255,000 to the Nolvavia Construction Co., A. d'Antona, president, for the erection of a 9-sty elevator apartment house at 302-306 West 89th st; $190,000 and $155,000, respectively, on the northwest and northeast corners of Bedford Park boulevard and Decatur av, Bronx, to the Marion-Decatur Corporation for the construction of two 5-sty apartment houses, one on each of those plots; and $85,000 to Samuel Williams for a 6-sty apartment house to be built at 239-241 West 110th st.

Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. has authorized bonds and mortgages amounting to more than $6,000,000, of which a little more than $1,000,000 was lent on business buildings in Virginia, Ohio, West Virginia, Alabama and Florida. Housing loans amounted to more than $3,000,000 and provided accommodations for 940 families. More than $1,000,000 was authorized for loans in this city on 28 dwellings and 17 apartment houses to house 162 families and about $2,000,000 was lent on 421 dwellings and 44 apartment houses outside of the city, to accommodate 778 families. The housing loans outside of the city were in Massachusetts, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Virginia, North Carolina, Georgia, Tennessee, Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska, Utah, California, Long Island, New Jersey, Washington, D. C., and Florida. About $1,500,000 were farm loans in the West and Southwest, the states getting the larger loans being Iowa, Missouri, Kansas, South Dakota and Tennessee.

New York Title & Mortgage Co. made a loan of $25,000 at 5½ per cent. per annum, on 83 Norfolk st, a 5-sty and basement brick tenement house with stores 25.2x100, adjoining the southwest corner of Delancey st.

The Title Guarantee & Trust Co. has loaned on first mortgage to the 72d Street Realty Co., Inc., $200,000 at 6 per cent. per annum, for 5 years on the southwest corner of 72d st and Columbus av. The property is a 6-sty brick business building, 50x102.2.

Richard W. Elliott placed the following loans: $50,000 on 50 Bond st; $90,000 on 113 to 121 Prince st; $10,000 on 143 West 128th st; $35,000 first mortgage, $25,000 second mortgage on south side 156th st, from Fox to Beck sts, Bronx; $20,000 on 323 West 87th st; $30,500 on 308 West 106th st; $19,500 on 222 West 71st st; $15,500 on 173 West 85th st; $18,000 on 308 Spring st; $44,000 on 85 and 87 Willett st; $20,000 on 20 Monroe st; $20,000 on 1344 Park av, and $13,000 on 122 Rivington st.

J. Clarence Davies placed first mortgages on the following properties: The residence and the garage on the west side Rombouts av, 208 feet south of Kingsbridge rd; the residence on the east side of Rombouts av, 177 feet south of Kingsbridge rd.

Shaw, Rockwell & Sanford placed for the Efficient Building Corporation a first mortgage of $18,000 at 6 per cent., for 5 years, on the 1-sty taxpayer, 75x100, on the west side of Jerome av, 212 feet south of 177th st.

James Boyd placed a first mortgage of $110,000, at 5½ per cent. per annum, for the Middleton Realty Co. on the 6-sty elevator apartment house, 100x100, southeast corner of St. Nicholas av and 189th st. In addition he has placed $55,000 for the Minaret Building Co. on 516 518 West 151st st, and $23,500 at the same rate for 3 years, on 920 and 926 Kelly st.

Lawrence, Blake & Jewell placed for Elsie N. McBride a first mortgage of $20,000 at 6 per cent. per annum for 5 years, on 259 West 112th st; for Sarah Zipp a first mortgage of $10,000 at 6 per cent. per annum for 5 years, on 9 East 115th st, and for F. A. Schorer $15,000 at 6 per cent. per annum for 5 years, on 516 East 80th st.

Recording of a $700,000 building loan indicates that plans for the re-improvement of the southeast corner of Park av and 37th st are under way. In all probability it will take the form of an apartment or apartment hotel. The loan was made by the City Real Estate Co. to 45 Park Avenue, Inc., recently formed and representing Cyrille Carreau and associates, who own the property. The site fronts 98.9 feet on the avenue and 165 feet on the street. There was also recorded an agreement between the former owners and 45 Park Avenue, Inc., Samuel L. Fuller, Charles L. Tiffany and others. The old brick and stone mansion on the corner was for many years owned and occupied by the late Judge Horace Russell.

The 135 Broadway Corporation made a building loan of $75,000 to the Morwin Building Corporation on the northwest corner of St Ann's av and 149th st, 75x100.

Slawson & Hobbs effected a building and permanent loan of $235,000 for the Lawyers Mortgage Co. to the Nolvavia Construction Co., A. d'Antona, president, on the apartment house to be built on the plot 60x100, on the south side of West 89th st, 80 feet west of West End av.

Leon S. Altmayer negotiated a first mortgage of $6,200, for 5 years, on the 5-sty brick and frame tenement house with store at 430 West 54th st, on a lot 22.6x55.

Forest Hills West Owners Meet

More than 700 purchasers of lots at the Forest Hills West tract of land recently auctioned by Joseph P. Day, met at the Pennsylvania Hotel last Monday for the purpose of forming an association for the permanent development of the property along high-class lines. Several questions of importance were brought up for discussion, including the deeding of the beds of the streets to the city of New York, so that they can be properly regulated and graded, etc., and construction work immediately started on a large number of residences. A resolution requesting the railroad to change the name of the railroad station from "Matawok" to "Forest Hills West" was presented by James Naughton and passed unanimously.

James R. Murphy, general manager of the Joseph P. Day organization, presided at the meeting and was elected temporary chairman. He explained the purposes of the meeting and how, through the formation of property owners associations, tracts of land can be properly and quickly improved; and also the method of procedure. Mr. Murphy's talk was most forceful, and his vast experience in matters of this kind was readily appreciated by those present.

The following is the list of officers elected: James R. Murphy, president; James Naughton, first vice-president; Eugene Barrington, second vice-president; P. J. Farley, third vice-president; Floyd M. Lord, fourth vice-president; Edward Scowcroft, treasurer, and Harry K. Keller, secretary.

F. E. Golland was appointed chairman of a committee to have prepared a comprehensive map, showing the topography and street layouts of Forest Hills West, so that improve-

Auction of Throg's Neck Lots

During the Mexican War (1846-48), when Throg's Neck was commonly known as the "Newport of New York," Francis Morris purchased the property known today as the Morris Estates in the Throg's Neck section of the Bronx, with nearly a mile of frontage on the East River at the entrance to Long Island Sound, and including valuable riparian rights. Long before the Morris purchase and ever since, until the year 1920, Throg's Neck has been the stronghold of such prominent families as the Costers, the Bruce-Browns, the Turnbolls, the Brinsmades, the Wissmanns, the Wrights, the Havemeyers, and the Huntingtons, and it has been practically impossible, ever since the Revolutionary War, for the general public to buy a single inch of Throg's Neck, or to locate a home there.

The first big change in conditions came about in the autumn of 1920, when Joseph P. Day, auctioneer, sold the Coster Estate at the Eastern Boulevard and East Tremont avenue (Old Fort Schuyler Road). Since that sale, Mr. Day has disposed of the Bruce-Brown, the Brinsmade, the Turnbull and Wissmann Estates, and Hoffman's Park, on which hundreds of houses have since been erected, many by the hand of those who purchased the lots.

Now the Morris Estates, consisting of approximately 1,000 lots, located at the "hub" of Throg's Neck, formed by the intersection of East Tremont av., East 177th st and Dewey av. are to be sold in separate lots by Mr. Day on Saturday, August 26, on the premises, at 2 p. m., rain or shine.

The Morris Estates are bounded on the east by East Tremont av.; on the north by the Collis P. Huntington Estate, and on the west, south and east by the East River. The lots to be sold, in addition to being located on the East River frontage with valuable riparian rights have valuable frontages on East Tremont av., Lawton av., Miles av., Sampson av., Balcom av., Huntington av., Harding av., Emerson and other avenues.

Also included in the sale are two of the Morris family mansions, nine cottages, numerous barns, hothouses, garages, etc., many of which might be modernized for use as dwellings; electricity, water and private sewers have been introduced at various points on the property, and the Morris Estates dock and boat house is located at the foot of Emerson av.

Also, in conjunction with the Morris Estate sale, at the same time and place, Joseph P. Day, Inc., auctioneer, will sell, by order of the stockholders of the Fort Schuyler Co., Inc., six new two-story frame dwellings, directly opposite the Morris Estates and adjacent to Long Island Sound, on Migel Place, Sampson av and Logan av. These houses have never been occupied, and 80 per cent. of the purchase price may be paid in installments of 2 per cent. per month.

BUILDING SECTION

July Totals Show Scope of Prevailing Building Boom

Figures Tabulated by F. W. Dodge Company Indicate Fourth Consecutive Month of Unprecedented National Construction Activity

JULY was the fourth consecutive month of unprecedented building activity, according to the F. W. Dodge Company. Contracts awarded during the month in the twenty-seven Northeastern States amounted to $350,081,000. This was a 2 per cent. increase over June and a 65 per cent. increase over July, 1921. It is greater than any previous monthly total except the record figures of April and May of this year. The July increase was in central western territory, eastern districts having shown slight declines.

The July figures brought the total for the first seven months of this year up to $2,041,065,000, an unprecedented figure, 60 per cent. greater than that for the corresponding period of 1921.

July showed a levelling tendency not only as between localities, but as between classes of construction. There was a decline in the volume of residential construction from June, which was more than equalized by increases in industrial and public works construction. The figure for industrial plants, $31,882,000, which was 9 per cent. of the month's total, was the largest of this class since November, 1920. Residential construction, however, still maintains the lead, having amounted to $108,951,000 in July, 31 per cent. of the month's total. Public works and utilities amounted to $79,162,000, or 23 per cent. of the total; business buildings, $44,020,000, or 13 per cent. of the total; educational buildings, $40,690,000, or 12 per cent. of the total.

Contemplated new work reported during the month amounted to $508,222,000, compared with $350,081,000 for contracts awarded.

July building contracts in New England amounted to $25,904,000. While this was a decrease of 32 per cent. from the preceding month, it was an increase of 24 per cent. over July, 1921.

Construction started in New England during the first seven months of this year has amounted to $201,110,000, an increase of 97 per cent. over the corresponding period of last year.

Included in last month's total were the following items: $13,109,000, or 51 per cent., for residential buildings; $3,537,000, or 14 per cent., for business buildings; $2,535,000, or 10 per cent., for public works and utilities; and $2,377,000, or 9 per cent., for educational buildings.

Contemplated new work reported during the month amounted to $29,916,000.

Contracts awarded during July in New York State and Northern New Jersey, amounted to $76,486,000, a decrease of 4 per cent. from June, but an increase of 45 per cent. over July, 1921. The July decrease was in New York City, the remainder of the district showing an increase.

From January 1 to August 1 the amount of work started in this district was $556,996,000, an increase of 86 per cent. over the corresponding period of last year.

Included in last month's total were: $33,389,000, or 44 per cent., for residential buildings; $13,245,000, or 17 per cent., for public works and utilities; $12,017,000, or 16 per cent., for business buildings; and $9,891,000, or 13 per cent., for educational buildings.

Contemplated new work reported in July amounted to $150,709,000.

Total construction contracts awarded in the five boroughs of New York City during July amounted to $36,571,500. This was a decline of 13 per cent. from the June figure. Although there has been a gradual decline in the metropolis since April, the peak month, recent months have maintained relatively high levels of activity. Last month, for example, was 59 per cent. ahead of July, 1921. From January 1 to August 1 the amount of work started has been exactly double the amount for the corresponding period of last year.

Residential construction still leads, having amounted to $20,662,300 in July, or 56 per cent. of the month's total. Business buildings amounted to $7,114,500, or 19 per cent. of the total; and educational buildings, $4,150,500, or 11 per cent. of the total.

July building contracts in the Middle Atlantic States (Eastern Pennsylvania, Southern New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, District of Columbia, Virginia and the Carolinas) amounted to $55,015,000. Although this was 2 per cent. under the preceding month, it was more than double the figure for July, 1921.

From January 1 to August 1 the amount of work started in this district was $310,762,000, an increase of more than 60 per cent. over the corresponding period of last year.

Included in last month's total were: $15,997,000, or 29 per cent., for public works and utilities; $15,216,000, or 28 per cent., for residential buildings; $10,480,000, or 19 per cent., for business buildings; and $6,426,000, or 12 per cent., for educational buildings.

Contemplated new work reported during the month amounted to $91,404,000.

Contracts awarded during July in Western Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio, Kentucky and Tennessee amounted to $60,013,000, an increase of 10 per cent. over June and of 39 per cent. over July, 1921.

During the first seven months of this year the total amount of contracts awarded has been $321,086,000, an increase of 25 per cent. over the corresponding period of last year.

Last month's total included the following: $17,045,000, or 28 per cent., for residential buildings; $16,699,000, or 28 per cent., for public works and utilities; $7,307,000, or 12 per cent., for educational buildings; $7,075,000, or 12 per cent., for business buildings; and $7,011,000, or 12 per cent., for industrial buildings.

Contemplated new work reported during the month amounted to $68,844,000.

July building contracts in the Central West (comprising Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Wisconsin, Michigan, Missouri and portions of Eastern Kansas and Nebraska) amounted to $124,655,000, the largest monthly figure on record for this district. The July figure was 19 per cent. ahead of June and more than double the amount for July, 1921.

During the first seven months of this year, construction started in this district has amounted to $595,668,000, an increase of 55 per cent. over the corresponding period of last year.

Included in last month's total were the following: $29,597,000, or 24 per cent., for public works and utilities; $28,152,800, or 23 per cent., for residential buildings; $17,806,000, or 14 per cent., for industrial plants; and $12,861,000, or 10 per cent., for educational buildings.

Contemplated new work reported during the month amounted to $153,719,000.

First Fireproof Apartment in Queens at Kew Gardens

Prudence Bonds Corporation Loans $550,000 on Multi-Family Project Being Erected by John K. Turton Company, General Contractor

ONE of the most interesting of the multi-family housing projects in the Metropolitan district is now being constructed at Kew Gardens, L. I. This structure, which will be known as Kew Hall, is said to be equal in every respect to the best apartment houses, under eight stories in height, in Manhattan, and is the largest apartment unit and the first fireproof building of its type in the borough of Queens.

The Prudence Bonds Corporation has arranged a first mortgage loan of $550,000 on the land and building, which has now reached the first tier of beams, and according to the present schedule the operation will be completed and ready for occupancy on October 1.

This apartment house occupies the entire block front of 200 feet in Talbot place and 235 feet each in Lefferts avenue and Kingsley place. This plot contains more than an acre of land and adjoins the grounds of the Kew Gardens Country Club. Plans for this building were prepared privately and the construction is proceeding under a general contract awarded to the John K. Turton Company, builders, 101 Park avenue, Manhattan.

Kew Hall is five stories in height, with basement, and will contain sixteen units of four, five and six rooms, with baths, on each floor. The basement, in addition to heating plant and other mechanical equipment such as laundry, drying room, etc., will contain rooms for sixteen servants. The structure is designed to house eighty families, or approximately five hundred persons.

The construction throughout is strictly fireproof, with steel frame and walls of brick and marble and floors of reinforced concrete. The concrete floors will be overlaid in the living units, with two thicknesses of flooring, the top being of hardwood. Door bucks and door jambs and the doors in all the walls are of sheet steel. There will be six automatic electric elevators from private entrances and the accompanying six stairways and all hallways will be constructed of gray tapestry brick with marble floors. The stairs will have risers and treads of marble. The heating plant will be what is known as the deactivating system of forced hot water.

All of the rooms in Kew Hall are outside rooms and the apartments will be reached through six private entrances, by either stairs or elevators. In the basement will be located a swimming pool, 16 x 41 feet, for the common use of the tenants.

A special feature of this operation is the large interior court, 131 x 91 feet, having a seventeen-foot driveway and a four-foot walk, with space for flowers next to the walls and a formal Italian sunken garden, 86 x 46 feet, in the center. This garden will be about ten feet below the main level and will be surrounded by a concrete retaining wall. In the center of this garden will be located an artistic fountain of concrete.

At the main entrance to the building is located a lodge, connecting with each wing of the apartment by a concrete tunnel.

The building, with the land, represents an investment of approximately $900,000 and it is estimated that the annual rentals will total about $200,000. The rents of the apartments, many of which have already been leased, will range from $1,800 a year upward.

The mortgage of the Prudence Bond Corporation runs until January 1, 1932, with a steady annual amortization of $27,400. The Kew Hall Company, the mortgagee, comprises some of the principals of the East Richmond Hill Land Company, of which Alrick H. Man is secretary. John K. Turton, the builder, is the president of the Kew Hall Company.

ern Michigan amounted to $8,008,000, a decrease of 24 per cent. from June, and of 28 per cent. from July, 1921.

Total construction started during the first seven months of the year has amounted to $55,433,000, an increase of 11 per cent. over the corresponding period of last year.

Included in last month's total were: $2,038,000, or 25 per cent., for residential buildings; $1,829,000, or 23 per cent., for educational buildings; $1,704,000, or 21 per cent., for business buildings; and $1,088,000, or 14 per cent., for public works and utilities.

Contemplated new work reported during the month amounted to $13,630,000. Study of the newly contemplated work shows a decided improvement in the outlook for commercial building activity in this territory.

A classified list of trade and allied associations and also of business publications in the city of New York has been prepared in pamphlet form by the Chamber of Commerce of the State of New York, 65 Liberty Street, New York. In addition there is also an appendix of governmental officers of the city, county, State and Federal Government as well as a list of the consuls and agencies of foreign governments in New York.

Consistent Gains Noted in Local Construction Field

Weekly Statistics Tabulated by F. W. Dodge Company Indicate Decided Improvement in Commercial Building Outlook for Near Future

CONSTRUCTION statistics for the thirty-first week of this year show a steady and consistent activity within the industry in the local territory. Figures tabulated by the F. W. Dodge Company show that in the district including all of New York State and New Jersey, north of Trenton, architects and engineers reported plans started for new building and engineering operations during the week to the number of 546 and representative of a gross outlay of approximately $13,337,400. During the same period announcements were made of the award of 367 contracts for new structural projects at an estimated total cost of $12,033,000.

The list of 546 proposed operations included 46 commercial buildings, such as stores, offices, lofts, commercial garages, etc., $2,669,000; 16 educational projects, $1,312,500; 3 hospitals and institutions, $325,000; 11 industrial buildings, $756,000; 4 public buildings, $40,000; 50 public works and public utilities, $1,494,800; 7 religious and memorial structures, $297,000; 406 residential operations, including apartments, flats and tenements and one and two-family dwellings, $5,988,100, and 3 social and recreational projects, $445,000.

Among the 367 projects for which contracts were awarded during the thirty-first week of 1922 were 37 commercial buildings of various types, $1,375,000; 14 educational jobs, $1,638,000; 3 hospitals and institutions, $37,000; 9 factories and industrial plants, $541,000; 5 public buildings, $973,200; 22 public works and public utilities, $1,430,600; 8 religious and memorial buildings, $273,000; 263 residential operations, including multi-family structures and one and two-family houses, $5,455,200, and 6 social and recreational buildings, $310,000.

During the month of July there was considerable new work placed under contract in Greater New York. The records for the month show a total of 536 contracts placed for new building projects in New York City which represent a total outlay of more than $36,571,500.

Commitments in New York City for July were grouped as follows: 101 business projects, such as stores, offices, lofts, commercial garages, etc., $7,114,500; 20 educational buildings, schools, colleges, libraries, etc., $4,151,500; 5 hospitals and institutions, $1,037,500; 13 industrial projects, $1,053,000; 5 public buildings, $249,300; 32 public works and public utilities, $1,738,900; 9 religious and memorial projects $380,500; 343 residential buildings, including apartments, flats and tenements and one and two-family dwellings, $20,662,300, and 8 social and recreational buildings, $184,000.

Aluminum Roofing

A new type of roofing has recently appeared on the market in the form of aluminum shingles. This metal has been made available by the recent reduction of production cost and as it is a metal that will not corrode, rust, dry out, crack, peel, curl or otherwise deteriorate it makes a good roofing material.

Special features of the new shingle obviate the use of solder, yet afford absolutely water-tight joints. Another feature of interest to contractors is that this design makes it possible to work from the ridge down, eliminating all scaffolding, and damage to the laid shingles from the weight of the workmen. The shingle is secured to the sheathing by aluminum nails, which are completely covered by the tile below. Each shingle is designed to be securely locked in place at both sides and ends and have ample corrugations to allow the circulation of air.

The exposed surface of each shingle is 12 by 14 inches, 36 to the 100 square feet. The weight is about 40 pounds to the 100 square feet, being 4 per cent. that of tile and 7 per cent. that of slate. This will allow lighter roof construction and a corresponding saving in cost. The shingles cost about the same as tile.

TRADE AND TECHNICAL SOCIETY EVENTS.

New York State Retail Hardware Association will hold its annual convention and exposition at Rochester, February 20 to 23, inclusive, next year.

Building Managers' and Owners' Association of New York holds its regular meetings on the second Tuesday of each month. Charles H. Merritt, executive secretary, 220 Broadway.

New York State Association of Real Estate Boards will hold its next state convention on September 21 to 23 at Saratoga Springs. Of special importance will be the national advertising campaign program which by that time will be well worked out and will be presented with data from actual observation.

American Ceramic Society plans a week of plant inspection and general outing in Canada and New York State. Among the cities to be visited during the summer meeting of this organization, which will be held from August 13 to 19 inclusive, will be Rochester, Montreal, Ottawa, Kingston, Toronto, Hamilton, Niagara Falls and Buffalo.

Illuminating Engineering Society will hold its annual convention in Boston, September 25 to 28 inclusive. This will be the sixteenth annual gathering of the society, and the convention arrangements are in the hands of a committee of which C. L. Edgar, president of the Edison Electric Illuminating Company of Boston, is chairman; H. F. Wallace, vice-chairman, and J. Daniels, secretary.

National Safety Council will hold its eleventh annual meeting in Detroit, August 28 to September 1, inclusive. A special program has been arranged for the metals section, of which J. R. Mulligan, safety inspector for the Bethlehem Steel Company, is chairman. The program for the meeting includes reports of officers and committees and several addresses. All meetings will be held in the new Cass Technical High School, which has just been completed.

CURRENT BUILDING OPERATIONS

CONDITIONS which are directly the outgrowth of the coal and railroad strikes are becoming more and more serious to local construction interests and, although they have not as yet caused a curtailment of building activity, they have been responsible for considerable anxiety on the part of builders regarding the future. The chief difficulty lies with the supply of materials for the work now in progress and the vast amount already planned and waiting for a start. During the past two or three weeks local reserve stocks have been greatly diminished because of the heavy demand and the exceedingly slow deliveries from production points.

Material manufacturers are hampered both by the scarcity of coal to operate their plants and the railroad strike, which is delaying shipments of manufactured products. In the majority of material lines the producers are from two to four months behind in their orders, and they see no possible opportunity to catch up while the prevailing conditions continue. Reserve stocks at production centers are dangerously low.

So far prices have not been particularly affected by the situation, but the markets are all very firm as to prices, and no one would be greatly surprised at announcements of substantial price increases as the demand for practically all commodities is far in excess of the available supply.

Common Brick—Demand for Hudson River common brick is holding up well despite the slowing down of speculative building operations in this territory and the recent buying activity is indicative of the increased interest in commercial projects and other types of structures which are gaining in number very rapidly. The past week was an extremely active period in the local wholesale common brick market. A total of fifty-one barges arrived and all were disposed of. Prices are steady and unchanged and there is no present anticipation of a price movement in either direction. Although brick manufacturers are feeling the effects of the coal strike very seriously, the production of this commodity has not as yet been curtailed because of the shortage. As long as the manufacturers are able to obtain steam coal for operating their power plants the production of brick will be continued. Several manufacturers have been forced to delay the burning of their green brick, however, because of the scarcity of both cord wood and coal, but there is sufficient shed space for all of the brick being made, and this brick will be burned later as the coal situation improves. In the meantime adequate brick is being burned and shipped to this city to care for all requirements and no particular anxiety is being evidenced about future supplies.

rived, 51; sales, 51. Distribution, Manhattan, 19; Bronx, 5; Brooklyn, 17; New Jersey points, 6; Astoria, 2; Flushing, 1; Richmond, 1.

Lumber—Conditions in the local lumber market have not changed materially during the past week. The demand is holding strong in both wholesale and retail departments of the business and, although the railroad strike is hampering deliveries from production points to some extent, there is no particular shortage evidenced as yet. Prices are fairly steady, but there have been several recent advances in lines which are in particular demand at the present time.

Structural Steel—There has been considerably more life in the local market for fabricated steel during the past week, due largely to the announcement of the award of several important tonnage contracts and the placing of a large number of small orders, which involve a substantial total tonnage. Some important operations are also in the final stages of planning and there is every likelihood that these projects will be released for estimates in the near future. The coal and rail strikes are responsible for serious delays, and the majority of fabricators are not accepting new business for early deliveries. It has been reported that several of the steel mills have been forced to shut down for the time being, owing to the scarcity of fuel. Prices are strong and with a decidedly advancing trend. Fabricated prices are somewhat higher and range from $75 to $90 per ton, erected, according to the type of structure.

Electrical Supplies—Local jobbers and dealers report excellent business in this line. Sales have been very active during the past week and inquiries are growing in number. The electrical supply industry anticipates an exceedingly busy autumn season because of the vast amount of construction work now approaching the final stages. Prices are steady and no changes of importance have been announced this week.

Roofing Papers—Demand from suburban building sources continues to be the dominant factor in this market, and there is an impression throughout the trade that buying will continue at its present rate for some time to come as there seems to be no recession in suburban construction activity. Prices are firm and unchanged and stocks are said to be adequate to all demands.

Cast Iron Pipe—Although the demand for this product continues active the business is largely confined to private purchasers and municipal bookings are negligible. Several important public utility projects are being planned, but it is doubtful if they will be released for bids while the existing conditions prevail. Pipe manufacturers are generally booked ahead for the next three months and deliveries are expected to be slow for some time to come, but as yet this industry has not been particularly affected by either the coal or the railroad strikes. New York quotations are as follows: 6 in. and larger, $53.50 per net ton; 4 in. and 5 in., $58.00, and 3 in., $63.80, with Class A and gas pipe $4 extra per ton.

Linseed Oil—Business in the linseed oil market has been quiet during the past week and, although there has been some improvement in the number of inquiries, no real improvement in business is anticipated for some time. Prices are somewhat easier than they were.

Nails—The market is very active and there has been a decided improvement in the demand during the past week or ten days. A shortage in certain sizes has developed, which is due to the coal and railroad strikes, but no real anxiety is being felt regarding future supplies. Prices are firm and practically unchanged.

Window Glass—There is considerable activity in the market for both plate and window glass and orders are beginning to pile up to some extent. The major part of the current demand is coming from speculative builders of apartments and small houses. Jobbers recently advised local dealers to anticipate their requirements for the coming months as it is claimed the stocks in hand at the manufacturers' warehouses are considerably below normal for this time of the year.

BLACKMAR'S ASBESTOS LIQUID ROOFING

Standard Leak-proof Roof Covering of the World. Not a roof paint. It is a new roof. One application will make old leaky roofs just like new at a cost of about 1½c. sq. ft. Prepared in containers ready for use. WE CHALLENGE any manufacturer to a comparison of materials by analysis, test of durability and process of manufacturing. There is not a better Asbestos Liquid or Plastic Cement Roofing at any price. Not affected by the coldest winter weather or the hottest blazing sun; resilient, elastic, expands and contracts with the surface on which it is applied. Will never crack. Air, rain or moisture cannot penetrate the material, absolutely impervious to water, nonporous, permitting no passage of moisture in any degree into or through the material.

Adverse Effect of Strikes on Building

Current reports from the centers of building material production are almost unanimous in decrying the adverse conditions brought about by the coal and railroad strikes. Although all industrial and commercial activity has been more or less affected by these strikes, the construction industry has been particularly unfortunate because it draws upon such a widely-diversified field for its essential materials and supplies.

Those manufacturers of building commodities who have not been actually forced into a temporary suspension of production are generally curtailing their output. This action has been necessary because of the serious scarcity of fuel without which manufacturers must cease operations and then witness the depreciation of plant which follows as a result of a complete shut-down. During the past few weeks there have been numerous reports of plants manufacturing basic building materials closing down temporarily because of their inability to secure the necessary coal. Many different lines have been affected. Steel mills, cement plants, factories manufacturing hardware, plumbing fixtures, tools and other products used exclusively in construction work are either curtailing their output in an effort to conserve their scanty fuel supplies or are shutting down entirely until the coal supply becomes more liberal and assured.

Furthermore, the conditions resulting from the protracted railroad strike are responsible for limiting the visible supplies of construction essentials, so that at present local building interests are confronted with a greatly depleted market and there is little real likelihood of an immediate improvement. The railroad situation is causing an extension of deliveries from production points that is seriously retarding local building activity. In frequent instances involving large construction projects, the conditions are so deplorable and the outlook so uncertain that prospective builders are most hesitant about making contract commitments for their proposed operations because of the doubts that prevail as to the delivery of materials within a reasonable time. In many important lines it is almost impossible to place orders for delivery in less than two to four months. Some manufacturers have had to refuse to accept otherwise profitable business because they knew they would be unable to promise definite delivery and are only taking orders where the time of shipment is not specified.

As a result, the demand in many lines is considerably in excess of the available supply, and prices, which normally should be easier at this period of the year, are exceedingly firm and exhibiting a marked tendency to seek higher levels.

The prevailing building material supply situation which is the result of these strikes is a decided menace to the progress and prosperity of the construction industry. It is particularly unfortunate for local building interests because this year has been the first real opportunity the industry has had since pre-war times to return to a semblance of normal activity and prosperity. A banner year for the construction industry was predicted and it is hoped that these strikes will be settled speedily so as to relieve the tension in the material supply and make it possible for the early predictions to be borne out in fact.

Golden Opportunities of New York Realty

A good many young New Yorkers today may be passing up the same kind of a chance to become rich that befell John M. Bixby, a lawyer's clerk, ten years before the Civil War. Young Bixby had migrated from the backwoods to Manhattan, hung out a shingle and was struggling to make a meagre living when a lawyer acquaintance offered to sell him for its assessed value of $200 a plot of land a couple of miles north of the town as it then was. Bixby was broke but, with some misgivings, finally agreed to give his note for the $200, payable at his own convenience. He thereupon took title to the property, which included the present sites of the Union League Club and the Casino Theatre, on November 28, 1849. Often thereafter, he once told a Sun reporter, he was tempted to return the deed to the seller and get back his note but in the course of time sold off enough land to pay his note and the taxes. Later he sold pieces of the plot for $1,500,000. But he hung on to the northeast corner of Fifth Avenue and Thirty-ninth street, now leased for a long term by the Bixby estate to the Union League Club, and assessed at $1,900,000. He also held the southeast corner of Broadway, on which leasehold, now assessed at $1,250,000, the Casino Theatre stands. The whole plot which young Bixby bought seventy-three years ago for $200, its assessed value, is now assessed at more than $7,000,000.

The young man of today may characterize this story of the founding of one New Yorker's fortune, again made public by the application of one of the two living heirs of John M. Bixby, the poor young lawyer of 1849, to have the Supreme Court increase his allowance from $20,000 to $40,000 annually, as romantic, exceptional and not to be duplicated in these matter-of-fact days. But while seventy-three years elapsed since the purchase for $200 of the little farm which included the future sites of the Union League Club and the Casino Theatre, $7,000,000 representing its value today, there have been many turnovers along Fifth Avenue recently which prove the marvelous capability of well-placed New York realty to double or quadruple its value in a comparatively short time. Fifth Avenue property is, perhaps, the leader in sensational advances in value of New York realty, but when prices go up along this thoroughfare it indicates a rising tendency in all well-placed plots. That young Bixby's opportunity was neither very exceptional nor out-of-date is shown by the rise in value of the northwest corner of Fifth Avenue and Thirty-fourth street from $1,200,000 on easy terms twenty years ago to its present value of $5,000,000 including the building. The northeast corner of Fifth Avenue and Thirty-seventh street sold fifteen years ago for $325,000 and recently for $1,200,000. Ten years ago the southwest corner of Fifth Avenue and Forty-eighth street sold for $1,000,000; today it is assessed at $1,500,000 and held, including building, at $2,800,000. The most spectacular deal along the Avenue depicts the wonderful accretive power of New York property in its most amazing phase. Early this year Walter J. Salmon leased the northwest corner of Fifth Avenue from Commodore Elbridge T. Gerry for a long term of years. He had previously paid annual rentals of $45,000 for about 9,375 square feet covered by the Bristol Building. The new lease, of about 19,500 square feet, including the former plot, was for about $430,000 a year—an increase in rentals from less than $5 a square foot to more than $22 a square foot in twenty years.

Luck undoubtedly played into young Bixby's hands because there was no indication in 1849 of New York's tremendous future nor more than a hint that property values to the northward of the environs of the municipality of that day would command prices far above the highest figures quoted for any lots at that time. The metropolis then had a population, including the five boroughs now within its limits, of less than 700,000. It is now nearing 7,000,000. The lawyer who sold young Bixby the little farm for $200 "thought he would get more for it in time." He was not an expert realty man. The city's future was undetermined. The trend of values was uncertain. Young Bixby took a chance.

Today New York is the first city in population in the world. It has only one rival for the domination of the finances of the world. It is supreme in manufacturing over any other city anywhere. Its harbor is of first importance to which the British shipping business contributes its share only a trifle more important than that conducted under the Stars and Stripes. The city's growth, phenomenal as it has been, is still marked. The zenith of power, of pride, of means of pleasure and profit, has not been reached. But its development has been systematized by the building of intra-mural transportation lines and its growth will assuredly be not northward merely, but along many well-marked lanes. These are known to the expert realtors and investments made now in these well-defined localities give as great, if not greater, promise than the fortune that was founded on the small chance taken by Bixby in the days of youth and courage.

Metropolitan Life Breaks Ground for $9 a Room Building

PRESIDENT HALEY FISKE of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company started the $5,000,000 home-building program of that company by turning over a spadeful of dirt in an open lot at the corner of Anabel Avenue and Hciser Street, in the Thompson Hill section of Long Island City, on Wednesday, August 17. He was accompanied by other officials of the company, State Senator Charles Lockwood, contractors who will do the construction work, the architect who designed the proposed apartments, representatives of the Henry Street Settlement and officials of this city and Queens. Among those at the ceremony was a group of labor leaders, representing the Building Trades Council of this city.

The exercises were started with the sounding of the reveille by Irving Freedman, bugler, who served overseas with the Seventy-first Infantry. The American flag was raised by Henry C. Irons, Jr., son of the principal contractor. A flag of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company was raised by Frank Stabler, son of Walter B. Stabler, Controller of the company. A short distance away one of the big steam shovels that will be employed on the work began to puff, and the big hopper which had been suspended came to the ground and from it stepped Alberta Glenn, the seven-year-old daughter of Robert Glenn, field captain of the work. She carried a bronze spade, which she presented to President Fiske.

"The children of New York want me to thank you ever so much for these beautiful homes," she said to Mr. Fiske. "Now we needn't be shut up any more in the dark old tenements where we haven't any place to play; but we will come here to live in sunshine and see the wonderful garden and the flowers all day. We hope that every little child in New York may have a home as fine as these."

"We are about to try the experiment of furnishing homes that will rent for the sum of $9 a room," said Mr. Fiske after lifting the first spadeful of earth. "These will be homes for the workers. We did not take up this work of our own accord, but were brought into it through legislation. We are endeavoring to keep the trust imposed upon us. We have the plans and we expect to spend $5,000,000 in the effort. Our success will depend upon the assistance we get from the labor unions and from the building material men. Labor leaders are here today to assure us of their co-operation. Our company is now negotiating with the material men."

Senator Lockwood explained the work accomplished by his committee to relieve the housing shortage. Other speakers were Miss Lillian Wald, head of the Henry Street Settlement; Miss Goodrich, head of the visiting nurses of that settlement; Walter B. Stabler, Andrew J. Thomas, architect; John W. Moore, Commissioner of Buildings of Queens, and John Gill of the Bricklayers' Union.

"The workmen will do their part in this undertaking," said Mr. Gill. "Labor will speak in the only manner in which it can speak, and that is 'deliver the goods.' If the labor unions are given even half a chance they make good. They have never been called upon in vain in a crisis. They have been called upon to help solve the housing shortage, and they will do their part."

Tax Exemptions on $86,450,240 Valuation for First Year

PRESIDENT HENRY M. GOLDFOGLE of the Department of Taxes and Assessments has prepared a statement showing the exemptions during the first year of the operation of the law:

	One-Family Houses.	Two-Family Houses.	Multi-Family Houses.
Brooklyn	3,124	1,352	168
Bronx	718	195	67
Queens	5,235	1,411	29
Richmond	1,122	61	3
Manhattan	1	45
Total	10,200	3,019	312

Taxes on this property, if not exempt, would have been $2,294,881.

The assessed valuation which was exempted totaled $86,450,240, representing $59,109,840 on one and two family houses, and $24,341,400 on apartment houses.

The largest exemption was granted in the Borough of Manhattan on the apartment house erected by Harry Schiff on Broadway, between Ninety-seventh and Ninety-eighth Streets. An exemption of $719,000 was allowed on a total assessed valuation of $2,750,000.

In the Bronx, a Mount Eden Avenue apartment house received an exemption of $400,000.

In Brooklyn, the new apartment house at 699 to 711 Ocean Avenue received an exemption of $340,000 on a value of $735,000.

In Queens, the new apartment house at Forest Hills received an exemption of $279,000 on a valuation of $500,000.

Federal and Local Officials Will Distribute Coal Rations

Arrangements Being Perfected to Handle Supplies, as Shortage Will Continue for Months Even If Mines Are Opened Immediately

WITH the strike in the bituminous coal fields settled and the anthracite operators and miners in conference and likely to come to terms, the various local agencies organized to deal with the questions of supply, price and rationing if the strikes had been prolonged, turned their efforts to making arrangements for the distribution of the limited amount of coal all agree will be obtainable even if the miners work overtime and at full speed throughout the winter.

One of the most important moves to safeguard the interests of New Yorkers was the formation of a pool of twelve banks to finance the Governor's Coal Commission in the purchase of coal which will be allotted by the Federal Government to New York State. The agreement was reached at a conference with Eugenius H. Outerbridge, Chairman of the commission. Reeve Schley, Vice President of the Chase National Bank, who was Federal Fuel Administrator for the city during the war, was designated as Treasurer of the pool.

Under the program adopted by the Federal authorities, the Federal Fuel Administrator will issue sightdrafts upon the Governor's Coal Commission for all coal allocated to New York State as soon as each shipment crosses the State line. The bankers have agreed to honor these drafts, and the commission will receive reimbursement later from the municipalities, public utilities and other firms and persons to whom the coal will be rationed.

The banks represented at the conference were the Chase National Bank, National Park Bank, Mechanics and Metals National Bank, National City Bank, First National Bank, Irving National Bank, Seaboard National Bank, Bank of the Manhattan Company, Guaranty Trust Company, Bankers' Trust Company, the American Exchange National Bank and the National Bank of Commerce.

Restoration of the Fuel Administration, with its broad powers to fix the prices of coal and control distribution, as established during the war, is essential in the present situation, Secretary Hoover, who is in charge of the coal problem, said in Washington. He intends to ask Congress for such legislation, which is held to be necessary because his voluntary plan to maintain fair prices has collapsed in some quarters.

As it appears that the mining of coal will be resumed soon, the next and most important question confronting the Federal Government, Mr. Hoover said, was the proper distribution of coal so as to prevent it from being transported to places where the highest prices were offered. The operation of such regulation, in his opinion, will be necessary for the next six months.

Eugenius H. Outerbridge, Chairman of the Governor's Advisory Commission on Coal, issued a warning that the agreement between operators and bituminous miners at Cleveland did not mean that the real situation would not be serious for months to come. If full operations were resumed tomorrow, he declared, normal supplies could not prevail for many months in the bituminous field. The anthracite conditions were much worse, he said.

Mr. Outerbridge also declared that the Federal Fuel Administration was not functioning and that without its aid the State commissions could not function. His statement on the general situation follows:

"So far, the number of operators who have signed agreements in the bituminous fields represents only a minority of the total normal tonnage, but if all had signed up and full operations were resumed tomorrow, normal supplies and normal conditions could not prevail for some time to come.

"In the anthracite fields the loss of production has been so great that normal conditions cannot possibly come about for months to come.

"Consumers must conserve fuel with the greatest economy possible.

"The States which have organized Fuel Administrations have hoped Congress would act immediately on its assembly to furnish adequate powers to the Federal Fuel Administrator, without which the plan which Mr. Hoover has tried to establish cannot possibly function. If the Federal Administration for equitable distribution at reasonable prices does not function, it is impossible for the various State commissions to function.

"It is greatly to be hoped that Mr. Hoover will without further delay present to Congress definite legislation which he feels is necessary, and without which, according to his own public statements, no system can function; and public opinion should make itself audibly expressed to Congress for immediate action."

The Bituminous Coal Operators' Information Bureau, 150 Nassau Street, announced that the following telegram had been sent to President Harding by A. M. Ogle, President of the National Coal Association, urging the appointment of a fact-finding commission for the industry:

"The strike in the bituminous coal fields emphatically has demonstrated the immediate need of a non-partisan tribunal that will fairly investigate, in the interest of all parties, every phase of the industry and make public at an early date its findings with such recommendations as it may deem proper and advisable.

"Coal mining is an involved and intricate industry and great confusion exists concerning it, not only in the public mind, but within the industry itself. The immediate resumption of mining may be most important in the minds of many, but if we are to avoid further conflict in the mining industry beginning April 1, 1923, resulting in inconvenience to the consuming public and in interference with industrial progress, all the essential facts must be investigated promptly and given full consideration in order that a proper solution may be determined.

"Accordingly, we urge upon you the advisability of appointing such a commission without delay, and I can assure you the fullest co-operation and support in such action."

Endorsement of the proposed appointment of such a fact-finding tribunal was given yesterday by E. H. Outerbridge, Chairman of Governor Miller's State Coal Commission. Mr. Outerbridge's statement follows:

"In the great industries which vitally affect the lives of the people, such as transportation and fuel, recurring periods of interruption to production or transportation are not infrequent, which seems to indicate that there must be something fundamentally wrong in the economic conditions existing in those fields of endeavor.

"If an adjustment of a permanent character is to be arrived at, it would seem necessary to have a diagnosis, from an unassailable source, of what the economic facts are, and remedies then applied that will be generally recognized by public opinion as entirely equitable to both employer and employee.

"A commission to study and determine the economic facts, if appointed by the President, would have more authoritative in-

State Tax Commission Interprets Brokers' License Law

Clears Up on Construction of Attorney General Many Obscurities in Statute Which Goes Into Effect October 1 Next

THE state law requiring real estate brokers to secure licenses goes into effect on October 1, next. The full text of the new law was published in THE RECORD AND GUIDE in its issue of April 22, last. So many inquiries as to the provisions of the statute have been made that the State Tax Commission has sent out from Albany a statement giving official interpretation of its details, based on constructions obtained from the Attorney General.

The statement of the Tax Commission is in the form of questions and answers, as follows:

QUESTION 1

In case a broker maintains a principal office in a third class city (fee of $10) and a branch office in a first class city (fee of $25), is he entitled under paragraph 3 of Section 441-a on payment of a $10 fee for his license in the third class city to receive a supplemental license to maintain a branch office in a first class city without additional fee?

ANSWER

Under Sec. 441-a of the law, it applies to all cities of the State and to Westchester and Nassau counties.

Under Sec. 441-b, a license for a broker is $25.00 in first class cities; $15.00 in second class cities, and $10.00 in third class cities; for salesmen, the license is $5.00 in first class cities; $3.00 in second class cities, and $2.00 in third class cities.

Under Sec. 441, a broker is required to state in his application, among other things, the kind of license desired, his residence address, and the place or places where the business is to be conducted. Upon the allowance of his application, a license is issued permitting the broker to act as a Real Estate Broker "in this State." It is further provided under Sec. 441, sub-division a, that where a real estate broker maintains more than one place of business, he may obtain a supplemental license for each branch office free of charge. Now, it is gathered from all of this, that the broker in applying for his license and the Tax Commission in allowing it, shall determine in good faith the principal place of business of the broker. If that be, say, in Watertown, then the broker may have his license for $10.00 and maintain branch offices in Syracuse, a city of the second class, and in Rochester, a city of the first class. Of course, in such an extreme instance, described, the Tax Commission will be careful to determine that the principal place is not really in Rochester or Syracuse.

If a salesman is licensed to transact business in a third class city, may he effect a sale in any part of the State, including a first class city?

ANSWER

A salesman, under Sec. 441-a, sub-division 3, is not required to have a supplemental license, but under sub-division 2 of that section, once he is licensed, he is entitled to do business anywhere in the State. His mode of application is much the same as that required of brokers. Again, it becomes a question of good faith. If he is actually employed mostly in a third class city, he is entitled to a third class city license, and may do business incidentally in a first or second class city, or in Westchester or Nassau counties.

QUESTION 3

In case a non-resident broker or salesman desires a license to transact business in this State, should he be charged the highest fee provided for a broker or salesman, as the case may be, in view of the fact that his license will authorize him to transact business in any part of the State?

ANSWER

Non-resident licenses are granted under Sec. 442-h, and that requires in part, that a non-resident may become a real estate broker or salesman "in any place in which the provisions of this article are applicable." In the case of a non-resident broker or salesman, inasmuch as his license permits him to transact business in any part of the State, including any first class city, and inasmuch as he is not attached to any locality by maintaining an office therein, it is believed the Tax Commission would be justified in exacting the maximum fee.

QUESTION 4

A broker or salesman whose principal office is located in a village or town which is not in Nassau or Westchester county, and who therefore does not require a license to transact business in his home village or town—is such broker or salesman authorized to transact business in a city without a license?

ANSWER

This question would be illustrated by the typical instance of a broker or salesman actually residing and doing business in Valatie, who desires also to carry on business in the City of Albany. It seems a reading of the entire act requires that such a broker or salesman should obtain a license for the City of Albany.

QUESTION 5

Since the broker is entitled to a supplemental license in a first class city without extra charge, what fee should a salesman pay who is attached to the branch office in a first class city?

ANSWER

The fifth question goes back to the second, where reference is made to the typical instance of a broker or salesman having his principal office in Watertown and doing business through branch offices in Syracuse and Rochester. A salesman who is attached to the Watertown office could have a license for the third class fee and work incidentally in Rochester or Syracuse. However, if the salesman was assigned regularly to the Syracuse or Rochester office, then he would have to have a license for a first or second class city.

QUESTION 6

A is a trust company performing the usual duties of such, but conducting a real estate department and frequently or incidentally, buying, selling and leasing real estate for others and for compensation. Must it take out a broker's license?

ANSWER

A trust company transacting real estate business in a way that would bring it within the meaning of Sec. 440, when not included in the exemptions provided for in Sec. 442-g, is required to obtain a Real Estate Broker's License.

QUESTION 7

A is a Real Estate Broker. In his absence on vacation a member of his family, B, comes to the office for two or three weeks in the year and assumes his responsibilities. He received no compensation from A. Must B take out a license? If so, should the license be as a Broker or as a Salesman?

ANSWER

B is required to obtain a license when performing any of the acts as provided for in Sec. 440. It would appear from the question that the licensed broker (an individual) has B acting as his agent or salesman, and B should have a salesman's license.

QUESTION 8

Under the licensing law, are directors officers of the corporation, and as such, entitled to take out a half fee license? Could they, if they preferred, take out a salesman's license?

ANSWER

Directors are considered officers of a corporation within the meaning of the license act. They are entitled to a supplemental or half-fee license if the license is obtained to give them the privilege of acting as a Real Estate Broker for the corporation. If a director or other officer wishes to transact Real Estate business for himself individually, he should apply for a license and remit the full fee. If a director wishes to transact Real Estate business for the corporation, a Broker's license should be obtained, either original or supplemental, as the case may be.

Landmark Remodeled as Headquarters for Shipping Firm

Walter B. Chambers, Architect, and the Whitney Co., Builders, Solve Difficult Problems to Provide Modern Offices for International Mercantile Marine

ARCHITECTS and builders generally concede the reconstruction of the old Washington Building at 1 Broadway to be the most interesting construction operation recently undertaken in New York City. The original building was erected in 1882 by Cyrus W. Field, and in 1886 its size was increased by the construction of two additional stories. The old building was a landmark for many years, with its walls of brick and trimmings of red sand stone. The massive wall piers of the old structure carried in part the loads of the several floors and roof and the middle span of the floors were supported by a row of cast iron columns, extending from the cellar and supporting the roof. Generally, the floor plan was U shaped, with a large interior court along the lot line of the adjoining property and opposite the Battery Place front. The offices were arranged along the three fronts and on the interior, around the three sides of the court.

In 1919 this structure was purchased by the International Mercantile Marine Company and after consultation with Walter B. Chambers, A. I. A., it was decided that, in view of the fact that many of the tenants held unexpired leases, that many of the materials of construction were almost impossible to obtain, and furthermore, that the cost of construction having reached the peak, the idea of building a new structure was practically prohibitive.

The architect was therefore directed to remodel the old Washington Building along lines that would provide an up-to-date building, containing all the necessary accommodations for the company and its constituent lines in addition to seven floors of offices for tenants. The problem was not an ordinary one, as it involved the rebuilding of the structure, outside and in, without dispossessing the tenants. However, the completed plans presented a highly successful accomplishment of an exceedingly difficult problem in reconstruction.

Seven of the upper floors were assigned to tenants, the fifth floor for the Board Room and executive offices of the company, the fourth and third floors for the general offices. The second floor was devoted to the construction department and the first was assigned as main entrances, lobby, booths, barber shop, waiting room and booking offices for the first and second class passengers. The steerage booking office, stock rooms, etc., were placed in the basement.

The entire exterior above the base was faced with buff Indiana limestone with the exception of the window spandrels, which were of green marble. The old base course of the building was also removed and a granite base substituted.

The contract for the reconstruction of the Washington Building into a modern office building was awarded to the Whitney Company, 101 Park avenue, and it was through the painstaking effort of this firm that the project was completed with the tenants remaining in undisturbed possession of their offices during the whole period the building was being reconstructed. Furthermore, this extremely difficult project, involving many unusual engineering problems, was completed without the slightest accident, and with the least conceivable interference with the occupants of the building.

The distinguishing feature of the new home of the International Mercantile Marine Company is the great booking office in the first floor, extending the entire length of the Battery place front of the building, from Broadway to Greenwich street, with a length of 160 feet and a breadth of 62 feet, and ceiling 25 feet high. This office was designed to represent the latest idea in practical utility, with extensive counter space, a large waiting room for customers, a department devoted to the issuing of travelers' checks and an information bureau. In fact, the reconstructed building is a beautiful, harmonious structure, which few would recognize as the old Washington Building, known for two generations as the first skyscraper of lower Manhattan.

NEW YORK CITY'S distinction as a great manufacturing center comes not only in the fact that the value of its products exceeds the value of all the manufactures south of the Ohio and Potomac rivers, is more than the value of all the manufactures of the great States that border the western bank of the Mississippi and more than the manufactures of any other State except Pennsylvania and Illinois, but because the manufactures of New York City are the finished product for the consumer.

Over $600,000 Realized So Far From Sales of City Realty

No Bids on Many of 202 Parcels Offered Because of Upset Price, But All Lots Still Unsold Will Be Auctioned August 28

ALTHOUGH the auction sales of city-owned real estate have not been concluded, between $600,000 and $700,000 has already been realized as the result of the action of Comptroller Charles L. Craig in obtaining the authority to dispose of 202 parcels of improved and unimproved realty of no further use to the city. The sales were continued during the week, the Bronx, Brooklyn, Queens and Richmond lots being offered. The sale of the Manhattan parcels was reported in last week's issue of THE RECORD AND GUIDE. The last sale will be held Aug. 28. Only three Bronx items were disposed of on August 11.

Arnold Krakauer bid the upset price of $1,500 for the lot, 25x90, on the north side of Burnett Place, 70 feet west of Barry street, the Bronx. The same purchaser also took the lot, 25x82.9x irregular, on the east side of Longfellow avenue, 81.3 feet north of Rodman place, at the upset price of $2,500.

The plot, 50.5x71, on the north side of East 233d street, 151 feet west of Kepler avenue, went to Frank Fritton for the upset figure, $2,000.

The attendance at the next day's sale, when the parcels in Queens were put up, was small, and only six pieces were sold by Auctioneer Theodore Archer.

Edward Fowler bought the plot of 75x150 on the north side of Eighteenth street, formerly Flushing avenue, 137 feet east of Eighth avenue, Whitestone, for the upset price of $3,600.

Michael Degnon, contractor, paid the upset price of $20,000 for the block front of about fourteen lots on the south side of Anable avenue, between Van Dam and Hill streets, near Hunters Point avenue.

Bids for the old Rambler Hose fire house plot, 21x100 feet, on Gale street, near Young street, Long Island City, started at the upset figure of $5,000 and advanced to $6,300, the successful bidder being Frank McIntyre.

The plot, 50x100 feet, on the west side of Star avenue, twenty-five feet north of Howard street, in the Newtown section, went to Louis M. Stevenson for $2,000, the upset price.

David M. Gould bought two parcels. For the plot, 50x150, on the north side of Twenty-third avenue, 100 feet east of 149th street, he paid $1,000, the upset price, and for the abutting lot, 25x100, at Twenty-third avenue and 149th street, he paid $800, the valuation placed on it by the city.

The largest crowd was present last Monday, when Thomas Hovenden and Samuel Marx, auctioneers, held the auction of the Brooklyn parcels in the list originally made up by Comptroller Charles L. Craig. There were 91 pieces in the Brooklyn list, but only 64 of these could be placed on sale owing to insufficient advertising, and of these 25 were sold for a total of $135,225.

The vacant plot, 25x117 feet, at the southwest corner of Grant and Atlantic avenues, was sold to Edward Bunsell for the upset or minimum price of $1,850, fixed by the appraisers of the city. The old police station, on a plot 65x129 feet, at the southeast corner of Clarmont and Flushing avenues, with an upset price of $50,000, was offered twice, but failed to bring forth a bid.

The triangular plot, with a frontage of 186 feet on Sterling avenue, and 146 feet on Flatbush avenue, and a rear line of 139 feet, was started at the upset price of $56,000, but was quickly bid up to $62,000 and sold to H. S. Bacharach.

Other parcels were sold as follows:

Eastern Parkway, n s. 58.7 ft e of Plaza st, 25.9x130x irreg, to S B Wertheim, $20,000.

3d st, E. w s. 143 ft s of Canal av, 72.5x40.10x irreg, to Muigi Martorillo, $1,200.

For Hill pl, n e cor of Dahlgren pl, 113.6x50, to David Matzkin, $1,500.

14th av, n w cor 84th st, 100x100, to Fannie Kapner, $3,250.

2d st, W. w s, 196 ft south of Sheephead Bay road, 98.9x9.6x irreg, to Abraham Marken, $1,200.

86th st, s s, 77.4 ft e of Bay 11th st, 39x95, to Elizabeth Rosenberg, $1,600.

Battery av, n e cor of 88th st, 174.10x100, to Anna Hacker, $8,500.

86th st, s e cor of Gubner st, 42.2x20.8x irreg, to Louis M. Cahill, $950.

Bowne st, e s, 102 ft n of Church av, 100x100, to Charles A. Sackman, $2,800.

Atlantic av, s w cor of Grant av, to Edward Bimsell, $1,850.

Park pl, s s, 225 ft w of Buffalo av, $1,800.

The Richmond parcels were sold last Thursday at the County Court House, St. George.

It was announced by Augustus J. Rinn, appraiser of real estate for the Department of Finance, that all the property left unsold would be re-offered — the Sixty-ninth Regiment Armory, Manhattan, on Aug. 28.

Committee Appointed to Standardize Lumber Specifications

A COMMITTEE to formulate specific recommendations as to standardization of sizes, grades, inspections and guarantees for submission at the next general standardization conference to be called by Secretary Hoover has been appointed by the National Lumber Manufacturers' Association at a meeting recently held in Chicago. This meeting considered the findings of a special committee that met at Madison, Wis., and prepared an outline for the development of grading regulations.

As data were not available with respect to hardwood grading, the Chicago conference considered only the softwoods. The newly-appointed committee, which is empowered to increase its own membership as occasion may require, consists of the following: John W. Blodgett (chairman), president of the National Lumber Manufacturers' Association, Grand Rapids, Mich.; John H. Kirby, Houston, Texas; Chas. A. Goodman, Marinette, Wis.; J. E. Lloyd, National Retail Lumber Dealers' Association, Philadelphia, Pa.; Dwight Hinckley, American Wholesale Lumbermen's Association, Cincinnati, Ohio; two representatives of consumers—one to be selected by the American Railway Association and other by the American Institute of Architects.

no other office, but incidentally he does business in Nassau County, and occasionally in New York City. Must he get a Nassau County license? If he has no office in New York City could he take out a New York City license?

ANSWER

The Attorney General has ruled that an operator whose place of business is in an unlicensed area must obtain a license when he transacts business in a licensed area. It follows, therefore, that A, whose place of business is in Suffolk County, where no license is required, must obtain a license to transact business in Nassau County or New York City. If his transactions in New York City are not incidental then a license for New York City should be applied for. An applicant should have an office in New York City to obtain a New York City License.

The State Tax Commission will issue another statement soon, clearing up other obscurities in the law, which will be published in THE RECORD AND GUIDE.

Figures showing the production of cement during June, 1922, as tabulated by the U. S. Geological Survey, indicate an increase of 1,949,000 barrels when compared with the total for June, 1921, while shipments were 2,893,000 barrels heavier. Stocks are 2,225,000 barrels lower than at the end of May and 482,000 barrels under the reserve on hand one year ago.

Review of Real Estate Market for the Current Week

Transactions in Sales and Leases at Low But Seasonable Number, But Outlook for Fall Business Is of Decidedly Favorable Character

THE week just closing has been marked by the smallest number of transactions during the summer season. There was also a letting down in the amount of business in leases and other realty affairs. No very large deals were made, although John D. Rockefeller, Jr., added ten lots to his Riverside Drive acreage, and J. D. Carpenter announced a couple of new apartment houses for Fifth avenue, facing Central Park. Many of the most prominent operators are away on vacations. Frederick Brown being in Europe. Brokers have usually found August, especially the two weeks preceding the Labor Day holiday, an uncertain period for closing transactions because of the absence from the city of investors and of principals in realty trading. So that the drop in the business this week is of no more than seasonable character.

In fact, the feeling in real estate offices is generally hopeful. There is no reason for pessimism with general commercial business expecting a generous revival as soon as the railroad and coal strikes are settled, as they now seem likely to be.

And there is every reason to expect a more active renting season this year than last because of the greater supply of apartments and the likelihood that many more tenants will seek new quarters than was the case last year. At that time the majority of tenants decided to stay where they were rather than risk being caught in a jam. Now there is sufficient leeway to allow of uninterrupted moving about, if tenants desire to make a change. That a larger number will move than did last year is probable.

Another phase of the situation which is likely to affect the real estate market this Fall is the continued ease of the money market and the fall in the general interest rate. In the past, when these conditions existed investors turned to the real estate field, and it is expected they will be inclined to do so now.

Altogether the signs are favorable for an active and advancing market for the months between Labor Day and Christmas holidays. The most disquieting phase of the realty business is the shortage of coal, demanding careful use of existing supplies.

PRIVATE REALTY SALES.

THE total number of sales reported, but not recorded in Manhattan this week, was 49, as against 7 last week and 82 a year ago.

The number of sales south of 59th st was 18, as compared with 11 last week and 32 a year ago.

The number of sales north of 59th st was 31, as compared with 49 last week and 27 a year ago.

From the Bronx 28 sales at private contract were reported, as against 31 last week and 27 a year ago.

Statistical tables, including the number of recorded instruments, will be found on page 244.

New $1,300,000 Hotel

Lexington av figured prominently recently in real estate transactions when a 34th st corner was sold for $750,000 and plans were filed for a $1,300,000 hotel to be erected on the southeast corner of 46th st, diagonally opposite Grand Central Palace.

The 34th st transaction, one of the largest recently closed in the Murray Hill section, involved the three 7-sty elevator apartments on the southwest corner of 34th st.

The structures, which occupy a plot fronting 117.6 on Lexington av and 141 feet on 34th st, were sold by the Ralph Realty Corporation to the Joe-Hen Realty Co.

The buildings contain accommodations for 42 families and show a gross annual rental of $104,000.

Bronx Theatre Sold

Isidor Benenson sold the motion picture theatre now under construction on five lots on the east side of Southern blvd, 100 feet south of Fremont st, Bronx, for close to $250,000. The new owner is Joseph Moscovitz, who operates the City Hall moving picture theatre on Park Row.

Big Deal in Grand Central Zone

Burroughs, Welcome & Co., pharmaceutical manufacturers of London, England, have acquired for a term of 105 years the two 5-sty buildings at 9 and 11 East 41st which they may improve with a tall building for their own use.

Henry J. Welcome, acting for his firm, has contracted to pay an aggregate rental of $1,887,500 from Oct. 1, 1922.

The lease to the manufacturing chemists was secured from the 9 and 11 East Forty-first Street Corporation. According to its terms, the lessees will pay during the first 21 years a net annual rental of $27,500. For the four succeeding terms, to be exercised at the option of the lessees, the lease calls for a rental to be figured at 5 per cent. on a reappraisal basis, the payment, however, not to fall below the annual rental of the first period.

The property is adjacent to the Grand Central Station, located 166 feet east of Fifth av and comprising a site 44x98.9 feet.

The Raucacia Changes Hands

The Rauracia, a 6-sty elevator apartment house at 1071 to 1079 St. Nicholas av, southwest corner of 164th st, has been sold by the 1071 St. Nicholas Avenue Corporation, represented by Samuel D. Muney, attorney, to Gordon Kay for a recorded consideration of $165,000. The structure stands on a plot fronting 166.7 feet on the avenue and 53.9 feet on the street and was acquired by the sellers last December from Luke G. Lynch.

Old Homestead Sold

The old Haffen residence, one of the finest private homes in the Bronx, and valued at $40,000, has changed hands and will be occupied by its new owner. The structure, which is in Bedford Park, occupies a site 70x220, running from Marion av to Perry av, 365 feet north of Bedford Park boulevard (200th st). It has been sold by S. Rakow for Thomas Duffy to Selma Schwartz, a client of Fred J. Kullman, who plans to make extensive alterations. It is a 2½-sty brick and frame house, built on the center of the plot, on which are a tea garden and hothouse. The grounds are landscaped.

Operators Purchase Plot

Emmis & Simont purchased the vacant plot at the northwest corner of 167th st and Gerard av, 125x140, from the Picken Building Co., William Picken, president. The broker in the transaction was Warren F. Johnston, Inc. The property is a block from the subway on River av, and is one of the few remaining vacant corners at this center.

Activity in 47th Street

Gustav Blumenthal, executor of the estate of Eabette Blumenthal, has sold to the 24 West Forty-seventh Street Corporation the 4-sty and basement dwelling at that address, on lot 26x100.5, for a stated consideration of $80,500, subject to a purchase money mortgage of $52,350 for three years at 6 per cent. This makes the fourth sale on this block within the last three months.

Opposes Building More Hotels

The Hotel Association of New York City points out that there is a deluge of building hotels, and recalls the years 1901-1903, when the city was overbuilt and did not catch up until the war period.

The association analyzes the situation regarding new hotels to show that with 11,234 rooms in hotels under construction and contemplated thrown on the market in a short time New York would have more than enough hotel accommodations. It estimates that 1297 rooms in hotels that have been opened lately are not filled.

Hotels for the next eight years are not tax exempt in any amount as housekeeping houses are. Hence there is nothing to absorb the increased costs which are 85 per cent. more than they were in 1903 the statement adds.

Quick Resale of Lexington Ave. Corner

Loton H. Slawson, who last week bought from Flora Hirsh 801 Lexington av, southeast corner of 62d st, has resold it to Mary C. Dooley, who owns other nearby property. The parcel is a 4-sty and basement brownstone dwelling, on a lot 20.5x80.

Co-operative Buying in Queens

Sales reports of apartments under tenant-ownership plan at Jackson Heights reveals that the Queensboro Corporation has never experienced a more prosperous period than during the present season. Not only that, the pending inquiries and prospects listed indicate that December, 1922, will find the big home building organization closing business with a banner year.

Within the last few weeks in the midst of the vacation period no less than 48 Jackson Heights apartments have been purchased. The aggregate equity of the collective tenant-owners represented in these sales is more than $500,000. In addition to this, tenant-owners purchased additional apartments and there were 19 resales.

Some of the purchasers who have decided that Jackson Heights is the ideal apartment home section are men and women noteworthy in business and social affairs.

The sales business has shown such a steady increase that the sales force has twice been augmented with a number of applicants now in training for appointment.

Auction of Car Barns Postponed

The sale of the New York Railways Co. property block bounded by 32d and 33d sts and Lexington and Fourth avs, which was scheduled to be sold on August 10, has been adjourned to September 15, at 11 a. m., on the front steps of the County Court House. It is the only remaining piece of property in the action to be disposed of at public auction. The order in connection with the sale of the property has been modified, empowering the special master, Nathaniel A. Elsborg, to sell the property in numerous plots and then as an entirety, thereby giving small buyers who intend to purchase a small plot an opportunity to buy at the auction sale. Stetson, Jennings & Russell are the attorneys.

Sale in Penn Zone

Sylvania Improvement Co., Henry B. Singer, president, sold to a client of Horace E. Ely & Co. the 5-sty brick loft building, 254 West 34th st, on a plot 32.1x98.9. The property is 2110 feet west of the 34th st entrance to the Pennsylvania station and was held at $225,000. Moses & Singer, attorneys, represented the seller.

Two New Apartments on Fifth Ave.

Plans have been filed with the Manhattan Bureau of Buildings for the construction of two apartment houses on Fifth av, one being located at No. 1143, seven stories high, with a frontage of 30 feet and a depth of 85 feet, for the 1143 Fifth Avenue Corporation, as owner, an estimated to cost $90,000. The other will be located at No. 1170, corner of 98th st, being 14 stories high, with a frontage of 125 feet and a depth of 100 feet, for Pauline S. Murray, as owner. The cost has been placed at $750,000. J. E. R. Carpenter is the architect in both cases.

Two Tenements Change Ownership

Robert Jardine purchased from Jeanette Chandler a 4-sty flat with store at 250 Tenth av, between 24th and 25th sts, size 19.9 by 70 feet. Annie Stricknote has also purchased from the same seller the 3-sty and basement dwelling 460 West 25th st.

E. H. Ludlow & Co. and William H. Caldwell were the brokers in both transactions. Both of the above parcels are a part of the seven houses recently purchased by the seller from the Phelan estate. Negotiations are progressing for the resale of the remaining five houses.

J. D. Rockefeller, Jr., Buys on Drive

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., has added another parcel of about ten city lots to the C. K. G. Billings Hays and Shaefer estates on upper Riverside dr, which he bought about five years ago. This property, which was purchased in the name of the Empire Mortgage Co., controlled by Mr. Rockefeller, from F. A. Libbey, adjoins the Billings property on the south and runs through from Riverside dr to Northern av.

It has a frontage of 116 feet on Riverside dr and 133 feet on Northern av, opposite 193d st, with a northerly line of 244.7 feet. It adjoins on the south additional large Libbey holdings, which will likely be added to the tract in the future.

Tryon Hall, as the former Billings home is known is a residential landmark of the city and commands extensive views of the Hudson and the Sound. Mr. Billings is said to have expended fully $2,000,000 in having the grounds around the mansion. He acquired the Libbey place some years before through L. J. Phillips & Co., William A. White & Sons assembled the original Rockefeller purchase in 1917 and negotiated the transactions just closed. With this purchase Mr. Rockefeller now controls about 57 acres of the highest land on Manhattan Island.

Apartment House Deals

The 6-sty apartment, on a plot 50x100 feet, at 437 and 439 East 114th st has been sold by the Casa D'Oro Realty Co. through Louis Reuter, as broker. The property was held at $55,000.

The Lansing Construction Co. sold the 6-sty elevator apartment house at 611 to 617 West 112th st, on a plot $7.6x100.11. The structure is located between Broadway and Riverside dr and is assessed for taxation purposes by the city at $200,000.

LAWYERS are not required to have licenses to sell real estate or transact negotiations affecting property. The act which was passed by the last Legislature exempts members of the bar. The law requires brokers and their employees to have licenses.

THE CITY AND SUBURBAN HOMES CO.'S report states that it will recommend the extension of the company's operations by the erection of additional tenements, thus providing homes for earners of moderate wages whenever the demands of labor and the price of material will permit construction at a cost which will show a conservative and reasonable return on capital invested.

FEW PERSONS realize how great is the loss to taxpayers as a result of the exemption of real estate and securities from taxation. For instance, there are in this country 17,000,000,000 of tax exempt securities. At least 20 per cent. of them are held in the State of New York. If they were not tax exempt and averaged 5 per cent. return, the State would gain annually approximately $3,400,000.

BUILDING SECTION

Growing Material Shortage Hampers Building Progress

Production of Essential Commodities Curtailed by Coal Strike and Railway Transportation Situation Seriously Extending Deliveries

LOCAL building activity has slowed down to a considerable extent during the past two or three weeks as a direct result of the combination of conditions brought about by the railroad and coal strikes. Building projects which were started some time ago are in a number of instances unable to proceed because of the non-delivery of essential materials, and prospective builders are daily becoming more hesitant about making commitments for new construction because of the precarious supply of building materials.

The adverse conditions resulting from these strikes are not only affecting the local building industry. The shortage in certain lines of basic construction materials is rapidly growing acute and relief cannot come until the railroad strike is ended and the speedy transportation of raw materials and finished products resumed nor until a settlement of the coal strike makes possible a steady supply of fuel to those plants now idle or with output greatly curtailed. The difficulty of securing materials is spreading and recent reports from authentic sources show a decline in structural activity throughout a widespread area and in practically every instance the strikes are given as the fundamental reason for the decline.

In the Metropolitan district the growing shortage in some of the important material lines is a problem now assuming a most serious aspect to builders and their allied interests. Although there is an adequate supply of common brick, there is a scarcity of cement, and brick is of little practical value if it cannot be used in construction. The shortage is growing in numerous other lines including face brick, terra cotta, structural steel, nails, hardware, plaster and lime, lumber, etc. The coal and railroad strikes are directly responsible for the supply situation, first, by either entirely or greatly curtailing the production of these supplies and second, by making it very difficult for manufacturers to ship their products to points where they are needed because of the intolerable railroad freight situation.

During the past few weeks a large number of plants have been forced to suspend production on account of the lack of fuel. Consuming demand has been very active because of the large volume of building in course of construction and as a result orders are piling up and deliveries steadily becoming more extended. Commodities which in normal times could be delivered immediately out of stock or obtained from manufacturers in two to four weeks are not to be had under two to four months and in many cases orders are only accepted for delivery at the convenience of manufacturers. Some plants are actually forced to refuse otherwise interesting business because of the congestion of prior orders and the unsatisfactory outlook for early relief.

It is reported from authentic sources that further losses in production were sustained by the steel industry during the past week as a consequence of the strike conditions and there are marked indications of a greater reduction in the operations of blast furnaces and steel mills before conditions improve to any extent. It is said that the production of the U. S. Steel Corporation is now down to sixty per cent. of capacity as compared with about seventy per cent. a week ago and independent mills are not producing at more than fifty per cent. of capacity as a general thing.

As a consequence of the seriously curtailed output of iron and steel products several sharp price advances have been reported during the past few days. Black and galvanized sheets have advanced $4 per ton. Wire nails were sharply advanced in price by manufacturers. Several independent makers of standard pipe have advanced their prices and practically all producers of steel plates and shapes have revised their prices to meet the prevailing conditions.

Some anxiety is evidenced in building circles as to the outlook for future lumber supply. The demand for lumber has recently been unusually heavy and premium prices are being paid in some instances as railroad embargoes have been enforced on some of the Southern railroads and priority rules established on virtually all of the coal roads. These embargoes and priority rulings have greatly retarded lumber shipments during the past few weeks and it is extremely doubtful if conditions will improve in favor of the lumber industry for some time to come. There is little possibility of relief for lumber interests while all industry is seriously hampered by the scarcity of fuel.

The Portland Cement Association, in a recent statement, called attention to the fact that owing to the scarcity of fuel many of the cement plants have been forced to suspend operations for the time being, and it is probable that a continuation of the coal strike will mean the closing down of more plants or at least their operation on a part-time schedule. In any event the output of this important commodity is now greatly reduced—far below the actual rate of demand, and as a result mill reserves and stocks on hand in local dealers' yards are being rapidly depleted. It requires approximately 7,000,000 tons of coal per year for an average annual cement production and unless this is speedily forthcoming the construction industry is bound to suffer through its lack.

Although the producers of brick are suffering from the coal shortage and production is not progressing as rapidly as it should, the local brick supply is adequate for all current demands and there is little likelihood of a serious shortage of this material. Since the opening of the brick manufacturing season the producers located in the Hudson River Valley have been confronted with fuel problems which have caused them considerable anxiety. During the past four or five weeks the manufacturers have slowed down considerably and in burning their brick have been forced to use coke and cord wood. These fuels are also very scarce and high in price, but there is no alternative for the brickmakers. They must either use them and pay the prevailing exorbitant prices or cease production. At present there is a slight brick reserve, both at the up-river plants and at the various docks in the Metropolitan district, but it would not last long if producers are forced to stop burning brick because of the lack of coal or other available fuel. The present situation is responsible for maintaining the common brick production costs at very high levels and although there is every likelihood at present that the brick industry will be able to keep builders fully supplied with this important commodity, there is little indication of lower brick prices for some time to come. No recession from current levels is possible while fuel costs are as high as they are now.

Although production in many lines has been seriously retarded by the coal and railroad strikes, and the construction industry is experiencing a more severe and serious setback than some others, there is a general feeling that early settlements will be reached and that business, including construction, will continue to gain in volume.

Million-Dollar Office Building for Brooklyn Edison Co.

McKenzie, Voorhees & Gmelin, Architects, Retained to Design Twelve-Story Fireproof Structure, on Willoughby Street, Near Borough Hall

THE Brooklyn Edison Company, 360 Pearl street, has announced through Matthew S. Sloan, president, that plans for the erection of a modern office building have been practically perfected and that actual construction will be commenced just as soon as the working drawings are finished and contracts are awarded. This structure, which is estimated will cost more than a million dollars, is being erected to house the various departments of the company and in all probability will be used exclusively for this purpose.

McKenzie, Voorhees & Gmelin, 342 Madison avenue, Manhattan, have been retained to prepare the plans and specifications for the new building, which will be located on a plot at the corner of Willoughby and Pearl streets, which was recently purchased by the Brooklyn Edison Company. This plot is directly opposite the present headquarters of the company's executive staff.

The preliminary plans, as outlined, call for a twelve-story structure, of the modern office building type, strictly fireproof, which will occupy a plot with a frontage of 90 feet and 117 feet in depth. The facades have been designed in the Renaissance style of architecture, and will be constructed of face brick and limestone. The two upper floors will be set back according to the provisions of the Zoning Law. The final details of this project have not as yet been fully determined and will be announced later.

There has recently been a revival of interest in the commercial possibilities of the Borough Hall district. Several new office buildings have been erected, and at the present time there are two or three alteration projects under way of more than ordinary size and importance. The proposed building for the Brooklyn Edison Company will be a notable addition to the large buildings in the financial and commercial center of Brooklyn.

Federal and Local Officials Will Distribute Coal Rations

fluence with a better command of the confidence of the people than any other agency.

"There is one point, however, in which education must play its part. There must be a stronger conception that serving the public with essentials is a service which cannot be interrupted at the whim or choice either of corporate management or of employees.

"Special protection or other advantageous conditions surround most employments in public service corporations. If men enlist in that work they should recognize an obligation to the public equal if not superior to their private interests; and eventually this idea must prevail."

The Mayors' Conference of New York State Cities, at a meeting with Mr. Outerbridge at his office, 11 Broadway, recommended legislation to enable them to meet the expected emergency at the coming special session of the Legislature.

The Mayors voted to request authority to issue certificates of indebtedness for the purchase of coal allotted the respective municipalities by the Governor's Coal Commission. This method would permit the cities to reimburse the commission for the coal sent them, and the cities in turn would be reimbursed by the ultimate purchasers. The certificates could also be used for the purchase of coke, wood or any other fuel.

It was also decided to ask for authority to purchase coal in the open market instead of by contract.

The Mayors also voted to ask the Governor to recommend in his emergency message to the Legislature that the State Department of Education should have the authority to suspend the public schools, such suspension not to affect the distribution of the State school fund or the rights of State employees.

The Governor was also requested to give the cities power to suspend the operation of electrically lighted signs and to put into operation the "skip-stop" system for surface car lines.

Mayor Thomas A. Wilson of Binghamton presided. Others present were Mayors George R. Lunn of Schenectady, M. P. Neal of Oswego, E. P. Lynch of Ogdensburg and Glenn W. Woodin of Dunkirk, Corporation Counsel J. McCann, representing Mayor George D. Campbell of Poughkeepsie, Alderman T. Sedgwick, representing Mayor Edwin W. Fiske of Mount Vernon, and W. P. Capes of Albany, secretary of the conference. The conference will maintain headquarters here during the coal emergency in charge of Mr. Capes, who will act as a liaison officer between the cities and the Governor's commission.

Coal and Railroad Strikes Retarding Local Building

Weekly Statistical Report of F. W. Dodge Company Shows Decided Decrease in Metropolitan Area Due to Adverse Conditions

BUILDING activity in the local territory slowed down perceptibly during the thirty-second week of this year. The decline is largely due to the fact that the house building season is drawing to a close and although there has recently been a decided improvement in the volume and value of commercial projects this type of operation has not developed rapidly enough to offset the drop in residential construction. Another important factor in holding back new structural projects is the shortage of essential materials, resulting from the coal strike, and the delayed deliveries due to the railroad strike. As long as these conditions prevail prospective builders will hesitate about committing themselves to contracts.

According to figures tabulated by the F. W. Dodge Company, for the territory including all of New York State and New Jersey, north of Trenton, architects and engineers reported work on 505 new building and engineering projects during the week of August 5 to 11 inclusive. This work will require an outlay of approximately $14,898,200. During the same week in this territory 359 contracts for new building and construction operations were awarded at a total estimated cost of $12,978,700.

The effect of the conditions brought about by the two strikes are more apparent in the district including the five boroughs of Greater New York than they are in the outlying sections. There has been a decided drop in the amount of new construction being planned and the contract commitments also indicate a decided falling off when compared with preceding weeks.

During the week of August 5 to 11, plans for 208 new building and engineering operations were announced for locations in New York City. These projects will require a total expenditure of more than $7,945,100. The contracts awarded in this city during the same week numbered 78 and represent an outlay of approximately $6,088,000.

The list of 208 proposed projects includes 35 business and commercial projects such as stores, offices, lofts, commercial garages, etc., $2,044,000; 6 educational buildings, $244,600; 2 hospitals and institutions, $65,000; 5 industrial projects of various types, $212,500; 1 military structure, $2,000; 3 public buildings, $13,000; 2 public works and public utilities, $20,000; 2 religious and memorial projects, $110,000; 150 residential operations including apartments, flats and tenements and one- and two-family dwellings, $4,918,000, and 2 social and recreational buildings, $316,000.

The underlying theme of the forthcoming conference at Buffalo will be "Elimination of Waste in Industry."

Fire Losses in the United States

Fire losses in the United States in 1921 were more than half a billion dollars.

Fire loss adjustments made by insurance companies in the United States and Canada during the past fourteen years amounted to $3,410,752,600. The average yearly loss was $243,625,200. The loss for 1920 was $320,853,925.

Losses from fire in the United States average $3 per capita per year. France has a per capita loss of 49 cents; Great Britain, 33 cents; Germany, 28 cents, and Holland, 11 cents.

During the past fourteen-year period our fire losses were 28.1 per cent of the value of new building construction. In 1920, although an abnormal amount of building was done, the fire losses were 23.5 per cent of the value of new buildings.

Startling as these losses are, they do not tell the whole story. They represent only the actual insurance adjustments made. They do not take into account losses due to the fact that buildings are seldom insured for more than 80 per cent of their full value, nor do they include losses not covered by insurance. The insurance adjustments made probably do not exceed 70 per cent of actual fire losses, including both insured and uninsured.

The surest safeguard against loss by fire is a building so constructed that it cannot burn.

CURRENT BUILDING OPERATIONS

THE local building situation remained practically unchanged during the past week. The industry is very active on projects which were started some time ago, but there is some evidence of a slowing down in the making of new commitments and also in new construction being planned. This condition is largely traceable to the effects of the coal and railroad strikes on the supply of building materials. During the past week or so some slight difficulty has been experienced in getting deliveries from production points and local reserve stocks are being rapidly depleted. An early settlement of these strikes would immediately improve the outlook for fall and winter building.

Although the demand for building materials and supplies is particularly active and in some lines greater than the visible supply, prices are fairly steady and not advancing as rapidly as might be expected. There is no doubt, however, that the conditions now prevailing will be responsible for putting the material market on a higher price level than was anticipated early this summer and there is every current probability that material prices will be very firm throughout the next four to six months.

Common Brick—Business in the North River wholesale brick market continues quite active and there are strong indications of a steady demand for the remainder of the year. For the first time in many months there is more brick arriving than is being sold, but this is largely due to the fact that owing to wet weather of the past week or ten days manufacturers have not moulded new brick and have concentrated their efforts on loading barges which were subsequently shipped to this market. Prices are steady and firm.

Summary—Transactions in the North River brick market for the week ending Thursday, August 17, 1922. Condition of market: Demand excellent; prices firm and unchanged. Quotations: Hudson Rivers, $20 a thousand to dealers in cargo lots alongside dock. Number of cargoes arrived, 54; sales, 43. Distribution: Manhattan, 15; Bronx, 3; Brooklyn, 18; New Jersey points, 7. Remaining unsold in the New York wholesale market, 14.

Structural Steel—Curtailed output, caused by the coal strike, has given a stronger tone to the local market for fabricated steel. The demand is growing considerably and prices are much firmer than they were a few weeks ago. There are several important contracts pending and some interesting work is being planned, but it is feared that the prevailing conditions may be responsible for withholding this work from an actual start for some time. Steel prices are advancing.

Cast Iron Pipe—The market for this commodity has lost none of its activity during the past week or so. Although municipal business is not an important factor at present there is considerable new business from this source in sight. The purchasing of private interests continues heavy and as a result manufacturers are continuing to extend deliveries.

From two to three months is the rule on the smaller sizes and the larger sizes are to be had in from four to six weeks. Inquiries are numerous and involve fairly heavy tonnages, but manufacturers are not particularly anxious to accept new business while fuel and railroad conditions remain as uncertain as they are at present. Prices are very firm with New York quotations as follows: 6 in. and larger, $53.50 per net ton, in cargo lots, f. o. b., New York; 4 in. and 5 in., $58, and 3 in., $63.80, with Class A and gas pipe $4 extra per ton.

MATERIALS AND SUPPLIES

Electrical Supplies—The demand for electrical materials and supplies continues remarkably steady and both manufacturers and jobbers anticipate excellent business throughout the remainder of the year. The only thing likely to affect a change in the market situation is increased difficulty in obtaining fuel, and if this occurs it is possible that production might be curtailed for a while. At present stocks are adequate, with dealers well supplied and manufacturers having reserves that could be called upon. The large volume of active construction, however, will make heavy inroads upon the visible stocks and decreased production would undoubtedly be reflected immediately in stiffer prices. Prices are very firm in all electrical lines and there are indications that further advances are likely.

Builders' Hardware—Very active demand characterizes this market and all current signs point to a continuation of good business conditions as long as the supply lasts. There has been some complaint recently of depleted local stocks and jobbers are experiencing difficulty in getting shipments from the manufacturers because of the railroad situation. Manufacturers are operating their plants to the limit of their ability to secure fuel, but production is slowing down to some extent owing to the grave scarcity of coal. Prices are fairly steady, but there are indications of higher levels in the near future.

Roofing Papers—There has been no change in the market for this commodity during the past week and local selling interests anticipate an active demand while the prevailing building boom continues. The suburban work is the dominating factor in the demand, but considerable business is coming from speculative builders in the outlying districts of the city, where quite some small house construction is now going on. Stocks are adequate and prices are steady and unchanged.

Window Glass—Demand continues very active and some shortage is developing because of the continued delay of factory shipments, caused by the railroad strike. There is a vast amount of new construction now nearing the final stages of completion and dealers anticipate that their heaviest business is still to come. A large percentage of the work is of the multi-family house type, in Bronx, Brooklyn and Queens, and although quality is a second consideration, there is hardly sufficient glass in sight to supply all requirements. Prices are very firm and subject to sharp advances.

Linseed Oil—The position of the market is slightly improved with demand showing signs of increasing and prices somewhat firmer. Buying is largely confined to small lots, however, which is indicative of provisions only for immediate requirements, but there are increasing inquiries for carload lot business which have considerably brightened the outlook for the coming months.

Nails—Considerable improvement in the nail market has been noted during the past week with buying more active and inquiries indicative of good business in the future. Stocks are getting very low and delays are complained of by purchasers. Prices are firm and likely to advance in the near future. Current New York quotations are $3.35 base, per keg, for wire nails, and $3.90 base, per keg, for cut nails.

Face Brick—Manufacturers of this material are complaining of the serious outlook caused by the coal and railroad strikes. The demand is keen but producers are unable to promise definite delivery dates. Prices are very firm and likely to advance sharply.

EDITORIAL

No Relief Yet in Coal Crisis

As this issue of The Record and Guide goes to press, the prospect of an early settlement of the coal strikes is anything but bright. Progress undoubtedly is being made in the efforts to assure a better supply of bituminous coal, but it is most unfortunate that the outlook for a supply of anthracite has become positively disturbing.

New York City is seriously menaced by the continued inactivity in the anthracite fields. The distress which New Yorkers suffered because of the coal shortage during the winter of 1917-1918 was of too recent occurrence to be forgotten, and yet it is agreed by those in closest touch with the situation that unless the mining and hauling of anthracite on a large scale gets under way immediately the people of the metropolis must prepare for more serious hardships than they underwent during the shortage five years ago.

It seems little less than criminal that something drastic cannot be done by the government authorities to avert the grave danger which threatens the seven million inhabitants of the nation's metropolis. For five months now the miners have been idle and the squabble between workers and operators has proceeded without result. President Harding has been able to accomplish practically nothing in his efforts to compose the situation, and it remains to be seen what Governor Miller can accomplish through the Special Session of the State Legislature which he has summoned to meet in Albany next Monday. Between the government forces at Washington and Albany it may be possible to do away with the discriminative and haphazard distribution of such coal supplies as become available during the next few months, but at best these efforts can only be of temporary advantage.

The public, because of many sad experiences, has lost faith in the efficacy of official investigations. All too often they have started with a blare of trumpets and ended in futility. For this reason, it is idle to expect that the public will take over-seriously the present efforts of Congress for a further investigation of the coal industry. At the same time the plan for the creation of the United States Coal Commission will be followed with interest. Senator Borah's idea in somewhat different form has been presented in the lower branch of Congress by Representative Winslow, chairman of the House Interstate Commerce Committee. The Winslow plan, which has the support of President Harding, differs from the Borah plan in that it provides for a commission of nine members, whereas Senator Borah proposed a commission of three, one to represent the operators, one the miners, and one the public.

President Harding is believed to prefer the Winslow plan because it contemplates a commission entirely independent of either operators or miners, one having as its main concern the interests of the public as a whole. This commission is to "investigate and ascertain facts in the coal industry as to ownership of coal mines, prices of coal, wages, wage contracts, conditions of employment, distribution, waste of coal, profits realized by owners or operators of coal mines or by other persons or corporations having to do with the production, distribution or sale of coal, and any other material facts in connection with the coal industry generally and the organizations and persons connected with it." The commission is required to report not later than January 1, 1923, its findings of fact and such recommendations as to methods and measures as in its judgment will promote continuity of production and efficiency in mining and distribution, and maintain the uninterrupted movement of coal in the interstate commerce and safeguard the interest of the workers, operators and the consuming and general public.

This plan seems all right, so far as it goes. Such a commission should be able to lay the basis for the future protection of the public against the ills constantly recurring because of the quarrels between operators and miners. The plan is futile, however, so far as concerns relief in the immediate future. The only action that will insure New York City and the rest of the country from serious disaster this winter is the prompt resumption of mining on a very large scale. Until provision for this action is made, all other efforts must be regarded merely as by-play.

Too Extensive to Be Halted Now

Builders who are showing some anxiety over the conditions resulting from the prolonged railroad and coal strikes need have little fear that the prosperity of the industry is in jeopardy. While the shortages of fuel and the difficulties of transportation have slowed down building to some extent, the unprecedented building movement now in progress cannot be halted and is only temporarily slowed down until material production and supply conditions improve.

The great national building boom, predicted since the close of the war, is now at its peak. Although its progress during the next few weeks or even months may be hampered and delayed by fuel scarcity and railroad transportation disturbances, the boom cannot be halted, at least not by these factors alone.

A graphic idea of the intensity of the current construction program may be gained by a study of the statistics compiled by The F. W. Dodge Company for July. According to the totals for the active building and engineering operations in the twenty-seven North-eastern States, July was the fourth consecutive month of unprecedented activity in the construction field.

Contracts awarded in this territory during July involved a total investment of $350,081,000, an increase of 2 per cent. over the preceding month and a gain of 65 per cent. when compared with the same period of last year. The July total commitments brought the aggregate for the first seven months of 1922 up to $2,041,065,000, an unprecedented amount, and about 60 per cent. higher than the total for the first seven months of 1921. Contemplated new work during the month amounted to approximately $508,222,000, a figure which is also in excess of the similar totals for the three preceding months and greatly above the total for the corresponding month of last year.

The projects reported in the planning stage and those operations for which actual commitments were announced represent construction that is absolutely essential to proper functioning of commerce, industry, and the general public. It involves housing, factories, public utilities and community projects, urgently required for many years past but postponed because of high costs and financial problems.

This work must proceed to completion. It may be retarded somewhat by strikes and resultant material shortages, but it cannot be halted, and just as soon as the transportation and production conditions again become normal, this work will be resumed with an intensity unabated by the temporary adverse conditions and will continue indefinitely because the need for additional buildings is great and the time ripe for supplying this need.

Points Out That Tax Exemption Does Not Mean "Loss" to City's Revenues

RECENTLY President Henry M. Goldfogle of the Department of Taxes and Assessments, issued a statement showing exemptions on 13,531 parcels of real estate in the five boroughs during the first year of the operation of the law granting exemption for ten years to new residential buildings. President Goldfogle's statement included figures of the aggregate assessed valuation of these properties as $86,450,240, on which taxes to the amount of $2,294,881 would have been collected if not exempted. Bela Darwin Eisler, a lawyer of No. 45 Cedar street, controverts the idea that the city "lost" this amount of money—Mr. Eisler says:

"This statement of the Tax Department published in the New York Times of August 13 last, as to the 'loss' sustained by the City of New York by reason of the new dwelling tax exemption ordinance is apparently based on the mistaken assumption that all the 13,531 new dwellings enumerated would have been built without the inducement of the Tax Exemption Ordinance. This is manifestly erroneous as is best shown by the classification of the new buildings, namely 10,200 one-family houses; 3,019 two-family houses, and only 312 multi-family houses; of the 13,219 one- and two-family houses the vast majority were the direct outcome of the Tax Exemption Ordinance and would never have been begun without it; to many of the builders of the 312 multi-family houses the same exemption made just the difference between the decision to risk building and the previous unwillingness due to the high costs.

"The trouble with the statistics published by the Tax Department is that in giving the amount of a total partial exemption granted, it has omitted to state the total building assessment increases subject to taxation on the 13,531 new dwellings enumerated. As an example, take what the statement terms as the largest building exemption granted in Manhattan, namely, the apartment erected by Harry Schiff on Broadway between 97th and 98th streets; last year as vacant property this paid taxes on an assessment of $385,000; this year with building completed it paid taxes on $2,031,000, or an increased revenue to the City of nearly two and one-half times as much as the partial exemption of $719,000. It would be interesting to learn from the Tax Department how much more the 13,531 dwellings are netting the City in taxes than the vacant land they now cover paid last year; the sum would unquestionably show a huge financial advantage to the City gained from the Tax Exemption Ordinance especially if the increase in assessable value of the neighborhood due to the change from vacant acreage to prosperous habitations were taken into consideration.

"The Tax Exemption Ordinance may have elements of unfairness to the owners of older tax burdened dwellings which will have to meet the competition of newer tax-exempt ones, but the City of New York is the one party that has no cause for complaint and should have no criticism for the Board of Estimate which passed the exemption resolution with the Mayor's approval."

Clean Up Auction Sale of City Real Estate Next Monday

THE last of the five advertised auction sales of city property was held at the Richmond County Court House on August 17. Twelve parcels were offered of which eight were sold. On August 28 a number of parcels passed in previous sales will be offered again at the Sixty-ninth Regiment Armory, Lexington avenue and Twenty-sixth street. At the Richmond sale the first offer was the vacant plot fronting 175 feet on Winter avenue, between Bismark and Westervelt avenue. The upset price was $15,000. There were no bids.

The highest price of the day was paid for the big plot near Richmond Turnpike and Signs Road, 247 by 641 by 920, irregular, which went to Charles F. Frank at the upset price of $12,000.

John J. Beham paid $3,725 for the property on Beach avenue, near Amboy Road, now occupied as a clubhouse by the Acorn Athletic Club. The city's valuation was $3,250.

The fourteen-acre salt meadow tract in Northfield, with a large frontage on Saw Mill Creek, went to Wellington A. Merrill for $5,000, the upset price.

The Port Richmond Land Company paid $3,000 for the plot, 240 by 148, irregular, from Richmond Turnpike to Signs Road. The city's upset price was $2,750.

Herman Cohan took the irregular plot, 92.1 by 300, at the corner of Tompkins and Garfield avenues at the upset price, $2,000.

The vacant plot, 50 by 100, on the north side of Little Clove Road, 100 feet west of Clove Road, went to Agnes D. Curry for $1,050, or $33 above the city's valuation.

Rose Liebowitz was high bidder with $875 for 25 by 100 on Jersey street, south of Richmond Terrace, New Brighton. The city's upset price was $800.

The vacant lot, 25 by 100 feet, on the south side of Sea View avenue, 150 feet east of Richmond Road, with an upset price of $750, was sold to Anna W. Martin for $1,275.

New York Savings Banks Have Resources of $3,000,000,000

RESOURCES of the one hundred forty-four savings banks in New York State have topped the three billion mark for the first time in the history of these institutions. $3,090,061,689 is the preliminary figure for July 1, 1922, as reported by a questionnaire sent out by the Association some time ago. This amount is at the banking department's estimated market value, and represents an increase over January 1, 1922, of $167,280,277 and an increase over

July 1, 1921, of $233,950,981.

The amount due depositors in the savings banks in New York State has increased from $2,696,104,131 on January 1, 1922, to $2,791,690,868 on July 1, 1922, according to questionnaire returns. This represents a gain of $95,586,737 for the past six months, and $143,258,535 for the year. These amounts include dividends credited.

Coal Commission Warns of Serious Shortage Next Winter

Gov. Miller Calls Special Session of Legislature for Next Monday to Consider Measures of Relief Which He Will Propose

NEGOTIATIONS for settlement of the strike in the anthracite mining district having been broken off local agencies for establishing priorities, rationing and distribution of coal renewed their efforts to ameliorate as far as possible conditions that will result in privation and hardships during the coming winter. Because of the serious illness of Eugenius H. Outerbridge, chairman of the Governor's Coal Commission, a statement setting forth the very serious state of affairs was made public by Transit Commissioner LeRoy T. Harkness, acting for Mr. Outerbridge. In issuing this statement Mr. Harkness denied that, because of his illness, Mr. Outerbridge had resigned, but said he would remain chairman of the present commission until the creation by the Legislature of another commission, on recommendation of Governor Miller, to which, it is expected, greater powers will be granted than the Governor could give to the existing body. In the statement, Mr. Harkness says:

"The situation in New York State this fall and winter will be very acute at the best. Nearly five months of anthracite coal production has already been lost, and the greatest difficulty is being experienced in getting through shipments out of the very reduced supply of bituminous coal. The Governor has called the Legislature in special session for next Monday, and legislation will undoubtedly be enacted clothing the New York State Fuel Administration with all the powers the State can give it. The benefit of such action will largely be lost unless the Federal Government on its part promptly constitutes a strong central agency to secure the coal and get it to the several States.

"Unless effective and vigorous measures are taken to develop to the utmost the supply and distribution of coal, especially anthracite coal, New York faces a coal shortage even worse than that of the winter of 1917-1918. New York is absolutely dependent upon anthracite coal to keep warm. The prospect of winter being so near and the State almost denuded of anthracite is alarming.

"In this emergency the Coal Commission believes it should call this matter to the attention of the New York delegation in Congress and urge upon it vigorous and united effort to secure immediate action."

Governor Miller last Tuesday issued a call for the Legislature to meet in special session at Albany on next Monday to act on the coal shortage. The Governor will present a definite plan to the Legislature which is in preparation. It is understood that he will ask for authority to appoint a permanent coal administrator, whose duties and powers will be similar to those delegated to President Garfield, of Williams College, who was President Wilson's Federal fuel administrator throughout the war. The new State administrator, it was said, will decide what street lights, advertising signs, theatres, etc., must be closed or restricted to conserve coal next winter.

Attention was called to the prediction of the Coal Dealers' Association that price fixing would have a tendency to send shipments of coal out of the State.

"I am sure that the State of New York will receive its pro rata supply of the coal that is mined, based on the consumption of past years, and I am proceeding on that assumption," the Governor replied.

"Would that be taken care of by the Federal Congress?"

"Jurisdiction of the State of New York does not extend into the anthracite coal fields. The best we can do is to try to get our share and then see that it is so proportioned that everybody in the State gets his share."

The Governor said he did not believe that it would be necessary at any time for public schools or public utilities or industries to suspend because of the coal shortage, but that the utmost economy would have to be resorted to.

"The resumption of mining tomorrow would not remove the emergency. It would only lessen the emergency. There is bound to be such a shortage of anthracite fuel this winter as to suspend the operation of the ordinary law of supply and demand."

Gov. Miller had a conference on last Wednesday with representatives of coal dealers and producers with a view to obtaining first hand information and co-operation in anticipation of the special session of the Legislature.

After the conference the Governor outlined the situation in this fashion:

"There is a general prospect of prompt resumption of mining in the bituminous fields and they can produce more than the normal consumption of the country. The anthracite situation is different, and when mining will be resumed in the anthracite field nobody seems to know."

The Governor emphasized that the first consideration was fuel for the householder. After pointing out that the peace overtures in the anthracite field had failed, the Governor said:

"The immediate problem that we have to deal with is domestic fuel for the householder. Of course, we can't do much in the way of distributing it until there is some to distribute.

"We have just had a general discussion of the situation in anticipation of the session of the Legislature. A committee representing the retailers, a committee representing the wholesalers and a committee representing the anthracite producers and one gentleman representing the bituminous producers were here to give me such information as they could with respect to the general situation. Of course, whatever we do, we shall need the co-operation of these gentlemen."

Up to last Sunday seventeen steamships carrying 110,000 tons of British coal, had arrived in the Port of New York. Total shipments already booked for delivery are estimated at fully 1,500,000 tons. Heavy movements are under way also to Boston, which has already received 96,000 tons, and to Philadelphia.

The total of approximately 215,000 tons of coal which arrived at the three ports last week compares with imports of 135,000 tons during the entire month of June.

The ships reaching New York last week were chartered at the beginning of the coal rush at rates ranging from $1.65 to $2 a ton. The coal, accordingly, was laid down in the port at a cost of $8.50 to $9.25 a ton, comparing with the prices of domestic fuel of $9.15 to $10.50 a ton. Much of the coal due to arrive in the next few weeks represents freight rates averaging $3 a ton and a total cost of $9 to $10 a ton. These figures give the reason why the speculation on shipments has diminished with the settlement of the bituminous coal strike. It is apparent that the cost of a large part of the imported coal will approximate the current prices here at the time of arrival. The chief demand for shipments arises from public utilities and other concerns which must have supplies and cannot obtain sufficient quantities at the prevailing prices.

Further Construction of License Law by Tax Commission

Various Phases of Business Done by Brokers and Realty Salesmen, Who Must File Applications by October 1, Interpreted by State Officials

CONTINUING its exposition of the new state law requiring real estate brokers and salesmen to take out licenses, the State Tax Commission, at Albany, has issued a second statement, giving additional information in the form of questions and answers, as follows:

QUESTION 10

Does a $25 license entitle the holder to do business anywhere in the State, regardless of where his place of business is in the State?

ANSWER

A licensee who has paid the maximum fee of $25.00 can transact business anywhere throughout the State, but this is also true of any license broker who has, in good faith, designated his principal place of business as being, say in a second class city. Such a licensee may also transact business throughout the State incidentally. However, it would not be within the meaning of the act for a broker who does the bulk of his business, say in New York City, to designate his principal office as being in Nassau county for the purpose of paying a smaller license fee.

QUESTION 11

Section 440 of Chapter 672, defines a real estate broker and a real estate salesman. In the former case he is the person who performs certain specified functions "for a fee, commission or other valuable consideration." In the case of a salesman, in order to legally do the acts specified, he must be employed "by a licensed real estate broker," to do such acts "for or in behalf of such real estate broker."

"A" is an individual, copartnership or corporation buying and selling real estate for himself or itself and therefore without compensation as contemplated in the act, and for that reason apparently does not require a broker's license. He employs one or more salesmen to sell property, negotiate leases and make loans. Under the provisions of the law a salesman must be employed by a licensed broker.

Must the principal (individual, copartnership or corporation) take out a broker's license? If not, can the salesmen legally apply for and be issued salesmen's licenses?

ANSWER

Inasmuch as Section 440 states that a Real Estate Salesman must be employed by a licensed Real Estate Broker, an individual, copartnership or corporation buying and selling real estate for himself or itself, could not employ Real Estate Salesmen, unless they, themselves, were licensed Real Estate Brokers.

QUESTION 12

Section 442-g of the law licensing real estate brokers and salesmen exempts attorneys at law and makes the provisions of the entire article (Article 12-a) inapplicable to them.

Section 442 contains provisions prohibiting the splitting of commissions by a licensed broker with any person not a duly licensed real estate broker or salesman within or without the State.

Is there any conflict between these two provisions? Does Section 442 forbid a broker to split commissions with a lawyer, or does the fact that attorneys are exempt from all provisions of the article relieve licensed brokers and salesmen from complying with the provisions of Section 442?

ANSWER

Section 442-g exempts attorneys-at-law from the provisions of the article, and allowing them to perform such acts as are included in Section 440, defining what constitutes a Real Estate Broker and Salesman, without necessitating the obtaining of a license. It appears, however, that their privileges end there, that Section 442 prohibiting a Real Estate Broker from splitting his fee or commission with anyone except a duly licensed real estate salesman or a duly licensed real estate broker, does prohibit, the splitting of commissions with an attorney-at-law, unless he is licensed to transact real estate business.

Section 440 of the law relating to brokers and salesmen makes no mention specifically of the collection of rents. Many brokers have "outside" employees who do nothing but collect rents. Must such persons be licensed as salesmen?

ANSWER

In the definition of what constitutes a Real Estate Broker, are the words "or collects or offers or attempts to collect rent for the use of Real Estate." A Real Estate Salesman is employed by a Real Estate Broker to carry on for him that work which constitutes the broker as a Real Estate Broker. Further, a salesman under the statutory definition leases and rents real estate and the collection of rent is part of the leasing or renting within this definition. It naturally follows, therefore, that the salesman who collects rent which is a part of the Broker's duty, should be licensed.

QUESTION 14

In many brokers' offices there are bookkeepers who sometimes collect rents over the counter; stenographers who may be called upon to give information about sales, rents, etc., and "inside" clerks who may occasionally and incidentally have to perform any of the above duties. All of these are on a fixed salary. Must such persons be licensed as salesmen?

ANSWER

Should inside clerks perform any of those acts included in the definition of what constitutes a Real Estate Salesman, they should properly apply for a license. It does not seem that any distinction should be made as between those who work outside and those who work inside.

QUESTION 15

Is it necessary, under the law, for the janitor, superintendent, and elevator man who offers space for rent in loft and office buildings to be licensed as a salesman?

ANSWER

A Real Estate Salesman must be employed by a licensed Real Estate Broker. A Real Estate Broker is one "who for another" performs certain acts which places him within the meaning of Section 440. It therefore appears that should the janitor or superintendent of a building perform any of those acts as defined in this section, they should obtain a real estate broker's license, unless they are employed by a licensed real estate broker, in which case a salesman's license should be procured.

The foregoing, however, is subject to the two following exceptions:

(1) A Janitor who is employed to care for a specified building and who collects rents from the tenants thereof, incidentally to his other duties, but who does not negotiate leases (even though he may show the premises to prospective tenants who may be sent to him by a broker), will not be required to take out a license.

(2) Where a member of the immediate family of the owner of rented premises, who receives no compensation from the owner, collects rents from the tenants on behalf of the owner, no license will be required.

ABOUT 62,400,000 short tons of stone were quarried in the United States in 1921, according to the U. S. Geological Survey. This is more than 20 per cent less than the production in 1920. The estimated value of this stone is $92,500,000, a decrease of 30 per cent as compared with 1920. Procedures all over the country stated that both wages and prices had been reduced, and nearly all reported a decrease in the cost of production. High freight rates are said to have contributed largely to the general depression in the industry.

Another Notable Structure Started in Terminal Zone

Twenty-Story Office Building Being Erected by Merchants & Manufacturers Exchange from Plans by Warren & Wetmore, Architects

CONSTRUCTION work is in progress for another modern structure in the Grand Central Terminal Zone, which will become a notable addition to the group of large structures which were originally planned as a part of the development of this district. The new project will be a twenty-story office building and will harmonize architecturally with structures recently erected as a part of this great development plan.

The grillage foundations for the new building have already been completed and contractors are now working on the masonry for the substructure. As in the cases of the Biltmore Hotel, Yale Club and other new buildings which have been superimposed over the tracks of the New York Central railroad, the proposed structure will be supported on heavy steel stilts which are now being erected.

This building, which will be known as the Park-Lexington Building, is to be virtually an annex to the Grand Central Palace and will be connected with it by an arcade. The structure is being erected according to plans and specifications prepared by Warren & Wetmore, who were also the architects for the Biltmore Hotel and other monumental buildings which are included in the development plan of the Terminal Zone.

The Park-Lexington Building will occupy a plot 80x200 feet, just west of the Grand Central Palace and bounded by Park Avenue and Depew Place, Forty-sixth and Forty-seventh Streets. The building is being erected at a cost estimated to be approximately $2,500,000 by the Merchants & Manufacturers Exchange, of which Robert M. Catts is president.

The facades have been designed in the Renaissance style of architecture and will be constructed of brick and terra cotta, with a base of granite. According to the present construction schedule this building will be completed and ready for occupancy May 1, 1923.

The construction of this office building on the Lexington Avenue site is considered as a forerunner of considerable activity in real estate and building activity on this thoroughfare. Several plot-tages are under negotiation and there is a likelihood that within a short time a number of buildings will be started.

TWENTY-STORY OFFICE BUILDING FOR TERMINAL ZONE

Dinner and Historical Exhibit to Celebrate Birthday of Edison Service

ELABORATE plans for honoring Thomas A. Edison and celebrating the fortieth anniversary of the beginning of central station service in New York are being made. It was in September, 1882, that current was turned on in New York's first central station. The station was on Pearl street and it supplied about twelve hundred lamps in a territory of less than a square mile. Edison himself planned the station and distribution system and his incandescent lamps had been installed in all the buildings on the company's lines.

The celebration of this important event will take the form of an anniversary dinner to be held on September 11; in October there will be an extensive historical exhibit in connection with the annual Electrical and Industrial Exposition at the Grand Central Palace.

The dinner will be held at the Hotel Commodore with Mr. Edison as the guest of honor. Sharing honors with the great inventor will be the Edison Pioneers—the men who worked with Edison in planning and constructing the Pearl street station and who were associated with him in the years immediately following. The dinner will bring together public men and leaders of the electrical industry from all over the country.

The historical exhibit at the Electrical Show is being arranged by the Edison Pioneers. Much of the early electrical apparatus is still in existence—notably one of the gumbo generators from the first station. From this there will be built up a display portraying developments during the past forty years.

All yearly building records for Chicago since 1893 were broken during the first six months of 1922, according to Chicago Citizens' Committee to Enforce the Landis Award. The total value of building permits for that period was $111,502,310. The previous high annual record was in 1912, when the values of all structures erected totaled $110,000,000. In other words, the total for the six months' period exceeded all previous yearly totals by more than $1,500,000.

Review of Real Estate Market for the Current Week

Chief Characteristic of a Dull Period Is the Remarkable Number of Apartment Houses of All Kinds Changing Hands

DULLNESS continued to mark the real estate market during the week, but the vacation period is nearing its end and preparations are already under way for taking care of the business expected on the return to the city, immediately after Labor Day, of those who have spent the summer in the country, at the sea shore and in Europe. Perhaps the most noticable and prophetic characteristic of the dealings during the last few days has been the comparatively large number of apartment houses changing hands. While sales of business properties in the lower section of Manhattan were few and far between there were a considerable number of deals involving residential buildings, ranging from tenements on the East Side to expensively constructed and luxuriously appointed apartments on the West Side, and a goodly proportion of typical Bronx and upper Manhattan properties, in which rentals range from $20 to $40 per room. This activity may be taken as proof of the continued interest of investors, real estate operators and the building fraternity in housing. Even with the large number of apartments of various types constructed this year there still remains the probability that rentals will continue on an attractive level.

Although inactivity ruled in the leasing department as well as in the sales department there were some important long term leases effected and the market continued to reflect the disposition of tenants, wherever possible, to buy properties they have occupied for a long time in order to protect themselves against any further increases in rentals. When wages are raised in the steel mills, food prices go higher and large numbers of workmen successfully resist wage decreases, there arises the possibility that, for the present, general deflation has nearly reached its limit with always a chance that prices entering into the cost of living may bring about increased building costs and so affect rentals. This idea of protecting one's interests usually is the incentive back of the buying by tenants of properties occupied by them, the continued possession of which is a business asset.

With the approach of the fall moving day only six weeks away interest will center in the housing situation again, and the developments on October 1 will disclose whether there is a continuance of the shortage or an over supply of apartments.

PRIVATE REALTY SALES.

THE total number of sales reported, but not recorded in Manhattan this week, was 16, as against 49 last week and 57 a year ago.

The number of sales south of 59th st was 13, as compared with 18 last week and 19 a year ago.

The number of sales north of 59th st was 27, as compared with 31 last week and 38 a year ago.

From the Bronx 32 sales at private contract were reported, as against 28 last week and 16 a year ago.

Statistical tables, including the number of recorded instruments, will be found on page

Auction Sale of Throg's Neck Lots

One of the largest and most important sales of bungalow water front lots in the Throg's Neck section of the East Bronx is that of the Morris Estates, to be held today on the premises, at 2 p. m., rain or shine, by Joseph P. Day, Inc., auctioneers.

The Morris Estates, which for about 75 years have been owned by the Morris family, consist of approximately 1,000 lots, located at the inter section of East Tremont av and East 177th st, the "hub" of Throg's Neck, and on the East River, at the entrance to Long Island Sound. The sale includes nearly a mile of water frontage, with valuable riparian rights; also the Morris family mansion, a number of cottages and outbuildings.

At the same time and place, Mr. Day will sell six new frame dwellings, never occupied, directly opposite the Morris Estates, in Sampson and Logan avs and Migel pl. These six dwellings are to be sold for the stockholders of the Fort Schuyler Co., Inc., with immediate possession.

Records Deed Dated Sept. 7, 1747

A deed bearing the seal of the British Empire and dated Sept. 7, 1747, was presented to Register James A. McQuaide in Brooklyn last week to be recorded. It is the oldest deed in the memory of those in the Register's office. The title of the property runs from Wilhelms Stoothoff to the Dutch Reformed Church. The acknowledgment on the original deed was taken by "S. Gerritson, Justice of his Majesty's Court of Common Pleas."

The names of some of the oldest families of Flatbush appear on the document. They are Major Gerrit Stoothoff, Colonel Thomas Willet, Captain John Van Duyckhuys and Captain Elbert Stoothoff. The names of three elders of the old Dutch Reformed Church, Peter Wyckoff, Johannes Lott and John Amerman, also appear on the deed.

To Finance Building Projects

A new firm of mortgage bond bankers, Goodell, Willis & Co., Inc., with offices at 30 East 42d st, has completed its organization and is already financing a number of construction projects. Its first issue of mortgage bonds will be offered shortly. The new firm succeeds R. H. Goodell & Co., which was established in 1903. The company is undertaking the financing of high-class residential, industrial and commercial properties and will issue mortgage bonds in form available for small investors. It will also deal generally in first mortgage securities. It is particularly interested in suburban apartment houses.

A number of men well known in real estate and building circles are on the directorate of the new company. Benjamin E. Smythe, of the suburban real estate firm of Burke Stone, Inc., and formerly vice-president of the Liberty National Bank, and at one time president of the New York State Bankers' Association, is chairman of the board of directors of Goodell, Willis & Co. R. H. Goodell, the president of the new firm, was identified with R. H. Goodell & Co. H. L. Crowley, of the firm of Farnham, Brandt & Crowley, industrial engineers, is vice-president, and W. A. Fleming, of W. A. Fleming & Co., public accountants and auditors, is treasurer. The authorized capital of the corporation is $500,000.

Other directors are Fenimore C. Goode, formerly of Brett & Goode Co., and now president of the real estate firm which bears his name; J. M. Davis, lawyer and executor of a number of large estates; A. Stanley Herts, of the old established firm of interior decorators, Herts Bros. Co., and Hiter King, vice-president of Patterson King Corporation, architects, engineers and builders.

Plans Filed for Big Hotel

Plans have been filed with the Manhattan Bureau of Buildings for the construction of a thirteen-story hotel on the south side of Sixty-third Street, whole front between Broadway and Columbus, to be known as the Empire Hotel. It will have a frontage of 128.2 feet on the street, 116.2 feet on Broadway and 100.5 feet on Columbus Avenue. It is also located opposite Dante Park. The Morewood Realty Holding Company, Herbert Du Puy, president, is the owner of record. The Langham Hotel Company, James C. Ewing, president, is the lessee. Frederick I. Merrick is the architect, and has estimated the cost at $950,000.

Upper Broadway Taxpayer Resold

Joseph P. Ryan purchased for investment from Samuel Brenner, an operator, the one-story building containing ten stores, on plot 51 by 100, at the northeast corner of Broadway and Ninety-ninth Street, held at $250,000. Mr. Brenner recently purchased the property from the Thomas E. Crimmins estate, and in order to get possession he also acquired a long ground lease held by M. M. Hayward & Co., who erected the building ten years ago.

West Side Apartment Financed

On the upper west side a 15-story apartment house, containing 60 apartments of 3 and 4 rooms and bath, will be erected at the southeast corner of 103d st and West End av. The land fronts 60 feet and 11 inches on West End av by 80 feet on 103d st.

S. W. Straus & Co. have underwritten a first mortgage 6 1/2 per cent. serial bond issue of $175,000 on the land and building, the security including also first lien on net earnings.

The bonds are the direct obligation of the 878 West End av Corporation, of which the controlling stockholders are Ralph Ciluzzi, a builder, and Atilio d'Antona, structural engineer.

Hamilton Republican Club Buys

The Hamilton Republican Club of the 15th Assembly district has bought the 4-story dwelling it is occupying at 530 West 113th st, near Broadway. It stands on a site 17x100.11, and was purchased from Robert P. Lewis.

Riverside Drive Apartments Sold

The Goodmar Corporation sold two six-story elevator apartments, 616 to 622 West 137th Street, near Riverside Drive, with 170 foot frontage, to a client of Charles Halper, Eisenberg & Goldstein as brokers negotiated this deal.

The property was held at $360,000, of which one-fourth was paid in cash. The property consists of forty-eight apartments and brings in a rental of $63,000 annually.

Held Property 75 Years

Louis Freidel sold for the Frederick Huner estate to Morris and Michael Freedman, 8 and 10 Suffolk Street and 13 and 15 Hester Street, northeast corner of Hester and Suffolk Streets, 50x75, one five and three three-story houses. Albert W. Venino acted for the estate. The new owners intend to improve the property with stores. The property has been in the Huner family for seventy-five years.

Big Deal in Central Park West

One of the largest transactions reported involved two big apartment house properties in Central Park West, where Max Natanson, the operator, resold to Bing & Bing the two 6-story elevator apartments at 225-226 Central Park West, 50 feet south of 85th st. The buildings occupy a plot 41.8 by 100 feet and contain two suites of seven rooms and bath on a floor. They have an annual rent roll of $40,000 and were held at $270,000. Byrne & Bowman were the brokers in the transaction.

Mr. Natanson acquired the houses several months ago in part payment for the 16-story Arena Building, at 38 and 40 West 22d st, running through to 39 and 41 West 31st st, which he sold to Victor Weichman through the same brokers.

With this parcel Bing & Bing now control 125 feet front by 100 feet deep in Central Park West, between 82d and 83d sts. They already own the adjoining property at 223 and 224 Central Park West, two 5-story apartments, on a lot 40.8 by 100.

Church Sells Old Grant

The Dutch Reformed Church of Harlem has sold to Julius Reich the four 4-story stores and tenements at 2245 to 2251 Third av. The structures occupy a plot 75 by 100 feet, which is part of the original Dutch land grant to the church in Colonial days. George W. Brettell & Sons negotiated the sale.

Clarendon Hotel Sold

The Clarendon Hotel at Washington and Johnson sts., Brooklyn, has been purchased from the William A. Husted estate by a private investor, subject to the lease of John Hill, who has been operating the hostelry for the last 25 years. The contract sale was negotiated on behalf of the purchaser by Lewis H. Losee, vice-president of the Lawyers' Title and Trust Co. Although the identity of the purchaser has not been made public, it is known that he is a Brooklyn man who is making the purchase as a speculative investment.

The lease of the hotel does not expire until August, 1925, and accordingly there will be no change in the conduct or policy of the place for at least three years. The return from the lease is sufficient to bring an investment return to the purchaser, who proposes to hold the property. The price paid has not been disclosed, but is understood to be in the neighborhood of the assessed valuation, which is $150,000.

New Home for Liberty National Bank

The Liberty National Bank, now in the Equitable building, has leased the 3-story building, 139 Broadway, diagonally opposite and occupying a plot of 23.8x110 feet. The property is between the New York Title and Mortgage and the Washington Life buildings on the respective corners of Cedar and Liberty streets.

The bank obtained the property from the Washington Life Insurance Company on a lease beginning on November 1 next and running for 40½ years. For the first ten years the bank will pay an annual net rental of $15,000 and for the remainder of the term $16,000 a year.

To Sell Part of Claridge Hotel

Negotiations are being conducted for the sale of the Henry Schwarzwald estate lot, 26 x60, which forms part of the site of the Claridge Hotel at the southeast corner of Broadway and 44th st. Derschuch & Co., brokers, admitted recently that several offers have been made for the property. It is reported that the bidders are the interests now in control of the Claridge property.

In 1916 Lucius M. Boomer of the McAlpin Hotel bought the interests of the Thompson-Starrett Co. and H. D. Burnham & Co. of Chicago and operated the hostelry as the Claridge. A few weeks ago Mr. Boomer and his associates leased the hotel to Morris M. Glaser, who plans to convert the three lower floors into stores, offices and showrooms.

MORTGAGE LOANS

James Boyd has placed first mortgages of $44,500 at 5½ per cent. for five years on 801 Southern blvd., northwest corner Longwood av. for A. Greco, and $10,000 for the Russo Construction Co. on the new 1-sty taxpayer at Vyse av., northeast corner Tremont av.

Lawrence, Blake & Jewell have placed the following loans at 6 per cent., each to run for five years: For the A. C. C. Realty Co., acting for the Amateur Comedy Club, $22,500 on the club house recently acquired at 150 East 36th st.; for the Ranger Realty Co., $150,000 on the 6-sty elevator apartment house at 1881 and 1886 Seventh av.; for the S. B. Davis Construction Co., $76,000 on the 8-sty apartment house at 152 to 156 East 22d st. and for Margaret Currier, $38,000 on 421 Lexington av., a 4-sty business building.

The Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. authorized loans on bond and mortgage amounting to three and one-half million dollars, of which over one and one-third millions were for housing loans, one and one-quarter million on business buildings and six hundred and sixty-eight thousands were farm loans. The housing loans were on two hundred and seventy-eight dwellings and fifteen apartment houses to accommodate four hundred and four families. These were in New York, North and South Carolina, Tennessee, Alabama, Florida, Georgia, California, Oregon, and Illinois. The business buildings were chiefly New York City, Pennsylvania and North Carolina. Farm loans were mostly in the west and southwest, the largest being in Iowa, Indiana, Illinois, South Dakota and South Carolina.

Under the terms of the lease, Page & Shaw, Inc., candy manufacturers, will pay an approximate yearly rental of $25,000 for the entire building at 553 Fifth av., the store of which they have occupied for more than 12 years. The building is a 6-sty structure on a plot 22 by 51, between 45th and 46th sts. on the east side of the avenue.

Although the lease affects the entire building, it is understood that the lessees will not increase the amount of space they now occupy there. The lease is for 21 years at an aggregate rental of $525,000. The Owens estate is the lessor.

Bauer Co., Beckman Press, Theodore Ricksecker Co., Munson Supply Co., Samuel C. Ridley, William C. Schalk and the Underwriters Laboratories, Inc., will probably not be molested in their occupancy. The lease that was cancelled carried an annual rental of $18,000, so the increase in rent paid by Mr. Stoddard under the new arrangement is about 40 per cent. Real estate interests generally and all taxpayers applaud and approve of the action of the Comptroller's office in increasing rentals wherever conditions warrant and thus obtaining substantial amounts in excess of what has previously been received from various concessions, unused city property.

BUILDING SECTION

Common Brick Reserve Accumulating for Winter Demand

Hudson River Manufacturers Fulfill Promises of Adequate Supply Without Recourse to Importation of This Product from Europe

LAST spring, when a combination of unfortunate conditions caused a local scarcity of common brick, the manufacturers of this commodity assured Metropolitan District building interests that they would guarantee a supply adequate for any reasonable demand. The builders, realizing that the industry was on the eve of the greatest building movement in its history, continued to express doubts as to the ability of the brick manufacturers to produce and ship brick in sufficient volume to supply local requirements. Many predictions were heard of a restricted supply of common brick which would retard, if not altogether nullify, the anticipated building boom. The record of the wholesale brick market during the past four or five months, however, shows that the manufacturers of this material have kept their word and so far as common brick is concerned the building industry need hold no fear for its future.

Despite flooded plants, inefficient and high-priced labor, inclement weather and an exceedingly serious fuel situation, the common brick manufacturers of the Hudson River district have kept the Metropolitan area fully supplied with brick throughout the summer. No construction was retarded because this commodity was not available. The industry was not jeopardized by a lack of this material. All projects were kept going, although it is true there were times when the available supplies were carefully allocated.

At present, however, for the first time in many months, there is a surplus of common brick in the New York wholesale market. On Wednesday of this week the cargoes of more than a score of brick barges, each approximating 400,000 bricks, were being offered for sale. The demand for this material has lost some of its strength, mainly because the end of the residential building season is rapidly approaching, but also as a result of the effect of the coal and railroad strikes on the supplies of other essential building materials.

There is every current indication that local dealers will shortly be in a position to accumulate reserves which, coupled with the brick that will be held in the yards of the manufacturers along the river, will assure a ready supply for the building requirements of the coming winter and next spring before production is resumed.

While common brick manufacturers will admit that the prevailing price level of this commodity seems high when compared with pre-war levels, they cannot foresee much promise of lower prices for some time to come. Brick makers are confronted with several serious problems of production which will undoubtedly be responsible for maintaining manufacturing costs at their present high levels and while these costs prevail there is little likelihood of lower prices to the consumers. According to the best informed among the manufacturers and dealers, there is little possibility of lower prices for common brick until next year and then only in the event that labor costs recede and coal becomes more plentiful and obtainable at a reasonable price.

Prior to his departure for Europe last spring, Samuel Untermyer, chief counsel to the Lockwood Committee, suggested that a large amount of foreign brick could be shipped to New York and sold at a price which would break the market for the domestic product. At various times since then rumors have been current to the effect that these shipments were due, but as yet they have failed to materialize.

It is well for the local building industry that the brick manufacturers who have supplied this market for many decades discounted these promises and went ahead with their full season's production. Had they stopped or slowed down in the fear of an influx of foreign brick that would decrease the demand for the home-made product and thus force the price down to a prohibitively low level, the building interests of the Metropolitan District would have been in a sad predicament and the building boom of 1922 would have been utterly impossible. As it is the domestic manufacturers have adequately supplied all requirements and are now accumulating a reserve that will assure supplies during the period manufacturing is suspended.

As far as can be learned the only instance in which foreign brick has been brought to New York was the recent arrival of a schooner load of brick from Nova Scotia. The arrival of this brick, however, failed to affect the local common brick market to any degree. In the first place, the single load which arrived, involving as it did only about 225,000 brick (about one-half of the load of an ordinary Hudson River brick barge), was far too insignificant to affect either local production or price. During the past few months the consumption of common brick from the Hudson River district has averaged more than thirty barge loads per week. This amounts to more than 12,000,000 brick every seven days, so it is easily seen that the arrival of a relatively few bricks from Nova Scotia naturally failed to effect the market for the domestic material.

It was rumored at first that the consignee would be able to discharge his brick at New York at a price far below the prevailing level of Hudson River brick. When, however, he had carefully figured his costs for transportation, unloading and distributing, the total was so high that in order to break even he had to get at least $20 per thousand wholesale, exactly what Hudson River manufacturers were charging for their brick, which are more satisfactory in every respect. Another fact which undoubtedly will prevent future speculative shipments of Canadian brick is that they vary somewhat in size from the American product and this in itself is sufficient reason for not making another trial along this line.

As far as European brick is concerned the local building industry is placing little faith in its arrival or in its ever growing into popularity, because from all accounts the foreign product differs radically in dimensions from the standardized American product. It has been reported on good authority that the brick which is said to be held in Danzig for shipment to the United States is about the size of the ordinary American fire brick, $9 \times 4\frac{1}{4} \times 2\frac{1}{2}$ inches, whereas the standard size of an American common brick is $8 \times 4 \times 2$ inches.

Provided this brick could be brought to this port and sold at \$10 to \$12 a thousand, its use would be limited, inasmuch as it would be necessary to redesign all of the projects in which it was scheduled to be used. Three of the ordinary common bricks laid side by side make a 12-inch wall. Three of the odd-sized brick from Danzig or any other European port laid in the same manner would make a wall $13\frac{1}{2}$ inches in thickness, which would throw out all specifications for structural steel, window and door frames, etc., and make it essential that architects prepare new plans to provide especially for the use of this brick.

Large Brooklyn Multi-Family Project Nearing Completion

Modern Apartment on Eastern Parkway, Planned by Charles B. Meyers, for Kellner Bros. & Sons, Financed by Prudence Bonds Corporation

CONSTRUCTION is progressing rapidly on a large multi-family house operation in one of the best residential sections of Brooklyn, and it is anticipated that the building will be entirely completed and ready for occupancy before October 1. This structure is located at the north-west corner of Eastern Parkway and Washington Avenue, directly opposite the main entrance to the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences, one of the choicest sites in the borough for a building of this character.

This structure, which will be called the George Washington Apartments, is being erected by Kellner Bros. & Sons, Inc., according to designs and plans of Charles B. Meyers, 31 Union Square, Manhattan. The land and building represents an investment of approximately $750,000.

The Prudence Bonds Corporation has made a ten-year guaranteed first mortgage loan of $400,000 on the land and building. Rentals in this building will range from $1,100 to $3,000 per year, according to the size of the apartments and the total annual rental value of the property is placed at $120,000.

The George Washington Apartments occupy a plot having a ground area of 20,500 square feet. The structure is six stories in height, with basement, and contains approximately 300 rooms. The various suites are divided into units of three, four, five, six and seven rooms, with one and two baths.

One of the distinctive features of this operation will be the main entrance corridor, which, when finished, will be one of the finest in New York City. The cost of this entrance corridor alone will be between $50,000 and $60,000. It will be in the Italian Renaissance style and constructed of vari-colored marble in a buff tone, graduated from a white Botticino base to columns and pilasters, seats and trim in rosato marble. The caps of the pilasters and columns and the cornice will be highly decorated in scagliola.

A number of the suites in this building have already been leased, and there is every indication that the remaining space in the building will be under contract at an early date, as the location of the building, with its excellent transit facilities, makes it one of the most interesting apartment house operations in Brooklyn.

Planning for Fire Prevention Exposition in October

AN effort to advance the campaign against preventable fire losses in the United States will be made through the Fire Prevention Exposition to be held in New York City, Oct. 2 to 7 at the Twenty-second Regiment Armory. Manufacturers of fire-restrictive materials have been invited to take part in the exhibit for the first time.

Property worth $1,300,000 is being burned every day and business men throughout the country have long realized the necessity of concentrated effort to reduce the loss, especially where fires are of origin that can be abolished through the exercise of more care and the use of fire-safe materials and apparatus.

The exposition originated with the Fire Prevention Committee of the National Association of Insurance Agents as part of its program of fire prevention activities. It has been endorsed by the National Fire Protection Association, the National Association of Credit Men, by President Frank G. Reynolds of the International Association of Fire Engineers, the National Board of Fire Underwriters and other national civic and commercial associations.

There will be displays of modern fire apparatus, of fire extinguishers of all kinds, of safety devices, fire-safe building materials and other appliances of interest to factory superintendents, managers and executives, business men, fire department officials, municipal authorities, and the public generally.

Plans are also being laid to have out-door demonstrations, fire drills by children, tests of fire apparatus, contests between modern and old fire engines and other spectacular features.

It is conceded by those who have discussed the exposition that it should be productive of great good, especially if different days be set aside for special events, such as children's day, governors' day, industrial day, etc.

At the exposition will also be started a movement to form a national junior fire brigade of boys who will aid in every way they can in suppressing and preventing fires.

A. E. MacKinnon, of 405 Lexington avenue, is Chairman of the Exposition Committee. James T. Catlin, Jr., Danville, Va., Chairman of the Fire Prevention Committee of the National Association of Insurance Agents, and Frank W. Lawson, American Building, Baltimore, regional Chairman of the Fire Prevention Committee, with Mr. MacKinnon, compose the Exposition Committee.

Local Building Increasing Despite Material Shortage

F. W. Dodge Company's Statistics for Thirty-Third Week of 1922 Shows Improvement in All Phases of Construction Industry

ALTHOUGH local building activity has been slowed down to some extent because of the adverse effects of the coal and railroad strikes there has apparently been no abatement in preparation for a continuation of the building movement throughout the autumn and winter seasons. According to statistics tabulated by the F. W. Dodge Company, the thirty-third week of 1922 was an especially active period when the volume of newly projected construction is considered.

During the week, in the territory including all of New York State and New Jersey, north of Trenton, architects and engineers reported work on plans for 621 building and engineering operations which will involve an estimated total cost of $21,532,200. Actual contract commitments in this territory during the same week numbered 389 and were representative of an outlay of more than $27,584,600.

A similar gain, when compared with the preceding weeks, was shown in New York City. During the week of August 12 to 18, inclusive, architects in Greater New York reported work on plans for 281 new construction projects which will require an outlay of approximately $12,888,100 and the contracts awarded in the city during the week numbered 100 and were valued at a total of $17,066,800.

The list of 281 projects for which plans were reported in New York City comprised 35 business buildings such as stores, offices, lofts, commercial garages, etc., $2,177,000; 6 schools and colleges and other educational buildings, $71,100; 2 hospitals, $2,060,000; 12 industrial projects of various types, $646,500; 2 public buildings, $23,000; 4 public works and public utilities, $141,000; 3 religious and memorial projects, $34,000; 211 residential buildings, including apartments, flats and tenements, and one-and-two-family dwellings, $6,630,000, and 6 social and recreational buildings, $159,500.

Among the 100 building and engineering projects for which contracts were awarded in New York City during the week of August 12 to 18, inclusive, were 18 commercial projects of various types, $3,305,000; 9 educational buildings such as schools, colleges, libraries, etc., $1,323,800; 1 hospital, $35,000; 7 factories and industrial plants, $10,507,000, the latter figure including the $10,000,000 power house for the Brooklyn Edison Company; 1 military structure, $18,000; 1 public building, $3,500; 4 public works and public utilities, $191,000; 2 religious and memorial projects, $285,000; 54 residential operations, including multi-family dwellings and one-and-two-family houses, $1,114,500, and 3 social and recreational buildings, $284,000.

PERSONAL AND TRADE NOTES.

The Batavia & New York Woodworking Co. announces the removal of its New York offices from 348 West 14th street to 31 Union Square.

Lawrence D. Markeloff, formerly field engineer for Stone & Webster, Inc., Boston, is now with the Fougner Concrete Steel Company, 29 Broadway, as designer and draftsman.

E. A. Cross, until recently superintendent of construction with W. L. Stoddard, architect, 9 East 40th street, has joined the engineering staff of Albert Kahn, architect and engineer, Detroit, Mich.

G. A. Stanton, formerly resident engineer with the Thompson-Starrett Co., is now resident engineer for the White Construction Company, 95 Madison avenue.

Calvin W. Rice, Secretary of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, was the guest of honor at a dinner held in the Engineers' Club, Monday evening, August 21, on the eve of his departure to South America as envoy of the engineering organizations in the United States to the Engineering Congress to be held in Rio de Janeiro in connection with the International Exposition commemorating the one hundredth anniversary of Brazilian independence.

William Francklyn Paris, well known as a decorative architect, was recently notified that he had been awarded the French Cross of the Chevalier of the Legion of Honor and had also been made a Belgian Knight of the Order of the Crown. Last May Mr. Paris was honored by election to membership in the Societe des Gens de Lettres. Mr. Paris was a commissioner of decorative art at the Paris Exposition in 1900, and has lectured on architecture at several Eastern colleges. He is the author of "The Decorative Elements of Architecture." During the World War he was an officer in the Twenty-seventh Division, New York National Guard.

Roger Bailey, Cornell University '19, was awarded the fifteenth annual Paris prize of the Society of Beaux Arts Architects. This award entitles Mr. Bailey to a two and one-half year's course at the Ecole des Beaux Arts in Paris. He receives in all $3,000, payable quarterly while abroad. The competition for the Paris Prize this year was based on drawings of a city hall. In a circular to the competitors the society described a city hall as "the chief edifice of a city and one that should unite perfectly the necessary and the beautiful." It was pointed out that municipal departments should be housed under one roof and that offices for the Mayor should be in a separate building, yet at the same time connected with the main structure. The building to be portrayed had to be seventeen stories high, containing 400,000 square feet of floor area. The jury making the award was composed of Henry O. Milliken, Chairman, James Gamble Rogers, Joseph H. Hunt, John M. Howells, Louis Ayres, F. L. Ackerman, H. R. Sedgwick, Robert Bellows of Boston and Paul Cret of Philadelphia.

John W. Rapp Is Dead

John W. Rapp, widely known in Metropolitan building circles, died suddenly from apoplexy while standing in the corridor of the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel, Philadelphia, Wednesday evening, August 16. Mr. Rapp was the organizer and president of the Empire Art Metal Company, College Point, L. I., and for many years had been prominently identified with the metal industry. He was born in New York City sixty-one years ago and had been a resident of College Point for forty years. Mr. Rapp was also the organizer of the Central Metal Products Company, which he subsequently sold to Geiger, Jones & Co., of Ohio, who later failed. Mr. Rapp, with his business associate of twenty years, William C. Lang, bought back this business and operated it. Mr. Rapp was an active member of the Queensboro Chamber of Commerce and the Engineers' Society. He is survived by his widow, a brother and three sisters.

Cement Output Gains

Production of Portland cement in the United States in July amounted to 1,557,000 barrels, compared with 1,245,000 in June and 9,568,000 in July last year. July shipments were 13,850,000 barrels, against 13,470,000 in June and 10,301,000 in last July. At the close of July stocks amounted to 8,424,000 barrels, compared with 10,718,000 at the close of June and 10,414,000 at the close of July, 1921. Production in the first seven months of this year has been 43,221,000 barrels; in the corresponding period last year it was 36,796,000 barrels. Shipments in the first seven months this year have totaled 48,661,000 barrels, and in the same months of last year 38,285,000 barrels.

CURRENT BUILDING OPERATIONS

CONSTRUCTION activity in the Metropolitan district has slowed down perceptibly during the past week or so on account of the coal and railroad strikes. The chief difficulty has been the retarded deliveries of essential materials such as structural steel, cement, lime, lumber, etc., and although there is a vast amount of new work under contract or in the final planning stages, prospective builders are hesitating about giving the word to start operations because of the uncertainty prevailing in some of the material lines.

The entire building industry is now looking forward to an early settlement of these strikes. There is every prospect for an unusually busy autumn and winter building season if supplies are assured. Architects and engineers are working on a number of important projects and the labor situation is now more favorable than it has been for some time past.

Common Brick—Local demand for this material seems to have slowed down to some extent and as a result the New York wholesale market has been less active during the past week. The effect of the coal and railroad strikes, which are responsible for retarded deliveries of structural steel, face brick, cement, lime and other essential materials, is reflected in a slower common brick market. For the first time in many months the supply is greater than the demand and at the present writing about a score of barges are on the market. The manufacturing season is progressing favorably, with the exception of the difficulties caused by the fuel shortage. Prices are holding, but they are not quite as firm as they were and there is said to be some shading where off-quality loads are involved.

Summary—Transactions in the North River common brick market for the week ending Thursday, August 24, 1922. Condition of market: Demand fair; prices unchanged but slightly weaker. Quotations: Hudson Rivers, $20 a thousand to dealers in cargo lots alongside dock. Number of cargoes arrived, 36; sales, 28. Distribution: Manhattan, 6; Bronx, 4; Brooklyn, 14; New Jersey points, 2; Astoria, 2. Remaining unsold in the New York wholesale market, 22.

Structural Steel—But little new tonnage business is being recorded at the present time because of the mill situation resulting from the coal and coke shortage. The recent bookings have been for relatively small tonnages, and although there is a large amount of business in sight, it is doubtful if it will be released until deliveries are more assured. Local stocks are diminishing rapidly and prices are advancing steadily. Deliveries on fabricated material are advanced to cover a range of two to four months, and at that only a few of the mills will accept new orders, and then only from their old customers. Builders who have important improvements in mind are inclined to hold off until the steel situation becomes more certain. The July sales of fabricated structural steel amounted to 62 per cent. of shop capacity, as against 71 per cent. in June, according to reports made to the Department of Commerce by almost the entire fabricating industry. Actual sales in July amounted to 127,765 tons by firms having a total capacity of 204,540 tons. The capacity of the 121 firms reporting to the Department of Commerce is considerably larger than the previously estimated total shop capacity of the United States.

Lumber—The local market is active as a general thing and trade conditions are satisfactory in both the wholesale and retail departments. The retail demand has been especially good during the past few

"THE ACCOMMODATING HOUSE"

Coney Island Ave. and Ave. H, Brooklyn, N. Y.

MATERIALS AND SUPPLIES

weeks and dealers are confident of a continuation of active business conditions for the autumn months. Although lumber shipments by rail are being retarded because of the strike, water shipments are adequate and the local lumber market is in a better position than those for other basic building materials. Prices are firm on practically all lumber commodities, with a decided upward trend on yellow pine and several other items. The demand for roofers has been exceptionally heavy and the market is now oversold and a decided shortage prevails in certain of the flooring items and interior trim.

Cast Iron Pipe—Foundries in this district are complaining of a growing shortage in pig iron caused by the railroad and coal strikes. Although all are getting raw material, the shipments are lighter and considerably delayed. As a result of this condition the demand is in excess of the supply and prices are advancing. Practically no municipal business is being recorded and this is largely due to the realization that deliveries on new contracts will be uncertain for some time to come. What business is now active is emanating from private buying sources. Current New York quotations are as follows: 6 in. and larger, $54.50 per net ton, f. o. b. New York; 4 in. and 5 in., $59, and 3 in., $64.80, with Class A and gas pipe $4 extra per ton.

Face Brick—Dealers are being offered more business than they are able to handle, particularly as the coal strike has retarded production and the upset railroad freight situation is seriously delaying deliveries. The manufacturers of face brick are complaining of the shortage of cars for the transportation of their products and until the strikes are settled there is little possibility of a stabilized market. Prices are advancing because of the increased fuel costs.

Reinforcing Bars—Prices on concrete reinforcing bars are rapidly advancing. The demand has improved to some extent during the past week or so and this fact is largely due to the increased volume of industrial construction. Several large operations are now in the market and they will involve a heavy total tonnage.

Roofing Paper—No change in this market has occurred during the past week. Buyers are very active and the demand is likely to hold steady for some months to come, as there is a large amount of suburban construction under way, a considerable percentage of which is not scheduled for completion until the end of the year. Stocks are fair and prices steady and unchanged.

Nails—Buying continues active and there is every reason to anticipate good business for the balance of the year as a vast amount of new construction is under contract and waiting for a start. The shortage in some sizes has been relieved slightly, but at that local reserves are light and prospects for early deliveries from manufacturers not particularly bright. Prices are very firm and slightly higher. Jobbers' quotations, f. o. b. New York, are as follows: Wire nails, $3.35 base per keg; cut nails, $3.90 base per keg.

Window Glass—The approach of the autumn has caused builders of apartment house projects in this district to speed up their operations in order to be ready for the fall renting season. This activity on the part of speculative building interests has increased the demand for window glass and from all accounts the market is now at the season's peak. Reports from distributors are indicative of a scarcity of window glass and prices are very firm.

BLACKMAR'S ASBESTOS LIQUID ROOFING

Standard Leak-proof Roof Covering of the World. Not a roof paint. It is a new roof. One application will make old leaky roofs just like new at a cost of about 14c sq. ft. Prepared in containers ready for use. WE CHALLENGE any manufacturer to a comparison of materials by analysis, test of durability and process of manufacturing. There is not a better Asbestos Liquid or Plastic Cement Roofing at any price. Not affected by the coldest winter weather or the hottest blazing sun; resilient, elastic, expands and contracts with the surface on which it is applied. Will never crack. Air, rain or moisture cannot penetrate the material, absolutely impervious to water, nonporous, permitting no passage of moisture in any degree into or through the material.

Safeguarding New York in Coal Crisis

How much anthracite coal will be available for the winter months still remains uncertain, and the anxiety of consumers increases with each passing day. While the Washington authorities are bending their efforts to bring about a resumption of mining on a large scale, it is foreseen that, no matter how successful these efforts may ultimately prove, a serious shortage in the supply must be expected. Governor Miller has gone into the situation thoroughly and is convinced that a real emergency exists. For this reason the Governor has brought about the enactment of a special law at Albany calculated to afford the people of New York State as square a deal as possible in the distribution of such supplies of coal as may be allotted to this state by the Federal authorities.

Acting on the Governor's recommendation, the Legislature at Albany early this week passed unanimously a drastic measure to safeguard the interests of the Empire State until such time as the mining and hauling and distribution of coal again becomes normal. Under the Governor's plan, the State Coal Administrator appointed by him will have the powers of a dictator and will have the financial backing of the state up to $10,000,000 in his operations. With a revolving fund of this size, the new Coal Administrator will be able to exert a powerful influence in the purchase and distribution of the coal. Under other powers with which he has been clothed by the Legislature he should be able to protect the public against undue hoarding of coal and against profiteering.

The celerity with which Governor Miller has acted in this emergency, and the promptness and unanimity with which his program has been accepted by the Legislature, is the most encouraging development thus far in the situation. Notice has been served that, insofar as the State Government is able to act in the matter, it means business. The members of the Legislature did well to reject the suggestion that control of the coal supply be placed in the hands of municipal commissions. That plan, had it been adopted, would have defeated its own purpose. It was far wiser to put the whole business on a state-wide basis, and there is no reason to assume but that each section of the state will receive fair and just treatment under the plan adopted.

It was, perhaps, too much to expect that the State Legislature could assemble without a display of that modern malady best described as "landlorditis." Senator Lockwood, as its chief victim, displayed symptoms of a new attack by expressing the fear that the Governor's emergency coal plan might break down that part of his precious housing emergency laws which requires landlords to keep apartment houses heated. Very properly the other members of the Legislature paid little attention to Senator Lockwood's fears on this point. Its absurdity was cleared up later by Governor Miller himself, who pointed out that the emergency housing laws make it a penal offense for a landlord to refuse "willfully" to supply heat, hot water and elevator service. Obviously, as the Governor declared, if the landlord cannot get coal he is not "willfully" depriving his tenant of that service. Nor is there any justification for the assumption that in the coal emergency New York landlords will fail to make every effort to keep their buildings as warm and habitable as possible under the circumstances.

Hurdles Ahead of Hylan's Plan

When the Mayor of New York announces his purpose to spend $600,000,000 on extensions of the city's transit lines the fact becomes of more than passing interest to taxpayers as well as strap-hangers. Regardless of its merits or defects, it is inevitable that there will be wide discussion of Mayor Hylan's program because of the official source from which it emanates. In the natural course of events the Mayor's plan will be submitted to the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, a public hearing will be held, and the Mayor may be able to command enough support in the Board to have his plan approved. It is difficult to see, however, what further progress the Hylan plan can make. There is no blinking the fact that under the law as it stands the authority in this matter is lodged in the Transit Commission of which George McAneny is Chairman.

Some parts of Mayor Hylan's statement announcing his plan are obviously political in their effect. If it were the Mayor's intention to throw the rapid-transit question further into politics than it already is he hardly could have adopted a more effective method.

The extension of the city's transit facilities has been neglected all too long and the average citizen is not apt to forget that no recent progress toward better conditions was made until the Legislature and the Governor last year created the State Transit Commission and gave it power to tackle the problem in earnest. And until the law is changed New York must look to the McAneny Commission for whatever extensions and improvements are made in the city's transit facilities.

Bricklaying Here and in the West

A study of bricklaying efficiency was recently made in San Francisco by a member of the staff of the Industrial Association of that city. This study involved the work of an American Plan crew of four bricklayers, two of whom were mechanics of first-class ability and two of second-rate calibre, under the supervision of an experienced foreman, who was also in sympathy with the American Plan. The job was a seventeen-inch wall of a four-story apartment house, made of San Jose common brick, with concave joints, and an inside finish. The work was observed at regular intervals for an entire week and it was found that an average of 2,035 bricks were laid per day per man.

Although this was manifestly a test case and in all probability the crew had previously been informed that a study of its efficiency was to be made, the facts developed do not portray an isolated instance of what a decade or so ago would have been considered locally as normal bricklaying efficiency. According to records and reports in the possession of the San Francisco Industrial Association, numerous actual cases are cited which show that the efficiency of the average building trades mechanic is rapidly and consistently increasing under the American Plan.

Testimony of three of the most reliable contractors in San Francisco shows that in 1921 the average production on plain walls was approximately 1,700 bricks per day per man, which was about fifteen per cent. less than the recognized standard of 2,000 bricks per day per man in pre-war times. In San Francisco this gratifying increase in the skill and production not only of bricklayers but of men in all crafts identified with the construction industry, is directly traceable to the abrogation of the rules and regulations designed to limit output by curtailing efficiency which prevailed prior to the adoption of the American Plan.

Undoubtedly local contractors will be somewhat disheartened when they compare the results of the recent San Francisco study of bricklaying efficiency with the rate of production they are now getting on Metropolitan projects. Although building trade mechanics in this district now command the highest wages ever paid in this country, the general efficiency of building craftsmen as a whole is far below normal and only slightly improved since the war period when efficiency reached its lowest ebb.

On the authority of several reliable and experienced contractors bricklayers in New York City are at the present time not averaging 1,000 bricks per day per man on straight walls. According to many builders the average is nearer 800 than 1,000. This is not the production limit by any means, as there are authentic cases where in Brooklyn and the Bronx, on speculative apartment-house operations, mechanics have laid as high as 1,500 bricks per day and sometimes more, and have maintained this rate of production for protracted periods. The secret of the relatively-high rate of efficiency on these jobs, however, was found in the bonus wages offered by speculative builders in order to rush their operations to completion for the autumn renting season.

A decidedly different condition prevails on commercial and public work. On local building projects, except those of a purely speculative character, only the recognized union scale is offered by contractors. On these jobs the contractors admit, sorrowfully perhaps, that they average less than 1,000 bricks per day per man, but several have been told that this production could be materially increased upon the payment of a bonus above the scale.

During the past year or so building material costs have been substantially reduced from their war-time peaks. Construction costs have not relatively decreased, however, because of the inefficiency of labor and its exceedingly high cost. A very important part of the total cost of a building project is now charged to labor and until this cost is lowered, first by wage scales in closer relation to material prices, and second, by increased efficiency of mechanics, construction costs will continue at unreasonably high levels.

There are some things about the American Plan as it is practiced in San Francisco that are not fully understood and some which will not harmonize with the ideas of local organized building labor groups and the contractors' organization, but if under this plan the efficiency of mechanics is improved to the extent shown by the recent study in San Francisco there must be something in it that might well be considered by local contracting interests which earnestly desire a stabilized industry.

Gives Principal Reason Why Budget Making Is Inefficient

STEWART BROWNE, President of the United Real Estate Owners' Association, discussing the 1923 budget, the departmental estimates for which are being received by the Secretary of the Board of Estimate, said:

"The 1923 budget will be at least $360,000,000 as against $350,000,000 for 1922. In this connection it should not be forgotten that the budget is not in any way tied up with and limited to the 2 per cent. constitutional tax rate which latter only refers to the tax levy. Budget making is defective because the aggregate amount is passed at a time when the Board of Estimate has no knowledge what the aggregate assessed valuations of realty made in the same year will be, nor what the aggregate credits to the General Fund will be, so that the expenditures are fixed before knowing what the income will be. Therefore there is always subsequent manipulation and 'kiting' to make the two balance. This condition of affairs is due to charter defects and it is to be hoped that before another year comes round the charter will be amended so as to provide for proper budget making. The greatest defect in budget making is that those who vote the budget vote for larger appropriations than are necessary solely from vote-getting necessities. The budget would be very much smaller if the appropriations were left to the municipal civil service heads who have the supervision of the budget making but who are usually over-ruled by their 'elected superiors.'

"The only saving grace in budget making is that the members of the Board of Estimate object to an increase in the tax rate especially in election years, but unfortunately this is generally saved by increasing the assessed valuations of realty and by budget manipulation."

Course in Commercial Geology at New York University

A COURSE in commercial geology, the first of its kind ever introduced into a university, has been announced by the School of Commerce of New York University. The course will be given by Dr. Ernest R. Lilley, Sc.D., and is designed especially to teach present and prospective builders, contractors and purchasing agents how to know the materials with which they have to deal. The basic mineral materials used in industry, including iron and steel, copper, tin and the minor metals, gold, silver and platinum, and the different kinds of building stone, lime, cement and brick, will be discussed. There will also be lectures on coal, oil and the fertilizer industry. These lectures will discuss methods of exploitation and conservation, including mining and preparation for market, and relation between market prices and production costs. It is expected a large number of students will take this course.

REAL ESTATE SECTION

Legislature Passes Bill For State Coal Administrator

Official to Be Appointed by Gov. Miller Will Regulate Distribution, Use, Price and Rationing of Fuel During the Existing Emergency

Albany, August 30.

BY an unanimous vote in both branches the Legislature, called in special session by Gov. Miller, has enacted into law his recommendations to safeguard the interests of the people of the state in the emergency caused by the strikes in the anthracite and bituminous coal fields and of shopmen on the railroads. The Legislature met Monday night and adjourned Tuesday afternoon, after passing the bill, to which Gov. Miller affixed his signature Tuesday evening.

In his message explaining the necessity for the enactment of emergency legislation the Governor outlined the situation as follows.

"Happily the resumption of mining in the bituminous fields has averted the threatened national calamity from the suspension of industry. The shortage of bituminous coal promises to be speedily relieved if the railroads are able to transport it. The menace at the moment arises from the shortage of anthracite coal. There are no stocks of anthracite anywhere and surveys so far made indicate that there is less than the usual amount in the hands of consumers. Five months of production have already been lost and cannot be made up, as, unlike the bituminous situation, the capacity of the anthracite mines is but little above the consumption of the country mostly during the winter months. The summer is the time for the accumulation of supplies for the winter. The summer production has been lost and the resumption of mining is not yet in sight.

"If production were resumed tomorrow the situation would probably be aggravated by the impairment of railroad equipment which will soon be taxed to move the crops. Whatever happens, there is bound to be a shortage of domestic fuel and every day's delay in the resumption of mining now adds in increasing ratio to the menace. There is bound to be such a shortage as to require rationing to insure everyone a fair share of what there may be. Hoarding and gouging always attendant upon a shortage must be prevented. In any case unless the State intervenes those who can pay most will be served first, whereas the least able must be our first concern for they are totally unprepared to cope with a fuel shortage. We must practice rigid economy. That may have to be enforced.

"Those who have anthracite coal should save it all for severe weather. It will be easier to use substitutes now and during the cold snaps of fall and early winter than after cold weather sets in. Oil, gas and electricity should be substituted for anthracite whenever possible and people should equip themselves with the facilities to use them. Wood will have to be used by those who can procure it and it is well to lay in a stock now. There promises to be enough bituminous coal if it can be transported to care for the needs of industry and the public utilities and we must learn how to use it for domestic fuel. Hydro-electric energy may have to be diverted from industrial to household uses. Light, heat and power, however produced, may have to be regulated and their use possibly curtailed for some purposes.

"In a word, the State must intervene or leave the public to shift for themselves in a situation which has got beyond the operation of economic law or the power of individual action.

The State must intervene in an emergency or confess that, except under normal conditions, it has not the power, the capacity or the energy to serve the high purpose of its creation, i. e., the promotion of the general welfare."

Gov. Miller added that he did not contemplate putting the State into the coal business but to create an agency with power enough to make it unnecessary for the State to go into the coal business.

The Governor was interested in the criticism of the measure as made by Senator Lockwood and others to the effect that the Fuel Administrator could nullify those sections of the housing laws, also passed as an emergency measure, compelling landlords to furnish hot water, heat and elevator service.

"The decisions of the Court of Appeals and of the United States Supreme Court in the so-called rent or housing cases appear to remove any doubt of the constitutional validity of the legislation proposed," declared the Governor. "The present emergency directly involves the public health and the general welfare. The temporary interruption of transportation due to terminal conditions in New York harbor has on two occasions within recent years created conditions from lack of fuel in the tenement districts of New York, which no one can calmly contemplate having repeated on a larger scale. The courts have held that government is not impotent in such an emergency and it is for us who are charged with responsibility to demonstrate its capacity to protect its citizens."

The outstanding provisions of the law enacted at the suggestion of Gov. Miller are as follows:

1. Appointment of a State Fuel Administrator with plenary powers of regulation, investigation, control and distribution of fuel. The governor will make the appointment promptly.
2. The administrator is authorized to buy and sell fuel for public and private consumption.
3. He is empowered to fix the price at which fuel may be bought and sold and in his discretion rests the licensing of fuel dispensers.
4. A revolving fund of $10,000,000 for the purchase of fuel by the State administrator for public and private distribution is created by appropriation.
5. All conflicting laws and ordinances, the effect of which would be to hamper the activities of the fuel administrator, are negated by implication during the existence of the emergency upon which this law is predicated.
6. The administrator may seize fuel supplies, privately owned or otherwise, and may require dealers in fuel to report to him concerning supplies, prices and other particulars. If the compensation fixed by the administrator for seized supplies is questioned, the owner of such fuel may resort to an action for recovery in the State Court of Claims.
7. The administrator may issue subpoenas, compel the production of books and the attendance of witnesses at hearings held in connection with inquiries designed to disclose coal or fuel reserves.
8. Every governmental agency, State or local, is required to assist the administrator in his work.
9. Violation of any orders, rules or regulations promulgated by the administrator shall constitute a misdemeanor punishable by a fine not in excess of $1,000 or a jail sentence of a year or both.
10. Municipalities are freed from all statutory provisions with regard to bidding and contract for fuel, and may issue certificates of indebtedness to cover purchases of fuel for municipal use.
11. The administrator may order the closing of schools, theatres and other places of congregation.

Revival of Activity in Real Estate Along Third Avenue

Main Thoroughfare to Northward in Early Times, But Which Later Was Out-classed, Is Now Experiencing Notable Modern Development

THIRD Avenue, New York's oldest longitudinal trade and traffic thoroughfare, has during the last six months witnessed marked real estate activity from its beginning at the Bowery and Cooper Square to its farther end at the Harlem River. The buying is about even as between operators and investors. Often a real estate movement starts among operators who take profits before properties pass finally to investors. The present Third Avenue real-estate movement, however, may be said to have started among the best kind of investors, tenants of numerous of the stores on the avenue. Each took courage from the buying by others, with the result that operators stepped into the field and have bought from old owners and soon re-sold to tenants in some cases and to other investors in others.

When Manhattan first grew far to the northward it was along the line of Third Avenue. The first elevated railroad of any length was the one from Chatham Square to Harlem through the Bowery and Third Avenue. Previous to that era the horse-car line through Third Avenue was one of the early modes of travel. Consequently the avenue is ancient in its structural character. Old-fashioned three and four-story tenement houses, with stores, are in the majority. There are a few modern buildings scattered through its length, but no large ones.

Third Avenue always has been a strong thoroughfare for local shoppers. There is a density of population on and contiguous to it and especially to the east of it. Much of this population shops in the avenue and the rest of it shops there in part. The thoroughfare varies, in spots, in residential and trade character. Most of it though it good. For trade purposes one side of the street is as good as the other.

It is asserted by those in a position to know that prohibition has had much to do with the increasing trade strength of Third Avenue. Thousands of the families who occupy the tenement houses adjacent to the avenue are more prosperous and have more money to spend on the essentials of life since the Eighteenth Amendment went into effect. It is estimated that trade conditions there have been better since that time. During the last twelve months they have been better than ever.

The avenue was among the last to witness increased rental of stores and tenements. The reason was that the tenements and stores were antiquated, the stores lacking modern fronts and attractive show windows. Numerous old estates own properties there and they have been loath to increase rents markedly as they have been loath to make alterations and renovations of their holdings. It was felt for a long time that properties were bringing all that they ever would bring.

Economic conditions caused by the world war resulted in increment of Third-avenue real estate generally. The enormously increased cost of new construction made the old buildings on the avenue valuable. Many small merchants who felt that they could not pay the largely-increased rentals on stores and buildings elsewhere came into Third Avenue to do business within the limit of their means. This started an upward trend of rentals. Competition for best locations became so keen that many of the older merchants along the thoroughfare determined to buy the buildings their stores were in so as to be sure of permanency. This became so frequent as to attract the attention of operators who saw the possibilities in buying old buildings and modernizing them. The circumstance shows the value of the operator to an old thoroughfare. They have proven in Third Avenue that they have more courage than the old estate owners have. Many of the latter have sold their holdings to operators within recent months at good prices, values that a few years ago they never thought they would obtain. They are satisfied and the new owners are going ahead with renovations and remodeling both of stores and tenements, many of which they will resell as fast as they complete the improvements. Most of these old buildings, ranging in age from forty to seventy-five years, are cold-water tenements with one family on a floor. Hardly any of them have more than two families on a floor, except where the buildings are comparatively modern. Antiquated buildings were a cause of depreciating values, whereas their modernization will in the end more than restore values.

An important contributing factor to the renaissance of Third Avenue is the operation of the rapid transit route through Lexington Avenue, one block away. For all practical purposes it is a second transit route for Third Avenue. The Lexington-avenue line is bound to help all of the region that the Third-avenue elevated had so long served alone. It is tending to make the East Side of town a rival, to a degree, of the West Side. The effect will be more preceptible when numerous modern buildings appear. The newcomers among merchants in Third Avenue are having a tendency to tone up its trade character. Good restaurants have supplanted saloons in many cases. Women's specialty shops and more book stores form some of the noticeable new lines of business in the avenue. There is more and more a tendency for the inferior lines of trade to locate elsewhere. The most noticeable lines there now are haberdashers, jewelers, good markets, hardware shops, sporting goods, florists, confectioners, druggists, art and picture stores, moving picture theatres, five-and-ten-cent stores, dry good stores, crockery merchants, large retail furniture stores, household supplies, shoe dealers, chain hatters and other lines that make up an improving retail thoroughfare. Branches of large downtown banks have not yet appeared in Third Avenue, but there are some in Lexington Avenue, while some old banks have their main buildings in Third Avenue.

There are numerous old frame tenement houses with stores on the avenue. They date back to the era when the thoroughfare was a country road north of Fourteenth Street and when stages were the means of general transportation. With the arrival of increased values these old landmarks are destined to give way to the modern improvements that are suitable.

From about Ninetieth to One Hundredth Streets on Third Avenue a fraction of Harlem's colored population holds forth. The buildings there are mostly of the oldest types and the fact that the old estates owning many of them will not modernize their sites has had much to do with the influx of the colored population. Modern improvements here will cause an exodus of these tenants.

Many good-sized dry goods and furniture firms occupy stores and even entire buildings in the part of Third Avenue from One Hundred and Sixteenth to One Hundred and Twenty-fifth Streets. The most distinctive structural improvement in the avenue so far is a large stone garage on the southwest corner of Seventieth Street. Larger improvements, in the form of modern business buildings, are bound to come in all parts of Third Avenue within the next few years.

In the past leases to stores in the avenue seldom ran for terms longer than from three to five years. Now longer terms are in order. For example, the United Cigar Stores Company leased from George Ehret the old buildings, 50x100, at the northeast corner of Third Avenue and Eighty-sixth Street for a term of twenty-one years, with privilege of renewal. The aggregate rental is about $500,000 net. The cigar company has sub-leased to a contractor at a profit and he will improve the site with a modern business building. The same company also leased the store and basement in the northwest corner of Third Avenue and One Hundred and Sixteenth Street for a long term.

The A. Schulte Company recently leased from the Stuyvesant estate the six old three-story brick buildings, with stores, at the southwest corner of Third Avenue and Four-

Mayor Hylan Makes Public His Plans For New Subways

Prepares Thirty-five Additional Lines and Extensions, With Bus Feeders, Recapture of Existing Routes and Elimination of "L" and Surface Cars

MAYOR HYLAN made public last Monday his program for the extension of the present subway system from 111 miles to 237 miles, by building 35 new routes, links and extensions of existing lines at an expenditure of $600,000,000. The work, according to the mayor's proposal, would take fifteen years and is therefore divided into three groups to be begun at intervals of five years. Included in Mayor Hylan's plans is the "recapture" by the city of the Interborough and Brooklyn Rapid Transit subways, and their operation by the city in connection with the new lines, and the eventual elimination of all elevated and surface roads, without recompense to their present owners, and the substitution as feeders to the subways of a large number of municipal bus lines costing $25,000,000. In advocacy of his plan the mayor gave out an extended statement, a large part of which was devoted to a history of subway building by the city under the original contract made in 1900, with the late John B. McDonald, known as Contract No. 1, under which twenty-two miles of West Side subway were constructed and opened in 1905-8, at a cost of $54,000,000; Contract No. 2, for the extension of No. 1 from City Hall, Manhattan, to Flatbush Avenue, three miles, opened in 1908, costing $6,000,000; Contracts Nos. 3 and 4, made in 1913, with the Interborough, forty-eight miles, and the B. R. T., thirty-nine miles, known as the Dual Subway contracts, bringing the total cost to the city up to the present time of 111 miles of subways, with 331 single track mileage, at close to $300,000,000. Mayor Hylan states that the city has not received a single dollar out of its entire investment in subways, except interest and amortization on about one-fifth of the amount.

On the contrary, the mayor says, "Since 1904, when the subways were first put into operation, the Interborough Rapid Transit Company has paid to its stockholders a total of 187½ per cent dividends ($65,625,000) or an average of about 12½ per cent a year for fifteen years, until 1919. During all that time the city has received only 5 per cent interest on the bonds issued for the construction of the first subways (Contracts 1 and 2), plus 1 per cent amortization to redeem at the end of fifty years, the fifty-odd millions bonds which the city issued for this purpose."

The people are entitled to all the security that the city operation as well as city ownership can give them. Under city operation there will be no strikes or other labor disturbances, because the city will always maintain an equitable wage scale, and subway earnings and profits will be used for the benefit of the people themselves and not for the benefit of a few "insiders" in the operating companies. The employees themselves will be part owners in the property, and there will be no extravagant salaries, fancy bonuses or inside "grafts" for those "higher up."

The city does not intend to invest another dollar of public funds in rapid transit lines for the benefit of private operators; nor does it intend to invest a single dollar in the acquisition of antiquated elevated and surface lines controlled by these private operators, which Mr. McAneny, Chairman of Governor Miller's State Transit Commission, insists willy nilly, that the city must do.

The city intends to invest the public funds solely for the benefit of the people themselves—in new rapid transit lines. It intends to end its one-sided partnership with the Interborough and Brooklyn Rapid Transit Companies to which Mr. McAneny tied the city in 1913, as soon as such severance is legally possible, and it intends to "recapture" the lines operated by these companies under the "recapture" provision in the contracts.

Mayor Hylan declares that the authority for such recapture is contained in Contracts Nos. 3 and 4, which provide for the taking over of the entire system after ten years of operation upon payment to the companies of a liberal profit for the equipment, on one year's notice in writing. He adds that the Transit Commission has no discretion in the matter, but must act as agent for the city, upon direction of the Board of Estimate.

The mayor rehearses the plans for new rapid transit lines proposed by the State Transit Commission, of which George McAneny is chairman, and declares that the commission proposes to spend $600,000,000 largely for the purchase of old worn-out and out-of-date surface and elevated lines. Mayor Hylan says:

The city does not intend that any such proposition as that of the State Transit Commission shall be adopted. It will spend its money only for new rapid transit lines, not for old transportation properties.

The State Commission's plan, if carried out, would increase the city's bonded debt, exhaust the city's borrowing margin, increase carfares, and would add not one dollar to the assessed value of taxable real estate. Not only this, but the operation of all the lines which the State Commission wishes thus to acquire with the people's money would be left in the hands of virtually the same persons who now own and operate them and from whom they would be purchased, and the city would only be "holding the bag"—and an empty one at that.

Taking up the question of financing the construction of the new lines, Mayor Hylan says:

The present net revenues of the recaptured portions of the subway lines will carry and release about 500 million dollars of new city bonds from the debt margin, which will be used to finance the city's subway plan. The balance of the funds needed for this purpose will be easily carried and amortized out of additional revenues obtained from the operation of newly constructed lines and extensions.

The city is well able at this time to finance all the initial stages of new subway construction without increasing its borrowing capacity a single dollar. The borrowing margin to-day is about $150,000,000, in spite of the fact that the city has exempted from taxation for a period of ten years all buildings erected for residential purposes from April 1, 1921, to April 1, 1923.

If the city spends its available borrowing margin and additional bond credit to construct new rapid transit lines, it will add hundreds of millions of dollars each year to the assessed value of taxable real estate and expand the city's borrowing margin accordingly.

With the beginning of the construction of the new rapid transit lines real estate values in all parts of the city will jump just as they did in 1900, when the construction of the original subway lines was begun. It is estimated that the total increase in all boroughs in taxable land values and in new buildings during the next fifteen years of continuous subway construction will exceed five billion dollars. This will add $500,000,000 to the city's borrowing capacity. The assessed value of real estate increased more than six billion dollars since the first subway was built.

The city's annual revenue will also greatly increase because of increased assessments due to new subways.

The earliest date for the "recapture" of any substantial part of the city's subways operated by the Interborough Rapid Transit Company, Mayor Hylan points out, is 1925, when ten years will have expired since the operation of the Steinway Tunnel from Forty-second Street to Long Island City. Under the "recapture" provision in the contract, the city will then be able to take over a complete "leg" of the system operated by the Interborough.

"For tactical and operating reasons," the mayor says, "the city in 1925, will take over the west side subway, which runs from 242nd Street and Broadway to the Battery and to Atlantic Avenue, Brooklyn, and which has branches from Ninety-sixth Street and Broadway to Bronx Park and along White Plains Road to Mount Vernon; and a branch in Brooklyn extending from the Atlantic Avenue station through Eastern Parkway, with branches through Nostrand to Flatbush Avenue, and on Livonia Avenue through the Brownsville district to New Lots Road.

"The first date for the 'recapture' of any substantial part of the city's subway operated by the Brooklyn Rapid Transit is 1926, when the city will be able to take over the entire system, extending from Eighty-sixth Street, South Brooklyn, through Broadway (Manhattan) into Queens Borough."

Referring to the existing surface and elevated lines Mayor Hylan promises that "in the built-up sections of Manhattan, Bronx and Brooklyn, they will ultimately be removed, because their continued operation will be unprofitable. These elevated structures will begin to disappear after the first period of new city construction. Each successive period will result in further elimination of elevated lines and eventually all these unsightly structures will be gone."

The new subway routes and extensions and links of old subway lines, as proposed by Mayor Hylan, are as follows:

1. Construct two-track extension from Fifty-ninth street and Seventh avenue across Central Park to Sixty-third street and Central Park West; north on Central Park West to Seventy-second street, west on Seventy-second street to Amsterdam avenue; four tracks north on Amsterdam avenue to One Hundred and Sixty-second street; three tracks on St. Nicholas avenue to One Hundred and Sixty-eighth street; on Broadway to Dyckman street.

Short shrift was made of Mayor Hylan's proposed plan, which came in the form of an amendment to the bill, for the authorization of New York to operate municipal bus lines. Under this amendment New York City could issue certificates of indebtedness aggregating $5,000,000 for financing the Hylan municipal bus plan. The pretext for the suggestion was that a shortage of coal would seriously interfere with the operation of the subway and surface lines in Greater New York.

But while the amendment was under legislative consideration Commissioner LeRoy T. Harkness of the Transit Commission issued a statement that no concern should be felt about the transit situation in New York City on account of a coal shortage.

"We are practically out of the woods as far as soft coal is concerned," he said. "The strikes have been settled and there is excess capacity in the mines that will permit of a large surplus production."

Review of Real Estate Market for the Current Week

A Lower Fifth Avenue Building, Some New Building Sites and Dealing in Old Flats and Dwellings Sustained a Slow Summer Market

THERE was a dearth of dealing in real estate this week. The outstanding features of the market were few and in a week of average dealing they would not be marked. They were the sale of a small business building on lower Fifth avenue; a site for a 12-story building on East Thirtieth street, between Madison and Fourth avenues; a site for a 15-story apartment house on Park avenue, adjoining the northeast corner of Thirty-seventh street; and an old lower Water street corner parcel to a buyer who for many years was a tenant of part of the property. The salient transactions were sufficient in size and number to save the face of a week so dull as to prove that big dealing will not be resumed until the latter part of September if not later.

An exchange of real estate that showed interest in two boroughs was that by Samuel Brenner, operator, who traded a corner elevator apartment house on Washington Heights for two non-elevator apartment houses on a Bronx corner. There was some interest shown in Eighth avenue property. An upper Greenwich street corner was bought by operators after a long ownership by an investor. Several dwellings throughout the city, especially in the lower West side, were sold for the purpose of remodeling them into small apartments. It will be recalled that last autumn many dwellings in the upper West side and in Harlem were bought for the same purpose. Probably the Seventh avenue rapid transit route is causing a demand for small suites in the lower West side. Some old West side flats were bought for the purpose of modernizing.

Some medium class and fine dwellings were bought, mostly for occupancy, in the West side, in the upper Fifth and Madison avenue neighborhoods and in Harlem. There were hardly any large apartment houses sold anywhere in town. There was a fair demand for old fashioned double flats throughout the city, primarily in the Yorkville district and farther north. Title passed to Frank J. Farrell and others of a large tract on the East side of Marble Hill, near King's Bridge, which tract was at one time seriously considered as a ball field for the Yankees. What the new owners will do with this parcel has not been announced yet.

Selling in the Bronx was well diversified, but the dealing was not as heavy as usual. Some fair-sized vacant plots shared honors with general dealing in improved parcels. Brooklyn and Queens' real estate was as active as could be expected of a summer market.

RECENT LEASES.

An Old Firm Makes New Lease

Charles F. Noyes Co. leased for George A. Powers, Mary A. Powers and Florence E. Woodworth, to H. T. Dewey & Sons Co., the entire building 138 Fulton st. for 21 years from May 1, 1927, at an aggregate rental of approximately $500,000, including taxes and operation. The lease is of unusual interest because it shows that this important company has taken the premises 5 years in advance and is leasing the entire building on a net rental basis, primarily to hold its ground floor location. The business of the leasing company was established in 1857. In 1865 offices were established at 201 Broadway, where the organization remained until 1881, when a small amount of space was rented in 138 Fulton st. So the company has been in the building just rented for 41 consecutive years and the business has always been under the direct control of the Dewey family, who were the originators of it. In addition to the premises at 138 Fulton st. the Dewey Company has secured four basements in 815 Nassau st., which are connected with 138 Fulton st. Fred Ingraham was the attorney for the owners and Henry W. Twombly, of Putney, Twombly & Putney, represented the tenants.

Takes a Broadway Loft

Wright Barclay, Inc., leased for a term of years the 3d floor in 327 Broadway to the Werthy Fabric Co., Inc.

Long Lease on West Side

H. M. Weill Co. leased for the L. V. H. Realty Corporation, for a term of 21 years, the 4-sty building, 230 32 West 38th st., on a plot 49x100, to the Shenandoah Steel & Iron Corporation. The total rental is about $200,000. Extensive alterations are contemplated.

Restaurateurs Lease

Joseph Logomasini and others leased for a term of 10 years the store, southeast corner of Downing and Varick sts., and the basement in the building being constructed at West Houston, Varick and Downing sts., for restaurant purposes. The tenants contemplate making extensive alterations at once in order to open the restaurant on or before October 1.

One Lessee for Two Dwellings

Douglas L. Elliman & Co., Inc., leased for clients to Charles P. Beiling 109 West 57th st., a 4-sty and basement brick dwelling, on a lot 20x100.5; and 113 West 57th st., a 4-sty and basement brick dwelling, on a lot 23x100.5.

Long Lease at Bowling Green

About $1,000,000 will be paid in rentals by the Exchange Buffet Corporation for restaurant space in the basement of the Bowling Green building, at 5-11 Broadway, extending through to Greenwich st. The lessors are the Broadway Realty Co.

The lease began to operate on September 1 and runs for 21 years, with one renewal. The annual rental for the first period will be $22,500, and for the second period $23,000. Anton L. Trunk was the broker.

New Building 100 Per Cent. Rented

Although the new building at the southeast corner of Broadway and 37th st. is in process of construction and will not be ready for occupancy for several months, it is now 100 per cent. leased.

The 13th and last loft has been leased to Sperling & Sperling, one of the oldest concerns in the cloak and suit business, for a term of years, by Albert B. Ashforth, Inc., for the Broadway and 37th Street Corporation. Harry Fischel, president.

Leases of 23rd Street Stores

to Day Bros., furriers, for 10 years, at an aggregate rental of approximately $150,000. The same brokers also arranged for William F. Kenny an extension of lease for Store No. 3 in the Mercantile building, southwest corner of 23d st and Fourth av., to Sarnoff Irving Hats at an aggregate rental of about $40,000. These leases are of unusual interest because each lease shows a rent increase of about 50 per cent. over the rental previously received. The Noyes Co. handles a great deal of property in the 23d st district and reports that the demand for space is large and ground floor rentals are steadily increasing.

Lease Near Williamsburg Bridge

Tankos, Smith & Co. have leased for Long Hat Stores, D. L. Lustig, president, the store and basement of 66 Deaneey st., north side, between Eldridge and Allen sts., to the Lerner Booteries, Inc., Max Lenowitz, president. The lease is for a term of years. Upon completion of alterations the premises will be occupied as a shoe establishment.

Leases in Newly Altered Building

Schindler & Liebler leased, for a term of years, to various clients, the six stores in 201 East 77th st., northeast corner of Third av., for I. Freidus. This building was recently altered.

On and Near Fifth Avenue

Ruland & Benjamin, Inc., leased to the Royal Copenhagen Porcelain Co., wholesale and retail distributors of Danish Arts, now located in the Buckingham Hotel, the westerly store of 19-21 West 57th st. for a term of 5 years, at an aggregate rental of about $100,000; also, for the Warranty Brokerage Corporation the 3d floor in 45-47 West 57th st., to Glass & Leight, Inc., and the westerly store in 17 West 40th st., to the Atlas Desk Co.

The H. M. Weill Co. leased for L. S. Forgotsin to Patrick Dacey the store in 38 West 33d st. for a term of years.

BUILDING SECTION

Large Building Program for 1923 is Now Fully Assured

Recent Contract Commitments, Plus New Projects Being Planned, Warrant Prediction of Continued Boom Next Year

WITH the approach of autumn and the seasonal slowing down of construction activity, builders in the Metropolitan District are showing more than ordinary interest in the industry's prospects for the future.

The recent announcement from Washington that the country, especially the Eastern States, had experienced the greatest building boom in history during the month of July did not come as a surprise to building interests in this territory. The rush of active construction during the past few months has kept the entire industry at top speed and were it not for the coal and railroad strikes which have recently caused a slight drop in the intensity of the work in progress, there is every likelihood that local architects, contractors, supply dealers and all others affiliated with the construction industry would have continued to enjoy capacity business. As it is there is a vast amount of work still to be completed before the construction program of 1922 is finished. Although the shortage of materials and supplies directly caused by the strikes is responsible for a slight recession of activity at present, there is every likelihood that conditions will shortly improve and then construction will be resumed and will continue throughout the autumn and winter months with renewed intensity.

According to the construction projects now under contract the coming months will witness a rate of activity in the building industry which will far surpass that of any previous year in local history. Records of commitments for the past two or three weeks show a large number of important operations placed under contract and scheduled for an immediate start, despite the adverse conditions caused by the strikes. This work will proceed throughout the coming winter and will only be halted by a total stoppage of material supplies or protracted periods of inclement weather. Undoubtedly the strikes now responsible for retarding local building progress will be settled very soon and with an adequate supply of materials assured there is no reason to presuppose anything but a winter building season of unusual intensity.

A study of construction statistics as tabulated by the F. W. Dodge Company for the past few months gives a very definite idea of the amount of work now in progress. In New York State and New Jersey, north of Trenton, the June total of contract commitments amounted to $79,382,600. This figure was twenty-seven per cent. greater than that for the corresponding month of the year previous. During July of this year the daily totals of contracts awarded averaged $3,307,600. The August figures are not yet available, but up to the present writing they average more than $3,000,000 per day for contracts placed and, although the figures for the current month will show a slight decline as compared with previous months, still they indicate a tremendous amount of new construction being placed under contract which must immediately proceed if the Metropolitan District is to catch up on its local building requirements.

The rate of construction activity in Greater New York is bound to continue unabated for many months to come if the statistics of the industry are any criterion. The totals for contracts awarded in this city during the past three months represent between fifty-five and sixty per cent. of the totals for the entire district. An industry that is being loaded up with an average of $45,000,000 worth of commitments for new buildings each month has very little to fear for the immediate future and when to these actual awards are added the totals for the new work being planned by architects and engineers, which each month amounts to a sum greatly in excess of the commitments, the assurance for the future is complete.

Although a considerable percentage of the work reported under contract during the past few months is now well advanced from a construction viewpoint, a large part of the total still remains on the active list. On the other hand the reported activity of architects and engineers in the preparation of plans for new projects indicates a continuation of maximum progress in the construction field for an indefinite period.

Although it is a matter of local record that a decided falling off in the volume of active residential construction has taken place during the past month or six weeks, it is as yet altogether too early to predict the future as it applies to the production of homes in the Metropolitan District. From some sources it is claimed that the housing shortage has been overcome this year and that the production of residential accommodations during the past few months will supply practically all requirements. The statistics would seem to show this to be true, but exact knowledge cannot be obtained until all of the residential buildings now under construction are completed and rented. After that it will be possible to learn something of future housing requirements in this district and predict with some assurance the outlook for the future of this type of work.

At present the most serious retardant to local building progress is the scarcity of certain basic building materials. The strikes are directly responsible for the difficulties contractors are experiencing in obtaining face brick, terra cotta, lime, structural steel, lumber, hardware and many other items, and while there remains any doubt as to the satisfactory flow of supplies until these strikes are settled many prospective builders are not to be blamed for withholding their operations for a while. None of the work now temporarily held in abeyance, however, will be abandoned; all is scheduled to proceed immediately upon a resumption of prompt deliveries of essential materials and supplies from production points.

There is every promise of full supplies of all materials required in the local construction program. Manufacturers in practically every line have increased plant capacities in order to provide the tremendous amounts of building commodities called for by the program and that they are not now arriving at the centers of distribution as promptly as needed is not the fault of the manufacturers.

Although local building may be hampered to some extent for the next month or six weeks there is no doubt regarding the future of the industry for the next few years. The work now under construction will carry over well into 1923. A revival of commercial and industrial construction is imminent and this will more than offset any losses caused by a stoppage or a serious decline in residential building. The new construction being planned by architects and engineers which will probably not be started until early next spring assures a steady supply of new activity to take the place of the operations now being completed. Local real estate conditions are conducive to further development of unimproved properties, so that altogether the outlook is extremely favorable for the building industry for the coming year and all current signs point to a steady rate of progress for some years to come.

Large Factory for R. H. Macy & Co., Inc., Nearly Completed

Modern Twelve-Story Structure at Eleventh Avenue and Thirty-fifth Street Will Contain Largest Fur Storage Plant in New York City

A TWELVE-STORY factory building, equipped with all modern improvements, is nearing completion at the northeast corner of Thirty-fifth street and Eleventh avenue. This structure was built for R. H. Macy & Co., Inc., and will be devoted entirely to the manufacture and storage of articles sold in the Macy Department Store on Herald Square.

This structure was erected according to designs and plans prepared by Robert D. Kohn, and the Hegeman-Harris Company was the contractor. Charles E. Knox Associates were the electrical engineers and the engineers for heating and ventilating were Tenny & Ohmes.

The building contains approximately 105,000 square feet of floor space and occupies a frontage of 100 feet on Eleventh avenue. This is the first unit of a factory and warehouse, which, when completed, will cover a plot 200x150 feet. It will contain, as one of its most important features, the largest plant in New York City for the storage of furs.

Fur storage is a specialized business in itself, requiring a specially designed and constructed area, kept at a constant temperature of less than 30 degrees, with quadruple floors, ceilings and walls interlined with cork. The Macy plant, with its adjoining rooms with apparatus for cleaning and repairing furs, will occupy a double floor of the building, containing a veritable forest of racks for holding valuable fur garments.

Although of foremost importance, this fur storage plant is merely an incidental part of one of Macy's many departments. All of the candy bearing the Macy name will be manufactured in this building by a sanitary process dispensing with most contacts with the human hand. To insure proper conditions, the room where the candy is made is sealed off from the outer air by concrete walls lined with cork, and with triple windows and air-tight doors. Cooled air, at a temperature of 65 to 70 degrees is pumped in day and night.

The building will employ about 150 people and will be equipped with a restaurant, rest room, smoking room, shower bath and roof garden for the exclusive use of those working in this building. The first two floors of the structure will house the fur storage plant. The next five floors will be used for the storage of goods to be sold in the store on Herald Square. On the eighth and ninth floors the candy factory has been located and another floor will be devoted exclusively to storing edible materials. Offices and a packing department will occupy the tenth floor. The building will be completed by October 1.

teenth Street, on a plot 106.87x75, for a long term of years, at an annual graduated net rental of from $25,000 to $35,000, the lessee to make all repairs. The latter has sub-leased most of the property to Brown Brothers & Herman for a term of twenty-one years, at a good profit. The buildings will be modernized and leased at much larger rentals than were obtained in the past.

Daniel B. Freedman, one of the city's well-known operators, has found Third Avenue a worth-while field of activity within recent months. One of his big deals was the purchase of seven old frame buildings at the southeast corner of Third Avenue and One Hundred and Sixth Street, which he will improve with a modern business taxpayer. He bought the parcels from the Pangburn estate, which had long owned them. The northwest corner of the same thoroughfares was bought by a well-known chain hatter, while a prominent shoe dealer has bought the southwest corner.

Many New Projects on Fall and Winter Building Program

Weekly Statistical Report of F. W. Dodge Company Indicates Unusual Activity in Local Construction Field During Coming Months

CONTINUATION of the coal and railroad strikes, which have materially slowed down active construction in the metropolitan district, does not seem to have retarded work on plans for new projects nor stopped commitments to any great extent. Building records for the past few weeks show surprising activity on the part of architects and engineers and contractors have been exceptionally busy figuring new operations, many of which are being placed under contract immediately. The building industry is making its plans for a resumption of its high-speed activity just as soon as the strikes are settled and a steady supply of materials is again assured.

Statistics tabulated by the F. W. Dodge Company for the thirty-fourth week of this year show reports of plans in progress for 612 new building and engineering operations in New York State and New Jersey, north of Trenton, which represent a total outlay of approximately $21,170,900. During the same week contracts were awarded in this territory for 453 structural projects, which will require an expenditure of more than $19,207,800.

Although Greater New York is feeling greatly the effects of the coal and railroad strikes through a steady decline in material shipments, the outlook for the coming months is excellent if the activity on new plans is any criterion. During the week of August 19 to 25, inclusive, architects and engineers reported work on plans for 251 new operations at an estimated total valuation of $9,450,600 and the commitments of the week in New York City numbered 145 and were representative of a total investment of $11,501,400.

The list of 251 proposed building and engineering operations comprised 29 business buildings, such as stores, offices, lofts, commercial garages, etc., $1,134,500; 8 educational projects, $2,955,600; 1 hospital, $30,000; 6 factories and other industrial buildings, $151,000; 4 public buildings, $212,800; 10 public works and public utilities, $654,000; 4 religious and memorial buildings, $69,000, and 189 residential operations, including apartments, flats and tenements and one- and two-family dwellings, $4,243,700.

Among the 145 projects, for which contracts were awarded in New York City during the week of August 19 to 25, inclusive, were 19 business structures of various types, $1,227,500; 3 educational buildings, $73,500; 6 industrial projects, $147,000; 2 military and naval structures, $13,000; 1 public building, $210,000; 8 public works and public utilities, $207,400; 3 religious and memorial buildings, $109,000; 99 residential operations, including multi-family dwellings and one- and two-family houses, $6,479,000 and 4 social and recreational buildings, $3,035,000.

Studying Labor Efficiency

TO determine the productivity and efficiency of labor in the United States a series of tests has been prepared by the National Committee on Labor Efficiency and Production to be applied to workmen in representative industries in the various states. The building trades comprise the first industry to receive consideration as it operates throughout the country and in so far as the number of men employed is concerned, is the largest single industrial unit of the nation.

The work of the committee is concerned primarily with the efficiency of the workman on the job. Necessarily, however, this efficiency is affected—either restrained or augmented—by other factors. To the extent that this operates, the contributory factors will be considered. The intention of the Committee of Labor Efficiency and Production ultimately is to extend its investigation to such other industries as admit of the application of such tests.

Ventilating Code for Public Buildings

THE code for the ventilation of public and semi-public buildings adopted by the American Society of Heating and Ventilating Engineers in 1915 has been submitted to the American Engineering Standards Committee for approval as American standard.

This code was prepared by a committee of the American Society of Heating and Ventilating Engineers in response to requests from state commissions, legislative bodies, public health agencies and other organizations for suggestions to be used in the preparation of legislation and regulations regarding the heating and ventilation of buildings. The committee endeavored in this code to cover the general features most essential to the public health, in such a manner as to protect the public with the least possible expenditure for equipment and without unnecessarily limiting the methods of obtaining the desired results.

Section 1 of the code relates to general matters pertaining to all classes of buildings; the remaining three sections relate to schools and colleges, factories, and theatres, respectively.

Among the states that have utilized parts of the code in their regulations are: Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Massachusetts, Minnesota, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Utah, Virginia and Wisconsin. A thoroughly representative special committee, including all the important organizations interested in the subject, has been appointed by the American Engineering Standards Committee to investigate the status of the code in the industry and the desirability of approving it. Sidney J. Williams, chief engineer of the National Safety Council, is chairman of this special committee.

CURRENT BUILDING OPERATIONS

ASIDE from the increasing material shortages due to the continuation of the coal and railroad strikes the local building situation is without change. Reported work on plans indicate a large volume of new construction getting ready for a start just as soon as material supply conditions warrant and the contract commitments of the past week bear out the promise of steady activity in the building industry throughout the autumn and well into the winter.

The approach of the fall witnesses great activity on speculative buildings in all boroughs. Builders are speeding up their operations in order to complete their structures in time for the October renting season. There is no doubt but that the next few months will bring a decided drop in residential building activity in this district, but the recently noticed improvement in the outlook for commercial and industrial buildings is counted on to more than offset the loss caused by a slowing down of speculative residential building.

The markets for building materials and supplies are very busy, and dealers anticipate a heavy demand for some time to come. Their only worry at present is the difficulty of getting new supplies from production points, and this cannot improve until the railroad strike is settled and transportation of freight again returns to normal. Prices are fairly steady, but there is a remarkable trend toward higher price levels.

Common Brick—Business in the New York wholesale market for Hudson River common brick considerably improved during the past week, according to the records of actual transactions. A total of forty-five barge loads of brick arrived and forty-eight cargoes were disposed of. Brooklyn continues to lead the Metropolitan district in brick consumption, with nearly fifty per cent of the sales this week consigned to that borough. Prices are somewhat easier than they have been, with the range from $18 to $20 a thousand to dealers in cargo lots. There have been some cargoes offered at $15 a thousand, but manufacturers declare that this is inferior brick. The changes in methods of firing brick, caused by the scarcity of anthracite coal, has produced quite a large amount of brick of a poor grade, and it is this product that is being offered at a price $2 or $3 below the market level for first-quality brick. There has been practically no change in the fuel situation during the past few weeks as far as brick manufacturers are concerned. Hard coal is almost impossible to obtain, and the brick producers are doing the best they can with what little bituminous coal and coke they are able to get. Production of common brick has been seriously curtailed by the fuel shortage, and from all accounts there will be a large amount of green brick held in the up-river plants for burning during the winter months or early next spring.

Summary Transactions in the North River brick market for the week ending Thursday, August 31, 1922. Condition of market: Demand, increased slightly; prices, somewhat easier than they have been. Quotations: Hudson Rivers, $18 to $20 a thousand to dealers in cargo lots alongside dock. Number of cargoes arrived, 45; sales, 48. Distribution: Manhattan, 14; Bronx, 2; Brooklyn, 22; New Jersey points, 7; Astoria, 2; Westchester, 1. Remaining unsold in the New York wholesale market, 19.

Lumber—Conditions in the local lumber market have not changed to any material extent during the past week. Reports from both wholesale and retail departments indicate excellent business and a splendid outlook for the remainder of the year. The only doubt expressed is that the supplies will hold out, as the consuming demand is very heavy and at a rate considerably in excess of actual production. The railroad transportation situation is also limiting supplies in this market to some degree, and shortages have developed during the past two or three weeks in some of the more popular lines. There is a very decided trend toward higher price levels due to the prevailing keen demand and the limited stocks.

Reinforcing Bars.—Although the demand for concrete reinforcing bars is not particularly brisk, prices are steadily advancing and it is now difficult to place tonnage for mill delivery under 2.00c. base Pittsburgh. The railroad and coal strikes are directly responsible for the tightening market and until they are settled there is little likelihood of easier prices or better deliveries. The outlook for future demand is excellent, as there is quite some important industrial construction being planned and the plans now in progress for a large amount of commercial work will include considerable reinforced concrete.

Structural Steel.—Orders for fabricated structural steel for construction are piling up rapidly and the local outlook is not particularly bright at present. Some important work is being held in abeyance for the time being until the strikes are settled and deliveries more certain. As a reflection of the adverse conditions in this industry, shape prices continue to advance and for the most part only old customers are able to place orders at any price. At the present time the scarcity of fabricated steel is very pronounced and improvement in the supply is not anticipated for some weeks to come. The majority of the Eastern mills are practically out of the market and fabricating shops are not making promises of delivery under three to four months. In some instances they have definitely refused to accept new business except for shipment at convenience. Several important awards are pending, but many projected jobs are being held up until conditions are more favorable in both prices and deliveries.

Cast Iron Pipe.—During the past two or three weeks there has been a slight falling off in buying activity in this line, due to the delays caused by the coal and railroad strikes. Orders which are now being booked by manufacturers are generally scheduled for deliveries extending over a period of months. Practically all new business is being accepted for delivery at producers' convenience and prices are very strong. But little real municipal business is current and the majority of recent orders have come from private sources. New York quotations are as follows: 6 in. and larger, $54.50 per net ton, in carload lots; 4 in. and 5 in., $59, and 3 in., $64.80, with Class A and gas pipe $4.00 extra per ton.

Electrical Supplies.—Market conditions remain practically unchanged. Demand continues strong and local jobbers and contractors anticipate a steady buying movement throughout the coming autumn months. There has been a slight drop in the demand from speculative building projects, but this is largely offset by the increased requirements of commercial and industrial operations, which are daily growing more numerous. Prices are firm and no changes of importance were recorded during the past week. Local stocks are said to be in excellent shape and adequate to the demand in all lines.

Window Glass.—Demand is steadily increasing and local distributors report a scarcity as a result of the heavy buying during the past five or six weeks. The shortage, however, does not appear to be serious and there will be sufficient glass to fill all requirements.

"when we purchased this building we discontinued the use of the steam plant entirely and installed Edison Service. This year's operation has shown a satisfactory saving to us!"

BLACKMAR'S ASBESTOS LIQUID ROOFING

Standard Leak-proof Roof Covering of the World. Not a roof paint. It is a new roof. One application will make old leaky roofs just like new at a cost of about 1 1/4c. sq. ft. Prepared in containers ready for use. WE CHALLENGE any manufacturer to a comparison of materials by analysis, test of durability and process of manufacturing. There is not a better Asbestos Liquid or Plastic Cement Roofing at any price. Not affected by the coldest winter weather or the hottest blazing sun; resilient, elastic, expands and contracts with the surface on which it is applied. Will never crack. Air, rain or moisture cannot penetrate the material, absolutely impervious to water, nonporous, permitting no passage of moisture in any degree into or through the material.

Perplexities of the Coal Situation

Now that the strikes have been settled in the anthracite as well as in the bituminous coal fields, the next question is: Can consumers be protected from gouging by coal profiteers?

Suspension of mining five months has led to such a shortage in the usual supply as to make impossible any near return to total normal production for the coming winter's requirements. No matter how glad the idle miners may be to return to work, and no matter how anxious the operators may be to resume the marketing of coal, the loss of production during the five months of the strike cannot be overcome in the short period that will elapse before winter's coldest weather comes. If production can be speeded up during September, October and November that will aid greatly in alleviating the situation, but Mr. Consumer, whether he requires fuel to heat his own home, an apartment house, a hotel, an office building or a factory, must become reconciled to the cold facts of the situation. Indications are that it will now be possible to get through the winter months without actual hardship and distress, but it also is apparent that all consumers will have to burn carefully such coal as will be available and to substitute other fuel wherever possible.

About the only thing the Government can do to relieve consumers is to function capably against profiteering in coal and against favoritism in its distribution. The Washington authorities are giving evidence of their determination to do what they can along these lines. In so far as New York is concerned, the official machinery is being organized with most commendable promptness and with a thoroughness which promises a full measure of protection to the coal users of the Empire State. There is reason to feel that such supplies of coal as are allotted to New York will be distributed with care, and the new State law certainly is drastic enough so that Coal Administrator Woodin should be able to hold profiteers in check.

In view of the low state of the nation's coal supply, however, the New York authorities must exert every effort if they are to get allotments of coal in keeping with the acute necessities of the greatest state in the Union.

Deadlock Threatens New Subways

Not in years has there come up a more important question in municipal affairs than how soon and by what means New Yorkers are to get relief from the intolerable conditions existing on the city's transit lines. After months of preparation by the most competent engineers in the service of the Transit Commission and of the Mayor two schemes have been presented to the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, each aiming to add to the present facilities such extensions as may make them more serviceable and projecting new lines to relieve the old ones, as well as to cover territory within the city limits now not adequately served. While the routes suggested in these two plans vary in some respects, the fundamental difference between the proposals emanating from Mayor Hylan and from the Transit Commission is as to the method of financing and operation. Mayor Hylan proposes the "recapture" of existing subways, the elimination of surface and elevated systems and municipal operation, and the Transit Commission the continuation, with certain modifications, of the present method of construction and operation.

Now that both plans have been made public there is opportunity for comparing them and this should be taken advantage of to the fullest degree. Criticism or endorsement should be withheld until there has been careful weighing of the superiority or difficulties inherent to each project. In studying the plans no question of political expediency should be allowed to creep in. To seek party advantage when the interests of every man, woman and child in the city are at stake will most certainly react politically against those attempting it.

One of the things, however, that must be taken into consideration is that whatever are the comparative merits of the two plans, one is put forward in accordance with existing law and the other in protest to present contracts with the necessity of radical amendments to the law and changes in public policy, both with respect to the authority of the State over municipal affairs and in the conduct by the city of its own business. Municipal ownership and operation, on which Mayor Hylan's plan is based, can only become possible after many changes in the fundamental laws of the state and the ordinances of the city.

The Board of Estimate has the power to block any proposal not acceptable to it, but it has no power to originate plans for subway extensions. It can disapprove the program of the Transit Commission, but it cannot bring about the acceptance of Mayor Hylan's plan. With politics rampant there is danger that a deadlock may result from which every New Yorker will suffer. There is need, then, for the pressure of public opinion to force the laying aside of every personal or party consideration in the study of both plans for subway extension, and the substitution therefor of high-minded examination and wise decisions so that the public may be served well and quickly.

Four Decades of Electrical Progress

Forty years ago this week the first electric lighting central station in the world was put in operation by Thomas A. Edison. This station was located at 257 Pearl street, in Manhattan, and on its first day of operation 1,284 incandescent lamps were connected, 400 of which were in use before the day was over. At the present time, in corresponding units, the installation served by central station current exceeds 21,500,000 lights, in addition to those millions of lighting units required to illuminate this city which obtain their current from private dynamos.

Comparison of the city's illuminating units now served by central station current with its relatively insignificant beginning four decades ago only partly indicates the growth and development of electric service to the community, and it utterly fails to show the extent the public has benefited by its use.

The development of central station service has brought electrical energy into the majority of homes in this city. It is now available to all. The time saved by its use cannot be measured in hours, but it is partly indicated by the greater freedom from housekeeping labors due to the fact that electric current is easily available for the operation of washing machines, vacuum cleaners, cooking equipment, etc., in addition to the more efficient lighting obtained by the use of incandescent lamps.

Industry also has gained immeasurably through the development of central station service. Thousands of manufacturers now depend upon central stations for their motive power, which they purchase instead of operating their own steam or generating plants. The purchase of power eliminates the labor and confusion of an isolated power plant and makes more space available for manufacturing purposes. The perfection of electrically operated machines has substantially lowered production costs by reducing labor and increasing efficiency.

The construction industry has especially benefited through electrical development. Its gain has not only been in time saved and labor eliminated but by a far more important factor, that of increased scope. Had it not been for the rapid development of electric service the skyscrapers of modern times would have been practically impossible because they only developed along with the perfection of the electric traction elevator.

The genius of Edison, the originator of the central station service, is demonstrated by the fact that his first electrical system of forty years ago embodied all of the essential principles in force at the present time. The two decades which have passed since contract station current became available have witnessed splendid achievements in electrical development, but the fundamental ideas underlying the original plant in New York City are practically unchanged and from all accounts will withstand the test of many years to come.

Great Activity in Upper Third Avenue Real Estate

THIRD AVENUE which for some time has been an active field for operators is especially so in its central and northern sections. Numerous corner parcels, as well as inside ones, are changing hands.

After an ownership dating back to 1844, the Mosher estate has sold to an operator the northeast corner of Third Avenue and Twenty-eighth Street, a five-story brick tenement house with stores, on a lot 24.8x100, for about $60,000. The parcel is rented at $6,700 a year.

A notable sale was that of the northwest corner of Third Avenue and Fifty-eighth Street, two six-story brick apartment houses with stores, on a plot 75.3x105, at about $300,000. It has been re-sold at a profit. Another interesting transaction was the sale of the four five-story tenement houses with stores, at the northeast corner of Third Avenue and One Hundred and Twelfth Street, on a plot 101.1x66. Deutsch Brothers, furniture dealers, bought the northeast corner of the avenue and One Hundred and Twenty-third Street. The Gutman estate sold to John King and Benjamin Sherman the northwest corner of Third Avenue and One Hundred and Eighteenth Street, with the result that these new owners now control the entire west block front from One Hundred and Eighteenth to One Hundred and Nineteenth Streets.

Showing the modern trend was the purchase of the old buildings at 157-163 East Seventy-second Street, adjoining the northwest corner of Third Avenue, as the site for a modern fifteen-story apartment house. After an ownership of fifty-six years by one family, 947 Third Avenue was sold to an operator who will remodel the two five-story brick tenement houses, with stores, that occupy the plot, 50x70. Owned since 1885 by an estate, 1521-1523 Third Avenue, near Eighty-sixth Street, 51x100, has been sold to an operator for about $150,000. The parcel rents for $17,000 per annum. The Johnson and Bayles estates, which for forty-nine years owned the four-story brick tenement house with stores, 23x80, at the southwest corner of Third Avenue and Thirty-seventh Street, have sold it to an operator. The owner of the southwest corner of the avenue and Thirty-fifth Street has bought 520 Third Avenue, adjoining, which is a five-story tenement house with store, on a lot 25x75.6. A well-known restaurateur who is a tenant in 977 Third Avenue, adjoining the northeast corner of Fifty-eighth Street, recently formed a corporation to take over the property as an investment. A hardware dealer who had long been at 1912 Third Avenue, has bought 1897 in the same avenue, at the southeast corner of One Hundred and Fifth Street, to which he will remove his business upon completion of alterations. This parcel was held at $50,000.

The activity throughout Third Avenue shows no signs of abatement. From one end to the other operators and investors are culling prospective purchases. The Yorkville and Harlem sections of the ancient thoroughfare are especially active at this time.

Bronx Board of Trade Publishes Booklet on the Borough

THE Bronx Board of Trade has published for free distribution a 1922 edition of "The Bronx," a handbook of information concerning the Borough of The Bronx, "The City's Fastest-Growing Borough."

"The Bronx," which contains forty pages of information, carefully selected and edited, has a two-color cover on which appears a reproduction of a drawing of the Poe Cottage, in Poe Park, a nationally and internationally-known landmark.

In this booklet are published valuable statistical tables, as well as lists of public officials, parks and parkways, schools, churches, public utilities, freight depots, banks, libraries, homes, hospitals and asylums, points of interest, athletic fields, the-

There is also a chapter devoted to setting forth the claims of The Bronx to be considered as "The Nation's Ninth City," in point of population. The borough is outranked on this score only by Greater New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Detroit, Cleveland, St. Louis, Boston and Baltimore. This chapter also includes other valuable data on The Bronx and is accompanied by a chapter setting forth the industrial aspects of the borough.

Copies of this booklet may be had free of charge by calling at the rooms of The Bronx Board of Trade, 137th Street and Third Avenue, or by mail request, accompanied by five cents in stamps for each copy desired, to cover cost of mailing, etc.

Perfecting Organization to Check Coal Profiteering

Gov. Miller Appoints William H. Woodin State Fuel Administrator Under Emergency Law Giving Him Autocratic Power of Control

WITH the appointment last Tuesday by Governor Miller of William H. Woodin as Fuel Administrator the State machinery for handling the coal situation is completed. Mr. Woodin's appointment follows the passage by the Legislature of the drastic emergency measure designed to curb profiteering and insure equitable distribution of coal throughout the State. Under the terms of the law which provided for his appointment and the employment of an efficient staff to carry the law into effect, the new administrator has almost autocratic powers, including the use of a revolving fund of $10,000,000 and the entire official forces of the State. Under the rules which he will be able to enforce the distribution of coal and the regulation of price should be governed in the interests of consumers. The settlement of the strike in the bituminous fields, and the agreement reached between anthracite operators and miners which is preliminary to the resumption of work in the hard coal district indicate that supplies of coal of both descriptions will soon begin to reach this city. In the main the efforts of the Fuel Administration will be directed to seeing that these supplies are equally distributed and that the price shall not mount to prohibitive figures for all concerned.

In handing Mr. Woodin his commission at Albany Governor Miller said that it authorized the new official to use the public funds and extraordinary powers to perform a great public service. The Governor continued:

"There will not be enough anthracite coal to supply the demand for several months. Profiteering by whomsoever attempted must be prevented. An equitable distribution of the available supply must be assured. The needs of the householder for domestic fuel, of public utility service and, first of all, the needs of the householders of smallest means must be supplied.

"To assure such a supply at a reasonable cost excessive coal prices must be prevented. It will be necessary to stimulate economy and teach the use of substitutes for anthracite coal.

In brief, this is your task. I trust you will use just as little power as possible and all that may be necessary to perform it. The women of the State will help, the public generally will help. Those who serve the public must help, and you can depend upon my unqualified support at all times."

Mr. Woodin, in reply, outlined the situation as follows:

"Coal mining has been suspended for five months. We have reached the bottom of the bin. No one can expect a full Winter's supply at this time. While production of bituminous coal has commenced, the mining of anthracite will not be resumed until September 11. No matter how rapidly they work, there will be a shortage of anthracite coal this winter.

"The task of the Fuel Administrator is to see that there is fair distribution of all fuel at decent prices. Following this same policy indicated by Governor Miller in his message to the Legislature in August, effort will be made to have no interference with the ordinary channels of trade. Fuel will be rationed among the regular dealers. They will be held accountable for its distribution. Every dealer will get his share and must distribute it fairly among his customers.

"The Legislature has given the Administrator drastic authority. Profiteers will be prosecuted. The wealthy or influential householder will not be permitted to obtain coal at the expense of his less fortunate neighbor. Consumers will not be allowed to evade the law by going from one distributor to another. The law will be justly and fairly carried out. Shortages and discomforts can be reduced only if the people of the State recognize their obligations and give to the Fuel Administrator full help and co-operation."

Mr. Woodin announced the appointment of Col. William J. Donovan, of Buffalo, as legal adviser to the Fuel Administrator. He said he would use the existing machinery of the Governor's Coal Commission. It would have taken six months, he said, to build up an efficient staff from the beginning.

Mr. Woodin was not ready to make detailed analysis of the coal situation, but declared it was apparent that unless citizens of every section of the state practice the strictest economy in their use of anthracite coal there will be a serious shortage and possible hardship.

"Crises will not develop until the snow begins to fall and there is a rush for fuel," Mr. Woodin said, "but such data as have been gathered show that strictest economies must be practiced by all consumers of anthracite and substitutes used as long as it is possible to do so."

Mr. Woodin began to prepare a set of rules and regulations for the distribution of coal to prevent profiteering and hoarding and to insure a supply of coal for the poor. Rich customers will not be permitted to overstock their cellars, while the poor are without fuel. Economy in the use of fuel will be enforced, he said, by a system of allotments which will permit householders to buy for their absolute necessities and will prevent one customer from getting double or triple supplies of coal by purchasing from two or more dealers.

As long as dealers "play the game" and obey the orders and instructions of the Fuel Administrator the distribution of coal will be handled through ordinary trade channels, Mr. Woodin said. The $10,000,000 emergency fund placed at his disposal will not be used until it is found impossible to supply coal in the ordinary way. Mr. Woodin said he had no desire to put the State of New York into the coal business until it becomes absolutely necessary to do so.

Now that the State has established machinery for handling the coal problem, all organizations heretofore acting to protect citizens from the inconvenience and losses resulting from the strikes will subordinate their movements to that of the new Fuel Administrator. Mr. Woodin will have the hearty support of the Public Utilities Committee, the Executive Committee of the New York State Conference of Mayors, and the Committee of the New York State Retail Coal Merchants' Association. The Governor's Coal Commission, of which Eugenius H. Outerbridge is chairman, goes out of business. The final act of this commission was to cancel orders for coal for which an advance over the fair price suggested by Secretary Hoover had been asked. The Commission sent out requisitions for 100,000 tons on August 16. But it has received no offer of coal from mines to which the Federal Fuel Distributor has sent orders which is not an advance on the Hoover price. The problem will be one for the new State Fuel Administrator to solve. Reports from up-State indicated that public utility companies were getting supplies of bituminous coal. The total movement of coal from Great Britain will reach about 1,600,000 tons. This includes cargoes already arrived

Realty Board to Hold Annual Convention at Albany

Taxation Problems, City and Suburban Planning and Operation by New License Law, Topics for Discussion October 19, 20 and 21

THE 19th Annual Convention of the New York State Association of Real Estate Boards will be held in Albany October 19, 20 and 21 under the auspices of the Albany Realty Board. The association is composed of twenty-eight local real estate boards in the principal cities of the State, the Metropolitan district being represented by the Westchester County, Long Island and Staten Island real estate boards. H. H. Garfield of Rochester is president of the State realty organization, and J. W. Doolittle of Douglaston is one of the vice-presidents.

The principal subjects for discussion at the Albany convention will be the State taxation program to be considered at the next session of the legislature; city and suburban planning; and the operation of the recently enacted real estate license law. Many other subjects of importance to real estate brokers will be considered and the visiting delegates will be extensively entertained by the Albany realtors.

The realty association's Committee on Taxation, headed by James Frank of the Long Island real estate board, has been carefully considering the proposed plan for taxation submitted by the Joint Legislative Committee on Taxation and will recommend definite action on the part of the local real estate boards. A committee on City and Suburban Planning, of which Charles W. Leavitt of New York City is chairman, will recommend effective, mandatory legislation for city and county planning of arterial highways throughout New York. Judge John A. Barhite of Rochester, a former member of the State Public Service Commission, is chairman of the Committee on Public Service which will recommend action by the public service commissions with respect to the development of real estate subdivisions and to transportation.

A plan is to be developed at the Annual Convention which will enable the local real estate boards to make the license law effective in their respective communities. All local boards now have committees on ethics which are striving to develop and maintain the Code of Ethics adopted by the State realty association in the practice of real estate business.

Permanent headquarters for the State Association of Real Estate Boards are to be established in Albany October first. Meade C. Dobson, Executive Secretary of the State Association, will be in charge.

New York State Title Men Return from National Convention

THE New York delegation to the sixteenth national convention of the American Association of Title Men held at Cedar Point, O., August 29, 30 and 31, has returned. The New York City members were Henry R. Chittick, Solicitor of the Lawyers Title and Trust Company; Cyril H. Burdett, Vice-President of the New York Title and Mortgage Company; Fred P. Condit, Vice-President of the Title Guarantee and Trust Company, and S. H. Evans, Secretary of the New York Board of Title Underwriters.

From upstate the delegates were Henry S. Nichols, Secretary of the Central New York Abstract and Title Company of Utica; George A. Loewenberg of the Syracuse branch of the same company; DeLancy Bentley of the Abstract Guarantee Company of Rochester, and Herbert J. Feehan of Seneca Falls, President of the New York State Title Association.

Frank P. Doherty of Los Angeles retired as Executive Secretary of the association. His successor is Richard Hall of the Hall Abstract Company, Hutchinson, Kansas. Fred P. Condit of New York retired as President of the title insurance section. Mark Brewer, newly-elected President of the American Association of Title Men, is on his way to New York by motor. While here he will consult with title men.

The complete report of the convention is being printed and copies may be obtained by applying to the Secretary of the New York State Title Association, 149 Broadway, New York.

At the convention Mr. Chittick acted as chairman of the Committees on Resolutions and Legislation. Mr. Burdett represented the State on the Committee on Nominations. The convention adopted a resolution proposed by the New York State delegation, previously adopted at the convention of the New York State Title Association which was held at Hobart College, Geneva, on June 23 last, urging Congress to pass the Calder-Graham bill permitting joining the United States of America as a party defendant in an action in Federal and State courts, in certain actions affecting title to real property. The object of this legislation is to cure the situation created by the multiplicity of Federal liens on account of the Internal Revenue Act, Federal Inheritance Tax and the National Prohibition Laws frequently resulting in the freezing of real estate titles.

and those scheduled to reach here as late as October. The movement into New York is proceeding at the rate of about 100,000 tons weekly. Last week seventeen coal carriers arrived with 97,730 tons.

Prices for domestic bituminous have dropped to about $7.80 a ton at the seaboard, compared with the price of $8.50 to $10 a ton at which Welsh coal can be laid down here. This indicates that the movement across seas will be discontinued with the arrival of cargoes under charter. Several charters have been cancelled in view of the lower prices of domestic coal here.

A partial survey of cellar stocks of coal in one and two-family houses has been made in Brooklyn. Cellar bins in 11,613 houses were inspected and only 1,237 found to have any anthracite coal in reserve. The total tonnage of the 1,237 homes was estimated at 2,500, whereas the requirements of all the houses inspected, based on a yearly consumption of between eight and ten tons, are about 104,517 tons.

Instructions to take immediate measures to enlist the co-operation of all shippers and receivers of freight on the Pennsylvania Railroad System, with the object of getting the maximum of work out of each coal car, were issued yesterday by W. W. Atterbury, vice-president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, in charge of operation. Directions to the four regional vice-presidents of the Pennsylvania Railroad said:

"Coal cars must be kept moving to and from the mines faster than ever before. We must get more service out of every car than has ever before been attempted. To make success possible, loading and unloading must be done in absolute minimum time, and every one using coal equipment must be made to realize the moral duty of releasing the cars as quickly as possible in order that they may be returned to the mines for more coal with the least possible delay."

The New York Central Railroad, it is reported, has decided to substitute fuel oil for coal for the firing of the boilers in the company's big electric power house at Yonkers. The Yonkers plant supplies the power for train operation in the Central's electrified zone. It is understood that the change will be in the nature of a test and if successful may be extended to the other power plants of the road. The plan calls for the installation of the oil burners immediately, the work to be completed within a few weeks.

Board of Estimate Takes Up Subway Extension Plans

Transit Commission Submits Brooklyn Crosstown Project, While Board Arranges Hearings on Mayor Hylan's $600,000,000 Program

ACTING-CHAIRMAN LE ROY T. HARKNESS of the Transit Commission has sent a letter to the Board of Estimate and Apportionment requesting its approval of the route and general plan of construction of an additional subway to be known as the Jackson Avenue, Roebling Street and Bedford Avenue Crosstown Route. This action will bring to a head the controversy between Mayor Hylan and the Transit Commission as to the plans, the method of construction and the financing of additional subways. The route for which validation is now sought was included in the commission's comprehensive program announced on May 11 last, which provided for 32 miles of new subways, with 84 miles of tracks, to cost $218,000,000, as printed in THE RECORD AND GUIDE. In the report made public at that time the Transit Commission declared that "the line should be built as a subway without further delay—first, as a means of articulating all of the rapid transit lines at present traversing Brooklyn and Queens, so that any one of these can be reached conveniently and quickly from any other one; second, as a means of access to the shore front of Brooklyn and Queens north of the Navy Yard; and third, as a direct means of carrying passengers from Manhattan and Queens to Brooklyn and Coney Island without traversing the congested district of lower Manhattan."

After this report was made additional transfer points were included in the proposed route on the suggestion of Commissioner Harkness and provision made for a subway to take the place of the "L" on Fulton Street. In the meanwhile, Mayor Hylan has announced that he will oppose the further appropriation of city money for subways not owned and operated by the municipality and has given out his own plan for subway construction calling for an expenditure of $600,000,000. By its request for the validation of the Brooklyn crosstown line the commission forces the Mayor's hand because the Board of Estimate is compelled by law to begin consideration of the request within ten days and must decide whether to grant it or not within sixty days. If the Board of Estimate approves the route and method of construction, the next steps for the commission to take will be obtaining consents by adjoining property owners, preparation of plans for construction and advertising for bids. When the bids are obtained the commission will have to get an appropriation from the Board of Estimate to carry on the work. If the board denies the request the commission may modify its plan for the purpose of meeting the objections of the board and then resubmit its request for validation. Until the Board of Estimate approves the route and method of construction proposed by the Transit Commission, as the law now stands, the work cannot proceed. Therefore, if Mayor Hylan continues to oppose the Transit Commission's program of new subways they will not be built. In his letter of September 2 to the Board of Estimate Acting-Chairman Harkness, he says:

Under and in accordance with the provisions of the Rapid Transit act (Chapter 4 of the Laws of 1891 as amended) the Transit Commission submits herewith for the approval of your honorable board and the approval of the Mayor of the city, a certified copy of a resolution adopted by it on Aug. 30, 1922, determining and establishing a route and general plan of construction for an additional rapid transit railroad to be known as the Jackson Avenue, Roebling Street and Bedford Avenue—Crosstown route (Route No. 70).

The commission regards the construction of this subway of paramount importance, and believes that the expenditure of the necessary amount involved in its construction will do more to meet the needs of the people of Brooklyn and Queens, provide needed facilities and relieve congestion more than any other similar expenditure.

The main transit lines in Manhattan extend north and south, while those in Brooklyn and Queens generally extend east and west. The need has long been recognized for a line in Brooklyn and Queens that will extend north and south and tap existing rapid transit lines, thus giving much needed flexibility to the present system and affording the public a wider choice of routes of travel than is now possible.

Some of the main advantages of this route may briefly be summarized as follows:

It joins the Borough of Brooklyn and Queens as they should be joined, and eliminates the necessity for passing through the Borough of Manhattan south of Fifty-ninth street to get to Brooklyn from Queens, and vice versa.

It extends through a thickly settled district in which in large part the transit facilities are archaic. It will provide for the first time modern transportation facilities for a large section of Queens, for Greenpoint, Williamsburg and the Bedford district in Brooklyn. People living in these districts can be carried without change of cars northerly to and through the Queensboro tunnel to Manhattan, or they can travel southerly without change of cars to the business and financial centre of Brooklyn and thence to Manhattan.

By connection with the existing rapid transit lines in Queens, it will provide a line running from Long Island Sound to the Atlantic Ocean.

By connection by the existing Brighton Beach line and the Fourth Avenue subway it links closely together the northern and southern part of Brooklyn.

It crosses the Broadway, Myrtle Avenue and Lexington Avenue elevated lines, and by free transfer (which in such cases is required by Contract No. 4), affords opportunity for passengers transferring to and from the present elevated lines.

Without the crosstown line Brooklyn transit is incomplete and inadequate. With it the system will be co-ordinated and given flexibility of operation, and will afford facilities in important areas of Brooklyn that are now practically destitute of real transit.

Studies are being made of the possibility of co-ordinating with this line a connection between the Fulton Street elevated and the Fourth Avenue subway that may greatly improve the proposed Ashland Place connection. Endeavor is being made to work this in such a way that a subway junction can be made with the Fulton Street elevated at a point east of Bedford avenue, and thence carrying the tracks in the subway and through the Fulton Street branch of the Crosstown line to join with the Fourth Avenue subway and with the Livingston Street line proposed by the commission for early construction. As soon as these studies are completed the commission will adopt routes and general plans therefor and transmit them for the necessary approval and consents.

It is planned temporarily to connect both the Crosstown line and the Fulton Street elevated with the Fourth Avenue subway. But such a connection can be used intensively only temporarily, and thereafter for emergency purposes. The proper permanent outlet is through the proposed Livingston Street subway, and thence by tunnel to a point in Manhattan near the City Hall where a connection can be made with the Broadway subway. Studies of the Livingston Street line, with its tunnel connections with Manhattan, are all advanced and will shortly be transmitted to you in the form of routes and general plans. In these studies is included consideration of a plan for connecting the Fifth Avenue elevated with the Livingston Street line by bringing it down to the surface in private property and thence in subway to Livingston street. This will greatly improve the service available to those using the Fifth Avenue line.

In addition to the great modern facilities, this plan will provide, it also constitutes an important step looking to the eventual removal of elevated railroads from the main business streets of Brooklyn. If the commission's plans are carried through the Fulton Street elevated could be removed from Fulton Ferry to a point east of Bedford avenue, and the Fifth Avenue elevated could be removed from Flatbush avenue and the other downtown streets.

In accordance with the provisions of the Rapid Transit act power is reserved in the route and general plan to construct first two tracks and then add others as traffic develops. The cost of construction of the main two-track trunk of the crosstown line from Queensborough Plaza to a connection with the Brighton Beach line is estimated at $24,000,000. This is the bare construction cost. As a matter of conservative financing there should properly be added to this an allowance to cover interest during construction, superintendence, engineering and administration, a part of which, at least temporarily, may be met other than by the issue of corporate stock. Allowing 25 per cent. to cover these items would make the total cost of a two-track line $30,000,000. The bare construction cost of the two-track subway connection between Bedford avenue and Livingston street, including connection to the Fourth Avenue subway at Ashland place, is estimated at $8,000,000. Adding a similar surcharge to cover interest during construction, superintendence, engineering and administration would increase this latter figure to $10,000,000. This would make a total for the entire two-track line of $40,000,000. If it were decided to make the trunk portion of this line four tracks at once the above cost would be increased 80 per cent. Similarly, if the Fulton Street branch were made a three-track instead of a two-track line, the gross cost would be increased from $10,000,000 to $14,000,000.

In an interview Commissioner Harkness said that the essen-

Summer Dullness Was Somewhat Relieved by a Few Good Transactions and Diversity of Dealing That Indicates Strong Reserve Force

ALTHOUGH the market was characterized by summer dullness this week, it nevertheless had interesting features. None of the big operators took part in the dealing, although operators were not lacking entirely. The transactions that lifted the market above the dead level of ordinary dealing were the sale of a 12-story loft building on East 32d street, near Fourth avenue; the resale of the site of the Guilford mansion, at the southeast corner of Lexington avenue and 46th street, for improvement with a large apartment house; the sale of a large elevator apartment house in the Riverside Drive section of Harlem and some good sized apartment properties on Washington Heights, as well as some on the upper West Side; and a plot in the new West Side garment center as the site for a modern building.

After 64 years of ownership, the estate of Clausen, the brewer, sold a Second avenue corner in the Kips Bay section. A few old parcels downtown changed hands. The general trend of dealing, such as it was, was in dwellings of all kinds, old fashioned flats and tenement houses in various parts of town, some garages and small business buildings, some of which were recently remodeled from dwellings. There is sufficient good undertone to the market to indicate a reserve force that will assert itself before snow flies.

The leasing market, although generally uninteresting at this season, had its strong features too. Two entire floors in the Pershing Square building, now in course of construction at Park avenue and 42d street, were leased on the plans to two large firms now situated downtown; while the immediate corner store in the property, 20.7x43, was leased to the United Cigars Stores Company for a term of ten years at $30,000 a year. This building is now 44 per cent. leased.

The news columns show that there is an increase in the volume of mortgage money and that the rate ranges from five to six per cent. per annum. It is not so long ago that the rate was fixed at six per cent. Five and one-half and six per cent. per annum are the prevailing rates at this time. Five per cent. is exceptional. Loans are well distributed throughout Manhattan, Bronx, Brooklyn and Queens.

PRIVATE REALTY SALES.

THE total number of sales reported, but not recorded in Manhattan this week, was 48, as against 62 last week and 53 a year ago.

The number of sales south of 59th st was 17, as compared with 26 last week and 14 a year ago.

The number of sales north of 59th st was 31, as compared with 36 last week and 39 a year ago.

From the Bronx 27 sales at private contract were reported, as against 25 last week and 17 a year ago.

Statistical tables, including the number of recorded instruments, will be found on page 331.

Clausen Estate Sells Parcels

David Vogel sold for the Clausen estate to John J. Reynolds 639-641 Second av and 244-248 East 35th st, forming the southwest corner of the two thoroughfares, the first being two 4-sty brick flats with stores, on a plot 39.9x76, and the second two 4-sty brick tenement houses with stores, on a plot 50x98.9, and a 2-sty brick stable, on a lot 24x98.9.

The buildings on the property were erected by the founder of the Clausen brewery in 1858, and the holding has been valued at $100,000 by the estate.

Resell a Heights Corner

Meister Builders, Inc., resold to Abraham Vendorf, a cloak and suit manufacturer, the northeast corner of Hamilton pl and 140th st, two 6-sty walk-up brick apartment houses, on a plot fronting 108.6½ feet on the place and 109.0½ on the st. They are known as the Hamiltonian.

The sellers acquired the property in July from the Vernithea Avenue Corporation, which held it at $250,000. The houses contain 2, 4 and 5 room suites and return an annual rental of approximately $38,000.

Buys Maranamay Apartments

The 6-sty elevator apartment house, 87.6x100.11, known as the Maranamay Apartments, at 611-617 West 112th st, have been resold to Charles E. Shepard of Hartford, Conn., by Thompson, Austin & Co., W. S. Thompson, president, which acquired the property last month from the Lansing Constructing Co. The house consists of 24 suites of 6 and 7 rooms each. M. H. Gaillard & Co. will continue as managing agents.

Brisbane Adds to Holdings

Arthur Brisbane and M. L. Annenberg, connected with the Hearst publications, purchased the former residence of Gates W. McGarragh, chairman of the board of directors of the Mechanics and Metals National Bank, occupying a plot 40x100.5, at 108-110 East 57th st, between Madison and Park avs. Pease & Elliman were the brokers. According to the brokers, the buyers are undecided whether to lease the property for business purposes or to erect a new structure on the site, to be used as physicians' offices.

Mr. Brisbane and Mr. Annenberg, less than a fortnight ago, leased the former home of W. J. Roome, at 101 East 57th st, northeast corner of Park av, through the same brokers. As Mr. Brisbane already owns the properties at 103-105 East 57th st, adjoining on the east, his latest acquisition gives him control of a corner plot 52.8x80.5. No decision has been reached as to the disposition of the properties. William R. Hearst is the owner of the parcels at 15-17-19 and 45 East 57th st, between Fifth and Madison avs.

Brooklyn Board Forms Coal Pool

That the members of the Brooklyn Real Estate Board are not going to have a coal-less winter for their tenants, is indicated by the present action of the Board members on the formation of a "pool" for the purchase of coal in cargo lots in order that the bins of apartment houses and other buildings under their management may be filled when the cold weather arrives.

M. C. O'Brien, vice-president of the Board, said: "With the near approach of cold weather and the season for stocking coal bins almost past for most of our members we have been gravely concerned and our Board has given considerable study to this subject.

"We have, of course, been obtaining small quantities of an inferior grade of pea coal at an enormous advance over previous prices without any assurance of deliveries in large quantities, from local dealers throughout the winter.

"When it is considered that some of our members use as many as $4,000 to 12,000 tons of coal per year, and have thousands of tenants for whose comfort they are responsible, it can be readily appreciated that we have much concern for the future.

"It is possible for us to transport coal in 8,000 to 12,000 ton shipments at one time, and land it at Brooklyn docks, thereby avoiding the necessity of railroad transportation. Every ton we carry to Brooklyn in this manner means an equal amount of coal available for others, thereby lessening the demand in some degree and at the same time diminishing the strain on the railroads.

"We intend to co-operate with the State Fuel Administrator at all times, and I am sure that our concern for the comfort of those for whom we are responsible will not be contrary to any plans that the State Fuel Administrator may formulate."

12-Story Loft Building Sold

Paul M. Herzog sold to the Fairchild Realty Co. 44-50 East 32d st, a 12-sty brick and stone loft building with stores, on a plot 66½x110, adjoining the southwest corner of Fourth av.

Sale on South Street

The Jacob Lawson Bag Co., through its president, William M. Lawson, purchased from the George E. Bartlett Estate the 5-sty brick warehouse, 213-214 South st, on a plot 41.4½x160, through to 475-477 Water st.

Title has been taken in the name of the Britannia Realty Co. The main building of the purchasers is at 264 Water st. The sale is recorded, and the price is $50,000.

Takes Profit on West Side Parcels

Meisner estate sold 210 and 212 West 28th st, a 2 and 4-sty brick dwelling, both on a plot 33.4x98.9. The property lies about 147 feet west of Seventh av, and the buyer is understood to have resold it.

Velodrome Site Conveyed

The site of the Velodrome, at 225th st and the Harlem River, has been sold by the Rodgers estate for a stated consideration of $75,000, title being taken in the name of August Faux. The property is on the south side of 225th st, beginning 250 feet east of Broadway, and has a frontage of 411 feet on the street, with a westerly line of 120 feet.

It was conveyed subject to a mortgage for $55,000. John M. Chapman of the Newark Velodrome, operates the property.

Resells Lexington Ave. Corner

Alexander M. Bing resold through H. Reinheimer to the Mandel-Ehrich Corporation the southeast corner of Lexington av and 46th st, a 3-sty and basement brick and stone dwelling, known as the Guilford mansion, on a plot 100.5x150. The new owners will reimprove the entire plot with an apartment hotel.

Buys Co-operative Apartment

Estate of George Curtis Rand sold stock in 925 Park av, represented by a duplex and single apartment, making an apartment of 14 rooms and 5 baths, to Mrs. Alfred Hennen Morris, the present tenant.

To Complete Bronx Operation

Nathan B. L. Cosel, an attorney, bought from the estate of Charles Riley, Richard Kelly, executor and attorney, the vacant plot of 226 feet on Fox st, between 163d st and Westchester av, with foundations and plans for three 5-sty and basement apartment houses, each house on a plot 75x100, and capable of housing 37 families each.

The property was held at $100,000. It is the intention of Mr. Cosel to complete the operation begun by the late Mr. Riley and when completed, it will involve an outlay of about $350,000. George E. Cohn was the broker.

Scientists Buy in Bronx

The Eleventh Church of Christ Scientist bought from Edwin Alexander 2562 Briggs av, a 2-sty and basement frame dwelling, on a lot 25x97.1, extending through to Poe pl.

Notable Sale at Far Rockaway

Lewis H. May Co. sold for the Chase National Bank to Bernard Goldberg the northwest corner of Broadway and Oak st, Far Rockaway, two large dwellings, garages and various outbuildings, on a plot 400x400 or more than 70 lots.

The buyer is a builder. He will build a new 50-foot wide street through the tract, raze the present buildings and reimprove the land with a large all year fireproof hotel and 25 brick detached dwellings, each of the latter to be on a plot 60x150. An elevator apartment house will be erected on the Broadway front.

The entire property will be developed on a community plan, following the early English style of architecture. The property was held at $125,000, and the sale was an all cash transaction. The completed investment will amount in excess of $1,000,000.

Dear Sirs:

Our advertisement in your paper Sunday, August 27, has brought a number of people to our property, and through your one advertisement, we have sold five houses out of the one hundred we are building.

We will continue this advertisement for next Friday, Sunday, and Monday, of which we are sending you a copy.

Very truly yours,

M. & D. Homes Corporation.

S. Dietz PRES.

Builders, brokers and property owners having houses for sale in sections where Jews buy and Jews buy almost anywhere can save time and money by advertising in the Jewish Morning Journal. It costs money to carry vacant houses, and the Real Estate Columns of the Jewish Morning Journal can save you a good many dollars by accelerating sales.

The five houses the letter refers to were sold in the dull season. You can expect even better results now that the season for selling real estate is on.

Your advertising order, sent in by mail, phone, or through your regular advertising agency, will receive our prompt attention.

BUILDING SECTION

Slight Seasonal Decline Shown by August Building Totals

Monthly Statistical Report of F. W. Dodge Company Indicates Active Construction Throughout Nation During Remainder of This Year

REPORTED contract commitments for building and engineering projects in the twenty-seven Northeastern States during the month of August amounted to a total of $322,007,000, according to the statistics of the construction industry tabulated by the F. W. Dodge Company. The figure for the past month was 46% greater than that for the same month last year, and is only 8% less than the total for July, 1922. The total of contracts awarded for August undoubtedly shows that a seasonal decline has set in after a four-month period of unprecedented activity in the construction industry throughout the United States, but that the decline is relatively light seems to be a wholesome indication that the remainder of this year will witness steady progress in the construction field despite the retarding influence of the coal and railroad strikes.

The figures for August have brought the total for the year to date up to $2,362,872,000, which is not only the largest figure on record for the first eight months of any year, but is greater by approximately seven millions of dollars than the total of the entire year 1921. Comparison of the current year with the figures for 1921 on the eight months' basis this year is 58% ahead.

Undoubtedly the outstanding feature of the August statistical statement is the increase shown in industrial plant construction, which amounted to $67,373,000, or 21% of the entire total for the month. This is the largest monthly figure for this class of work since March, 1920. One project, however, is responsible for this great total, as the figure includes an item of approximately $35,000,000 for the construction of a by-product coke plant for the Carnegie Steel Company near Pittsburgh. Even omitting this great single project, the remaining amount for industrial construction is greater than any monthly total since November, 1920.

Residential construction continued to maintain its lead during the month of August with $100,882,000, or about 31% of the entire total devoted to operations of this character. Public works and public utilities amounted to a total of $49,825,000, or 15% of the total; business projects, such as stores, offices, lofts, commercial garages, etc., $38,122,000, or 12%; and educational projects $32,055,000, or 10%.

The contemplated new building and engineering construction reported throughout the twenty-seven Northeastern States during August amounted to a total of $371,249,000.

The total cost of construction projects started in New England during the first eight months of this year has amounted to $229,184,000, compared with $205,147,000 for the entire year 1921. Compared with the first eight months of last year, this year's increase is 87%.

August building contracts in New England amounted to $28,074,000, an increase of 8% over July and of 37% over the corresponding month of last year. Included in the August total were $12,672,000, or 45%, for residential buildings; $4,303,000, or 15%, for business buildings; $3,437,000, or 12%, for public works and utilities; $2,961,000, or 11%, for industrial plants; and $2,291,000, or 8% for educational buildings.

Contemplated new work reported during the month amounted to $41,236,000 in the New England territory.

During the first eight months of this year the total construction started in New York State and Northern New Jersey, amounting to $637,534,000, was only $8,000,000 less than the amount started in the entire year 1921. Compared with the first eight months of last year, this year's increase is 77%.

August building contracts amounted to $80,738,000, an increase of 5% over the preceding month and of 33% over the corresponding month of last year. Included in the August total were $28,970,000, or 36%, for residential buildings; $12,649,000, or 16%, for industrial buildings; $11,378,000, or 14%, for business buildings; $9,638,000, or 12%, for educational buildings.

Contemplated new work reported during the month amounted to $87,210,000.

Total building contracts awarded during the first eight months of this year in the Middle Atlantic States (Eastern Pennsylvania, Southern New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, District of Columbia, Virginia, and the Carolinas) have amounted to $347,170,000, which is only eight millions under the amount for the entire year 1921. Compared with the first eight months of 1921, this year's increase is 55%.

August contracts amounted to $36,399,000, which was a decline of 34% from the previous month and of 4% from the corresponding month of last year. Last month's figures included $14,881,000, or 41%, for residential buildings; $5,895,000, or 16%, for public works and utilities; $4,969,000, or 14%, for business buildings; and $4,581,000, or 13%, for educational buildings.

Contemplated new work reported during the month amounted to $52,294,000.

August building contracts in Western Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio, Kentucky, and Tennessee amounted to $85,406,000, an increase of 42% over July, and of 16% over August, 1921. Last month's total included one contract for thirty-five millions, the by-product coke plant of the Carnegie Steel Company, near Pittsburgh.

The awarding of this large contract caused industrial building to be in the lead during August, amounting to $39,688,000, or 46% of the month's total. Public works and utilities amounted to $15,165,000, or 18%; and residential building to $14,719,000, or 17%.

Contemplated new work reported during August amounted to $59,184,000.

The total construction business for the first eight months of this year has amounted to $406,492,000, only fourteen millions less than the amount for the entire year 1921. Compared with the first eight months of last year, this year is 40% ahead.

Construction started in the Central West (Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Wisconsin, Michigan, Missouri, and portions of Eastern Kansas and Nebraska) during the first eight months of this year has amounted to $680,050,000, an increase of thirty-six millions over the total for the entire year 1921. Comparing the two years on the eight months' basis, this year is 52% ahead of last.

The August total of contracts awarded was $84,382,000, a decrease of 33% from the peak figure of the preceding month, but an increase of 40% over the corresponding month of last year. Included in last month's total were $27,524,000, or 33%, for residential buildings; $19,181,000, or 23%, for public works and utilities; $11,384,000, or 13%, for business buildings; and $9,675,000, or 11%, for educational buildings.

Revised Priority Order Helps Building Material Supply

Favorable Action on Petition of Associated General Contractors of America Permits Use of Open-Top Cars for Movement of Construction Essentials

AS a result of the petition submitted by the Associated General Contractors of America, requesting a revision of the coal priority orders, and the subsequent hearing granted to the association by the Interstate Commerce Commission, Service Order. No. 23 has been amended to permit the use of open-top cars for the movement of commodities other than coal.

The new amendment to this service order will release approximately 34,000 additional open-top cars, which will avoid the practical shut-down of the majority of construction projects that confronted the construction industry. The amendment will take effect at midnight, September 3, 1922.

Promptly upon the issuance by the commission of service orders giving demands for open-top cars for coal for any purpose priority over requests for open-top cars for other purposes, the Associated General Contractors submitted their petition showing how the continuance of these orders meant such a shut-down.

Upon consideration of this petition the commission heard the case for the construction industry on August 25. Following this hearing, and on the request of the commission, further facts regarding the magnitude of the industry in terms of contracts, money, and men, and the relationship between construction of housing facilities and for all commercial purposes, were furnished.

This modification of orders is of the greatest importance to everyone interested in construction and especially to all contractors, who now can be reasonably certain of the delivery of necessary materials for their various jobs.

Amendment No. 5 to Service Order No. 23 follows in full:

At a session of the INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION, Division 5, held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 1st day of September, A. D., 1922.

IT IS ORDERED, That the proviso in Service Order No. 23, entered July 25, 1922, which reads:

"PROVIDED, that the phrase 'suitable for the loading and transportation of coal' as used in this order shall not include or embrace flat (fixed) bottom gondola cars with sides less than 36 inches in height, inside measurement, or cars equipped with racks, or cars which, on July 1, 1922, had been definitely retired from service for the transportation of coal and stenciled or tagged for other service."

be, and it is hereby, amended effective at midnight of September 3, 1922, to read: "provided, that the phrase 'open-top cars suitable for the loading and transportation of coal' as used in this order shall not include or embrace flat (fixed) bottom gondola cars with sides 42 inches or less in height, inside measurement, or cars equipped with racks, or cars which, on July 1, 1922, had been definitely retired from service for the transportation of coal and stenciled or tagged for other service."

tial difference between the Mayor's plan and that of the Transit Commission is illustrated to the best advantage by the proposed Brooklyn crosstown line.

"The commission's plans," he said, "provide for reorganizing the existing companies, vesting the title of their roads in the city, the removal of all the abuses in financing and management that have led to just criticism in the past and then unifying the entire system under the control of a public board of control, of which the Mayor of the city appoints three of the seven members. The ownership of the lines would be all vested in the city without drawing on the city treasury, and through reorganization, consolidation and unification permit of the utilization of all lines to the fullest possible extent.

"The Mayor's plan is based upon the breaking apart of the city-owned lines from the company-owned lines, leaving the present companies as at present organized, and with no move to so change them as to prevent the recurrence of past abuses. The important factor, however, is that in moving against the companies he separates the lines, and instead of unification produces disintegration. Instead of securing a completely unified city-owned system without expense to the city, his plan involves, before even getting to new construction, paying scores of millions of dollars to the Interborough and B. R. T. to recapture the possession of city-owned line. At every point where the city-owned line touches a privately owned line there is necessarily involved in the Mayor's plan a transfer point and an additional fare.

"The Brooklyn Crosstown line is an example of how, through the utilization of all existing lines, it is possible to give vastly improved facilities, and through free transfers at all intersecting points make that service available to practically all parts of the Boroughs of Brooklyn and Queens."

Mayor Hylan presented his $600,000,000 transit plan at a special meeting of the Board of Estimate last Wednesday. Except for the reading of a long prepared statement by the Mayor, pointing out the advantages of his plan over that of the Transit Commission, as he sees it, there was no discussion of the proposal among the members of the board. Dates were fixed for public hearings upon the sectional features of the plan.

Mayor Hylan said:

"The plan which I herewith present provides for the construction of 126 route miles of new subways and tunnels, or 379 single track miles, at a total cost, including complete equipment for operation, of $600,000,000.

"Not only will the city save $10,000,000 a year interest by 'recapture' and be able to reduce the tax rates about ten points, but we will also be able to capitalize city subway earnings and issue several hundred million dollars bonds for new subway construction as a result. We will also expand the city's debt margin several hundred million dollars because of newly created real estate values."

Comptroller Craig suggested postponement of the hearings until late in October, but the Mayor insisted upon holding them this month and early in October.

The first hearing will be held on September 15 at 2 p. m. in the Council Chamber in City Hall on the sections of the plan affecting Harlem, Washington Heights and the Bronx. While the general plan may be more or less discussed at these hearings, it is intended to devote most of the time to hearing the views of citizens from the sections of the city designated at each hearing. Hearings will follow on September 20 on the sections affecting Manhattan Island below 125th street; on September 26, the Borough of Brooklyn; on October 3, Queens, and on October 10, Richmond.

Contemplated new work reported during August amounted to $127,079,000.

August building contracts in Minnesota and the Dakotas amounted to $7,008,000, a decrease of 12% from the previous month and of 14% from the corresponding month of last year. The August total included $2,337,000, or 33%, for industrial buildings; $2,116,000, or 30%, for residential buildings; and $1,144,000, or 16%, for business buildings.

Contemplated new work reported during the month amounted to $4,245,000.

During the first eight months of this year the total amount of construction started in this district was $62,442,000, an increase of 8% over the corresponding period of last year.

August Commitments Predict Busy Autumn Building

Contracts Awarded in New York City, Tabulated by F. W. Dodge Company, Indicate Splendid Opportunities for Contractors During Coming Months

FIGURES showing new contract commitments for building construction in New York City during the month of August, although indicating a slight seasonal decline when compared with the preceding months, warrant the prediction that the Metropolitan district will witness extremely active times in the construction industry throughout the remainder of the year.

Reports from architects and engineers show a large amount of new work being planned, the majority of which will be released for bids immediately and there is no doubt but that the award of contracts will follow shortly thereafter. The work being planned includes a number of large office and loft buildings, several important theatres, two or three hotels and other operations which will represent a total outlay of many millions of dollars.

According to figures tabulated by the F. W. Dodge Company, the contracts awarded during August in New York City represented 593 separate building and engineering projects at an estimated total valuation of $44,597,100. A study of these statistics shows a decided improvement in active industrial construction and a most favorable outlook for commercial work.

The list of 593 projects for which contracts were announced during the past month included 80 business buildings such as stores, offices, lofts, commercial garages, etc., $8,041,500; 22 educational projects, including schools, colleges, libraries, etc., $3,863,300; 6 hospitals and institutions, $1,627,000; 16 factory and industrial buildings, $10,803,000; 3 structures for the U. S. Army and Navy, $31,000; 3 public buildings, $233,500; 21 public works and public utilities, $627,200; 14 religious and memorial buildings, $618,500; 307 residential projects, including apartments, flats and tenements and one- and two-family dwellings, $14,852,600, and 121 social and recreational operations, $3,899,500.

Production of Clay in 1921

The output of clay mined and sold as clay in the United States in 1921 was 1,716,746 tons, valued at $6,025,300, or $3.51 per ton, according to the United States Geological Survey, Department of the Interior. This was a decrease of 45 per cent in quantity and 48 per cent in value as compared with 1920. These figures represent only clay sold as clay by the original producers; they do not include the much greater quantities of clay burned into clay products by the producers themselves.

The production of kaolin, the clay that is used in making high-grade pottery and porcelain as well as paper and other products, was 162,726 tons, valued at $1,579,163, a decrease of 39 per cent and 45 per cent, respectively, as compared with 1920. The clay of largest production and value is fire clay. The sales of fire clay in 1921 amounted to 1,195,861 tons, valued at $3,560,373, a decrease of 49 and 52 per cent, respectively, as compared with 1920. The output of every kind of clay is classified by the Geological Survey in its statistical report decreased in quantity and value in 1921 as compared with 1920.

The imports and exports of clay also decreased in 1921 as compared with 1920, and the decrease was proportionately greater than the decrease in the domestic production. The total imports of clay were 208,915 tons, valued at $1,974,685, a decrease of 48 per cent and 51 per cent, respectively. The imports of kaolin, the chief clay imported, were 162,906 tons, a decrease of 55 per cent, from 1920.

Include Clay in Lecture Series

BRICK, tile and associated clay product industries will be one of the subjects covered in a series of lectures on the Geology of Commerce and Industry which has recently been announced by the New York University. CURRENT BUILDING OPERATIONS

ALTHOUGH numerous rumors were current to the effect that building operations were likely to be held up on account of the difficulties between the two rival unions of bricklayers' helpers, so far nothing has transpired to sustain them. Local building activity is progressing favorably and there is no indication that the dispute between the laborers' unions will retard any work now under way.

The strike of the granite cutters in the New England quarries, however, is being felt by local builders, as there is increasing difficulty in obtaining this stone. The coal and railroad strikes have also greatly retarded the arrival of other essential building commodities, and at the present writing a growing shortage is developing in some lines and prices are moving upward.

The conditions brought about by these strikes, however, have not stopped work on new plans nor hindered commitments for new projects. During the past week or so a vast amount of new construction has been reported, and contractors have been exceptionally busy on estimating work likely to be released in the very near future. The volume of new construction in sight indicates a very busy winter building season and unusually bright prospects for the coming year.

Common Brick—The local demand for common brick has slowed down to some extent, and as a result the New York wholesale market for this commodity was duller this week than it has been for the past month or more. Owing to the amount of off-grade brick resulting from the lack of high-grade coal for burning, the price level for Hudson River common is somewhat lower than it has been. First quality brick is generally quoted at $18 a thousand to dealers in cargo lots, but there is considerable brick being offered at figures considerably below this level.

Summary—Transactions in the North River brick market for the week ending Thursday, September 7, 1922. Condition of market: Demand fair; prices somewhat easier. Quotations: Hudson River, $18 a thousand to dealers in cargo lots alongside dock. Number of cargoes arrived, 40; sales, 36. Distribution: Manhattan, 14; Bronx, 5; Brooklyn, 9; New Jersey points, 5; Astoria, 3. Remaining unsold in the New York wholesale market on September 6, 23.

Lumber—No change of consequence has taken place in the local market situation. Demand is holding well in both wholesale and retail departments of trade, and there is every present indication of good business throughout the remainder of the year. The active building season has made heavy demands upon the lumber market and, owing to the recent interruption to deliveries, there is a developing shortage in some lines. Prices are very firm and there is a marked trend toward higher levels.

Structural Steel—The demand for fabricated material is excellent and shows marked signs of growing in volume, but the supplies are limited, and it is reported that several of the large companies are unable to quote on new business because of restricted output or fully booked mills. Prices on steel shapes are steadily moving upward. Fabricating shop deliveries range from three to four months, and unless there is a speedy improvement in the fuel situation further extensions are likely.

There are several large projects nearing the final planning stage and their specifications will be ready very soon, but whether or not the owners will release this work until the material supply improves remains uncertain.

MATERIALS AND SUPPLIES

Cast Iron Pipe—Demand continues very heavy and there is no current indication of a decline for some time to come. Although new municipal business is relatively quiet and private purchasers dominate the present demand, there is considerable public work in prospect. So far the producers of cast iron pipe have not been greatly hampered by coal shortages, although fuel is not plentiful, but they have experienced some difficulty in obtaining iron, which has been delayed in transit by the railroad strike. Prices are very firm, with New York quotations as follows: 6 in. and larger, $54.40 per net ton, f. o. b., in carload lots; 4 in. and 5 in., $59, and 3 in., $64.80 with Class A and gas pipe $1 extra per ton.

Reinforcing Bars—Improved demand characterizes this market, but supplies are limited and prices are very firm at their advanced levels. The steady increase in industrial construction noticed during the past few weeks has been responsible for the heavy orders being booked, and prices will undoubtedly hold very firm for some time to come.

Roofing and Building Papers—No decline in the demand for these commodities has been noticeable during the past week. Buying continues active and is likely to remain so while the good weather lasts and suburban construction is able to proceed. Local stocks are said to be adequate to the demand and, although the railroad freight situation is retarding deliveries from production points, there is little prospect of a local shortage to an extent that will hinder construction work. Prices are firm and unchanged.

Window Glass—Demand for both plate and window glass is very keen, and there is no anticipation of a slackening off in buying activity for the next month or six weeks at least, as a vast amount of construction is now nearing completion and the glass requirements of this work amounts to a large total. The report has been current in the past week that the coal strike is affecting the production of window glass to a marked extent and some shortage is developing. At present the cheaper grades of window glass are not plentiful, and jobbers are somewhat anxious about factory shipments. Prices are very firm and likely to advance.

Linseed Oil—The market for this commodity has steadied considerably during the past week. Demand has improved and current inquiries indicate excellent prospects for the autumn months. Actual orders are improving in both number and size and prices are steady and practically unchanged.

Nails—The coal and railroad strikes have materially affected the nail market. Serious shortages are beginning to develop in some sizes and prices are advancing slightly. New York quotations for wire nails range from $3.35 to $3.50 base per keg, and cut nails at $3.90 base per keg.

Builders' Hardware—This line is particularly active and both manufacturers and jobbers are confident that active buying will continue for several months to come, as the building program for the current year is far from concluded. This market is feeling the effects of the railroad and coal strikes and stocks are getting dangerously low in some items, while prices are very firm and indicating a tendency to seek higher levels.

Portland Cement—The production of cement during June, 1922, as tabulated by the U. S. Geological Survey, indicates an increase of 1,949,000 barrels when compared with the total for June, 1921, while shipments were 2,893,000 barrels heavier. Stocks are 2,225,000 barrels lower than at the end of May and 482,000 barrels under the reserve on hand one year ago.
